

BENNINGHAUSEN'S CHARACTERISTICS AND REPERTORY

ACONITE.

- Mind.—Results of vexation combined with anxiety and fright. Great nervous excitement and feverish restlessness. Lively phantasies. Mental instability. Delirium, mostly at night. Anxious impatience. Inconsolable anxiety and piteous wailing. Unappeasable frenzy and agonized tossing about. Very easily frightened. Alternate weeping and laughing or singing. Fear of ghosts. Lamenting with fear of impending death, and doubt of salvation. Fixed premonition of death, she foretells the day or hour (in childbed).
- Vertigo.—With fainting on rising. Giddiness with vanishing of sight on raising up.
- Head.—Congestion: With fulness and throbbing therein, more towards evening, with black vision, roaring in ears and a fiery red face; with external and internal heat. Burning heat as from hot seething water in, with external sweat and a pale face. Fulness, pressure and heaviness in forehead as if brain and eyes would be forced out, with a hot red face. Meningitis. Crackling like tinsel in forehead, temples and nose. Feeling: Of a ball rising in; of backward sticking in; as if brain fluctuated to and fro; of painful pulling at hair of vertex. Worse: Stooping; talking; motion; raising up; evening; night; becoming heated; warm wraps; dry cold winds. Better: rest; uncovering; warmth; sitting erect; open air.
- Eyes.—Inflamed and protruding, with dark red bloodvessels and unbearable pains. Sparkling. Inflammatory swelling of lids. Dilated pupils. Photophobia. Lachrymation.
- Nose.—Epistaxis. Extremely sensitive smell. Stuffed coryza.
- Face.—Red, turning deathly pale on raising up. Hot, bloated. Pale. Sweat on side whereon he lies. Sweat on upper lip. Lips: Black; dry, peeling off.
- Teeth.—Throbbing ache after taking cold.
- Mouth.—Dry. Inflammation of, and of fauces, with dark redness and violent fever. Crawling in pharynx. Sticking sore throat when swallowing and coughing. Tongue coated white. Trembling, stammering speech.
- Appetite, etc.—Aversion to food. Violent, unquenchable thirst.
- Taste.—Bitter: In mouth; of all food and drink, except water.
- Vomiting.—Bloody mucus; fluids.
- Stomach.—Tensive pressing pain as from a weight in.
- Hypochondria.—Tensive pressure transversely across. Inflammation and sore pain in liver. Pressing in hepatic region.
- Abdomen.—Inflamed, distended and painful to touch. Flatulent colic after taking cold.
- Stool.—Small, soft, with pressure. White. Constipated.
- Urine.—Brown, dark, fiery and infrequent. Suppressed. Anxious urging to urinate.
- Menses.—Continue too long. Uterine hæmorrhage.
- Respiration.—Sighing. Rapid (or slow), with open mouth. Short: As from compression of chest; especially when raising up and during sleep. Offensive breath. Anxious suffocative attacks. Anxiety, which impedes breathing.
- Cough.—From tobacco smoke. Stitches in chest during Clear ringing or whistling excited by burning sticking in larynx and trachea generally dry, rarely in morning and during day expectoration of thick white mucus or of mucus mixed with coagulated blood blood-colored or of pure blood

ACONITE

Larynx—Inflammation of Paralysis of epiglottis Hoarseness

Chest—Congestion of Inflammation of Painful stitches in during exhalation crawling and motion (also of the aris only) Sticking in sides of with disposition to complain and weep slightly when lying on back Sense of terrible anxiety in Pain in, from taking cold or from fright Anxious palpitation

Back—Stiffness in nape Crawling in Bruised feeling in and in lumbar region Lumbar pain when turning over

Upper Extremities—Laming drawing pain in aris and legs, without swelling Hot hands with cold feet Swelling of hands Crawling in fingers

Lower Extremities—Powerless in hip and knee joints Stiffness in legs during motion (after taking cold)

Generalities—Bruised feeling over entire body and heaviness of all limbs Cannot lie on painful side Constant desire to lie down Painful sensitiveness of body to touch he will not allow himself to be handled Unbearable pains Extraordinarily sudden sinking of strength When sitting still most complaints disappear, but at night in bed, they are almost unendurable Swollen feeling in many parts Takes cold from exposure to dry cold winds Results of taking cold

Skin—Dry burning heat of Hot, burning swelling of injured parts Jaundice Measles Purpura

Sleep—Starting up in affright during Sleeplessness with constant tossing about from anxiety, and flightiness with closed eyes. Somnolency with anxious delirium and rapid breathing Drowsiness, with inability to Fever—Pulse Mostly very full, hard and accelerated seldom small and thread or imperceptible Cold sensation in bloodvessels Chill At beginning of attacks most severe evenings after lying down, often with hot cheeks and contracted pupils From uncovering or from touch Internal chilliness with dry, hot skin and disposition to uncover Often internal heat, with anxiety and red cheeks during chill Shivering extending from feet to chest Heat Dry burning for the most part, proceeding from head and face, with great thirst for cold drinks With uncommon excitement, restlessness, anxiety and agonized tossing about Continued external, with inclination to uncover Burning with cold shiverings running over one at the same time. Sweat With feverish restlessness and inclination to uncover Of parts laid on long continued, over whole body of a somewhat acid odor Most on covered parts

AGARICUS MUS

Allied Remedies—Arn, Ars, BELL, BRY, CANFH, CHAM, Coff, Croc, Dulc, Gel Graph, Lye, MERC Millef, Nux-v, Op, Phos, Phos ac, Puls, RHUS-T, Ruta, SEP, Sul, Valer, Verat a

AGARICUS MUSCARIUS.

Mind—Inclination to prophesying and verification Timid or fearless, violent madness Disinclination to speak and work

Vertigo—In the sunlight Vertiginous giddiness early in the morning and in open air, as from spirituous liquors

Head—Headache, as from a nail pressing into side (r) Drawing ache extending to root of nose, in early morning when awaking Twitching in forehead and temples Sense of icy coldness on outside of Worse Sitting quietly, standing Better Gentle motion

Eyes—Disagreeable twitchings in—Quivering lids—Vision dim as of a mist before

Nose—Excoriated internally Heightened sense of smell

Face—Tearing pains in Itching of Teeth—Tearing ache, < by cold

Mouth—Bad odor as of horseradish from Excoriation of buccal cavity and tongue

AGARICUS MUS.

- Appetite, etc.—Attacks of ravenous hunger in evening.
- Eruclatations.—Empty, alternating with hicough.
- Stomach.—Pressure in, after eating.
- Abodmen.—Pinching and cutting in, with diarrhoea.
- Flatulenee.—Copious discharge of flatus of a garlicky odor.
- Stool. Hard, dark-colored, after previous constipation. Papescent, with much flatulenee and abdominal pain.
- Urine.—Clear, lemon-colored. Diminished.
- Sexual Organs.—Greatly excited sexual desire with flaccid penis. Intense exhaustion after coition.
- Respiration.—Compression of chest with frequent desire to take a deep breath. Tightness of chest and short breathing when walking.
- Cough.—Easy expectoration of small, hard balls of mucus almost without cough.
- Chest.—Nightly profuse sweat on.
- Back.—Beaten and sprained sensation throughout whole. Great weakness in muscles of.
- Upper Extremities.—Burning in upper and forearm, followed by white nodules with desquamation of epidermis. Trembling hands.
- Lower Extremities.—Weariness and heaviness in legs. Tearing in entire length of legs, as if in marrow of bones, > motion.
- Generalities.—Great sensitiveness of entire body, to pressure and cold air. Extraordinary weariness and bruised feeling after moderate exercise. Pains in limbs are continuous during rest and disappear during motion. Complaints often appear diagonally, for instance on right arm and left leg. Epileptic attacks with great physical exertion.
- Skin.—Itching, burning and redness, as after freezing, on many parts, particularly on nose, ears, fingers and toes. Closely aggregated white miliary eruption with violent itching.
- Sleep. Great sleepiness, worse after eating.
- Fever.—Pulse; Somewhat accelerated in early morning, always slower as the day advances; very irregular and sometimes intermittent. Chills: And chilliness pre-

AGNUS CASTUS.

- dominate, especially in cold, open air and when lifting the covers. Shivering over body running from above downward. Sense of chilliness with natural warmth of body. Heat: Slight, and almost exclusively on upper part of body. Sweat: Greasy, but not offensive, during sleep throughout night.—From slight motion.
- Allied Remedies.—Bell, CALC-C., Coccl., coff., LYC., Nit-ac., NUX-V., Petr., Phos., Pul., Sep., SIL., Bek.

AGNUS CASTUS.

- Mind.—Extraordinary distraction, absence of mind and want of recollection. Great anxiety, as tho' diarrhoea would ensue, with great weakness. Sadness with fear of impending death. Melancholy, hypochondriacal mood, dissatisfied with himself, incapable for work and indifferent to his surroundings. Alternate over-exaltation and want of self-esteem.
- Head.—Contractive pain in, when reading. Pressive tearing in forehead and temples, more violent during motion. Headache in skull, as from remaining in a close, warm room. Biting itching on scalp. Tension, and chilliness in scalp with internal warmth thereof.
- Eyes.—Corrosive itching on and above brows and on lids. Greatly dilated pupils.
- Ears.—Roaring in.
- Nose.—Odor, as of musk or herring, before.
- Face.—Corrosive itching, especially on cheeks and under eyes.
- Mouth.—Ulcers in, also on tongue.
- Appetite, etc.—Thirstlessness with aversion to all drinks.
- Taste.—Metallic, coppery, in mouth.
- Eruclatation, etc.—Frequent hicough with peevishness.
- Qualmishness.—In gastric region.
- Stomach.—Pinching in pit when sitting bent over.
- Hypochondriæ.—Pressure in hepatic region < by touch. Swelling and induration of spleen.
- Abdomen.—Sensation as tho' all the intestines were sinking downward. Ascites.
- Stool.—Soft. Constipated.

AGNUS CASTUS.

Annus.—Deep, sharp stitches in and along-side of coccyx. Painful spots as if festering alongs¹: anus when walking. Deep chaps and cracks at. Corrosive itching of perinæum.

Urine.—Increased discharge of.

Sexual Organs.—Yellowish discharge from urethra. Gonorrhœa with suppressed sexual desire. Cold testes. Swelled and indurated testes. Itching on. Flagging sexual powers, with torpid, cold, relaxed sexual parts. Desire wanting.

Menses.—Suppressed. Barrenness with both menses and sexual desire wanting.

Cough.—In evening in bed, before falling to sleep.

Upper Extremities.—Hard pressure in axilla and upper arm, more violent during motion.

Generalities.—Inflammatory swelling of joints. Sprained, swollen limbs, especially at ankle joints. Gouty nodes on joints.

Skin.—Corrosive itching here and there over entire body, > by scratching, but it rapidly returns. Itching around ulcers in evening.

Sleep.—Somnolency. Restless at night.

Fever.—Pulse: Weak and slow, often imperceptible. Chill; Internal, with trembling, while external skin is warm. Alternating with heat. Much shivering with cold hands. Chilliness without thirst. Predominates. Heat; Over-running, burning, most in face, with cold knees in evening in bed. Sweat: Almost exclusively on hands, when walking in open air.

Allied Remedies.—Calc-c., Con., Graph., Lyc., Merc., Nux-v., Oleand., Puls., Rhod., Sep., Sul.

ALOE.

Mind.—Disinclination and incapacity for mental labor, with speedy fatigue therefrom. Peevish and quarrelsome. Anthropophobia.

Vertigo.—As if he sat in a high chair, > by a nasal catarrh.

Head.—Shaking in, as if the brain were loose. Confused heaviness, pressing down into root of nose, outward towards temples, or like a weight on vertex. Aching above forehead, compelling him to make the eyes small, with heaviness of eyes and nausea. Headaches associated with abdominal symptoms. Worse: From stepping hard and heat. Better: After eating and from cold. Scalp sensitive to touch, yet pressure feels good.

ALOE.

Eyes.—Yellow rings before vision.

Ears.—Ache < when pressing teeth together.

Nose.—Red in cold air. Epistaxis.

Face.—And lips red. Sickly expression.

Mouth.—Teeth yellow; seem sharp and hurt the tongue. Dry, burnt feeling in. Sickening smell from. Salivation, with hunger after breakfast.

Appetite, etc.—Increased: For juicy or stimulating foods. Thirst for beer.

Taste.—Metallic; like ink; bitter; nauseous.

Eruclatations.—Bilious. Bitter after drinking water.

Nausea, etc.—Must sit still to avoid vomiting.

Stomach.—Distended, after drinking water. Pain in pit when making a misstep; it radiates backwards or upwards with every eructation, and then sinks back again.

Hypochondria.—Distention, better by passing flatus. Stitches in liver. Uneasiness with heat, pressure and tension in hepatic region. Worse: Standing Better: Bending forward or emission of flatus.

Abdomen.—Distention; Much flatulent rumbling. Heaviness in, as of a stone, which falls to side upon which she lies. Feeling: Of weakness; as if diarrhœa would ensue; as tho' she had taken cold in. Gurgling, griping and pulsating within. Sensation of a plug between symphysis, pubis and coccyx. Soreness of walls. Better: Pressure and discharge of flatus.

Stool.—Urgent diarrhœa of light-colored fœces, preceded and accompanied by flatus and gurgling in abdomen from 2 to 10 A. M., with a sense of insecurity in rectum. Sudden diarrhœa in morning on rising, followed by a feeling as if more ought to come. Involuntary: With passage of flatus; during micturition; although solid. Of gelatinous mucus. Diarrhœa, with hunger, < after eating. Loud, copious emission of hot, offensive flatus.

ALOE.

Anus, etc.—Weakness of sphincter, with loose sensation therein and fear lest stool should escape with flatus. Soreness, after stool. Itching hæmorrhoids; protrude during stool; > by cold water.

Urine.—On rising must run quickly to urinate.

Sexual Organs.—Determination of blood to pelvic organs, uterus, etc. Menses of dark, clotted blood, too early, too profuse and lasting too long. Increased sexual desire. Emissions without dreams Throat.—Hawking up thick, lumpy mucus, easily loosened.

Chest.—Stitches under mammæ.

Heart and Circulation.—Pain in cardiac region extending to left scapula. Varicose veins.

Neck.—Tension, with compression in nape behind ears.

Back.—Pain in, with heaviness in uterus. Lumbago alternating with headache. Heaviness with pressure. Bruised feeling in coccyx. Worse: Sitting or lying on back. Better: Motion.

Extremities.—Jerking, drawing and dull sticking in finger, knee and elbow joints. Weariness and heaviness. Weak ankles and wrists. Bruised pain in tendo-achilles.

Generalities.—General mental and physical relaxation, especially affecting the veins, intestinal canal and sphincters, with a sense of insecurity in the latter or involuntary evacuations. Determination of blood to liver, head, chest and pelvic viscera. Sensations of heaviness, heat, dryness and crawling predominate in all parts of body. Gelatinous secretions from mucous membranes. Produces its effects slowly.

Worse.—Stepping hard; heat; afternoon, especially the symptoms of mucous membranes.

ALUMINA.

Better.—Open air; cold applications.

Skin.—Golden yellow. Furuncles. Crawling, itching and biting in.

Sleep.—Interrupted by hæmorrhoidal irritation and sexual excitement. Dreams of having an involuntary stool.

Fever.—Chilliness during stool. Cold feeling in occiput. Shivering through whole body, with griping about umbilicus.

Allied Remedies.—Col-t., Gamb., Gel., Hyos., Mur-ac., Nat-s., Nux-v., Oleand., Phos-ac., Pod., SUL.

ALUMINA.

Mind.—Inability to think connectedly. Continued great weakness of memory. Mental activity alternating with inability to think. Great anxiety and apprehension. He takes everything in bad part. Alternate paroxysms of laughing and weeping. He views everything in a gloomy and discouraging light.

Head.—Severe stitches in brain with inclination to vomit. Throbbing and pulsating in, or compressive pain over eyes, as if coming from temples, with congestion to eyes and nose and shaking chill. Humid scurf on temples. Worse: In early morning; walking in open air in evening. Better: Lying quietly; after eating.

Eyes.—Pressure in, which impedes opening them. At night they are agglutinated, by day full of tears. Squint of both.

Ears.—Stitches in. One ear is hot and red in evening. Purulent discharge from. Crepitation in when chewing.

Nose.—Redness and swelling of. Ulceration in. Sense of smell diminished.

Face.—Tension in skin as if egg albumen had dried thereon. Pale. Bulbous excrescences or boils on, and on nose.

Teeth.—Feel too long. Ache when chewing.

Mouth.—Painful soreness of entire mouth when eating. Constrictive sore throat when swallowing. Difficult, painful swallowing of food, as from narrowing

ALUMINA.

- of œsophagus. In the evening and at night the throat pains are most intense, > by warm food and drink.
- Appetite, etc.—Changeable. Bad effects of potatoes.
- Eructation.—Sour, and heartburn.
- Nausea.—And qualmishness when talking.
- Stomach.—Constriction in, extending into throat and chest. Pressure in, in evening.
- Hypochondriæ.—Painful soreness in hepatic region extending to epigastrium, when stooping. Pain in kidneys.
- Abdomen.—Sticking pains in, extending up into chest. Cutting pains in bowels, > by warmth. Lead colic. Inguinal hernia.
- Stool.—Difficult from want of peristaltic action and inactivity of intestinal canal. Of mucus.
- Anus.—Varicose hæmorrhoids and itching of.
- Urine.—Increased discharge of watery urine with burning.
- Sexual Organs.—Excessive sexual desire. Frequent pollutions. All complaints are worse after pollutions.
- Menses.—Too scant, too early and too short. Abdominal colic before and during. Acrid, corrosive leucorrhœa before and after.
- Cough.—Early in the day, dry; later with expectoration. Short, dry, with arrested breathing.
- Larynx.—Suddenly appearing hoarseness not > by hawking, mostly in afternoon and evening.
- Chest.—Pressing pain in, at night. Constriction of when stooping. Thrusts at heart.
- Back.—Pain in as if a hot iron were thrust thro' lowest vertebræ. Sticking in. Bruised pain in lumbar region when at rest.
- Upper Extremities.—Paralytic heaviness of arms. Tearing from shoulders to fingers. Pain in arms extending to fingers, as if a hot iron was thrust thro' them. Humid scurf on forearm. Cracks on palmar surface of hands.
- Lower Extremities.—Nightly stiffness,

AMBRA.

- deadness and numbness of legs. Heaviness of legs.
- Generalities.—Involuntary motions and twitchings of head and other parts. Sensory illusions; i. e., as if certain parts of body had become larger. Extraordinary lassitude and fatigue, particularly from talking. Sense of constriction in internal organs. He is > on alternate days. Many complaints are < in afternoon and when sitting. He feels best during moderate exercise, in evening and in open air.
- Skin.—Herpes with itching, in evening. Humid tetter. Cracked. Skin symptoms are renewed at full and new moon. Brittle nails.
- Sleep.—At night, unrefreshing and entirely too light. Sleeplessness before midnight. Many anxious, frightful dreams at night.
- Fever.—Pulse: Full and somewhat accelerated. Chill: Predominant and mostly toward evening, even in bed and by a warm stove, as well as after eating warm soup, often with heat of face. During day, and heat at night. In evening, following the chill there is Heat which spreads from face, but sometimes only attacks the right side of the body. Evening fever with prevailing chill. Sweat: At night, especially in early morning in bed, most profuse on face, often on right side of face only, with anxiety. Entire inability to.
- Allied Remedies.—BRV., Cal-c., Cham., Ign., Ip., Lach., Lyc., Nat-m., Phos., Pib.; Pul., Verat-a.
- ## AMBRA.
- Mind.—Animated phantasies of which he cannot rid himself. Difficult thinking and comprehension. Restless and hasty. Long after excitement after talking. Despair and satiety of life. Embarrassed in company. Sadness. Great seriousness with aversion to talking and laughing.
- Vertigo.—Intense, in open air.
- Head.—Aching in temples from congestion thereto. Rush of blood to, also when listening to music. Tearing in, with AMBRA.

- ulcers on scalp. Violent (pressing) headache on alternate days, with fear of going mad. The hair falls out and is painful to touch. Smarting soreness of scalp early on awaking, followed by numbness thereof, as well as of skin of entire body.
- Eyes.—Pressure, as if they had been closed too firmly. Inflammatory redness of sclerotic.
- Ears.—Tearing in. One sided deafness.
- Nose.—Nose-bleed in early morning. Cramp in wings of. Stopped coryza with smarting pain inside of.
- Face.—Jaundiced color. Flushes of heat in. Spasmodic trembling and twitching of muscles of, and of lips.
- Teeth.—Tearing pain in hollow, < by warmth. Bleeding of, and of gums.
- Mouth.—Dry and numb inside, early on awaking. Fetor from, early in morning. Excoriative, smarting pain in a nodule (ranula) under tongue. Early in morning there is much gray mucus in throat necessitating hawking, thereby causing gagging and vomiting.
- Thirst.—Entirely absent.
- Eruetation.—Abortive. Sour. Heartburn, particularly after drinking milk.
- Hypochondriæ.—Pressive pain in (r.), and in stomach. Splenic pain, as if something were torn loose there.
- Abdomen.—Pressure and heaviness in. Distension of, after every meal. Cold sensation on one side of. Pain in upper and lower.
- Stool.—Constipated and retarded.
- Anus.—Itching and crawling in, and in rectum.
- Urine.—Frequent micturition at night. Turbid, with brown sediment; Sour odor of.
- Sexual Organs.—Burning, itching and smarting sensations in, with violent voluptuous feelings. Early in bed, erections with numbness in parts. Inflammation of internal sexual organs.
- Menses.—Too early and too profuse, with varices.
- Respiration.—Short, with tightness of chest.
- Cough.—Dry, spasmodic, with eruotations and hoarseness (particularly in emaciated persons). Nightly, from tickling in throat. In long paroxysms coming from deep in chest; dry in evening; expectoration of grayish-white, seldom yellow mucus, of a salty or sour taste in morning.
- Trachea, etc.—Hoarseness from much thick mucus in. Itching, scratching and soreness in, and in larynx.
- Chest.—Compression in, and in back. Pressure in and on, particularly in cardiac region. Palpitation with a pale face. Itching in.
- Neck.—Itching in thyroid gland.
- Upper Extremities.—Asleep sensation with numbness of arm on which he lies at night. Gouty tearing in joints of arms and hands. Shriveled finger tips.
- Lower Extremities.—Tearing from lumbar region throughout entire right thigh, it is impossible to step, and limb seems shorter than the sound one. Nightly cramps in calves. Burning in soles.
- Generalities.—The arms and limbs easily go to sleep. Tearing pains particularly in joints, often onesided. Spasms and twitchings in muscular parts. Numbened sensation of entire surface of body, in morning. Many complaints appear during sleep and disappear after rising. Many complaints are > by slow exercise in the open air and by lying on painful parts. Particularly adapted to elderly and emaciated persons.
- Skin.—Dry. Itching and burning in many localities. Burning herpes.
- Sleep.—Disturbed by coldness of body and twitching of limbs at night. Full of reveries, with anxious dreams and phantasies.
- Fever.—Pulse: Accelerated and ebullition of blood. Chill: In forenoon, with weariness and sleepiness, > by eating. At night, preventing falling to sleep. Of single parts, with heat of face. Anxious, flying. Heat: Recurring every fifteen minutes, most violent toward evening. Sweat: Profuse, at night, mostly after midnight; on affected side. Profuse, especially on abdomen and thighs, during motion.
- Allied Remedies.—Bell., Calc-c., Lyc., Nux-v., Puls., Staph., Sul.

AMMONIUM CARBONICUM.

AMMONIUM CARBONICUM.

Mind.—Difficult thinking. Easily makes mistakes in talking and writing. Forgetful and distracted. Sadness and weeping with fears and presentiments of impending evil. Very feverish and ill-humored during cloudy weather. Satiety of life. Disobedient.

Vertigo.—With nausea, toward evening.

Head.—Chronic headache with nausea. Feeling as if brain were loose. Beating and pressing in forehead, as if head would burst. Heaviness and fulness in forehead. Worse: evening; after eating; after motion in open air. Better: Half-reclining position; external pressure; warmth.

Eyes.—Burning in, with photophobia. Dim vision with glimmering. Nearsighted. Cataract.

Ears.—Difficult hearing with suppuration and itching of. Hard swelling of parotid gland.

Nose.—Congestion of blood to tip, when stooping. Nosebleed. Chronic coryza, can breath through mouth only. Stopped coryza at night.

Face.—Deathly pale, bloated. Itchy eruption with swollen cervical glands. Herpes about mouth. Many freckles. Dry, cracked lips, with burning pains.

Teeth.—Jerking, tearing ache, < by biting teeth together. Sticking ache. Loose. Swollen gums, which bleed easily.

Mouth.—Swelling of inner surface of cheek. Blisters in, also on tongue. Throat, sore, as if a foreign body had lodged there.

Appetite, etc.—He cannot eat without also drinking. Great desire for sugar. Continual thirst.

Taste.—Bitter, in morning.

Eruetation.—Scratchy heartburn after eating.

Nausea.—And vomiting after every meal.

Stomach.—Pressure in with nausea and sensitiveness of pit after eating. Intolerant of pressure of clothes on.

Abdomen.—Spasm in, with contractive sensation, nausea and collection of water in mouth.

Stool. Constipated. Retarded, hard, knotty.

Anus.—Hæmorrhage from, during and independently of stool. Moist hæmorrhoids. Itching of.

Urine.—Nightly; also involuntary urination.

Sexual Organs.—Pollutions follow a forcing and drawing in testes.

Menses.—Too scant and too short, of blackish acrid blood. Too early and too profuse. Many complaints during. Burning, acrid, watery leucorrhœa.

Respiration.—Tightness of chest with palpitation, particularly during exercise and when ascending steps. Asthmatic symptoms of dropsical persons.

Cough.—Dry, as from feather down in throat, with hoarseness. Night cough. With bloody expectoration after previous sweetish (blood) taste in throat, with violent respiratory symptoms.

Chest.—Congestion to. Sticking in left side of, < lying thereon. Hydrothorax. Palpitation.

Back.—Drawing through entire length of, from lumbar region to nape.

Upper Extremities.—Distended bloodvessels and blue hands after washing with cold water or letting them hang down. Deadened sensation in arms and fingers. Pain in wrist which had been formerly sprained. Skin peels from palms.

Lower Extremities.—Bruised pain in hip joints and thighs. Twitching in knees. Cramp in soles of feet. Painful redness and swelling of great toe, in evening.

Generalities.—Wrenching, tearing in joints > by warmth of bed. Restlessness of body in evening. Inclination to stretch limbs. Aversion and unusual sensitiveness to open or cold air. Emaciation. Aversion to motion. Symptoms are intensified in evening. Right side of body is mostly affected. Worse: Washing.

Skin.—Violent itching and burning vesicles after scratching. Freckles. Ganglion. Chafed skin in children.

AMMONIUM CARB.

Sleep.—Day sleepiness. Nightly nausea and ebullitions of blood.

Fever. Pulse: Hard, tense and rapid.
Chill: Attacks of in evening, often alternating with heat, till toward midnight. In open air. Heat: Most in evening, especially on face, with cold feet. Sweat: In early morning, most on joints. Persistent, day or night sweats.

Allied Remedies.—Bro., Calc-c., Flu-ac., Hep., Phos., Sec-c.,

AMMONIUM MURIATICUM.

Mind.—Irritable and fretful in forenoon, but in better humor in afternoon. Anxiety with weeping. Low spirited from care and grief.

Vertigo.—Dizzy, disappearing in open air.

Head.—Sense of heaviness and fullness in forehead, early in morning.

Eyes.—Burning of, in twilight, disappearing in artificial light. Burning in canthi with photophobia, early in morning, disappearing after washing. Flying spots before.

Ears.—Outward sticking in, especially in open air. Running ears with difficult hearing.

Nose.—Sensitiveness and ulcerative pain deep in nasal cavity. Fluent coryza with discharge of acrid water, stoppage of nose and loss of smell.

Face.—Burning heat of, in room. Violent tearing in zygoma. Angles of mouth ulcerated. Dry cracked lips with denuded spots thereon. Throbbing pain in swollen submaxillary glands.

Mouth.—Sticking pain in throat when swallowing. Burning vesicles on tip of tongue.

Thirst.—Much, particularly in evening.

Taste.—Bitter, in mouth early in morning.

Eruetation.—Bitter. Hiccough with stitches in chest.

Vomiting.—Mucus, early in morning.

AMMONIUM MUR.

Abdomen. Pinching bellyache. Twitching about naval and in hypochondriac.

Stool. Constipation. Bellyache about naval before.

Urine.—Diminished discharge of. Frequent nightly urination.

Menses.—Too early and too profuse, with abdominal and lumbar pains.

Cough.—Dry, from tickling in throat, early in the morning. Chronic straining cough coming from deep within chest. When lying on back, in evening and at night.

Larynx.—Hoarseness with burning in.

Neck.—Tearing in sides of, extending into clavicle. Painful stiffness of nape.

Back.—Extraordinary lumbar pain as tho' beaten, at night. Stitches in scapulae when breathing.

Upper Extremities.—Blisters which become scabby, on wrists. Peeling of skin between fingers. Painful fingertips (paranitia).

Lower Extremities.—Contraction of tendons of popliteal spaces and stiff knee joints. Deadness of legs. Ulcerative pains and tearing in heels. Painful tips of toes. Fetid footsweat.

Generalities.—Ulcerative pains in many parts of body. Tightening in joints, as from contraction of muscles. In the morning hours the parts are as if contracted, it disappears during rapid walking in open air. The right side is principally affected. Chest and head symptoms are < in morning, abdominal symptoms in afternoon, and pains in extremities, skin diseases and fever in evening.

Bones.—Tearing in, at night.

Skin.—Vesicular eruptions finally forming scabs. Peeling off, of skin of many parts of body.

Sleep.—Sleepless after midnight.

Fever.—Pulse: Constantly accelerated day and night. Chill: With external coldness in evening, and from uncovering at night. Coldness runs up back. Alternating with heat every half hour. Heat: With puffy red face, especially in a warm room and after physical exertion. Frequent attacks of overrunning h., each time ending with sweat, which breaks out most profusely on face, palms and soles. Sweat: After previous heat, at night as well as during day. Profuse night sweat over entire body, most violent after midnight and in early morning in bed.

Allied Remedies.—Ars., nu.x-v., Pul., Rhus-t.

ANACARDIUM.

Mind.—Imagines himself double, or that someone lies beside him. Feels possessed of two wills, one of which hinders him from doing that to which the other impels him. His reason and will are at variance. Great weakness of comprehension and memory. Imbecility. Awkward, foolish conduct. Anxiety. Despondency and fear of approaching death. Cruelty and inhumanity. Want of moral feeling. Inclination to swear. Irascible and ill-natured. Inclination to laugh about serious matters. Anthropophobia. Hysteria and hypochondriasis after excessive sexual indulgence.

Head.—Congestion to. Pressive ache like a painful inward pressure in temples with decreased vision and hearing, some hours after eating. Pressure as of a nail, mostly in temple (eyes and ears). Tearing headache. Stitches in brain. Pain in occiput from making a misstep and from noise. Worse: Mental exertion; stepping hard; after eating; in cold. Better: While eating.

Eyes.—Pressure on balls. Dim vision. Halo about light in evening.

Ears.—Painful swelling of external. Ear-ache with tearing and sticking. Deafness.

Nose.—Absence of sense of smell. Illusions of smell: Like pigeon dung or smouldering tinder. Violent coryza with fever. Much sneezing and long-continued excitation thereto.

Face.—Pale, with hollow eyes encircled by blue rings. Herpetic skin about mouth.

Mouth.—Fetid odor from, of which he is not conscious. Difficult speech, from swelling and stiffness of tongue.

Appetite, etc.—Violent thirst with arrested breathing when drinking.

Taste.—Loss of.

Vomiting.—Of food, which >.

Stomach.—Pressure in, after eating. Weak digestion with hypochondriacal humor after eating. Shattering in pit at every step, after eating.

Abdomen.—Bursting pain in.

Flatulence.—Rumbings in abdomen with pinching and urging to stool.

Stool.—Ineffectual urging to. Passed with difficulty from inactivity of rectum, although soft.

Anus.—Painful hæmorrhoids in.

Urine.—Frequent passage of scanty, watery urine, with burning.

Sexual Organs.—Discharge of prostatic fluid during stool and after urination.

Respiration.—Tightness of chest and oppression, with internal heat and anxiety, driving him into open air. Suffocative attacks.

Cough.—Attacks of shattering cough every 3 or 4 hours, excited by crawling in trachea; dry at night, during day with a mucous expectoration, mostly of a flat, sweetish taste, often bloody, then again yellow purulent, sometimes also gray and acrid. With arrested breathing. With stitches in head and vomiting of ingesta. Continued yawning and sleepiness after.

Chest.—Pressive pain as from a plug in. Stitches extending from cardiac into lumbar region. Scratching and soreness in.

Back.—Tearing and sticking between scapulae. Pressure as of a load upon shoulders.

Upper Extremities.—Cramp-like pain in wrist and finger joints. Numbness of fingers. Weakness of arms and knees. Clammy sweat on palms.

Lower Extremities.—Restlessness and stiffness in legs, as if knees were bandaged. Twitching and trembling about knee, with paralytic weakness. Intermittent, cramp-like pressure in thighs and calves. Cold feet.

ANACARDIUM.

Generalities.—Pressive pain like the inward pressure of a plug, in many parts. Trembling limbs. Sensitive to drafts and easily takes cold. Paralyzes from apoplexy. Symptoms generally appear periodically. During dinner most symptoms vanish, but reappear afterward. Diminution of sight, hearing, taste and smell. Almost exclusively adapted to ill-natured persons.

Skin.—Want of both sensibility and irritability of.

Fever.—Pulse: Accelerated, with throbbing in bloodvessels. Chill: And chilliness with trembling, especially in open air, disappearing in sunshine. Shuddering over back, as if cold water were poured over it, with heat of face. Internal, even in a warm room. Heat: External with interual chill. Of upper part of body, with cold feet, internal shuddering and hot breath. Daily from 4 p. m. until evening, disappearing at supper time. Sweat: In evening, on head, abdomen and back, even when sitting still. On abdomen and back at night. Sticky, on palms of hands, especially on left. Cool, with internal heat.

Allied Remedies.—Calc-c., Coff., Con., Nat-m.

ANGUSTURA.

Mind.—Extraordinary distraction. Great crowding of thought like a waking dream in afternoon. Disheartened and want of self-confidence. Over-sensitive to offenses. Extraordinary agitation and cheerfulness.

Head.—In evening (pressing) head pains with hot face. Cramp-like headache. Tensive pain in temporal muscles when opening jaws.

Eyes.—Tension and pressure in, as from too strong a light. The lids stand spasmodically wide open. Short sight.

Ears.—Cramping pain in. Diminished hearing.

Face.—Hot and bluish red. Tension in muscles of. Cramp-like pain in zygomæ and in masseter muscles. Trismus: Lock-jaw with widely retracted lips, exposing teeth. For awhile after attacks, lips and cheeks remain blue. Periostitis of lower jaw.

ANGUSTURA.

Throat.—Cramped feeling in, compelling clearing it, but no expectoration.

Appetite, etc.—Entire loss of, for solid food; he desires only coffee. Aversion to pork. Thirsty without desire to drink. Irresistible longing for coffee.

Taste.—Bitter, in mouth after eating and smoking.

Stomach.—Cutting, smarting pain in. Cramping pain in pit.

Abdomen.—Cramping pain in. Cutting in, after drinking milk.

Stool.—Mucus. Diarrhœa with cutting in abdomen.

Sexual Organs.—Violent itching of.

Respiration.—Intermittent, spasmodic. Oppressive tightness of chest when running and ascending.

Cough.—Dry, with scratching and rattling in chest.

Trachea, etc.—Tenacious mucus in, which is not easily dislodged. Hoarseness from mucus in. Faint, soft voice.

Chest.—A cutting ache in both sides of, at first only on inspiration, afterwards increased to cutting shocks which continue, even when patient holds his breath. Painful spasm in muscles of. Bruised pain in muscles of, when moving arms. Violent palpitation with anxiety.

Back.—Painful stiffness between scapulae and in nape. Violent itching along back. Opisthotonos. Bruised pain in lumbar region, early in morning.

Upper Extremities.—Cramp-like drawing through arms into fingers.

Lower Extremities.—Cramping pain and bruised feeling in legs. When stepping, pain on inner side of ankles, necessitating limping.

Generalities.—Tonic spasm excited by touch, drinking and noise. Stiffness and stretching out of limbs. Spasmodic twitchings. Paralyzes.

Bones.—Caries and very painful ulcers which affect the bones and extend into the marrow.

ANGUSTURA.

Sleep.—Sleepiness early in evening, followed by great vivacity until after midnight.

Fever.—Pulse: Accelerated, spasmodic, irregular and sometimes intermittent. Chill: Early in morning in bed and in forenoon, after previous thirst. Violent internal, every afternoon (3 o'clock). Repeated shivering chill over diseased parts. Shivering chill over back in forenoon (9 o'clock). Heat: In evening, most in face, after entering a room and after supper. After midnight (3 o'clock), which disturbs sleep, soon followed by shuddering. Sweat: Only in early morning, and on forehead.

Allied Remedies.—Bry., Calc-c., Lyc., Rhus-t., Verbas., Tab.

ANTIMONIUM CRUDUM

Mind.—Imbecility. Insanity. Ecstatic love and sentimental reveries in the moonlight. Apprehension and solicitude concerning his fate. Restlessness. Inclination to suicide by shooting.

Head.—Stupefying ache with nausea in throat. Congestion to. Distensive pressing ache. Bone pains in cranium, the periosteum is painful and swelled and the bone itself feels swollen. Takes cold in, from getting wet or bathing in cold water. Worse: Evening; warmth; becoming heated; after bathing; after eating; after his accustomed smoke. Better: Walking in cool, open air; at rest.

Eyes.—Inflammatory redness of, and of lids. Sticking in. Eyegum in canthi. Aversion to daylight.

Ears.—Deafness as if a leaflet were lying before tympanum.

Nose.—Sore, cracked, crusty nostrils. Sensation of coldness in, on inspiration.

Face.—Sad expression Vesicular, suppurating eruptions on, which form a yellow crust. Angles of mouth are sore and cracked. Swelled submaxillary glands.

Teeth.—Bleeding from about, and from gums. Jerking pain in hollow teeth < cold water. Gnashing.

ANTIMONIUM CRUDUM.

Mouth.—Salty saliva. Salivation. Dirty, white-coated tongue. Hot breath.

Appetite, etc.—Long continued loss of. Loathes all food. Desires sour things. Intense thirst particularly at night.

Taste. Flat, disagreeably insipid. Bitterness in mouth.

Eructation.—Tasting of ingesta.

Nausea, etc.—Loathing, qualmishness and nausea after derangement of stomach. Qualmishness after drinking wine. Gagging. Tasteless vomiting. Vomits mucus and bile. Vomits, drinks only.

Stomach.—Pain as from overloading. Deranged by gluttony. Spasm in, with sensitive pit^a and thirst. Weak.

Abdomen.—Distended and full after eating. Violent cutting in upper. Ascites.

Flatulence.—Much, with grumbling and rattling in abdomen.

Stool.—Hard, difficult. Feces too large. Diarrhoea: Alternating with constipation (in the aged); papaceous or watery, with cutting bellyache.

Anus.—Hæmorrhoids in. Continuous flow of mucus from.

Urine.—Profuse discharge, containing mucus, with burning in urethra and lumbar pains. Dark. Involuntary urination when coughing. Kidney calculi.

Sexual Organs.—Lustfulness and great sexual excitement. Uterine hemorrhage.

Respiration.—Deep, sighing. Suffocative oppression of chest.

Cough.—Seeming to come from deep in abdomen, the coughs gradually grow weaker as if from increasing closure of throat by a plug. Dry in evening; in morning expectoration of a flat-tasting tenacious mucus mixed with dark blood.

Larynx.—Heat in, during exercise in open air. Very weak voice. Aphonia from becoming heated.

Neck.—Rheumatic pain in.

Chest.—Burning and sticking pain in.

Upper Extremities. Rheumatic pain in arms. Swelling, sticking and tension in deltoid. Inflammatory swelling of forearm. Slowly growing finger-nails.

ANTIMONIUM CRUDUM.

Lower Extremities.—Rheumatic pain in legs. White swelling (hydrarthrosis) of knee. Soles sensitive when stepping. Large callous corns on ball of foot. Inflammatory redness of heel.

Generalities.—Excessive corpulency (or emaciation). Dropsical swelling of entire body. Shattering of whole body. When they recur, complaints alternate from side to side of body (Lac-c.). Gastric symptoms return most violently in afternoon, the others are < from motion and warmth. Effects of wine, especially if sour, Skin.—Fatty itch. Papular and vesicular eruption like insect stings. Nettlerash. Chicken-pox. Arthritic nodes. White swelling. Fistulous ulcers. Liver spots and freckles.

Sleep.—Great day sleepiness. Somnolency particularly in forenoon.

Fever.—Pulse: Exceedingly irregular, now accelerated, now slow, alternating every few beats. Chill: Predominates by day, even in a warm room. Toward noon violent shaking chill with thirst (for beer). Exquisitely cold sensation in nose during inspiration. Heat: Predominating at night, but with cold feet until midnight. Great, from slightest motion, especially in sunshine. Sweat: In morning when awaking, wrinkles the finger-tips. Returning at the same hour, usually on alternate mornings. Intermittent fever with loathing, qualmishness, vomiting, bitter taste in mouth and diminished (or excessive) thirst.

Allied Remedies.—Ars., Bism., Bro., HEP., Ip., MERC., Pul., Sep., SUL.

ANTIMONIUM TARTARICUM.

Mind.—Stupefying confusion of head with sleepiness. Restlessness and solicitude concerning the future. Despair and hopelessness, with somnolence. Weeping and crying. Cheerful by day, but fearful and anxious in evening.

Sensorium.—Stupefaction. Faintings preceded by coldness in the epigastrium and followed by sleep.

ANTIMONIUM TARTARICUM.

Head.—Pressive ache in forehead, with inclination to close eyes. Tensive ache in forehead and one side, as if brain were rolled up into a ball. Throbbing in right side of forehead. Sticking headache. Heat and sweat of. Long-continued trembling of (and hands), especially when coughing. Worse: Evening; night; at rest; sitting bent; warmth, getting warm in bed; lying; after eating. Better: Rising up, sitting upright; in the cold; lying with head high; motion; washing head.

Eyes.—Inclination to close, as if weary and sleepy. Are drawn shut. Pressure on Glimmering before, with dim vision. Chronic optic-nerve paralysis.

Nose.—Fluent coryza, with loss of taste and smell, chilliness and somnolency.

Face.—Pale, sunken. Twitching of muscles. Dry, cracked lips.

Teeth.—Chattering of.

Throat.—Pains in pit of.

Appetite, etc.—Great, for fruit and sour things. Loathes milk. Thirstlessness. Desires cold drinks.

Taste.—Salty in mouth. Food is tasteless.

Eriectation.—Empty. Nightly, as of rotten eggs.

Nausea, etc.—Constant, anxious qualmishness, and inclination to vomit. Violent retching, with sweat on forehead. Vomiting of food, with great exertion, followed by exhaustion, chill and sleepiness (Æth.); of mucus, with mucus diarrhoea.

Stomach.—Gastric pains, as from overloading it. Pressure in, and in pit, with great sensitiveness thereof. Throbbing in pit.

Abdomen.—Throbbing and pulsation in. Bellyache, with intense mental and physical restlessness. Pressure, as of stones lying in, when sitting bent forward.

Flatulence.—Cutting, flatulent colic, worse sitting bent forward.

Stool.—Papescent, mucus or bloody diarrhoeic. Watery diarrhoea follows bellyache. Diarrhoea with restlessness.

ANTIMONIUM TARTARICUM.

- Perineum.—Violent tension in.
- Urine.—Dark, brown, red. Violent, painful urging to urinate, with scanty (often at end bloody) discharge. Burning in urethra after micturition.
- Respiration.—Difficult, necessitating an upright position. Short, from retained expectoration. Paralysis of lungs. Suffocative attacks, with sense of warmth about heart.
- Cough.—Short coughs following each other in quick succession, excited by tickling and creeping in throat and larynx; dry in evening; with expectoration of tenacious mucus, generally somewhat salt, often only flat or sour in morning. With vomiting of food and sweat on forehead. With suffocative attacks. Rattling, hollow. Whooping cough after eating or anger (in children). Nightly, with expectoration of mucus. After the paroxysms, dizziness, sweat on forehead, yawning and great sleepiness.
- Trachea.—Much mucus rattling in.
- Neck.—Weakness of muscles. Eruption on nape.
- Chest.—Oppression of. Rattling in. Perceptible palpitation with (or without) fear.
- Back.—Pain as from fatigue in, and in lumbar region.
- Upper Extremities.—Twitching of muscles of arms and hands. Trembling hands. Burning of hands. Deadness and coldness of finger-tips.
- Generalities.—Great weakness and feebleness. Fainting attacks. Sense of internal trembling. Beating and pulsating in all bloodvessels. Convulsive twitches. Sensitiveness of body to touch. The symptoms are intensified toward evening and when sitting.
- Skin.—Pustules like those of smallpox or cowpox. Eruption of pocks as large as a pea containing pus.
- Sleep.—Jerks and shocks thro' body during. Intense and irresistible somnolency, with deep, stupefying sleep. Sleepiness, with involuntary closure of eyes. Much yawning.
- Fever.—Pulse: Full, hard and accelerated, sometimes intermittent. Strong throbbing in bloodvessels. Often slow and imperceptible during decline of fever. Extraordinarily accelerated from the slightest motion. Chill: And external coldness predominate at all times of day, with somnolency; mostly with trembling and shaking, often as if water were poured over one. Alternating with heat during day. With a pale face. Heat: Violent, but of short duration after a long chill, increased by every movement. Long-continued, after a short chill, with somnolency and sweat on forehead. Sweat: Ail over, most profuse on face, also at night. Often cold and clammy. Most profuse on suffering parts. Intermittent fever, with thirstlessness and somnolency.

APIS.

Allied Remedies.—BELL., Chin., Coccl., Con., Ip., NIT-AC., Op., Pul., Sep.

APIS.

- Mind.—Anxiety and premonition of death. Irritability and violent anger, everything goes wrong. Extraordinary nervous restlessness, does not know what to do with herself, so that tears come to her eyes; overbusy and inconstant. Screaming or stupidity interrupted by sudden piercing shrieks. Unconsciousness. Absent minded, impaired memory; indifferent. Suspicion and jealousy.
- Head.—Bursting, expansive pain in, with vertigo and mental confusion. Brain feels tired, gone to sleep and crawling in. Headaches > from pressure and diarrhoea. Scalp: Sensitive. Hot sweat on.
- Eyes.—Burning and itching of. Inflammatory or cedematous swelling of lids. Lids everted. Profuse lachrymation. Photophobia. Desire to rub. Better: Bathing in cold water.
- Ears.—Purple. Swelling of lymphatic gland behind.
- Nose.—Cold tip. Itching and frequent sneezing.
- Face.—Puffy. Erysipelatous redness of. Red stripes on. Lips greatly swollen.

APIS.

Mouth.—Dry with burning raw feeling, as if scalded in, and in throat, followed by vesicles on edge of tongue, without thirst. Adhesive mucus in, and in throat. Fiery redness and painful tenderness of buccal cavity and throat. Swelling, especially of tongue.

Throat.—Sense of constriction, soreness, stinging or itching in. Breathing and swallowing very difficult, every drop of liquid put upon the tongue nearly suffocates him. Swelling of, and of glands of; worse from hot drinks

Eruptions.—Tasting like yolk of egg, during headache.

Nausea, etc.—Progressing to vomiting, with fainting. Vomiting with abdominal symptoms or diarrhoea.

Thirst.—Generally absent, but occasionally it is intense.

Stomach.—Hot vapor seems to rise from. Prickling as from needles. Oppression at pit. Burning in.

Abdomen.—Bruised soreness of, < pressure, sneezing or touch. Inflated sensation in. Rumbling in. Heaviness in.

Anus, Rectum and Stool.—Diarrhoea, with feeling of rawness in anus; with extreme weakness. Stools pass with every motion of the body, as if anus stood open. Stools contain lumps of bloody mucus. Tenesmus.

Urine.—Burning and soreness when urinating. Frequent, profuse urination. Suppressed or scanty. Strangury. Brick-dust sediment.

Sexual Organs.—Sexual excitement. Uterine hemorrhage with yawning. Miscarriage. Flow of menses relieves burning in abdomen. Ovaries: Stinging, drawing, cutting or sore pains, more in right, < from coition, standing or walking.

Respiration.—Suffocation: With a sensation that he would not be able to breathe again; can bear nothing about throat, wants to be fanned; < lying down Oppression of, with desire to take a deep breath. Respiration and cough are < lying on left side.

Cough.—Violent shocks of cough from a crawling irritation near the throat pit; increased headache at every shock. Worse: In a warm room, after lying and sleeping. Better: By a little expectoration.

Larynx, etc.—Hoarseness: in morning; with difficult breathing.

Chest.—Stinging or stitches in. Bruised soreness; < coughing Fullness in. Heart: Feeble heart beat. Violent, audible palpitation. Acute pain below heart, extending towards right chest.

Neck and Back.—Neck stiff. Nettlerash on. Bruised feeling in. Odor from axillæ greatly intensified.

Upper Extremities.—Sensitiveness of. Painfulness of bones. Numb finger-tips. Sensation as if nails were loose Blood settles under nails. Burning, pricking, especially in finger-tips. Swelling of.

Lower Extremities.—Feel paralyzed. Sore pains. Sensation in feet and toes, as if too large, swollen and stiff. Painful fulness in soles, as if walking on cushions. Crawling in. Numb.

Generalities.—Swelling of affected parts, with burning, itching, stinging or shooting pains. Œdema; dropsy, anasarca, etc; puffing up of the whole body. Sense of tightness in many parts, especially abdomen. Bruised soreness all over. Sensitiveness of mind and body, or apathy, numbness and anæsthesia with awkwardness causing her to drop things. Lassitude, weakness and sudden prostration. Trembling. Sensations: Of sudden stinging or stabbing; of swelling, soreness, rawness, drawing, crawling or as if parts were going to sleep. Pain causes fainting. Symptoms often move from right to left. Want of thirst predominates.

Worse.—Touch; heat.

Better.—Cold; open air.

Glands.—Swelled. Redness of lymphatics.

Skin.—Stinging, pricking, burning, smarting and itching all over. Exceedingly sensitive, even the hair is painful to touch. Red spots, like bee stings on. Swelling and erysipelatous redness of, then desquamation of whole surface.

APIS.

Appearance of a nettlerash like eruption > the other symptoms. Receding or suppressed eruptions. Wheals. Urticaria. Burning like fire in spots, altho' parts may be cold. Better: Rubbing.

Sleep.—Somnolency: With prostration; with nervous restlessness. Screaming out, or terrified starting during. Dreams: Full of laborious; of heat; of flying; quarrels, etc.

Fever.—Pulse: Full and accelerated; more seldom small and thready; occasionally intermittent and imperceptible. Chill: Severest towards evening. Shivering e., in afternoon (3 or 4 o'clock) increased by warmth. Shivering from least motion, especially towards evening, with heat of head and hands. Heat: Without thirst. Dry, toward evening. The sensation of heat is greatest on chest and epigastric region. Sweat: Alternating with dry skin.

Antidotes.—Cauth., Carb-v.

Allied Remedies.—Apoc., ARS., Bell., Canth., Chin., Coel., Dulc., Ferr., Graph., Hell., Hep., Iod., Kali-c., Kali iod., Lach., Lye., Merc., Millef., NAT-M., PULS., Rhust., Sep., Sul., URT-U.

ARGENTUM METALLICUM.

Mind.—Anxiety driving him from place to place. Dejection. Taciturnity.

Vertigo.—With dim vision.

Head.—Crawling and whirling in, as from intoxication. Hollow feeling in, with soreness of whole brain. Pressing, tearing in skull, especially in temporal bones. Smarting soreness on external. Pressure and tearing in skull bones. Worse: Pressure; touch. Better: Open air.

Ears.—Gnawing itching of external.

Nose.—Nosebleed preceded by crawling in. Severe, fluent coryza with frequent sneezing.

ARGENTUM METALLICUM.

Face.—Red. Pressing and tearing in bones of. Swelled upper lip.

Mouth.—Raw, and sore smarting pain in throat when coughing, less when swallowing. Inflammation and narrowing of throat (after abuse of mercury), so that food passes through with difficulty. Sore throat, as tho' swollen internally. Sore, burning vesicles on tongue.

Appetite, etc.—Unusually good. Aversion to all food, even when thinking thereof.

Abdomen.—Painful distension of. Flatulent colic.

Stool.—Frequent, soft, but always scanty.

Urine.—Frequent urging to urinate with copious discharge. Polyuria.

Sexual Organs.—Pollutions almost every night.

Cough.—By day, with easy expectoration.

Larynx, etc.—Raw, sore pain in. Much gelatinous gray mucus in trachea, which is easily expectorated.

Upper Extremities.—Tension and tearing in arms, especially in bones of hands and fingers.

Lower Extremities.—Stitches in hip when walking. Pain in knee when sitting. Tearing in bones of feet and toes.

Generalities.—Bruised pain in joints. Asleep or stiff sensation in extremities. Pain in internal organs, as if raw or sore. Epileptic attacks. Effects of abuse of mercury (abd of onanism). Symptoms recur each noon.

Bones.—Tearing pains in.

Skin.—Corrosive, burning itching here and there.

Fever.—Pulse: Accelerated in evening after lying down. Chill: In afternoon and evening until falling to sleep, also before midnight from slightest raising of covers. Spreads from the back. Heat: In forenoon, over the entire body, it is true yet less on head. Without thirst. Sweat: On abdomen and chest only:

Allied Remedies.—Merc.

ARGENTUM NITRICUM.

ARGENTUM NITRICUM.

- Mind.—Imbecile appearance, shy and childish. Weak memory, confusion of thought. Falters in speech. Anxiety: With gastrointestinal symptoms; with palpitation; apprehensive, hurried and impulsive. Distraction. Taciturn. Timid. Builds air-castles by day and has monstrous dreams at night.
- Vertigo.—As if intoxicated; with confusion; with headache; with buzzing in ears, weak limbs and trembling; with blindness.
- Head.—Enlarged feeling, as if to burst, with eructations and chilliness. As if in a vise. As of a cool current in. Unilateral radiating, digging or boring pains so violent that he loses his senses, with sour taste and vomiting. Worse: Mental exertion and in open air. Better: Tight bandaging.
- Scalp.—Extremely troublesome itching and crawling. Roots of hair feel pulled upward.
- Eyes.—Ophthalmia with sticking pains and swelled carunculæ, conjunctiva blood-red, swollen or puckered. Agglutinated lids. Filled with mucus. Dilated pupils. Misty vision. Serpents, gray spots or fiery bodies before. Chemosis. Opacity of cornea. Worse: From heat of fire. Better: In cool air.
- Nose.—Coryza with chilliness. Sneezing excited by tingling in and in posterior nares. Obstructed in room but flowing a thin mucus in open air. Bruised pain in bones of. Violent itching, rubs until it becomes raw. Blows bloody, purulent mucus from, as cough improves. Dull sense of smell.
- Face.—Sickly, sunken, pale or bluish. Aged expression.
- Teeth.—Grumbling digging in < from cold or sour things. Loose. Readily bleeding gums.
- Tongue.—Red, painful tip, with prominent papillæ.
- Mouth.—Dry. Salivation.
- Taste.—Astringent, metallic, like ink, sweetish or clayey; straw-like to food.
- Throat.—Dark red. Thick, tenacious mucus in, obliges hawking. As of a splinter in. Rawness, soreness or roughness in. Tickling in, causing lachrymation. Cramps, choking or astringent sensation in.
- Appetite.—Irresistible for sugar.
- Eructations.—Violent, tasting of ingesta.
- Nausea.—With quavering in stomach and shuddering. Retching > from eating.
- Stomach.—Pit; Painful swelling of; sense of a lump in. Radiating, twisting, gripping, ulcerative gnawing or dragging pains, > from diarrhœa, < touch, drinking, after food and by deep inspiration. Sense of being filled unto bursting, > copious eructations.
- Abdomen.—Flatulent distension, > passing flatus. Gurgling in. Feeling of a ball rising into throat from. Drawing extending into groins; dragging in. Stitches. Intolerance of lacing. Worse: Lying on right side.
- Anus.—Creeping with burning in.
- Stool.—Scanty, watery or of greenish, fetid mucus with noisy flatus or flatulent colic. Diarrhœa from eating sugar, after mental motions or drinking. In flakes like spinach.
- Urine.—Can't pass urine in a projecting stream. Urethra: Feels swollen, hard and knotty; cutting from behind forward in; stretched feeling in, during coition.
- Sexual Organs.—Chancre-like ulcers in prepuce. Desire wanting, with shrivelled genitals. Painful coition.
- Respiratory Organs.—Hoarseness. Cough: With lachrymations from tickling in throat and palate; with suffocation; worse from tobacco smoke.
- Chest.—Burning.—Heaviness. Worse while lying down and in evening. Palpitation: Irregular heart beat, < thinking thereof, > from motion in open air.
- Back.—Lumbar pain, < rising from sitting, > walking. Heaviness in sacrum.
- Extremities.—Chorea-like motions. Startings in. Paralysis.

ARGENTUM NITRICUM

Generalities—Great debility With trembling with rigidity and bruised feeling in calves and loins Incoherent ideas and incoördinate movements Feeling of hot fluid running along parts, skin urethra etc Sensation Of expansion of bursting as if bones of head were separating or skull bones were loose as if band about parts Boring pains Luns in spots Heaviness In imitation Many left sided symptoms Splinter like sensations

Worse—In motions Mental strain, thinking in a warm room

Skin—Tense and hard Leadén hue

Sleep—Sleepless from fancies Dreams of serpents, with horror

Fever—Chills Along spine creeping, with nausea Heat With burning, in spots With chilliness on uncovering Sweat On palms, lower abdomen and inside of thighs

Complementary—Puls

Antidote—Nat m

Allied Remedies—Arg m, Aur, Bar c, Gel, Hell Hep, Lyc, Merc, Merc c, Nit ac, Pul, Thuja

ARNICA

Mind—Unconsciousness Distraction and inability to think Great fear and restlessness Lachrymose humor Over-sensitive Refuses to reply to anything Rage Peevish willful, quarrelsome mood Anger, followed by screaming and weeping

Sensorium—Whirling vertigo with nausea when rising up and during motion > lying fainting after physical injuries

Head—Congestion to Burning or heat of, with coldness of rest of body Pressing pain in forehead Fearful and inward sticking in temples and forehead Compressive ache Stitches in Concussion of brain Aching over one eye, with vomiting of green water after overlifting Cutting like a knife through head followed by a cold feeling and bristling hair Feeling as if brain were rolled into a lump as if a nail were thrust into one temple of crawling in forehead over orbit, also upon vertex Worse forenoon and evening, motion, shaking, coughing, mental exertion, midnight, after eating, raising eyes, becoming cold Better Rest, lying horizontally or on painful side

External Head—Crawling tearing in the bone itself, most severe in region of temples (after trauma) Crawling in vertex Extension from vertex down to brows Scalp adheres tightly to cranium Worse Touch Better Warmth, rubbing, wrapping up warmly

Eyes—Inflamed and bloodshot after injuries Dim, lustreless Swollen, ecchymosed lids Burning tears Photo phobia

Ears—Stitches in and behind Difficult hearing, with roaring before Earache, as from a contusion

Nose—Crawling in Pain in, as if crushed Swelling and ecchymosis of Epistaxis

Face—Pale, sunken Heat of, with coldness of body Unilateral redness and swelling of cheeks Crawling about eyes in cheeks and lips Bursted, burning lips Swollen, submaxillary glands

Teeth—Aching, with crawling in gums and a swelled cheek

Mouth—Offensive odor from, early in morning Bleeding from Burning in throat Swallowing impeded by a sort of qualmsishness Noisy deglutition White coated tongue

Appetite, etc—Craving for vinegar Violent thirst for cold water, without heat

Taste—Foul or bitter

Eruetation—Foul or bitter Like rotten eggs Regurgitation of bitter mucus

Nausea, etc—Qualmsishness and empty retching Vomiting Of ingesta (often mixed with blood) after drinking, of dark, coagulated blood

Stomach.—Cramp in Fulness in Stitches in pit with pressure extending into back and constriction of chest

Hypochondria—When walking stitches in spleen with arrested breathing

Abdomen—Hard, distended Pain in after overlifting (also during pregnancy) Contusive pain in sides of Pain about ARNICA.

- navel during motion. Colic with retained urine.
- Flatulence.—Torturing. Discharged flatus has odor of rotten eggs.
- Stool.—Retained, with ineffectual urging. Undigested. Unnoticed. Involuntary. Diarrhoea with tenesmus. Ineffectual tenesmus.
- Urine.—Retention of, from spasm of sphincter vesicæ. Brownish-red, with brick-red sediment. Hæmaturia. Ineffectual urging to urinate. Involuntary urination at night in bed and during day when walking.
- Sexual Organs.—Bluish-red swelling of penis and scrotum. Hot swelling of testes (after contusion). Hydrocele. Inflamed vagina and uterus after (difficult) childbirth. After pains too painful and too long continued.
- Respiration.—Anxious oppression of. Foul smelling breath.
- Cough.—Dry, excited by crawling in trachea, with stitches in head. When coughing, inability to expectorate, on the contrary must swallow what is loosened. Hæmoptysis, of bright foamy blood mixed with small clots. Expectoration of black blood in coagulated lumps, without cough, after every exertion. Expectoration of badly tasting slime in evening. Wailing, crying and weeping precede and follow the paroxysm.
- Larynx.—Scraping in.
- Chest.—Bruised pain and compression in. Burning in. Stitches in < from coughing and motion, > by external pressure. Rawness in. Stitches in (left side). Bruised feeling in ribs. Jerking heart beat. Erysipelas and inflammation of female mammæ. Excoriated nipples.
- Back.—Crawling in. Stitches in loins. Bruised sensation in, and in lumbar region.
- Upper Extremities.—Bruised sensation in arms. Crawling in arms. Sprained pain in joints of arm and hand. Distended bloodvessels on hands.
- Lower Extremities.—Bruised feeling in legs. Crawling in legs. Tension and weariness in thighs. Pale swelling of knee. Hot, erysipelatous inflammation and painfulness of feet. Podagra.
- Generalities.—Bruised pain with crawling in entire body, from every motion. Stiffness of limbs after excessive exertion. Oversensitiveness of entire body. Constant restlessness of body and tossing about. Shifting pains in joints quickly change place. Twitching muscles. Ebullitions of blood. Apoplexy with exudation. Ecchymosis and hemorrhages of internal and external parts. Complaints (also inflammations) after blows, falls or contusions. The symptoms are intensified in the evening and at night, as well as from touch, motion and even from noise.
- Bones.—Drawing in periosteum, before fever.
- Skin.—Numerous small boils. Hot, hard, glistening swelling (i. e., as from insect stings). Ecchymoses. Wounds. Excoriations (bed sores) of invalids.
- Sleep.—Day sleepiness, with inability to sleep. Somnolency, with flightiness. Anxious dreams.
- Fever.—Pulse: Very variable, mostly full, hard and accelerated. Sometimes very weak and slow. Alternate quick and slow action of pulse and heart. Strong pulsation thro' whole body in evening. Chill: Internal coldness with external warmth. With great thirst, which often precedes it, as if cold water were poured over one, for the most part in the evening. And goldness of lower parts of body, with heat of upper, especially of head. Universal, with heat and redness of one cheek. After every nap. From slightest lifting of covers. Alternating with heat. Cold sensation of side on which he lies. Heat: Dry, which is either general or only running over the face or back. Burning in single parts of body, which feel cold externally. Or coldness, now here now there. In evening, with pains in limbs. Internal with external coldness. Sweat: for the most part sour or offensive smelling; sometimes cold.
- Allied Remedies.—Acon., Ap., Ars., Bry., Cann., Caps., Chin., Cic., Ferr., Ign., IP., Merc., Millef., Phyt., Pul., Rhus-I. Sabi., Samb., Scill., Seneg., Verat-a., ZINC.

ARSENICUM

ARSENICUM.

Mind—Anxiety, restlessness and cold feeling from vexation. Inclined to hang himself. Derangement mental weakness and sanity of life in drunkards. Anxiety at night which allows him no rest. Anxiety and despair often mounting to madness during pain. Attacks of great fear of being alone, (of thieves, ghosts) or death. Mad brutal obstinacy. Takes everything in bad part. Inclination to talk about faults of others. Love of scandal. Malice. Cupricious disposition. Crying and whining of children.

Sensorium—Fainting from weakness with a scarcely perceptible pulse. Chaotic condition and heaviness of head, when in a room.

Head—Burning and shocks in. Swelling of. Throbbing pain in forehead with nausea. Pressure as of a load bearing down on brain, with exhaustion and humming in. Worse Night, in morning when standing or sitting in room, motion, raising up. Better transiently, from cold bathing, permanently in open air and from warmth.

External Head—Burning, itching most on bregma but also on occiput, less on sides, scratching causes bleeding, more violent burning and some moisture, later foul festers among many dry whitish, burning itching, bran like scales appear. Burning itching gatherings on, with festering pain when touched and sensitiveness of head to touch and cold. Erysipelatous burning swelling of entire head face (and genitals) with general coldness chill, aversion to uncovering great exhaustion and nightly aggravation.

Eyes—Red inflamed with burning pains. Inflammation on inner surface of lids impedes opening them. Spots on cornea.

Ears—Difficult hearing for the human voice every thing else is distinctly heard.

Nose—Swelling and burning of. Ulcers in. Cancer of. Violent fluent coryza with discharge of acrid burning water.

Face—Earthy, pale or yellow color. Distorted deathly countenance. Blue and puffi, especially about eyes. Unnatural redness of. Milk crust. Drawing sticking here and there. Cancer of and of lips with burning pains. Blackish, fissured lips. Crawling sensation on denuded lower lip as of something alive there. Swollens submaxillary glands.

Teeth—Nightly aching > external warmth. Bleeding gums.

Mouth—Bad odor from. Thrush. Inflammation of oesophagus. Burning and roughness in fauces. Dry, black fissured tongue. Gangrene of tongue.

Appetite, etc—Desire for sour things and brandy. Continual craving for fluids, drinks frequently but little at a time.

Taste—Bitter. In mouth after eating and drinking, of bread.

Nausea, etc—Retching. Qualmishness rising into throat. Vomiting: chronic, of food immediately after eating, after every drink, black, with anxiety in epigastrium.

Stomach—Burning in, with bitter eructations. Great painfulness in pit. Pressure in. Cancer of. Stomachache with anxiety.

Hypochondriæ—Indurated liver. Stitches.

Abdomen—Distended, hard. Burning in. Stitches in sides of. Nightly twitching pains in. Ascites. Bruised pain in. Indurated mesenteric glands. Painful swelling of inguinal glands.

Stool—Burning evacuations with intense cutting in abdomen. Diarrhœa. Very offensive, with persistent coldness, dysenteric, white, involuntary, burning, chronic, watery and painful. Constipation.

Anus, etc—Burning pain in rectum. Burning hæmorrhoids.

Urine—Retention of, or difficult urination. Burning.

Sexual Organs—Painful swelling of. Erysipelatous inflammation of scrotum.

Menses—Too early and too profuse. Acrid, burning excoriating leucorrhœa.

Respiration—Tightness of chest during motion. Suffocative attacks in evening after lying down. Oppression of chest when ascending and when in cold air. Shortness of, when walking or turning over in bed.

ARSENICUM.

Cough.—Clear, ringing, crowing or whistling, excited by burning tickling as from sulphur vapor in trachea and throat pit; dry at night; by day, expectoration of a scanty, mostly foamy, mucus, or in lumps of varying taste and color, sometimes mixed with bright red blood, returning periodically with increasing violence. Without expectoration, especially after drinking. Immediately on lying down. Nightly hemoptysis with heat.

Trachea.—Phthisis of, with scanty secretion of mucus. Constriction of larynx.

Chest.—Burning (or chilliness) in. Constriction of, with want of breath, from every movement. Distension of. Itching in. Nightly anxious palpitation. Cancer of breast. Hydrothorax. Sticking and pressing in sternum.

Back.—Intense burning. Nightly tearing.

Upper Extremities.—Nightly tearing in arms from elbows to shoulders. Black pimples on arms. Nightly sensation of fulness and swelling in palm of hand. Chafing between fingers. Discolored nails.

Lower Extremities.—Twitching in hip. Tearing sticking in hip, lumbar region and thigh. Nightly tearing in legs. Bruised sensation in knee-joint. Old ulcers on legs, with burning and sticking, especially at night. Itching herpes in popliteal spaces. Hard, burning swelling of feet. Painfulness of balls of toes, as if rubbed sore when walking. Podagra. Varicose veins.

Generalities.—Burning pains in various parts. Tearing pains in limbs are most violent at night and during rest after previous overexertion, are only endurable when walking about and from external warmth, which he craves. Extraordinarily rapid sinking of strength. Great restlessness in limbs. Emaciation. Tremblings. Elastic swellings. Convulsions. Worse: During rest, especially after previous violent exercise; by addressing others; after eating and lying down; immediately after midnight. Better: By external warmth and exercise. It sometimes rescues when all appears lost, but only when given in the smallest doses and a high potency.

Skin.—Dry, cold. General œdema. Flat ulcers, with burning pain and ichorous discharge. Gangrenous ulcers, vesicles. Cold swellings.

Sleep.—Frequent starting up and twitching in. Somnolency in evening. Sleeplessness, with constant restlessness and tossing about. Inability to fall asleep after once awaking at night. Anxious dreams.

Fever.—Pulse: Weak and small, but greatly accelerated, often imperceptible and entirely wanting or intermittent. Quick, early in morning, slow in evening. Burning or cold sensation in bloodvessels. Chill: (And heat) indistinct, either concomitant or alternating. In forenoon, which nothing relieves. Internal, with external heat. And shuddering after every drink. Without thirst. External coldness, with cold, clammy sweat. During the chill (and heat) many concomitants which before were only of slight importance now appear in severity. General coldness of body or of diseased parts. Shivering in evening, with tearing in limbs and anxious restlessness. Heat: Internal, burning, dry. Dry in evening and at night, with thirst for frequent drinks, but only a little each time. Nightly, as if dashed with hot water. Sweat: At end of the fever, with disappearance of all symptoms, even the concomitants. When first falling to sleep, or thro' whole night. Cold, clammy, sour or offensive smelling. Unquenchable thirst during.

Allied Remedies.—Aco., Am-m., Ant-c., Arn., APIS, Bar-c., Brom., Bry., Calc-c., Carb-v., CHAM., Chin., Coff., Colch., Dig., Dulc., Euphor., FERR., Graph., HEP., Ign., IOD., IP., Kali-bl., Kali-c., KRE., Lach., LYC., Mag-c., MERC., MERC-C., Mos., Mur-ac., Nat-m., NUX-V., Petr., Phos., Phos-ac., Pib., Rau-s., (RHUS-T), Samb., Scill., Sec-c., Sep., Sil., Stam., Staph., SUL., Sul-ac., Verat-a.

ASAFŒTIDA.

ASAFŒTIDA.

Mind.—Very excitable and sensitive disposition with indifference to everything. Hypochondriacal and hysterical restlessness and anxiety. Vacillating mood, and inconstancy.

Head.—Congestion to, with throbbing. Bleating stitches in forehead, sides or temples, which jerk outward thro' head. Pressure as of a dull instrument or plug in sides and temples. Outward pressure, with pressing over eyes as if sleepy. Stupefying tension, most in left side. Worse: Afternoon and evening; rest; in room; after lying down; sitting bent. Better: Walking in open air; raising up; touch.

Eyes.—Burning in balls, also extending from within outward. Dry feeling in.

Ears.—Difficult hearing, with suppuration of.

Nose.—Pressure in, as if it would burst. (Ham.) Sense of numbness in bridge of. Offensive, purulent discharge from.

Face.—Sense of tensive numbness in bones of. Pressive numb feeling in chin.

Mouth.—Dryness and burning in, and in pharynx. Sensation of a body ascending into the at.

Eruetation.—Acrid, rancid, as after fat food.

Stomach.—Pressure in, after eating. Feeling of fulness in region of. Pulsation in pit of. Disordered, after fat food.

Hypochondria.—Pressive or sticking pains from within outward in liver.

Abdomen.—Sticking pain from within outward in sides of.

Flatulence.—Pinching flatulent colic. Much stinking flatus.

Stool.—Ineffectual urging to. Foul smelling diarrhoea with bellyache and discharge of stinking flatus.

Urine.—Brown, acrid smelling. Spasm of bladder during and after urination.

Respiration.—Compression of chest with rapid breathing and a small pulse. Spasmodic tightness of chest, as if lungs could not be sufficiently expanded.

Chest.—Pressure, with difficult respiration. Throbbing in. Sticking from within outward in. Palpitation.

ASARUM.

Back.—Sticking in scapulæ, muscles of back and loins.

Upper Extremities.—Twitching of muscles of arms and hands.

Lower Extremities.—Twitching of muscles of legs and feet. Swollen ankles. Sticking and throbbing in great toe.

Generalities.—Jumping and quivering of muscles in many parts. Continued dull sticking pains from within outward. Puffiness and heaviness of body. Chorea. Hysterical attacks. Most of the pains are associated with a numb feeling in affected parts. Great sensitiveness to touch. The pains are ameliorated or change place from touch, but on the other hand are not affected by a change of position.

Bones.—Painful osteitis. Softening and curvature of (rachitis). Interstitial distension of. Caries with thin, ichorous, fetid pus.

Skin.—Hot, dark-red swelling of single parts. External inflammations with inclination to suppuration. Gangrenous ulcers with unhealthy pus and painful areolæ.

Sleep.—Unusually great desire for.

Fever.—Pulse: Small, but greatly accelerated and irregular. Chill: Coldness and dry skin. In afternoon, shuddering running over body, especially over back. Heat: Of face after dinner, with anxiety and sleepiness, but without thirst. Sweat: Entirely wanting; only seldom a somewhat cold moisture on skin.

Allied Remedies.—Arg-n., Aur., Caust., CHIN., Men., MERC., Nit-ac., Phos-ac., Plat., Puls., Sep.

ASARUM.

Mind.—Pressive confusion in head. Vanishing of thought. Melancholy peevishness. Tearful sadness. Nervous excitement with great liveliness.

Head.—Pressive pain in forehead with qualmsiness, < by every mental exertion. Attacks of unilateral arthritic headache, every afternoon at five o'clock. Compressive pain in forehead, temples

ASARUM.

- and behind ears, with lachrymation and burning in eyes. Worse: Afternoon; walking. Better: Sitting; washing.
- External Head.—Entire scalp so tense that the hair feels painful, and the nerves are affected. Worse: Warm dry air. Better: Bathing in cold water.
- Eyes.—Burning and sense of dryness within. Red conjunctiva with sticking in canthi. Sense of coldness in. Bleared, inflamed. In evening when in room, burning as from brandy in, with constant lachrymation. Cold air feels agreeable, but sunshine, light and wind are unendurable. Staring. Dim vision.
- Ears.—Pressure and tension on orifice of auditory canal. Diminished hearing.
- Mouth.—Much, cool, watery saliva in.
- Taste.—Bread and tobacco taste bitter.
- Eructation.—Foul. Heartburn with sour eructations which dull the teeth.
- Nausea.—Violent, empty retching which < all symptoms. Vomiting in violent efforts, with anxiety and chilliness.
- Hypochondriæ.—Smarting, excoriating pain in spleen.
- Abdomen.—Pinching pain in left, extending into back. Intense colic with vomiting. Inguinal hernia.
- Stool.—Cutting in abdomen before. Pro-lapsus recti during. Discharge of black, thick blood during. After stool, pressing, with discharge of white, tenacious, bloody mucus. Diarrhœa: Oftenacious, mucus, with blood; of undigested food, especially potatoes. Soft, with ascarides and reddish mucus.
- Sexual Organs.—Suppressed sexual desire.
- Menses.—Of black blood, too early and too prolonged. Violent pain in small of back, so that she can hardly breathe, at start of.
- Respiration.—Short, as tho' one were breathing in a sack.
- Cough.—From irritation in larynx, with copious expectoration of mucus.
- Larynx.—Constriction of, with shortness of breath.
- Neck.—Sensation as if cravat were to tight.

AURUM.

- Contractive cramp in neck, nape and limbs.
- Chest.—Contractive squeezing in lungs. Stitches in lungs during inspiration.
- Back.—Bruised feeling in.
- Upper Extremities.—Drawing in wrists and fingers.
- Lower Extremities.—Chronic pressive pain in hips, which impedes stepping. Cramp in thighs. Weariness in knees. Stitches in ankles.
- Generalities.—Excessively sensitive nerves, scratching on linen, silk, etc. is unendurable. Sense of lightness of limbs, when walking he imagines himself floating in air. Symptoms from worms. Many symptoms disappear upon washing (the face) with cold water. Evening aggravations.
- Sleep.—Late falling to sleep on account of ebullition of blood.
- Fever.—Pulse: Quick and strong. Chill: Sensation of coldness in forenoon, after eating, drinking and in open air, mostly with heat of head. Much shivering during day. Coldness and chilliness without thirst. Coldness alternating with flushes of burning heat. Heat: In evening after lying down, especially on face and palms of hands. Sweat: Sour smelling, increased at night, and otherwise when sitting still, most profuse in axillæ. Generally very easy, especially on upper part of body.
- Allied Remedies.—Cupr., Nux-v., Phos.

AURUM.

- Mind.—Debility from mental labor. Melancholy mood with restlessness and longing for death. Irresistible inclination to weep. Religious melancholy with praying. Melancholy with rancor. He does nothing but ask questions. Great anguish driving him to suicide. Despair of himself as well as others. From slightest opposition he flies into a heated passion and anger. Alternate laughing and crying, or alternate anger and sadness. Unfortunate love. Hypochondriasis. Taciturnity. Scrupulosity.

AURUM.

Head.—Intense congestion to, with heat therein Bruised pain in forepart of, on awaking, causing confusion of ideas. Tumult and roaring in. Pain in skull bones. Worse: Every mental exertion; stooping; cold. Better: Raising up; warm wrapping; in open air.

External Head.—Exostoses, boring painfully of themselves, but worse when touched or lain upon. Boring tearing in skull bones readily passing into inflammation and necrosis. Worse: Becoming cold. Better: Warm wrapping; external pressure.

Eyes—Tensive pain in. Inflammation and suppuration of. Protruding. Fire and sparks before. Paralysis of optic nerve. Horizontal half vision.

Ears.—Discharge of foul-smelling pus from. Humming in. Caries of mastoid.

Nose.—Caries of nasal bones. Bone pain in bridge of. Cancer of. Fetid odor from. Greatly heightened sense of smell.

Face.—Glistening, puffy. Swelled cheeks. Osteitis. Tensive pain in upper jaw. Painful swelling of submaxillary glands.

Teeth.—Ulcerated gums with toothache and heat in head.

Mouth.—Foul odor like old cheese from. Caries of hard palate.

Appetite, etc.—Excessive hunger and thirst with sore feeling in stomach.

Abdomen.—Protruding inguinal hernia. Disagreeable feeling in.

Flatulence.—Nightly flatulent colic.

Stool.—Nightly diarrhœas. Copious.

Urine.—Painful retention of, with urging and pressing in bladder. Copious, watery.

Sexual Organs.—Indurated testes. Swelling of under part of testes. Increased sexual desire. Nightly erection and pollutions. Prolapsus uteri.

Respiration.—Suffocative attacks with constrictive oppression of chest. Great tightness in thorax, with necessity to take a deep breath Chest.—Anxious palpitation from congestion thereto.

Back.—Intense backache.

Upper Extremities.—Tearing in joints of hands and fingers.

BARYTA CARBONICA.

Lower Extremities.—Paralytic weakness in knee, as if bandaged. Tearing in joints and bones of feet and toes.

Generalities.—Paralytic tearing in joints, early, on awaking, and when parts become cold. Gouty nodes. Dropsical swelling of body. Strong ebullition in blood throughout entire body, with violent palpitation. Over sensitive to cold and every pain. Desire for open air. Hysterical spasms with alternate laughing and weeping.

Bones.—Bone pains. Osteitis. Caries.

Skin.—Cracked. Mercurial ulcers, which also attack the bones.

Sleep.—Sleepiness after dinner. Restless, with anxious dreams. Nightly delirium.

Fever.—Pulse: Small, but accelerated. Much ebullition of blood in entire body, and strong congestion to head and chest.

Chill: Predominating. And coldness of hands and feet, also when in bed, often continuing the whole night. In evening in bed, general shaking chill without thirst and not followed by heat. Coldness of entire body, with nausea. Heat: Mostly in face, only alternating with chill. Sweat: In early morning, most profuse on and about sexual organs.

Allied Remedies.—Asaf., Cal-c., Coff. Merc., Nux-v., Phos., Pul.

BARYTA CARBONICA.

Mind.—Averse to playing. Disposed to weep. Sudden ebullitions of temper with cowardice. Mental weakness in old people. Extraordinary forgetfulness. Critical and irresolute. Want of selfconfidence. Dread of man (especially strangers). Excessive activity and restlessness.

Vertigo.—With nausea while stooping.

Head.—Pressive ache just over the eyes. Tension in occiput. Sticking headache, when near stove.

External Head.—Painfully sensitive on side lain on, and to every touch. Feeling of blood extravasating beneath. Tension in skin of scalp and face, as if egg albumen had dried thereon, with swelling thereof. Crawling eating and

BARYTA CARBONICA.

- sticking itching most on vertex and sides; sticking violently, and very painful when scratched, leaving moist spots which later cover themselves with scabs. Hair falls out, even to baldness, beginning on vertex, with dry itching crusts on and itching pimples on neck. Tendency to take cold in from washing head. Worse: Evening; at night; scratching; in a warm room. Better: Motion in open air.
- Eyes.—Burning and pressing in, from eye strain. Inflamed, with a sense of dryness and photophobia. Suppurative agglutination of lids. Light dazzles, yet in the dark there are sparks before.
- Ears.—Eruption on and behind. Cracking and snapping in, when swallowing, sneezing and walking rapidly.
- Nose.—Nosebleed after blowing it. Sensitive smell. Fluent coryza with thick mucus.
- Face.—Dark red, with violent congestion thereto. Tension as if covered with a cobweb. Swollen. Milk crust. Swelled submaxillary glands.
- Teeth.—Jerks, extending into ears and temples. Ache with swollen gums before menses.
- Mouth.—Bad odor from. Dry. Raw burning cracks on tongue.
- Throat.—Repeated inflammation, after taking the slightest cold, with swelling and suppuration of tonsils. Sense of a plug in. Sore, when swallowing. Roughness in.
- Appetite, etc.—Small, but food tastes properly. Thirst.
- Taste.—Bitter, in mouth early in morning. Sour, before eating.
- Stomach.—Great weakness of digestion. Pressure, after eating. Sore pain in, with a sensation when eating as tho' the morsels were forced through sore spots.
- Abdomen.—Cutting as of an impending diarrhoea in (after taking cold). Pains in the hard swollen abdomen.
- Stool.—Intense urging to, with agonizing pains in loins, followed by diarrhoeic stools. Sudden irresistible necessity for.
- Anus.—Excoriation and moisture at. Sticking anal hæmorrhoids.
- Urine.—Sudden irresistible urging to urinate. Frequent and profuse.
- Sexual Organs.—Excoriation and moisture between scrotum and upper thigh. Weak sexual power. Diminished sexual desire.
- Respiration.—Suffocative catarrh from paralysis of lungs in old people. Tightness of chest. Dyspnœa.
- Cough.—Excited by roughness and tickling in epigastrium and throat. Dry in evening. Chest full of phlegm with night cough. Difficult expectoration of a yellowish, tenacious, starchy, often a saltish mucus in morning.
- Larynx.—Hoarseness and loss of voice from tenacious mucus in, and in trachea. Sensation of smoke in.
- Neck.—Stiff. Pain in bones of. Indurated swelling of glands of neck and throat. Burning steatomatous swelling on neck.
- Chest.—Fulness in. Strong palpitation, when lying on left side or renewed when thinking about it. Soreness in. Feeling as if something had fallen down within. Sore feeling about heart, with violent palpitation.
- Back.—Throbbing pulsation in. In evening, tense stiffness in lumbar region, especially when sitting, it allows neither rising nor bending backward.
- Upper Extremities.—Swelling of arms, with painful axillary glands. Swollen bloodvessels on hands. Dry skin of hands.
- Lower Extremities.—Sprained pain in hip joint. Tension in legs, as from shortened muscles. Drawing and tearing in legs as if in bones. Fetid foot sweat. Corns with burning sticking, also on balls of toes.
- Generalities.—Suitable for old men and atrophic children. Nightly twitching of muscles of entire body. Great weakness and relaxation with inclination to lie down. General physical, mental and nervous weakness in old people. Hyperæsthesia of all senses. Apoplexy with paralysis in old people. Great tendency to take cold, especially causing sore throat, stiff neck and diarrhoea. The left side is mostly affected. Most symptoms disappear during motion in

BARYTA CARBONICA

- open air Worse Night in cold
Better Warmth especially when sitting quietly in a dark room
- Glands—Swelled, indurated
- Skin—Unhealthy Burning needle like stiches here and there Smarting and ooing of single spots
- Sleep—Somnolency day and night
- Fever—Pulse Accelerated but weak seldom full and hard Chill And chilliness predominate often as if cold water were poured over one relieved by external warmth In evening and at night alternating with heat Spreading downward over body from face or epigastrium beginning in feet With drawing in limbs Heat Running over body frequently during day Nightly attacks of flying heat, with great anxiety and restlessness Sweat Debilitating at night Unilateral, mostly on left side Recurring every other evening
- Allied Remedies—Ars, Calc, Nux v, Sep ZINC

BELLADONNA

- Mind—Reeling as if intoxicated, and mental stupefaction, > motion of head, eating and drinking Vanishing of senses and ideas Complete unconsciousness Insanity with buffoonery Violent delirium with inclination to toss about Biting spitting and striking Mental aberration after grief or fright with mortification or vexation Anguish and restlessness Hastyspeech Fantastic illusions and frightful pictures before eyes Tremulous, anxious mood Whimpering and fearful Despondent Fear of death with great anxiety and restlessness (in child bed) Sad and indifferent Mistrust Hypochondriacal depression Peevishness Weeping and crying Constantly laughing Great self will in children Frenzy and madness Desire to escape
- Vertigo—With anguish and falling down (backward) unconscious With weariness before and after each attack. Sensation of being rocked Reeling as if drunk from moving head < after eating and drinking
- Head—Stupefying ache in forehead with congestion to, ending in unconsciousness Periodically recurring nervous headache Congestion to with heat, distension and throbbing or pulsating in arteries of head and neck The head trembles, shakes is moved from side to side or bored into pillow In ternal and external burning heat of Pains Throbbing, < in forehead, ascending from nape which end in outward passing stiches, bursting, cutting, from place to place, stabbing, passing off in occiput, which draw eyes shut, violent stitching, boring or pressing in skull bones Feeling as of A stone in, water swashing in Meningitis Hydrocephalus
- External Head—Exquisite sensitiveness of, as if hair had been pulled the least touch, or even pressure of the hair can hardly be borne Profuse sweat upon the hairy scalp and face, with dry heat of remainder of body Worse Afternoon, till midnight, violent motion, as ascending steps, stepping hard, coughing, etc., every movement, light, opening or moving eyes, noise; open air, stooping, flying with head low, drafts, uncovering head, cutting hair, cold bathing, getting wet, after anger Better External pressure, drawing head back, laying hand upon, reclining head, wrapping it up
- Eyes—Pains in orbits Heat in Conjunctiva is red and loosened Inflammation of, with everted lids Spasm Bleeding lids Sarcoma Maculae on cornea Widely dilated pupils Glistening, sparkling red Wild, unsteady or staring look Squint Photophobia Paralysis of optic nerve Vanishing of sight when raising up in bed Vision lost, hearing remains unchanged Sparks before
- Ears—Difficult hearing after scarlet fever or taking cold Swollen parotid glands
- Nose—Heat, swelling and redness of Sore, with swollen upper lip Dry inside Profuse bleeding from, and from mouth, with a red face Very keen sense of smell Much sneezing Fluent coryza
- Face—Red, with burning heat Blush red,

BELLADONNA.

- bloated. Smooth, erysipelatous, hot swelling of, spreading over head, with stupefaction, delirium, violent head pains, inflamed, fiery red eyes and great photophobia. Faceache, with intense cutting pains. Half open mouth. Lock-jaw (trismus). Ulcerated angles of mouth. Swelling and induration of upper lip. Bleeding, cracked lips
- Teeth.—Toothache (in children and women), after taking cold, insufferably by eating. Gnashing of.
- Mouth.—Dry, without (or with) thirst. Intense redness and inflammatory swelling of soft palate. Salivation. Inflammation of throat, with sticking when swallowing. Pharynx feels narrowed. Scratching in throat. Tearing in throat when not swallowing. Constant urging to swallow. Spasm of throat completely preventing swallowing. Swelling and supuration of tonsils. Extreme redness of tongue. Heavy coat of mucus on tongue and palate. Inflammatory swelling of tongue. Speechlessness.
- Appetite.—Loathes food. Burning thirst, with a dry throat and aversion to drinks. Hasty drinking with trembling.
- Taste.—Loss of. Bread tastes sour. Of blood in mouth.
- Nausea, etc.—Qualmishness with repugnance to food. Empty retching. Vomits: Green; mucus; first food, then bile.
- Stomach.—Distention of pit. Pressure in, after eating. Pains in.
- Hypochondria.—Stitches in spleen.
- Abdomen.—Painful distension of. Sensitive to touch. Painful clutching and griping in. Painful soreness in.
- Flatulency.—Flatulent colic with sensible distension of transverse colon, > by external pressure and stooping.
- Stool. Retained. Involuntary. Constipation. Diarrhœa: Green, with bellyache.
- Urine.—Diminished, dark red, fiery. Suppressed. Involuntary urination.
- Sexual Organs.—Violent urging and pressing toward genitals, as if everything would fall out. False spasmodic labor pains. Prolapsus and induration of uterus. Dry vagina. Metritis.
- Menses.—Uterine hemorrhage of bright red blood with urging toward genitals. Bloody discharge during intermenstrual period. Foul smelling, lumpy lochia.
- Respiration.—Short, rapid breathing with open mouth and violent working of chest. Heavy breathing with oppression of chest. Danger of suffocation when swallowing or touching external neck. After rising in morning, want of breath in the room, > in open air.
- Cough.—In quarter hourly paroxysms at night, consisting of a few dry coughs in a rough hollow, barking tone, excited by tickling as of feather down in throat, or as from constriction of larynx; sometimes a scanty expectoration of bright coagulated blood. Renewed by the slightest movement when in bed. Preceded by crying. Followed by sneezing. Violent stitches in loins (in uterus) during. Complicated by cerebral inflammation.
- Larynx.—Constriction of. Extremely painful to touch. Loss of voice.
- Neck.—Painful swelling and stiffness of, and of nape. Distension of blood-vessels in. Sour-smelling sweat on neck only. Painfully swollen cervical glands.
- Chest.—Oppression of. Rattling in. Violent pains in whole thorax. Congestive and throbbing therein, with restlessness. Violent palpitation which vibrates into head. Flow of milk from female mammar. Induration and swelling of mammar.
- Upper Extremities.—Paralytic heaviness of arms. Pressive tearing pain in shoulder. Scarlet red swelling of arms and hands. Twitching in hands. Hasty picking at the bed clothes.
- Lower Extremities.—Stitches in hip joint, most intense at night and when touched. Reeling, staggering gait. When rising from bed, the legs refuse their office and she sinks to the ground.
- Generalities.—Shattering of whole body. Trembling. Plethoric, full blooded patients. Congestion to different parts. Excessive hyperæsthesia of all the senses. Convulsive motion of limbs. Spasms with stiffness of entire body and unconsciousness. Loss of sensation and motion of one-half of entire body. Great weariness. Paralysis of single parts. Sensation, of a mouse creeping about in muscles. Typhoid fevers with unconsciousness or delirium. The slightest touch renews the attacks and intensifies the pains. Consequences of taking cold. The symptoms are intensified in the afternoon and at night. Restlessness, delirium and somnolency.

BELLADONNA.

Glands.—Swelled and indurated.

Skin.—Dry, burning heat with pale or red skin. Alternate paleness and redness of. Smooth scarlet redness of, with dryness, burning and swelling. Glistening redness of, not circumscribed; with bloating. Swelling from insect stings. Gangrenous blisters. Boils.

Sleep.—Deep, stupefying. Anxious desire for. Starting (jerking), during. Starting up in affright and flightness, during. He can sleep only in a sitting posture. Frightful phantasies which dissipate sleep appear before the vision, as soon as the eyes close.

Fever.—Pulse: Ordinarily quick, often full, hard and tense, but sometimes also small and soft; seldom slow, and then it is full. Throbbing carotid and temporal arteries. Violent beating of the arteries. Chill: In evening, especially on extremities, most on arms, with heat of head. Internal, with external burning heat. Alternating with heat. Evening shaking chill. Coldness of limbs, with a hot head. Shivering, running down back. Heat: Constant dry burning, with sweat on head and neck only. Internal, with anxiety and restlessness. Of forehead, with cold cheeks. Internal or external, or both at same time. Of head, with red face and delirium. Generally predominating. Sweat: Exclusively on the covered parts. With, or immediately after the heat, most on face. Of an empyreumatic odor, and stains the linen. During sleep, by day as well as night. Entirely absent. Ascending from feet to head.

Allied Remedies.—ACO., Agar., Ambr., Ant-t., Ap., Bry., CALC-C., Cann., Canth., Caust., Cham., Chin., Cic.,

BISMUTHUM.

Cina, Coff., Colch., Coloc., Croc., Cupr., Dig., Gel., GLO., Graph., Hell., HIP., HYOS., Iod., LACII., Merc., MOS., Nit-ac., NUX-V., Op., Phos-ac., Phyt., Plat., Pib., PULS., Rhe., Rhus-t., Sars., Seneg., SEP., Sil., Stram., Sul., Valer.

BISMUTHUM.

Mind.—Complete apathy. Morose discontent with continued complaining. Inconstancy. Solitude is intolerable.

Head.—Pressure and sense of painful heaviness in forehead, temples and occiput, with pressure on eyeballs. Outward boring in the forehead, orbits, root of and down nose. Alternate contraction and expansion in forehead, eyes and nose. Worse: Afternoon; after eating; rest. Better: Motion; touch; washing; cold drinks.

Eyes.—Pressure on eyeballs.

Face.—Earthy complexion with distorted features and blue rings around eyes. Pressive pain on zygomæ.

Teeth.—Painful soreness and swelling of gums.

Mouth.—Painful sensitiveness, as if buccal cavity were excoriated. Tongue coated white in evening.

Appetite, etc.—Great thirst for cold drinks in evening.

Nausea.—Nauseating qualmsiness after eating.

Stomach.—Pressure in, after eating. Burning in.

Abdomen.—Pinching, pressing, rumbling and urging to stool in.

Stool.—Ineffectual urging to, in evening.

Urine.—Watery. Urination frequent, passing a large quantity every time.

Sexual Organs.—Pressive pain in testes.

Respiration.—Tightness of, with burning constriction of chest.

Cough.—Day and night, with copious expectoration.

Chest.—Boring and burning in. Violent palpitation.

Back.—Boring and burning in.

BISMUTHUM

Upper Extremities — Paralytic tearing pressure in forearm, hands and fingers

Lower Extremities — tearing in feet and toes

Generalities — Great exhaustion and relaxation Tearing pains which disappear during motion

Bones — Pressive tearing in bones of feet and hands

Skin — Eroding itching, worse by scratching

Sleep — Starting as if frightened during Unrefreshing, at night Extreme drowsiness in morning

Fever — Pulse Mostly contracted, somewhat spasmodic and sometimes intermittent Chill. With deathly coldness of entire body Heat Flying over entire body, especially on head and chest, early in morning after rising, external dry, burning Sweat Wanting

Allied Remedies — Ant-c, Bell', CALC-C, Coccl, Ign, Spig, Staph

BORAX.

Mind — Fear of downward motion Frightened and starting at every noise Timidity Anxiety with sleepiness, increasing toward evening Irritability with whining and crying

Head — Heat of, hot mouth and hot palms, with desire to uncover Aching, with nausea and trembling of whole body at 10 A. M.

External Head — Sensitive to cold and changes of weather Hair tangles at tips and becomes agglutinated

Eyes — The lashes turn inward and inflame them, especially in outer canthi The tarsal edges are quite sore Nightly agglutination Better. Rubbing

Ears — Stitches in (l) with roaring, hardness of hearing and purulent discharges Worse Washing in cold water

Nose — Red, shining swelling, with throbbing and tenseness Fluent coryza with stitches in chest. Sucklings rub the nose, and then the eyes Hard dry mucus in, and in eyes Discharges much thick, greenish mucus

Face — Bladder like swellings under eyes

BORAX

Heat, swelling and redness of one cheek Redness around eyes when crying Herpes about the mouth Pale Anxious expression during downward motion

Teeth — Inflammatory swelling of gums (gum boils) Dull gripping toothache in hollow teeth, in wet weather

Mouth — Aphthae also on tongue Mucous membrane of palate wrinkled and shrivelled as if burnt infant cries frequently when nursing

Throat — Much tough mucus in so difficult to loosen, the exertion causes vomiting

Stomach. — Pain in region of, extending to scerum, after heavy lifting or during menses

Hypochondria — Pressure as of a stone in Cutting as of a hard sharp piece there

Abdomen — Flatulent distension after every meal Pinching in, with diarrhoea

Stool — Frequent, very easy, of soft, light yellow mucus, with languor and weakness Mucous diarrhoea

Urine — Badly smelling Albuminuria with erythema and swelling, especially of lower limbs Hot, in an infant

Female Sexual Organs — Abortion Easy conception Leucorrhoea Like the white of an egg with a sensation of warm water flowing down, like paste Heat in vagina

Cough — Coughs up blood streaked white phlegm, detached with difficulty Expectoration has a mouldy taste and smell, with every cough

Chest — Stitches in (r), from coughing, breathing, yawning, speaking or lying on painful side, > washing with cold water or walking about slowly Pains in one breast when child nurses the other Aching in mammae when empty, better by pressure Milk curdled

Generalities — Great weariness and indolence, with heaviness of lower limbs Infants cry and scream when nursing, and before passing stool or urine When laying the infant down it starts and throws up its hands as if afraid of falling Hot discharges, hot urine and leucorrhoea. Heat in orifices, vagina,

BORAX.

- mouth, etc. Albuminous discharges. Stitching sensations predominate. Soft, flabby patients.
- Worse.—Mental exertion; noise; excitement; downward motion; bad or wet weather; eating fruit (apples, pears, etc.).
- Better.—After stool and urine; after 11 P. M.; smoking helps toothache, but may bring on diarrhoea.
- Skin.—Does not heal. Earth-colored. Herpes on. Psoriasis.
- Sleep.—Restless, caused by restlessness of body and ebullitions of blood. Child screams out during sleep, and awakes clinging to its mother as if frightened. Awakes at 3 A. M., can't sleep again because of heat of body, especially of head, with sweat on thighs.
- Fever.—Pulse: Somewhat accelerated. Chill: And shivering, mostly during sleep. Predominating, especially in afternoon and evening. Alternating with heat. Whenever he uncovers. Heat: Flying, in early morning and in evening. When covering hands, but coldness if she uncovers them. Sweat: During morning sleep.
- Allied Remedies.—Ap., By., Calc-c., Cham., Coff., Gel., Sil., Stram', Sul.

BOVISTA.

- Mind.—Distraction. Awkwardness. Weak memory. Sadness, with restlessness. Easily offended; takes everything in bad part. Unusual candor and talkativeness.
- Vertigo.—Stupefying, with vanishing of senses. Intoxication from a small quantity of wine. Reeling and confusion in head after coition.
- Head.—Headache deep in brain, with feeling as if head were growing larger. Ulcerative pain in. Nightly ache, < raising up. Soreness of scalp.
- Eyes.—Pressure in orbits. Weak, dim. Objects appear too near.
- Ears.—Purulent, bad-smelling discharge from. Indistinct hearing, misunderstands what is spoken.
- Nose.—Crusts, with burning pain in.
- Face.—Frequent, rapid changes of color. Heat of, with sense of swelling in cheeks. Pale swelling of upper lip, nose and cheeks. Fissured lips. Angles of mouth ulcerated.
- Teeth.—Drawing ache in evening, and at night, ceasing in warmth and when walking in open air. Gums bleed easily and profusely.
- Mouth.—Bad odor from. Burning in pharynx. Numbness of buccal cavity. Painfully sore ulcers on edge of tongue. Stuttering.
- Appetite, etc.—Violent hunger. Thirst for cold drinks in afternoon and evening.
- Taste.—Putrid or bloody, in mouth.
- Nausea.—With shivering, all forenoon.
- Stomach.—† Coldness, as if a lump of ice lay therein.
- Abdomen.—Ulcerative pain in. Cutting bellyache, < during rest.
- Flatulence.—Flatulent colic, with chill and coldness, especially after stool. Discharge of very foul smelling flatus.
- Stool.—Constipation. Diarrhoea, with ulcerative pain in abdomen.
- Urine.—Frequent urging to urinate.
- Sexual Organs.—Intensified sexual desire. Frequent pollutions.
- Menses.—Too early, and too profuse. Bloody discharge during intermenstrual period. Acid, corroding leucorrhoea.
- Respiration.—Short, during manual labor. Oppression, as from constriction of chest.
- Cough.—Dry, from tickling in throat and chest.
- Larynx.—Hoarseness early in morning, with mucus and scratching in throat.
- Neck.—Swelling of cervical glands, with tension.
- Chest.—Palpitation with restlessness, qualmishness and headache.
- Back.—Pain and stiffness in, after stooping.
- Upper Extremities.—Axillary sweat, smelling like onions. Paralytic sprained pain in joints of arm and hands. Powerless hands. Moist tetter on dorsum of hand.
- Lower Extremities.—Tension in lower legs and calves, as tho' the muscles were too short.

BOVISTA.

Generalities.—Great weariness and powerlessness in joints. Deep impressions are made by instruments, i. e., from scissors on fingers.

Skin.—Itching in various parts, especially when getting warm, not > scratching. Moist tetter. Panaritium.

Sleep.—Sleepiness after eating, and early in morning.

Fever.—Pulse: Excited, with ebullitions and palpitation. Chill: Predominant, even near a warm stove, in morning, in evening and even at night, usually with thirst. During the pain. Heat: With thirst, anguish and restlessness. Daily evening fever (about 7 o'clock) consisting only of chill with thirst. Shuddering proceeding from back, in evening. Sweat: Most profuse on chest, every morning (from 5 to 6 o'clock).

Allied Remedies.—Ap., Nil-ac., Selen., Sil.

BROMIUM.

Mind.—Depression and melancholy. Weeping and crying in a hoarse tone. Apprehensive; of seeing things in evening. Desire for mental labor.

Vertigo.—When crossing running water; in damp weather; with tendency to fall backwards; with confusion of the head.

Head.—Headache: In the heat of the sun; from drinking milk. Congestion to, and stiffness of muscles of neck. Left sided pains. Worse: Stooping.

Eyes.—Lachrymation. Burning pains with spasmodic closure.

Nose.—Fluent coryza, with scabby nostrils; with violent sneezing and blood-streaked corrosive discharges. Nose-bleed accompanies many symptoms, it ameliorates the vertigo, eye and chest symptoms.

Face.—Pale. Sensation of a cobweb on.

Mouth.—Salivation. Inflammation of fauces, with net-like redness and denuded patches. Much frothy mucus in.

Taste.—Salty: Of water; on tip of tongue.

Throat.—Rawness, scraping and constriction in.

Nausea, etc.—Retching and inclination to vomit.

BROMIUM.

Abdomen.—Tympanitic distension of, with evolution of large quantities of gas. Eructations, and passage of much flatus.

Stool.—Yellowish green or blackish diarrhœa; with blind hemorrhoids which pain severely. Diarrhœa: From oysters; better from coryza.

Sexual Organs.—Passage of flatus from vagina.

Respiratory Organs.—Suffocative attacks as from vapor of sulphur. Great tightness of chest (dyspnoea). Gasping for air. Rawness, scraping and sense of constriction in all respiratory organs.

Cough.—Croupy, rough, barking or whistling; excited by tickling in throat, as from vapor of sulphur, or by scraping and rawness in larynx, without expectation. With paroxysms of suffocation, suddenly on swallowing.

Larynx.—Inspired air is very cold. Constriction. Soreness in. Croup; also during whooping cough. Hoarseness.

Chest.—Oppression of, with palpitation. Very sensitive to cold air.

Extremities.—Cold, moist hands.

Generalities.—Greatly increased secretions. Symptoms predominate on left side or go from left to right. Tickling, burning or boring sensations predominate, the latter especially in bones. Gangrene. Great weakness, especially after other symptoms have subsided. Tremblings. Plump figure. Constrictions and spasmodic phenomena prevail.

Glands.—Swelled. Indurated.

Skin.—Formication. Tickling in many parts. Yellow. Boils.

Sleep.—Yawning and sleepiness; with difficult breathing; with violent shivering.

Fever.—Pulse: Greatly accelerated. Chill: Every other day, with shaking, yawning, stretching and cold feet. Sensitive to cold air. Heat: Internal, burning, as if between skin and flesh. Great, when in bed. Sweat: From motion or least exertion. After the paroxysms of cough.

Allied Remedies.—AM-C., Ant-c., Ars., Cam., Coff., Flu-ac., Hep., Iod., Kre., Mag-c., Nat-m., Op., Phos., Spo.

BRYONIA.

BRYONIA.

Mind.—Effects of vexation, leaving irritability, with chill and coldness of body behind. Nightly delirium about the events of the day. Thoughtless. Forgetful. Unusual peevish irritability and wrathful violence. Restlessness, with fear of the future and the near approach of death. Despondent, and doubtful of salvation. Despair of recovery. Pusillanimity. Tearful disposition.

Vertigo.—When raising up, or stooping. With a swaying feeling in brain, and heat. As if drunk.

Head.—Compressive ache, with fulness and heaviness in forehead, as if everything would be forced out, nose-bleed and a puffy red face. Congestion, to. Bursting pressure in forehead, and pressure upon eyeballs. Bursting pain with heat in. Stitches in. Burning in bregma. Twitching throbbing in, which can be heard and felt here and there, with obscured vision. Twitching tearing in one side (< r.), extending into cheeks and maxillary bones. Brain feels loose. Outward sticking in forehead Tensive tearing in external head. Worse: Motion: Of head; of eyes; in open air; on opening eyes. Stooping. Stepping hard. From warmth and becoming heated. Touch. After eating. In evening. Better: External pressure; lying quietly on painful part; bandaging up head; lying on back; closing eyes.

External Head.—Sore pain in occiput and behind ears, < in dry weather, > after sweat. Profuse, sour, oily sweat on, and over whole body, especially during sleep toward morning. < as the accompanying pains are worse, from eating, and slightest motion, particularly in the cold air.

Eyes.—Burning in. Inflammation of, < by warmth. Tearing sticking in. Pressure as from sand in. Feel as if pressing out of head. Swelling, especially of upper lids. Weakness and lachrymation in murky air and twilight. Photophobia.

Ears.—Roaring in. Intolerance of noise.

Nose.—Painful swelling of, with inflamed nostrils. Frequent nose-bleed (also after suppressed menses). Chronic stuffed coryza with a dry nose.

Face.—Yellowish pale. Hot, bloated, very red. Nodes and indurations like boils. Dry, swollen, fissured, bleeding lips. Eruption, especially on lower lip. Trismus.

Teeth.—Jerking toothache < by warmth, > by lying on painful side.

Mouth.—Dry mouth, throat and tongue. Sticking in throat on swallowing. Scratching in throat. Coating on middle of tongue.

Appetite, etc.—Abnormal hunger, he must eat little and often. Strong craving for coffee, or things he can not relish. Aversion to, and loathing of food. Intense thirst. He does not drink often, but a great deal each time. Thirst for cold water.

Taste.—Flat, slimy. Bitter, in mouth. Food is tasteless.

Eruetation.—Frequent, bitter or empty, after eating. Regurgitation of food, without retching. Water collects in mouth.

Vomiting.—Of solid food, but not liquids. After eating bread. Bitter, while drinking after a meal. Bloody. First of bile, then of food. Of bitter water.

Stomach.—Pressure in; after eating, especially after bread. Burning in. Stitches in pit, with obstructed breathing during motion, especially when making a misstep: Pit, sensitive to touch and pressure.

Hypochondriæ.—Stitches in hepatic region when touched, coughing and breathing. Inflammation of liver and diaphragm.

Abdomen.—Distended, after every meal (disappearing without discharge of flatus). Hysterical cramps in. Inflammation of. Bellyache; after taking cold; from motion, > by tight bandaging. Ascites. Stitches in.

Flatulence.—Loud growling and rumbling in abdomen.

Stool.—Very dry, hard. Chronic constipation. Diarrhoea: Fetid, preceded by cutting in abdomen; and bellyache, alternating with constipation and stomach-ache; in morning hours only.

BRYONIA.

Urine.—Diminished discharge of hot, red. White, turbid. Urging to urinate and scanty discharge. Irresistible urging to urinate, with want of breath during heavy lifting. Burning in urethra.

Menses.—Of red blood, too early and too profuse. Suppressed. Uterine hemorrhage.

Respiration.—Panting; short. Impeded, during violent motion. Anxious, rapid. Deep, slow, during exertion. Laborious, with aid of abdominal muscles, and intermingled with deep inspirations. Frequent, sighing inspirations. Continual inclination to take a deep breath. Attacks of dyspnoea and suffocation.

Cough.—Spasmodic, as from sulphur fumes or a tickling in throat and epigastrium. Dry in evening and at night; during day expectoration is yellow or mixed with coagulated brownish bloody, often cold, mucus, of a repulsive flat taste, and hard to loosen at first. Dry, spasmodic, after eating and drinking, with vomiting of food. Hæmoptysis, of coagulated or brownish blood. Bursting headache and stitches in sides of chest during.

Trachea.—Soreness in. Hoarseness.

Neck.—Eruption on. Tension and stiffness in nape and neck.

Chest.—Soreness and bursting pain in. Stitches in, when breathing, coughing and during motion, > lying on back. Violent stitches in left side of. Inflammation of lungs, with stitches. Pressure, as of a load on. Soreness of ribs, as if beaten. Palpitation, with shortness of breath. (Painless) nodes and indurations in mammæ. Mammæ of lying-in women are excessively full of milk and congested.

Back.—Stitches in lumbar region, back and scapulæ. Painful stiffness in small of back, compelling him to bend forward when walking and sitting.

Upper Extremities.—Tensive and sticking tearing in shoulder-joints and upper arm. Swelling of elbow-joint and hands, especially on dorsal surface. Sprained pain in wrist during motion. Twitching of fingers when moving hands.

Lower Extremities.—Cracking and dislocation of hip-joints when walking. Hot, tensive swelling of thighs and lower legs or feet, frequently on back of the latter only. Tensive stiffness in legs. Dislocative pain in ankle-joint when walking and stepping. Offensive ulcers on feet. Podagra, with sticking pains.

Generalities.—Tensive or sticking rheumatic or gouty pains in limbs, < by motion and touch. Stitches in joints. Stiffness in joints. Paralysis of limbs. (Pale or red) swelling and immobility of affected parts. Oversensitive to external impressions. The complaints are intensified in the evening (toward 9 o'clock) and by motion (also during rest, in its rare alternating action).

Glands.—Indurated.

Bones.—Pain as tho' flesh were beaten from.

Skin.—Burning, itching eruptions. Nettle-rash (especially in children and during child-bed). Petechiæ. Hard nodes on many parts. Erysipelatous inflammations, especially about joints. Foul ulcers, with feeling of coldness therein.

Sleep.—Yawning and sleepiness during day. Somnolency with half-closed eyes. Sleepless before midnight on account of thirst, heat and ebullition of blood. Nightly delirium as soon as he awakes. Somnambulism.

Fever.—Pulse: Very full, hard, rapid and tense, sometimes intermittent, with strong ebullition of blood. Chill: And chilliness predominate, often with heat of head, red cheeks, thirst and many pains in limbs. With external coldness of body. And coldness, mostly evenings, and often only right-sided. More in a room than in the open air. Heat: Dry, burning, mostly internal, as if blood burned in veins. Symptoms are greatly intensified during. Internal, with thirst for cold drinks. Sweat: Profuse and easy, even when walking slowly in cold, open air. Profuse at night and in early morning. Sour or oily. Cough in all stages. Febrile movements with bitter taste and thirst.

Allied Remedies.—ACO., ALUM., Ang.,

CALADIUM.

Ars., Bell., Bor., Calc-c., Carb-v.,
Causl., Chin., Clem., Coloc., Dulc.,
Gnai., Iod., Ip., Kali-c., Led., Lye.,
Mez., MILLEF. (MUR-AC.), Phos.,
Phyt., PULS., Ran-b., RHOD., RHUS-
T., Scull., Seneg., Sep., Verat-a.

CALADIUM.

- Mind.—Apprehensiveness before going to sleep. Loud wailing and inconsiderate prattling, like a child. Great solicitude concerning everybody's else, as well as his own health.
- Head.—Pressive headache on side on which he has been lying.
- Ears.—Great sensitiveness to noise, especially on endeavoring to sleep. Earache during the fever.
- Appetite, etc.—Thirst with dry mouth. Aversion to cold water. Hasty eating.
- Stomach.—Burning in. Empty feeling in. Stitches in pit, whereby it is always drawn inward.
- Abdomen.—Burning in upper.
- Stool.—Very scanty, pappy.
- Urine.—Sensitiveness of region of bladder to touch.
- Sexual Organs.—Impotency with lustfulness. (After coition) swollen and painfully sore prepuce. Flaccid, sweaty.
- Respiration.—Short, from pressure in epigastrium.
- Cough.—Paroxysms of weak but irritable cough, with expectoration of small lumps of mucus. Without resonance, at night. When coughing, sensation as though the attacks originate above larynx, which feels constricted.
- Chest.—Hollowness and emptiness in, after expectoration.
- Generalities.—Inclination to lie down and great aversion to motion. All symptoms are ameliorated by sweat and after a short sleep.
- Skin.—Itching, burning miliary rash on chest and forearms, alternating with tightness of chest. Fly bites burn and itch severely.
- Sleep.—Day sleepiness with inability to

CALCAREA CARBONICA.

- sleep. Anxious groaning and moaning during.
- Fever.—Pulse: Hard, jumping. Chill: In evening, with coldness which spreads from abdomen to feet and fingers. After midnight. Heat: Internal only, with throbbing in body. During the sleep before midnight, quickly ceasing on awaking. Sweat: Exhausting, it greatly attracts the flies, which persistently plague him. When it breaks out all of the symptoms are ameliorated.
- Allied Remedies.—Canth., CAPS., Ign., Nux-v.

CALCAREA CARBONICA.

- Mind.—Dull confusion, as of a board before head. Nervous debility. Tearfulness. Anxiety, especially in twilight. Easily frightened. Timidity. Fearful solicitude concerning the future. Despair about shattered health. Self-will and peevishness, especially in children.
- Vertigo.—Whirling, with nausea and vomiting, < stooping, ascending or looking up. Dizziness with trembling in the early morning, until he has eaten breakfast. Fainting attacks with blindness and coldness.
- Head.—Violent congestion and heat in, with a puffy red face. Stupefying ache after 3 A. M., ceasing only in afternoon. Icy coldness on, and in one side of (r). Beating and hammering in center of brain. Unilateral ache with nausea and belching. Heaviness and fullness in forehead with twitching of eyes or necessity to close them. Boring in forehead and temple (l). Empty feeling in. Cutting in vertex and occiput (r). Fine jerking or tearing stitches on vertex, toward evening. Inward sticking from temple to temple (r). Tensive ache in temples and right side. Sticking, tearing and bursting pains in. Crackling in occiput, then warmth rises from nape into head. Fontanelles remain open too long. Inflammatory swelling of bones with sticking and throbbing, ending in suppuration, > rubbing. Worse: Early

CALCAREA CARBONICA.

- on awaking; walking in open air; stooping; external pressure; mental exertion; moving lower jaw; change of weather; during wet weather; spirituous liquors; standing; rising from bed; after dinner; exertion; overlifting. Better: Touch. Lying: Quietly; on back. Closing eyes; raising eyes; warmth.
- Scalp.—Crampy tearing in, and in muscles of. Sore smarting in occiput. Bald swellings and follicular tumors which readily suppurate, and are painful in open air. Painfully sensitive, especially when moving muscles of forehead back and forth. Painful biting, burning and crawling itching, spreading from occiput, scratching >, but causes swelling and bloody eruptions which form thick, dry, foul crusts. Hair dry, falling out from sides and temples down to beard, with yellowish-white dandruff and a cold scalp. Worse: Washing; drafts; open, especially cold damp air; evening; motion; slight touch; warmth of bed. Better: Pressure; rubbing; scratching; after lying down; sitting quietly; dry weather; warm room.
- Eyes.—Pressing, burning and cutting in, mostly in evening by artificial light. Inflamed, with ulcers and maculæ on cornea. Bluish, cloudy cornea with healthy lids. Widely dilated pupils. Lachrymation in open air. Dim vision, as of a mist before eyes when looking intently. Blackness before. Suffused with tears in morning, but dry in evening.
- Ears.—Throbbing in. Discharge of pus. Aural polypi. Swelling of parotid gland. Difficult hearing.
- Nose.—Persistent dryness of. Inflammatory redness and swelling of. Sore, ulcerated nostrils. Diminished sense of smell. Stuffy colds, with retarded nasal discharge. Fluent coryza with sore, ulcerated nostrils.
- Face.—Pale, puffy. Tearing pain in bones of. Moist eruption upon forehead and cheeks. Inflamed and suppurating follicular tumors. Painful swelling of submaxillary glands.
- Teeth.—Difficult, and delayed dentition. Drawing sticking ache, excited by cold or drafts. Toothache renewed by either cold or warmth. Dental fistula.
- Mouth.—Stitching pains in hard palate. Roughness in throat. Spasmodic constriction and narrowing of throat. Dry tongue early in morning. Indistinct speech.
- Appetite, etc.—Frequent ravenous hunger, especially early in morning. Continued intense thirst with complete loss of appetite. Nightly thirst, for cold drinks. Persistent dislike for meat and aversion to tobacco.
- Taste.—Sour, in mouth, as well as to food.
- Eruclations.—Continuous heartburn after every meal.
- Nausea, etc.—Qualmishness. Early in morning; after milk. Vomiting of sour tasting ingesta; of food and sweetish mucus.
- Stomach.—Pressive spasm in after eating, with vomiting of ingesta. Great weakness of digestion. Swelling and sensitiveness of pit on pressure.
- Hypochondriæ.—Intolerance of tight clothes about stomach. Stitches in liver.
- Abdomen.—Cutting in upper. Corroding and gnawing sensations in. Hard and distended. Hard, swollen mesenteric glands. Thrusts in. Protrusion of inguinal hernia.
- Stool.—Retarded, hard. Angriiness before, and weariness after. Chronic looseness of bowels. Sour smelling diarrhoea in children. Constipation.
- Rectum.—Prolapsed with burning pains during stool.
- Urine.—Acrid and offensive. Too frequent micturition. Hæmaturia. Burning in urethra during, and independent of urination.
- Sexual Organs.—Increased (or diminished) sexual desire.
- Menses.—Too early, and too profuse. Bloody discharge in period between in. Itching, burning, milky leucorrhœa, before.

CALCAREA CARBONICA.

Respiration.—Tightness, as from congestion of blood to chest. Frequent inclination to take a deep breath.

Cough.—Violent, dry, in evening and at night. Short paroxysms of few, but frequently repeated coughing fits, excited by a feeling of feather down in throat and trachea; in morning and during day with much mucus or pus like, yellow or grayish, sometimes bloody expectoration, mostly sour and stinking. Expectoration, as if from suppuration of lungs. Sequelæ of whooping cough; drinking water.

Larynx, etc.—Chronic hoarseness. Feeling as if something tore loose in. Accumulation of tenacious mucus in trachea, difficult to loosen. Dryness of larynx.

Neck.—Goitre-like swelling of. Painful swelling of cervical glands. Stiffness and rigidity of nape from overlifting.

Chest.—Roughness in. Sticking in sides of, during motion. Painful soreness during inspiration. Stoppage (or too profuse) secretion of milk of nursing mothers. Nightly exhausting sweat on. Palpitation, after eating.

Back.—Pain in lumbar region and back after overlifting.

Upper Extremities.—Sudden weakness of arms, as if paralyzed. Arthritic nodes on wrist and finger joints. Sweaty hands. Deadness of hands and fingers. Finger tips are thick and swelled.

Lower Extremities.—Heaviness of legs. Children are slow in learning to walk. Swelling of knees, with stitches. Tension in legs, especially from knees to toes. Inflammatory swelling and ulcers on lower leg. Profuse foot sweat. Coldness and insensibility of feet in evening.

Generalities.—Nervous debility with weariness and want of strength. Great emaciation with a large abdomen and good appetite. Tendency to take cold and sensitive to cold, moist air. Very plethoric. Epileptiform attacks. Easily sprained. Water and washing renew and aggravate the symptoms. Children are heavy, fat, big-headed and big-bellied, have sour diarrhœa and profuse head-sweats, more on occiput.

Glands.—Painfully swollen.

Bones.—Swelling and softening of epiphyses (rachitis). Curvature of. Caries of.

Skin.—Nettlerash disappearing in cold air. Moist tetter. Follicular tumors, recurring every four weeks at full moon. Many small warts, especially on arms and hands. Polypi. Unhealthy. Easily excoriates in children.

Sleep.—Disturbed, at night, on account of heat, apprehension, tightness of chest and restlessness. Wandering and flightiness during, with continuous anxiety upon awaking. Sleepiness early in evening, but late falling to sleep on account of rush of ideas and frightful fantasies.

Fever.—Pulse: Full, and accelerated, often trembling. Much throbbing in blood vessels, and palpitation of heart. Strong ebullitions of blood. Chill: With shuddering, most in evening, but also in forenoon. Internal chilliness in morning after rising. Alternating with heat. Heat: Frequent attacks of overrunning h., with anxious palpitation. Then chill, and cold hands. Evening in bed, external, with internal chill. After eating. Sweat: From slightest movement, even in cold, open air. In first sleep. Early morning sweat. Most on head and chest. Sticky night-sweat, only on legs. Profuse, exhausting, more on occiput and neck, while legs remain cold.

Allied Remedies.—AGAR., Ag-c., Alum., Ambr., Am-c., Auac., Ang., Ars., Aur., Bar-c., BELL., BISM., Bor., Bry., CALC-PH., Cann., Caust., Chel., Chin., Coccl., Cupr., Flu-ac., Graph., Ign., Iod., IP., Kali-c., Kali-n., LYC., Mag-m., Men., Merc., NAT-C., NIT-AC., NUX-V., Petr., Phos., Phos-ac., PULS., Rhus-t., Sabi., SARS., Selen., Sep., Sil., SUL.

CALCAREA PHOSPHORICA.

CALCAREA PHOSPHORICA.

Mind.—Loss of memory. Stupid, slow comprehension. Confusion, with flatulency, washing in cold water. Violent screaming. Peevish; fretful, goes from place to place, likes to be alone.

Vertigo.—Accompanies many symptoms; with running from nose and aching in bones, worse in windy weather.

Head.—Vertex: Burning heat in, running down to toes; crawling over; as if ice were on upper occiput, with hot head and smarting of roots of hair. Pain along sutures. Both fontanelles open. Throbbing headache and diarrhoea during menses. Worse: Motion, stepping and exertion. Better: After eating, sneezing or applying cold water.

Eyes.—Protruding; squinting; balls feel sore or distended. Hot feeling of lids, with sweat on, and on brows. Worse: Artificial light, or when others talk about it.

Ears.—Excoriating discharges. Pains in, with, or alternating with rheumatism in other parts. Worse: Touch.

Nose.—Feeling of a foreign body in. Bleed in afternoon. Coryza.

Face.—Pain in upper jaw bone.

Mouth.—Teeth: Contracted feeling as if a draft of wind came from roots. < Fresh air; warm or cold things. Tip of tongue sore, burning, with little blisters on. Salivation: With coryza; with a sense of dryness; copious acid saliva.

Taste.—Bitter at start of menses; disgusting, worse when hawking.

Throat.—Much hawking. Enlarged tonsils. Weakness and emptiness in fauces and throat.

Stomach.—Easy vomiting: In children; when hawking. Expanded feeling in. Burning and waterbrash. Infantile indigestion. Emptiness and sinking in, and in abdomen. Flabby. Loud eructations which alleviate the pains. Pains are better after food.

Abdomen.—Formication over: Asleep sensation in lower, in sacrum, and in lower limbs; numbness and quivering in walls. Weakness in lower. Worse: After eating; cold drinks; while passing stool or urine. Better: Eructations; after passing flatus, stool and urine; lying.

Anus and Rectum.—Fistula. Throbbing in. Hemorrhoids, oozing a yellow fluid.

Stool.—Watery, burning, offensive, flatulent, with white points like flakes of pus. Cholera infantum with acute hydrocephalus. Worse: From juicy fruit; cider; during dentition; after vexation.

Urine.—Copious, with weakness.

Genitals.—Throbbing, with increased desire. Upward pressure over mons. Burning from vagina up into chest. Aching in uterus; in vagina, after nosebleed. Leucorrhœa: Albuminous; > bellyache. Profuse, dark menses. Labor-like pains, going into thighs, with involuntary stool and passing of blood when nursing child. Worse: Taking cold; while passing stool or urine.

Respiratory Organs.—Suffocation, > lying down, < raising up. Involuntary sighing.

Chest.—Milk, acid. Constriction in; > lying, <, getting up.

Neck.—Rheumatic pain, with stiffness, after being in a draft. Cramp-like pain in one side. Aching sore pain in region of parotid gland.

Back.—Ache, with uterine pains. Scapular pains. Feeling as if sacro-symphysis were separated. Worse: Lifting.

Upper Extremities.—Numbness of left arm in afternoon. Paralytic loss of power in affected part. Ulcerative pain in roots of nails.

Lower Extremities.—Caries of hip-joint with stinking pus. Inability to walk after vexation; child no longer walks; infant is unable to stand. Cramp in calves when walking.

Generalities.—Emaciation. Cretinism. Acid saliva, milk, heartburn, etc. Shifting pains. Sensations of soreness predominate. Sensations in small spots. Many symptoms go from right to left.

CALCAREA PHOSPHORICA.

Bilateral pains; on both sides of throat, bladder, uterus, and chest, all going upward, upward pressure in many parts. Conditions marked by numerous concomitants or alternating symptoms.

Worse.—During dentition. Thinking of his complaints. Weather changes; cold, wet, damp weather. Sensitive to dampness. East winds. When snow melts. When menses are increased. Better: Rest.

Bones.—Pains in, especially in shin-bones, along sutures and symphyses. Slow or absent ossification of fractures, fontanelles, etc. Caries. Exostoses. Rachitis. Deficient formation of.

Skin.—Dark brown, yellowish. Red, with prickling like nettles after a bath.

Sleep.—Day sleepiness.

Fever.—Chill: With uterine pains or motions of scrotum. Coldness behind eyes; of prominent parts, ears, nose, etc.; with hot face. Heat: Running downward, without thirst. On mammae. With many complaints. Sweat: On single parts. On palms. Cold.

Complementary: China.

Allied Remedies.—Calc.-c., Calc.-f., Phos., Sil.

CAMPHORA.

Mind.—Vanishing senses. Raving. Great fears, Hopeless despondency. Hurried manner. Madness.

Sensorium.—Reeling, vertigo. Stupified and unconscious.

Head.—Violent congestion to. Constriction and throbbing in brain, especially in occiput. Meningitis from sunstroke. Convulsively drawn sideways and backward. Worse: Motion; cold; fresh air. Better: Lying down; thinking of the pain.

Eyes.—Troubled, fixed look. Sunken. Distorted. Greatly contracted pupils. Strongly reflecting and very bright objects cause photophobia.

Ears.—Hot and inflamed, externally. Suppurating ulcers in.

Face.—Deathly pale, alternating with redness. Icy cold, bluish-pale. Erysipelas on. Distorted facial expression. Trismus from spasm of masseter muscles.

CAMPHORA.

Mouth.—Burning in, and down throat into stomach. Foam from.

Appetite, etc.—Thirstless. (Intense thirst.) Repugnance to tobacco.

Taste.—Bitter, of food. Of all food is intensified.

Stomach.—Burning in. Great sensitiveness of pit to touch, it causes him to scream aloud.

Abdomen.—Burning heat in entire.

Stool.—Difficult, on account of narrowing rectum. Constipation, as from want of peristaltic action of intestines.

Urine.—Retention of, with tenesmus of neck of bladder. Yellowish-green, musty smelling. Thin, weak urinary stream.

Sexual Organs.—Want of sexual desire. Complete impotency.

Respiration.—Asthmatic oppression of chest (also from copper and arsenical fumes). Intense oppression of chest, with constriction of larynx, as from sulphur vapor.

Larynx.—Crying and whining in a hollow, hoarse tone.

Chest.—Audible palpitation after eating. Trembling of heart.

Upper Extremities.—Convulsive rotation of arms. Icy cold hands.

Lower Extremities.—Great weakness of lower legs. Tensive pain in calves of legs and feet.

Generalities.—Generalized tonic spasm with unconsciousness. Epileptic and convulsive attacks of a tonic kind, he falls to the ground unconscious. Unusual and rapid sinking of strength. Insensibility. Great tendency to take cold. Great sensitiveness to cold and cold air, all the symptoms are intensified thereby. Most pains are felt only when in a partly inattentive (self-abstracted) state.

Skin.—Erysipelatous inflammations. Dry.

Sleep.—Stupefying somnolence with raving. Sleeplessness at night, as though from nervous excitement. Snoring.

Fever.—Pulse: Small, weak and slow, often imperceptible. Diminished flow of blood to parts distant from heart. Chill: Chilliness and sensitiveness to cold air. With shuddering and shaking. General icy-coldness of entire body, with a deathly pale face, and congestion of blood to head and chest. Heat: With distended bloodvessels, increased by every movement. Sweat: Cold often clammy, always debilitating.

CAMPHORA.

Allied Remedies.—Brom., Canth., Glo., OP., Sec-c', Verat-a.

CANNABIS.

Mind.—Ideas seem to stand still. Too great rush of ideas. Sad, dejected mood. Takes everything in bad part. Cheerful, alternating with grave mania.

Vertigo.—Causing him to fall sidewise. Dizziness in head.

Head.—Violent congestion, with throbbing and agreeable warmth therein. Headache as of a stone lying on skull. Sensation of cold water dropping on scalp.

Eyes.—Inflamed, with diminished visual power. Weak, with indistinct vision. Opacity of cornea. Cataract.

Ears.—Throbbing and forcing in.

Nose.—Nosebleed follows a sense of warmth within the dry nose. Swelling and coppery redness of. Dryness and heat of.

Mouth.—Dry, without thirst. Difficult speech.

Taste.—Clay-like, in, mouth.

Eructation.—Gulping up of a bitter, sour, scratchy fluid.

Vomiting.—Of green bile.

Stomach.—Ulcerative pain in, from touch, disappearing after eating. Spasm of, with a pale, sweaty face.

Hypochondriæ.—Inflammation, and ulcerative pain in region of kidneys.

Abdomen.—Bruised pain in. Throbbing from within outward in upper. Ascites.

Stool.—Constipation and hard stool. Diarrhoea with colic.

Urine.—Retained, as from paralysis of bladder. Discharge scant, bloody, burning, passed drop by drop. Turbid.

Sexual Organs.—Urethral gonorrhœa. Painless discharge of mucus from urethra. Sticking, burning and biting in urethra during and after urination. Inflammatory swelling with darkness of prepuce. Painful erections. Intensified sexual desire. Impotency with cold genitals.

CANNABIS.

Respiration.—Suffocative, asthmatic attacks, wherein he can breathe when sitting in an upright position only. Shortness of, and tightness as of a load on chest, with whistling or rattling breathing.

Cough.—Without, or with a tenacious, green expectoration.

Trachea, etc.—Catarrh of. Loss of voice.

Chest.—Inflammation of lungs, with stitches low down in the left side of. Heart beat is felt too low down. Thrusts and blows in cardiac region. Cardiac inflammations. Anxious palpitation.

Back.—Backache which impedes talking and obstructs breathing.

Upper Extremities.—Bruised pain in arms during motion.

Lower Extremities.—Pain in legs, as from great exhaustion. Weariness with clumsiness and staggering when walking, and with a dull pain in knees like that from very great exhaustion. Slipping of patella when ascending steps.

Generalities.—Great weakness after meals and after motion. Exhaustion after physical exertion. Debility after talking and writing. Tonic spasms, especially of trunk and upper limbs.

Bones.—Rheumatic drawing during motion, as in perosteum.

Sleep.—Unconquerable day sleepiness. Unrefreshing night sleep. Sleepless at night because of anxiety and heat as though dashed with hot water.

Fever.—Pulse: Very weak, slow, often almost imperceptible. Chill: Predominant, with thirst and shaking. Shaking c. over entire body. External coldness of whole body except face. Heat: In face only and very slight. Nightly burning. Sweat: Entirely absent.

Allied Remedies.—Ap., Arg-n., Arn., Bell., Calc-c., Canth., Coloc., Euphor., Men., Merc-c., Nat-m., Nit-ac., Puls., Thuj.

CANTHARIS.

CANTHARIS.

Mind.—Madness like hydrophobia, renewed by looking at glistening things (water), and by touching larynx. Foolish gestures. Attacks of rage. Restless anxiety with timorousness. Pusillanimous and fainthearted. Angriiness. Madness with shrieking, barking and striking about. Lamenting, whining and anxious restlessness. Amorous insanity with lewd, shameless behavior.

Head.—Painful soreness and burning in brain. Tearing ache. Meningitis, with a sense of burning, rawness and smarting in head. Inward striking most violent in forehead and occiput. Headache, as if it arose from the nape and would pass out at forehead, with vertigo. Worse: Morning and afternoon; talking; motion; standing and sitting. Better: Walking; lying quietly.

Eyes.—Painful soreness and burning in. Involuntary spasmodic motion of. All objects appear yellow, with yellowness of eyes.

Nose.—Redness, burning and swelling of.

Face.—Glowing redness and swelling of. Yellow. Trismus.

Teeth.—Suppurating gums. Dental fistula.

Mouth.—Inflammation in buccal cavity and throat. Burning in throat < drinking water. Foamy saliva streaked with blood flows from. Painless inability to swallow, especially liquids. Sore throat when swallowing from inflammation and suppuration of tonsils. Feeble voice from weakness of vocal organs.

Appetite, etc.—Repugnance and aversion to all food. Thirst with aversion to all fluids.

Eruclations.—Hiccoughy, which recede toward stomach. Heartburn < drinking.

Stomach.—Inflamed, with intense burning pains. Agony and restlessness in, with sensitiveness of pit.

Hypochondriæ.—Inflamed kidneys with intense burning pains. Stitches and tearing in region of kidneys. Inflammation of liver. Pain in, from obstructed flatulence.

Abdomen.—Inflamed, with burning pain and sensitiveness to touch. Burning here and there, especially in upper, with yellow spots upon painful parts.

Stool.—Dysenteric, mucus, like scrapings of intestines. Diarrhœa: Bloody; foamy, followed by cutting in abdomen.

Urine.—Retained with spasmodic pains in bladder. Suppressed secretion of, with ineffectual urging. He urinates blood drop by drop. Discharge of bloody mucus from bladder. Inflammation of bladder and urethra.

Sexual Organs.—Inflamed, tending to gangrene. Painful gonorrhœa. Suppressed gonorrhœal discharge. Intense sexual desire with incessant painful erections. Inflamed ovaries.

Menses.—Of black blood, too early and too profuse.

Respiration.—Great sense of weakness in respiratory apparatus. Tightness of breathing from constriction of larynx.

Larynx.—Burning and sticking in trachea when hawking tenacious mucus loose. Hoarseness. Weak, indistinct voice.

Chest.—Burning and sticking in. Inflammation of.

Back.—Tearing in. Spasm, with alternate emprosthotonos and opisthotonos.

Upper Extremities.—Tearing in arms.

Lower Extremities.—Tearing in legs. Gout in hip joints, with spasmodic bladder and urinary symptoms.

Generalities.—Intense, painful soreness combined with burning in all parts of, especially the cavities, of the body. Urinary symptoms with tearing in limbs, > rubbing. Sense of dryness in joints. Most intense debility, bordering on paralysis. Over-sensitiveness of all parts. Jaundice. Dropsy. Most complaints occur on right side. Symptoms are > when lying down. Attacks recur every seven days. Coffee and oil < the symptoms.

Skin.—Scabious, itching vesicles which burn when touched. Erysipelatous inflammations.

CANTHARIS.

Sleep.—Great sleepiness in afternoon. Nightly sleeplessness.

Fever.—Pulse: Very variable, mostly hard, full and accelerated, sometimes, also intermittent; more seldom weak, slow and almost imperceptible. Pulsation throughout the trembling limbs. Chill: With general coldness, attacks mostly in evening, not relieved by external warmth. Fever often consisting of chill only, with subsequent thirst, without heat. Running up the back. Heat: Burning, with anxiety and thirst. At night merely external, not sensible to patient. Sweat: From every movement. Cold, especially on hands and feet. On genitals, of a urinous odor.

Allied Remedies.—ACO.; Ap., Bell., Calad., Cam., Cann., Laur., LYC.; PULS.

CAPSICUM.

Mind.—Dulness of all senses. Awkwardness. Exceedingly changeable moods. Self will. Reproachful. Timidity. Inclination to be jocular and given to witticism. Homesickness, with red cheeks and sleeplessness. Capricious, takes things in bad part.

Sensorium.—Intoxication and reeling, especially during the chilly stage, and on awaking in the morning.

Head.—Throbbing ache in forehead or temples. Hysterical migraine; attacks of unilateral pressive headache, with qualms ending in vomiting. Tearing head pains, mostly in forehead. Bursting headache during motion. Worse: Evening; moving head or eyes; cold; walking; stooping. Better: Continuous gentle motion in open air; warmth; lying with head high.

Eyes.—Dilated pupils. Dim vision. Progressive paralysis of the optic nerve.

Ears.—Swelling behind. Diminution of hearing.

Nose.—Nose-bleed, early in morning in bed. Diminished sense of smell. Stuffed coryza with crawling in.

CAPSICUM.

Face.—Hot, red, often alternating with paleness. Fothergill's prosopalgia; a benumbing pressure on zygoma, excited and by touch. Swollen, cracked lips.

Mouth.—Aphthae. Burning vesicles in. Bad odor from. Sore throat when not swallowing. Spasmodic constriction of throat.

Appetite, etc.—Immoderately ravenous hunger alternating with aversion to food. Thirstless.

Taste.—Sour. Heartburn.

Nausea.—Coming from stomach.

Stomach.—Burning in, after eating. Swelling of pit.

Abdomen.—Distension of, with pressive, tensive pain, which takes his breath. Flatulent colic.

Stool.—Of bloody mucus, with tenesmus. Nightly diarrhoea with burning in anus. Dysenteric.

Anus.—Moist hemorrhoids with burning.

Urine.—Urging to urinate with tenesmus of neck of bladder. Discharge of blood from urethra. Burning urination.

Sexual Organs.—Purulent urethral gonorrhoea. Cold scrotum, with impotency.

Respiration.—Tight, as from fulness of chest. Tightness of chest, which seems to come from stomach. Involuntary forcible expirations. Inclination to take a deep breath. Bad smelling breath when coughing.

Cough.—Violent, dry, with concomitant symptoms and pains in other parts, especially in ears and throat, in evening and at night.

Back.—Tearing pain in.

Lower Extremities.—Pain in thigh.

Generalities.—Cracking and squeaking in joints. Stiffness and painfulness of all joints when beginning to walk. Averse to all motion. Very sensitive to cool air, especially to drafts. Persons of relaxed fibre and phlegmatic temperament. Many symptoms are after eating and drinking, reach their greatest intensity at the beginning of, and are > during continued motion.

CAPSICUM

Sleep—Sleeps after midnight
 Fever—Pulse Very irregular often intermittent Chill Indicates almost always with violent thirst With shuddering after every drink With heat of face In cold air especially in drafts Increasing chill Diminution of natural bodily heat Feeling of a cold sweat on thighs Heat With coexistent sweat and thirst Internal with cold sweat on forehead Heat and sweat first, then chill with shuddering and chattering teeth Sweat Accompanies the heat After the chill without previous heat

Allied Remedies—In CALAD, Cham, Chin CINN Igu Misc c, Nux v Puls

CARBO ANIMALIS.

Mind—Liveliness as from overexcitement, alternating with peevish sadness Easily startled timidity Anxiety in evening and fear in the dark Homesickness with tearfulness

Vertigo—Especially early in morning

Head—Numbness in Stupefying pain or heaviness in occiput with dull confusion therein Feeling as if brain were loose Pressive ache, < in cold air Scald-head Tightness of scalp on forehead and vertex with great sensitiveness of these parts to cold dry, open air Worse Moving head, after eating, early in morning, in cold, moist air, external pressure touch Better After dinner in warm, open air in a warm room at rest

Eyes—Feel loose in their sockets Pronounced farsightedness with dilated pupils

Ears—Destructive suppuration of Roaring in Difficult hearing the tones commingle and nothing is heard distinctly

Nose—Tip cracked red and burning Painful nasal bones Stuffed coryza with complete stoppage Nosebleed Sneezing

Face—Copper colored eruption on Smooth,

CARBO ANIMALIS

Deviated erysipelatous spots on Erysipelas of fissures and vesicles on lips Swollen burning lips

Teeth—Loose Gums Swollen red and painful, pustules on Mouth—Burning vesicles in and on tongue Offensive odor from Appetite—Aversion to tobacco and fat food

Taste—Bitter, in mouth in early morning

Throat—Roughness in Soreness and rawness in Eruptions—Ineffectual, with pain

Nausea, etc—Qualmsiness at night Faint like squeamishness at stomach

Stomach—Great weakness of digestion, almost all foods cause distress Pressure in, even when fasting and in evening when in bed Grasping and clutching in Constrictive spasm of Audible growling in

Hypochondria—Pressure and cutting in hepatic region

Abdomen—As if shattered Soreness in Outward pressure in.

Flatulence—Audible rumbling in abdomen Flatulent colic Obstructed flatus Protrusion of inguinal hernia from flatulence

Stool—Hard, knotty Constipation with ineffectual urging, he passes offensive flatus only

Anus—Burning and sticking in Burning hemorrhoids Oozing of a sticky, odorless moisture from perianæum

Urine—Intense urging to urinate with increased discharge Involuntary discharge of offensive urine

Menses—Too early Leucorrhœa staining the linen yellow

Respiration—Wheezing, with rattling in chest Tightness of chest early in morning and after eating

Cough—Suffocative, hoarse excited by rawness and dryness in larynx and trachea In evening after falling to sleep Dry at night, but by day, with a gray greenish sometimes purulent expectoration, of an offensive, somewhat sour taste

CARBO ANIMALIS.

- Larynx, etc.—Loss of voice at night. Hoarseness in early morning. Constriction of
- Neck.—Painful swelling and induration of cervical and parotid glands.
- Chest.—Ulcerative pain in, with suppuration of lungs. Cold feeling in. Sticking and constriction in. Rattling in. Palpitation. Erysipelatous inflammation of breasts of nursing women. Hard, painful nodes in female mammæ.
- Back.—Stitches in lumbar region when breathing deeply.
- Upper Extremities.—Much moisture in axillæ. Indurated axillary glands. Boring pains in bones of arms. Gouty stiffness of finger joints.
- Lower Extremities.—Tension in popliteal space and groin. Feet and toes turn under easily. Frostbites on feet and toes, with burning pains as tho' inflamed.
- Generalities.—Numbness of all limbs. Gouty stiffness in joints. The joints are weak and snap easily. Parts are easily sprained. Burning pains. Very sensitive to dry, cold, open air.
- Glands.—Inflamed, swelled and indurated.
- Skin.—Erysipelatous swelling with burning pains. Itching of entire body, in morning while in bed.
- Sleep.—Full of vivid fancies, with weeping, groaning and talking. Inability to go to sleep in evening, on account of restlessness, anxiety and frightful visions.
- Fever.—Pulse: Excited and accelerated, with throbbing in bloodvessels, mostly toward evening. Chill: Especially in afternoon, after eating and in evening. Shuddering every other day in evening, continuing while in bed. In evening, then sweat during sleep. Heat: Following every chill, mostly at night in bed. Sweat: After the heat, usually toward morning. During day, from slightest motion, even when eating. Nightsweat, offensive, debilitating, staining the linen yellow. Most profuse on thighs.
- Allied Remedies.—Carb-v., Rhod., Thuj.

CARBO VEGETABILIS.

CARBO VEGETABILIS.

- Mind.—Slow flow of ideas. Periodical weakness of memory. Full of unnatural voluptuous fancies. Easily roused to anger and vehemence. Anxiety and restlessness in evening. Attacks of anxious despondency, amounting to despair, in evening. Fear of ghosts at night.
- Vertigo.—When moving head.
- Head.—Pressive ache now here now there, with lachrymation and painful eyes when moved. Violent congestion to. Headache from overheating. Heavy. Tight, crampy feeling in brain. Draw-pain extending from nape forwards, with qualmsiness. Thrusts and stitches in. Worse: Afternoon; after eating.
- External Head.—Tearing, especially on occiput and forehead. Very painfully sensitive to pressure, i. e., of hat, etc. Pressive burning, tearing, especially in muscles of occiput, nape and forehead. Sense of contraction in integuments. Hair falls (after severe illness or abuse of Mercury), with violent itching. Takes cold in, especially after it has been hot and sweating. Worse: Early on awaking; evening, becoming warm in bed; every chilling of; becoming heated; touch. Better: Uncovering; sitting quietly in a warm room.
- Eyes.—Pain from eyestrain. Pressure and burning in. Hemorrhage from. Nightly purulent agglutination of. Myopia. Lachrymation.
- Ears.—Heat and redness of concha every evening. Offensive discharge from. Deficient wax.
- Nose.—Scurfy red tip. Continuous, violent nosebleed, especially early in evening, preceded and followed by a pale face. Crawling in, with coryza and hoarseness. Stopped in evening. Fluent coryza in evening. Sneezing.
- Face.—Pale. Greenish-yellow. Swelled face and lips. Cracked lips. Drawing in cheeks.
- Teeth.—Contractive or tearing ache excited by salty food. Persistently loose. Gums

CARBO VEGETABILIS.

- are detached and retracted from about ucisors. Gums bleed easily and frequently; scorbutus.
- Mouth.—Aphthæ.
- Throat.—Scraping and burning in. Sense of constriction in, impeding swallowing.
Much mucus in, easily dislodged by hawking. Sore, on swallowing. Redness in, and in fauces.
- Appetite, etc.—Either excessive hunger or thirst. Long-continued repugnance to fat food and meat. Craves coffee.
- Taste.—Bitter, in mouth. Salty. Sour, in mouth after eating. Foods taste too salt.
- Eructation.—Prolonged, of ingesta, especially of fat food. Retching.
- Nausea.—In early morning. Vomits: Blood and bile; ingesta, in evening; mucus.
- Stomach.—Spasm in, with a sense of burning pressure, much flatulence and great sensitiveness of pit. Cramps in, after loss of vital fluids, i. e., in childbed.
- Hypochondriæ.—Sticking in ribs, especially in hepatic region. Bruised pain in, especially in hepatic region. Jaundice.
Intolerance of tight clothes around.
- Abdomen.—Heat, with great inflation and tenseness of, from flatus. Pinching, below navel, moving from left to right side, with paralytic sensation in right thigh. Bellyache from riding. Sticking in.
- Flatulence.—Extraordinary generation of flatus. Excessive discharge of foul smelling flatus. Flatulent colic.
- Stool.—Thin, pale, mucus. Difficult, although soft, with violent urging and burning in anus. Constipation.
- Anus.—Itching and burning in. Hæmorrhoids which burn and bleed with each stool. Excoriation and moisture on perineum.
- Urine.—Red, dark. Frequent, anxious urging to urinate, day and night.
Polyuria. Nocturnal enuresis.
- Sexual Organs.—Too frequent pollutions.
Itching, burning and soreness of puden-
dum. Varicose veins on pudendum.
- Menses.—Of pale blood, too early and too profuse, preceded by spasmodic abdominal colic. Acrid leucorrhœa.
- Respiration.—Short when walking. Oppression of chest with hydrothorax.
- Cough.—In short fits and infrequent (4 to
5) daily attacks, as if excited by sulphur fumes or a crawling irritation in throat or larynx; dry in evening; in morning, with yellow-greenish or purulent, sometimes brownish bloody, rarely tenacious white mucus, or watery expectoration, of a foul, sour or salty taste and bad odor. Persistent in evening.
Hemoptysis with burning in chest.
- Larynx, etc.—Hoarseness, especially in early morning or evening, < by continued talking. Phthisis of larynx and trachea.
Soreness and ulcerative pain in, and in trachea. Voice fails when talking.
Aphonia at night.
- Neck.—Tearing in muscles of, and in nape.
Ulcerative pain in thyroid gland.
- Chest.—Constriction. Rawness in.
Whistling and rattling of mucus in.
Pressure. Burning and painful sore-ness in. Brownish spots on. Hydrothorax. Pulmonary phthisis. Inflammation of female mamæ. Palpitation.
- Back.—Rheumatic tearing in. Stitches in.
- Upper Extremities.—Tearing in forearms and wrists. Burning heat in hands.
Paralytic weakness of fingers when grasping anything.
- Lower Extremities.—Paralytic tearing in legs. Sweaty feet. Red, swollen toes with sticking pains as tho' frozen.
- Generalities.—Asleep sensation in limbs.
Bruised pain in limbs, in early morning after rising from bed. Paralytic tearing in limbs with flatulent symptoms.
Burning pains in limbs, bones and ulcers. After effects of over-lifting or taking cold. Consequences of loss of vital fluids or abuse of China. Sense of great general physical relaxation, towards noon. Weariness on beginning to move. Worse: Motion; walking in open air. Damp cold or cold frosty weather. Better: In a warm room.
- Skin.—General itching on becoming warm

CARBO VEGETABILIS.

in bed in evening. Burning in many spots on. Easily bleeding and offensive ulcers with burning pain and biting, ichorous pus.

Sleep.—Day sleepiness, especially in A. M., disappearing during motion. Late falling to sleep and nightly sleeplessness on account of physical restlessness.

Fever.—Pulse: Weak and languid, often imperceptible. Intermittent. Irregular, at times greatly accelerated, then again, as if entirely suppressed. Chill: And shivering, mostly in evening, usually with thirst, sometimes on left side only. Extraordinary weariness during. With icy coldness of body. Heat: After the chill, but also in evening or at night in bed, with many concomitants. Attacks of flying, burning heat in evening, usually without thirst. Sweat: Profuse, mostly offensive or sour smelling. Great inclination to, even while eating. Night-sweat. Sour smelling in early morning. Cold, on face.

Allied Remedies.—Arg-n., Ars., Bry., Carb-a., CHIN., Dulc., Ferr., Ign., Ip., Kali-c., Lach., MERC., Nat-m., Nat-s., Nil-ac., Nux-v., Op., Petr., Puls., Rhod., Sep., Sul., Verat-a.

CAUSTICUM.

Mind.—Sorrowful thoughts with weeping, day and night. Timorous anxiety and apprehension. Fear at night. Peevish, quarrelsome and self-opinionated.

Vertigo.—Dizzy, with weak feeling in head.

Head.—Congestion to, with roaring in head and ears. Loose feeling in brain. Feeling of an empty space between frontal bone and brain. Stitches in vertex and both temples. Tensive ache externally as well as internally, most in forehead and temples. Worse: Evening; early, on awaking; walking in cold, open air; lying on back; sitting upright; reading. Better: Lying in bed; warmth; opening eyes.

External Head.—Itching sticking in many parts of. Numbness on occiput. Tensive tearing in muscles especially of sides and behind ears. Tension and tightness of skin of. Worse: Drafts; dry or open air; cold wind; scratching; rubbing. Better: In a warm bed or room; moist weather; washing.

CAUSTICUM.

Eyes.—Inflamed eyes and lids. Ulceration of. Pressure, as of sand in. Warts in brows. Sees a dark web suspended before. Incipient cataract and amaurosis.

Ears.—Earache as tho' everything would be forced out. Painful swelling of external. Roaring and humming in head, and before ears.

Nose.—Eruption on tip. Warts on. Continued, stuffed coryza and obstruction of both nostrils. Coryza, dry at night, fluent in daytime.

Face.—Yellow, especially on temples. Eruption on, and on cheeks. Unilateral facial paralysis. Convulsive sensations in lips. Tension and tearing in lower jaw and chin. Trismus.

Teeth.—Tearing in, and through upper and lower jaw. Elevated in their sockets, and very painful. Sticking in. Suppurating gums and dental fistula.

Mouth.—Dry. Much mucus in, and in pharynx. Inclination to swallow, with a swollen feeling in throat. A sense of coldness rising in throat. Roughness of throat. Soreness and burning in fauces. Voiceless, from paralysis of vocal organs. Difficult speech.

Appetite.—Averse to sweet things. Thirst: For cold drinks; intense, with a small appetite.

Taste.—Unctious, greasy, in mouth.

Eruetation.—Empty. Abortive, with retching.

Nausea, etc.—Qualmishness during and after eating. Vomits sour water followed by sour eruptions.

Stomach.—Pain, with heat of head and shivering over entire body, lying. Spasm of. Pressure, after eating bread.

CAUSTICUM.

- Hypochondriæ.—Stitches in liver. Clothes are oppressive about.
- Abdomen.—Painful distension of. Protruberant, hard belly in children. Painfully swollen navel.
- Stool.—Too slender in form. Painful, ineffectual urging to, with anxiety and a red face. Anxiety after. Chronic constipation.
- Anus.—Itching. Hemorrhoids. Rectal fistula.
- Urine.—Thirst with frequent scanty micturition. Involuntary urination: When coughing, sneezing and walking; day and night.
- Sexual Organs.—Aversion to coitus in women.
- Menses.—Too late, but profuse, during which the blood passes in coagula. First menses are delayed at puberty. Profuse leucorrhœa.
- Respiration.—Sporadic tightness of chest. Intolerance of tight clothes about chest, they obstruct the breath.
- Cough.—Incessant, short, hollow, from crawling, tickling and much mucus in throat; mostly dry by day; loosening an acrid, greasy tasting mucus by night, which must be swallowed; > by cold drinks. Pain in hip while coughing. With sore pain in chest.
- Larynx, etc.—Chronic hoarseness with a low, muffled voice. Aphonia from weakness of laryngeal muscles. Painful soreness in, and in trachea when not swallowing. Laryngeal phthisis.
- Neck.—Goitre-like swelling of glands of. Moist herpes on. Stiffness and tension in nape, and down the back.
- Chest.—Rattling. Burning, sticking and soreness in. Pressure in. Oppression at heart with low spirits. Stitches about heart. Palpitation.
- Back.—Painful stiffness of, especially when rising from sitting.
- Upper Extremities.—Drawing and tearing
- in arms and hands. Sense of fullness in hand when grasping anything tightly. Shortening and induration of tendons of fingers.
- Lower Extremities.—Pain in the hips as if luxated. Dislocative pain in the hip joint when stepping. Tension in knee and ankle joints. Marbled skin on legs. Children have an unsteady gait and fall easily. Shortening of muscles of and tension in instep. Swollen feet.
- Generalities.—Gouty and rheumatic tearing in limbs, > in bed and from warmth. Contraction of flexor muscles. Distortion and paralysis of limbs. Paralytic, tremulous weakness of limbs when not in bed. Insufferable restlessness thro' entire body in evening. Epileptic spasms. Chorea. Sensitive to drafts and cold. The symptoms are intensified in evening, in open air and after drinking coffee. The primary action appears later, and the secondary symptoms continue relatively longer, than in other antipsoric remedies.
- Skin.—True itch. Moist tetter. Excoriated, in children. Painful varicosities.
- Sleep.—Somnolency in daytime. Nightly sleeplessness with anxiety, dry heat and frequent starting up. Frequent waking on account of cough. Anxious dreams.
- Fever.—Pulse: Somewhat excited toward evening only, from ebullition of blood. Chill: And chilliness predominate, often with coldness of entire left side of body. Great internal; quickly followed by sweat, without previous heat. Strong, internal, about midnight. Shuddering, spreading from face. Heat: In evening from six to eight o'clock. Overrunning body, then chill. Sweat: Profuse, when walking in open air. Sour smelling night-sweat. In early morning, about four o'clock.
- Allied Remedies.—Asaf., Bell., Bry., Calc., Clem., Coccl., Coloc., Cupr., Gel., Graph., Hep., Ign., Kali-bi., Kre., LACH., Lyc., NAT.-C., (NIT.-AC.), Nux-v., Phos., Plat., (PLB.), Puls., Rhod., Rus-t., SEP., Sil., SUL., (SUL.-AC.).

CHAMOMILLA.

CHAMOMILLA.

Mind.—Stupidity. Day dreams. Mental obtuseness. Great, anxious excitability, weeping, howling and tossing about. Great anxiety at heart. Impatience. Peevishness, with incessant screaming and howling. Bad effects of anger, with vehemence and wrath: Glowing heat of face; hot sweat on head; spasms; fainting attacks with vertigo; qualmishness, or paralysis of legs. Aversion to music.

Vertigo.—On raising up.

Head.—Tearing in one side, or in forehead and temple, extending into jaws, waking one from sleep about midnight. Congestion to, with throbbing therein, more on one side. Heavy. Aches from suppressed sweat. Hot, sticky sweat on scalp and over forehead. Worse: Night; open air, especially in the wind. Better: Warm applications; walking about in room; after rising.

External Head.—Wags it to and fro. Very sensitive to fresh air, wind and touch. Erysipelatous swelling, mostly one sided, of face, temples and head, with unbearable pain. Takes cold in, especially when sweating. Worse: Night; open air; wind; scratching. Better: Warm wraps; gentle motion in a warm room.

Eyes.—Burning heat in. Inflammation of, until they bleed, and of lower lids, with swelling of latter. Distorted, with twitching lids. Spasmodic closure of lids. Aversion to bright light.

Ears.—Earache, with sticking and tearing pains. Sensitive hearing.

Nose.—Nose-bleed. Ulcerated nostrils. Most extreme acuteness of smell. Fluent coryza.

Face.—Red, puffy. Heat of; also with coldness of body. Swelling of one cheek. Redness of one cheek, paleness of the other. Twitching facial muscles and lips. Wrinkling of forehead. Deep cracks in lower lip.

Teeth.—Unendurable, drawing ache at night, with thirst and hot, red, swollen cheeks. Toothache < from warm drinks, especially coffee. Burning and swelling of gums during toothache. Spasms in children suffering with symptoms of the teeth.

Mouth.—Foul breath. Sore throat with swollen parotids. Frothing at. Inflammation of soft palate and tonsils. Inability to swallow solid food when lying, also in general. Food lodges in throat pit. Dryness in throat. Red, fissured tongue. Convulsive motions of tongue.

Appetite, etc.—Anorexia and repugnance to food. Great thirst for cold water.

Taste.—Putrid or bitter, in mouth.

Eructations.—Sour, which intensify the symptoms. Bitter.

Nausea, etc.—Great qualmishness. Inclination to vomit after drinking coffee. Vomiting: Of bile; sour, of mucus or drink.

Stomach.—Violent pressure, as from a stone in, after every meal. Spasm of, after anger. Fulness in pit of, with anxiety.

Hypochondriæ.—Inflation of. Inflammation of liver.

Abdomen.—Cutting, burning and tearing in upper, with shortness of breath. Cramps in. Painful distension of, with inflamed intestines.

Flatulence.—Colic from, especially at night.

Stool.—Diarrhoea: At night, with frequent but small stools; greenish, hacked, or curdled; undigested; mucus; with bellyache and inflation of abdomen.

Urine.—Hot. Anxious urging to urinate.

Sexual Organs.—Labor-like pains in uterus. Anxiety and restlessness, with feeble labor pains during parturition.

Menses.—Uterine hemorrhage, of bad smelling clots. Discharge of blood between menses. Acrid leucorrhœa.

Respiration.—Rapid, rattling. Short. Tightness of chest, in region of throat pit.

Cough.—Dry, after catching cold (in children in winter). Dull, suffocative, from, tickling in chest, throat, larynx and throat-pit; dry at night, during sleep; during day, with expectoration of a scanty, tenacious mucus of a bitter or foul taste.

CHAMOMILLA.

- Larynx.—Sticking, burning in. Whistling and wheezing in trachea. Hoarseness.
- Neck.—Inflammatory swelling and induration of cervical glands.
- Chest.—Burning stinging pain and bursting feeling in. Spasm of. Excoriated nipples. Scirrhus induration and swelling of mammae. Pus and cheesy milk in mammae. Tickling and stinging pain in throat pit. Palpitation.
- Upper Extremities.—Arms go to sleep easily when grasping anything tightly. Convulsions of arms with clenched thumbs. Cold sweat on palms.
- Generalities.—Nightly paralytic, tearing pains with numb feeling in limbs. Convulsive twitches in limbs. Extremely sensitive to cool air and great aversion to wind. Oversensitive to pain, it seems unendurable and drives him to despair. Hyperesthesia of all the senses (especially also after coffee or narcotic palliatives). Pains are most intense at night and are accompanied by heat and thirst. When the pain begins he quickly sinks down from prostration. Violent effects of anger, particularly if he eats or drinks at that time. Opisthotones. Emaciation. The child always desires to be carried.
- Glands.—Inflammatory swelling of.
- Skin.—Yellow, over entire body. Unhealthy. Excoriated, in children. Eruption with itching at night.
- Sleep.—Somnolency with short breath, starting and groaning. Nightly sleeplessness with visions and anxiety. Crying out, starting up, tossing about and weeping during sleep. Yawning and stretching.
- Fever.—Pulse: Small, but tense and accelerated; often very irregular and for a time weak. Chill: And shuddering usually only of single parts, with heat of others. Shivering with internal heat. And coldness of entire body, with burning heat of face and hot breath. Alternate shivering and coldness of some, with heat of other parts. Of posterior half, with heat of the other half of the body, or the reverse. Shivering whenever he uncovers, and in cold air. Heat:

CHELIDONIUM.

Mingled with shuddering, mostly with one red and one pale cheek. Anxious, with sweat on face and hairy scalp. Long-continued, with intense thirst and frequent starting up in sleep. Burning, with sour sweat and furious delirium, most intense at night. Sweat: In sleep, most profuse on head, mostly sour; and smarting the skin. Recession of, consequently entirely wanting. Clammy.

Allied Remedies.—ACO., Alum., Ap., Ars., Bell., Bor., Caps., Chin., Cina, COCCUL., Coff., Coloc., HEP., IGN., Ip., Kre., Lyc., MAG-C., NUX-V., Peti., PULS., Rhe., Rhus-A., Stram., Sul., Valer.

CHELIDONIUM.

- Mind.—Depression and sadness, even to weeping. Restlessness and solicitude concerning the present and future.
- Head.—Coldness in occiput, rising from neck. Headache as if pressed asunder. Crawling in, and upon. Milk crust on. Worse: Motion. Better: Rest.
- Eyes.—Downward pressure on upper lids. Inflammatory redness and nightly purulent agglutination of. Contracted pupils. Albugo. Opacity of cornea. Lachrymal fistula.
- Ears.—Sensation of wind streaming from. Hearing vanishes when coughing.
- Nose.—Stuffed coryza with stoppage of one nostril.
- Face.—Red, without heat. Tension and drawing in zygoma. Itching over entire face and forehead. Herpes, especially on chin.
- Throat.—Choking in, as after swallowing too large a morsel; < breathing. Difficult swallowing, as from pressure of larynx on œsophagus.
- Appetite, etc.—Much thirst for milk, which is especially beneficial. Bad effects of clabber.
- Eructation.—Tasting of juniper berries.
- Qualmishness.—Rising from stomach, with a sensation of warmth therein, and over entire body. -

CHELLIDONIUM.

Stomach.—Cutting in when yawning. Gnawing pain, disappearing after eating. Burning in.

Abdomen.—Persistent cutting in intestines, immediately after eating. Spasmodic bellyache, with qualmishness and retraction of navel.

Stool.—Hard, knotty. Nightly mucus diarrhoea.

Urine.—Pale. Burning, sticking and cutting in urethra.

Menses.—Too late, but continuing too long, and increasing during three days.

Respiration.—Difficult, with short fits of coughing, preceded by pain in right, then left side of chest. Oppression of chest on expiration. Short and quick, from oppression which is relieved by a few deep inspirations.

Cough.—Frequent, dry, violent, hollow or short, exhausting paroxysms of; excited by a tickling in larynx, so severe that it brings tears to the eyes; or by heat in trachea or a sensation of dust in trachea, throat and behind sternum, not > coughing; generally dry, sometimes its force expels lumps of mucus; sometimes the exhausting morning cough is attended by much expectoration from deep in lungs.

Larynx, etc.—Pressure on, also in trachea. Feeling as if air could not pass thro', from a swelling there, especially on right side. Shooting and burning pains in region of, and in throat. Congestion to, with dull throbbing. Sense of constriction in trachea, with deadly anguish and a vain wish for eructation. Heat in trachea. Spasms of glottis on expiration accompany the slight fits of coughing. Slight hoarseness.

Neck.—Stiffness of both sides. Feels as if a napkin were tied around it, at larynx.

Chest.—Throbbing in lungs. Stitches and soreness in lungs, < deep inspiration, cough, and sneezing. Violent stitches in cardiac region. Sudden anxiety, with strong palpitation. Stitches under left clavicle and in r. mammary region. Milk disappears from mammae. Chest pains < motion, and tight clothing.

CHINA.

Back.—Pains, (sticking), in or beneath r., scapula. † Tearing, pressive pain in, as tho' lumbar vertebrae were broken, when bending backward and forward.

Upper Extremities.—Paralytic pressure in upper arm. Stiff wrist joints. The distal phalanges of fingers become yellow, cold, and as if dead, with blue nails.

Lower Extremities.—Paralysis of thighs and knees. Stiff ankle joints. Toes insensible, dead.

Generalities.—Paralysis of limbs. Cramp-like pains here and there. Early in morning, on awaking and after eating, great weariness and laziness. Aversion to motion which becomes intolerable. Inclination to lie down after eating.

Skin.—Old, putrid, spreading ulcers.

Sleep.—Late falling to. Sleepiness with inability to sleep.

Fever.—Pulse: Small and quick. Fuller and harder, but barely accelerated a little toward evening. Chill: And chilliness exclusively internal, with violent shaking, in evening in bed. Internal, while walking in open air, it disappears in room. And coldness of whole body, most on hands and feet, with greatly distended bloodvessels. On one (r.) leg. Shuddering: Without external coldness; running down back. Heat: Internal, without thirst, in evening after lying down. Sweat: During sleep, after midnight and in the morning hours, quickly ceasing on awaking.

Allied Remedies.—Calc-c., Lyc., Puls., Sul.

CHINA.

Mind.—Exalted fancy, with slow flow of ideas. Full of projects. Scheming. Great anxiety and despondency. Aversion to work. Quiet peevishness with sighing and weeping. Extreme irritability with pusillanimity and intolerance of noise. Contempt of everything about him. Disposition quarrelsome and inclined to anger. Over excitability. Apathy and indifference.

Sensorium.—Fainting with great nervous exhaustion, after loss of blood or vital fluids.

CHINA.

Head.—Bursting ache. Pressive pains in forehead and occiput, going to temples on bending backward. Sense of looseness and bruised soreness of brain, it swashes and strikes against the skull, with necessity to move head up and down. Twitching in, extending down to upper jaw and throat. Cutting pains from occiput into temples and eyes. Outward stitches in frontal eminences and sides, gradually increasing to great violence. It sinks backward when sitting upright. Throbbing in temples, which can be felt with hands. Worse: Light touch; drafts; motion; shaking head; moving eyes; stepping hard; walking in open air; night; stooping; talking; mental exertion; reflection. Better: Hard pressure; opening eyes; resting; lying; in room; rising.

External Head.—Painfully sensitive to slight touch, especially at roots of hair. Laming twitching tearing on, especially in temples and occiput. Contractive pain as if skin were drawn together on occiput and vertex. Profuse, exhausting, fatty, often cold sweat on, and on forehead, or outside lain on, especially when walking in open air; with violent thirst, increases progressively during the sweat.

Eyes.—Inflammation of, with red conjunctiva and pain as of sand therein, on moving them, < in evening. Yellow sclerotic. Sensitive to strong sunlight. Paralysis of optic nerve.

Nose.—Nosebleed from relaxed bloodvessels. Suppressed coryza, with headache. Dry coryza, with much sneezing.

Face.—Pale, sunken, hippocratic. Yellow, earth-colored. Fothergill's prosopalgia, excited by slight touch. Dry, blackish-coated, cracked lips.

Teeth.—Twitching tearing in upper molars, after taking cold in a strong wind. Painful numbness in hollow t.

Mouth.—Offensive odor from, in early morning. Much mucus in. Tongue coated dirty white or yellow.

Appetite, etc.—No desire for either food or drink. Appetite for various things, but knows not what. Desire for sour fruit. Intense thirst; drinks often, but only a little each time.

Taste.—Bitter: Food and drink.

Eructation.—Persistent, tasting of ingesta.

Stomach.—Great pressure in, after eating or drinking. Spasms of, from weakness, after loss of vital fluids. Food eaten late at night is not digested at all. Milk easily disorders it. Throbbing or stitches in pit. Retching.

Hypochondriæ.—Painful hepatic region, especially when touched lightly. Swelling and induration of liver. Stitches in spleen.

Abdomen.—Great distension of, like tympanitis. Flatulent colic with tension and anxiety in upper, and with sensation as tho' lowest intestines were constricted. Fulness in. Ascites.

Flatus.—Discharge of much excessively offensive; inability to discharge, f. either upward or downward.

Stool.—Involuntary. Difficult, although soft. Diarrhœa: Painless, but very exhausting; after fruit; nightly, of undigested feces; yellow, watery.

Urine.—Scanty, dark, turbid. Burning pain in meatus.

Sexual Organs.—Full of unnatural voluptuous thoughts, with excited sexual desire. Great weakness following too easy and frequent seminal emissions. Congestion to uterus, with painful heaviness therein. Bearing down pains from excessive sexual indulgence. Painful induration of vagina.

Menses.—Increased, passed in black clots. Bloody, serous discharge from vagina alternating with a purulent substance. Hemorrhage from atony of uterus.

Respiration.—Wheezing, whistling, crowing and snoring, r. Difficult in—and rapid expirations. Suffocative attacks in evening and night, with whistling and panting breathing, as from mucus in larynx. Oppression of chest, as from fulness in stomach, excited by prolonged talking.

Cough.—Hoarse, excited by tickling as of sulphur fumes in trachea; dry at night and in morning; by day and in evening, expectoration of pus mixed with dark coagulated blood, or of tenacious mucus of a flat, salty or sour taste, rarely repulsively sweet. Suffocative, at night with stitches in chest. Hemoptysis.

CHINA.

Larynx.—Soreness in, and in trachea. Hoarseness. Husky, deep voice when talking and singing. Weak voice.

Neck.—Tension in muscles of, and of throat,

Chest.—Stitches in, also in diaphragm and sternum. Pressure in. Threatening paralysis of lungs. Suppuration of lungs following hemorrhage, (and profuse blood letting), with stitches within, increased by pressure. Congestion of blood to, and violent palpitation.

Back.—Sweat on. Pressure, as of a stone, between scapulae. Shattering pains in scapulae. Nightly lumbar pains when lying thereon.

Lower Extremities.—Weariness in legs, especially thighs. Weakness in knees. Hot swelling of knee, painful to touch. Swollen feet.

Generalities.—Paralytic, twitching tearing in body, especially in extremities. Painful attacks which are only excited by lightly touching the part, but then they gradually increase to a fearful height. Numbness of parts lain on. Weakness from loss of vital fluids, with oversensitive senses and nerves, and great tendency to sweat. Great weakness with trembling. Extraordinary emaciation. The slightest draft excites the symptoms. Conditions are < at night.

Skin.—Yellow. Relaxed, dry. Moist gangrene of external parts.

Sleep.—Unconquerable day sleepiness when sitting, and after eating. Restless night s., with anxious dreams. Late falling to, on account of excitement and rush of thoughts. Reveries, as soon as he falls to. Snoring or blowing expirations during. Unrefreshing.

Fever.—Pulse: Small, but hard and quick, more quiet after eating. Irregular and sometimes intermittent. Extraordinary swelling of bloodvessels. Chill: Over whole body, increased by drinking and yet compelled to drink constantly, with thirst before and after, not during c. Severe internal, with icy-cold hands and feet, and rush of blood to head. Alternating with heat, in afternoon. Inability to get warm in bed in evening. Cold body, with heat of face. Heat; Over whole body, with distended bloodvessels. During h. (as well as during chill) thirstlessness or thirst for cold drinks only. Violent thirst reappears after the h. Long-continued, often appears long after the chill, with delirium. Inclination to uncover, during. Intermittent fever which begins with concomitant symptoms. Many forms of intermittent fever, but mostly those without especial thirst during chill and heat. Ordinarily the thirst is more pronounced before and after the chill and during the sweat. Sweat: Profuse, debilitating. Easy during, sleep and motion in open air. Very debilitating, night or early morning sweat. Often fatty or cold. Increased thirst during. Recession of, hence absent. On side lain on.

CICUTA VIROSA.

Allied Remedies.—Am-c., Ant-t., Ap., ARN., ARS., ASAF., BELL., Bry., Calc-c., Caps., CARB-V., Cham., Gina., Cupr., Cycl., Dig., FERR., Flu-ac., Hell., Iod., IP., LACH., MANG., MERC., Millef., Nat-m., Nux-v., Phos., Phos-ac., Pib., PULS., Samb., Sep., Stann., Sul., Sul-ac., VERAT-A.

CICUTA VIROSA.

Mind.—Childish insanity, she does all kinds of foolish things, with heat of body and thirst for wine. Confuses the past with the present. Uneasy concerning the future. Sadness, with whining and howling. Timidity, tendency to be startled. Suspicion and mistrust, with anthropophobia. He is violently affected by sad stories.

Vertigo.—Causing him to fall down. Reeling, it seems as though surrounding objects moved and whirled about.

Head.—Unilateral, stupefying ache, as from congestion of blood, disappearing when

CICUTA VIROSA.

- sitting erect. Consequences of concussion of brain.
- External Head.—Jerky trembling of (and of legs) from every movement of, interrupted by single jerks like electric shocks. Retracted or frequently repeated backward bending of. Sunken forward, eyes seem fixed on an object. Burning, suppurating eruption on. Worse: Motion and cold. Better: Rest; warmth.
- Eyes.—Contracted pupils. Staring fixedly at a single object, which, nevertheless, is not seen distinctly. When staring fixedly at a single point the head gradually sinks down so that finally the pupils are turned in an upward direction. Objects appear double and black.
- Ears.—Burning, suppurating eruption on, and around.
- Nose.—Ulcerated nostrils with discharge of yellow pus.
- Face.—Burning, purulent, confluent eruption on. Milk-crust. Painful, burning ulcers on lips. Lockjaw. Gnashing teeth.
- Mouth.—Foam in, and about. Inability to swallow, as tho' throat were grown together internally. Swollen tongue, with white, painful, burning ulcers on its edge. Difficult speech; when talking his head jerks, whereby he seems to swallow a syllable.
- Appetite, etc.—Quickly satiated. Great longing for charcoal. Violent thirst during spasms.
- Qualmishness, etc.—Early in morning and when eating. Vomiting blood.
- Stomach.—Burning pressure in. Anxiety in pit.
- Abdomen.—Heat and burning in. Belly-ache with convulsions, (from worms in children).
- Stool.—Profuse, thin. Retained.
- Urine.—Profuse, in a large stream, with frequent urging. Involuntary, from paralysis of bladder. Suppressed urination.
- Respiration.—Shortness of, from tonic spasm of chest muscles.
- Neck.—Cramplike tension in cervical muscles; when he turns his head he cannot get it back again. Tonic spasms.

CINA.

- Chest.—Burning in. Thrusting or sore pain on lower end of sternum.
- Back.—Opisthotonos.
- Upper Extremities.—Veins of hands are enlarged. Deadness of fingers.
- Lower Extremities.—Painful sensation of stiffness in legs. When walking the feet tilt inwards.
- Generalities.—Twitchings, especially in upper and lower limbs. Epileptiform convulsions and epileptic attacks. Tonic spasms. Convulsions in children with worm complaints. General weariness and exhaustion. Pain as from a thrust or blow in many parts of the body.
- Skin.—Burning, itching. Moist, purulent eruptions, with yellow, honey-colored crusts and burning pains only.
- Sleep.—Day sleepiness. Nightly sleeplessness. Many, and very lively dreams.
- Fever.—Pulse: Weak, slow and tremulous, sometimes entirely imperceptible. Chill: And chilliness, with desire for heat of stove and warmth. Spreads from the chest to arms and down thighs, with staring. Heat: Slight and internal only. Sweat: At night, and in early morning, mostly on abdomen.
- Allied Remedies.—Arn., Bell., Dulc., Lyc., Merc., Op., Rhus-t., Stram., Verat-a.

CINA.

- Mind.—Piteous complaining and howling. Peevishness: The child is insensible to caresses and rejects everything that is offered. Dread. Children resist being held. Whimpering and crying, especially when touched.
- Head.—Pressive, numbing headache, first in forehead then in occiput, with profuse, fluent coryza. Pressure as of a load or stone on, with painful pressing on upper eyelids. Headache before and after attacks of epilepsy or intermittent fever. Sinks sideways, or is jerked backward. Worse: Walking in open air; mental exertion. Better: Stooping; moving the head; sitting; lying.

CINA.

Eyes.—Pain in evening, from straining them by artificial light. Dim vision when reading, disappears from wiping. Dilated pupils. Photophobia. Blue rings around. Lachrymation.

Nose.—Bleeding from, and from mouth. Epistaxis, with burning in. Children continually rub and bore into, even until it bleeds. Fluent coryza, with burning in; with purulent mucus. Violent sneezing with continuous bursting pain in head and chest or piercing pain in temples.

Face.—Pale; cold, with cold sweat. Pale, sickly color of. Puffed, with bluish white color about mouth. Faceache; tearing in zygomata < by touch and pressure.

Teeth.—Gnashing of. Sensitive to both cold air and drinks.

Mouth.—Dryness and rawness in. Inability to swallow. Audible gurgling from throat down into abdomen.

Appetite, etc.—Hunger, immediately after meals; incessant. Increased thirst.

Vomiting.—With the fever. Of worms. Of mucus and ingesta. Of bile.

Abdomen.—Pinching bellyache from worms. Painful twisting about navel. Disagreeable sense of warmth in. Distension of, especially in children. Gurgling in.

Stool.—Constipation. Discharge of ascarides and round worms, with pappy diarrhoea. Diarrhoea after drinking. Whitish diarrhoea, passed involuntarily.

Anus.—Itching of.

Urine.—Involuntary urination, particularly at night in bed.

Menses.—Too early, and too profuse. Uterine hæmorrhage.

Respiration.—Short, interrupted, crowing. Anxious oppression of, as from spasm of chest. Wheezing, whistling.

Cough.—In violent, periodically recurring paroxysms; excited by a feeling as of feather down in throat, and by a quantity of mucus therein; dry in morning; in evening, expectoration of a whitish slimy, rarely bloody, almost tasteless substance, detached with difficulty. Dry, spasmodic, with shortness of breath and twitching in limbs. Spasmodic, with stiffness and a pale face.

Trachea.—Much mucus in, with hoarseness. Thrusts in.

Chest.—Spasms of. Gurgling in. Seems too narrow. Burning, piercing and soreness in.

Back.—Bruised pain in lumbar region. Sense of constriction about loins.

Upper Extremities.—Cramp-like tearing in arms and hands. Spasmodic closure of hands. Twitching of fingers. Weakness of hands, with inability to grasp objects tightly.

Lower Extremities.—Spasmodic twitching and stretching out of feet.

Generalities.—Dull stitches here and there over body. Jerkings and distortions of limbs. Rigid extension of body. Paralytic pain in arms and legs. Worm affections of children. Epileptic attacks with or without consciousness. Nightly epileptiform convulsions. Epilepsy; lies upon his back, with violent shrieking and beating about with hands and feet. Intolerance of touch and motion. External pressure renews or intensifies the symptoms. After effects of loss of vital fluids. Twitching of limbs; and sleep (after paroxysms of epilepsy or whooping cough).

Sleep.—Nightly restlessness and sleeplessness. Yawning and shivering and trembling. Restless tossing about and screaming at night in bed. Starting in.

Fever.—Pulse: Small, but hard and accelerated. Chill: With shuddering and shaking, it runs from upper part of body to head, even when near a warm stove. With a cold, pale face, and warm hands. With thirst. Not relieved by external warmth, mostly in evening, with great paleness of face. Heat: Greatest on head and face, but also with a pale face. Nightly, with thirst and anxiety. Sweat: Generally cold on forehead, nose, face and hands. Vomiting of ingesta, with ravenous hunger after the sweat (often also before the chill sets in).

Allied Remedies.—Bell., CAPS., Chin., Dros., Hyos., Merc., Phos., Verat-a.

CLEMATIS.

CLEMATIS.

Mind.—Sadness, and fear of impending misfortunes. Morose discontent.

Head.—Boring pain in temples. Moist vesicles and excoriation on occiput.

Eyes.—Inflamed, with profuse lachrymation. Inflammation of iris. Biting, smarting in margins of lids when closing eyes. Stitches in angles of. Extreme photophobia.

Face.—Pale, sickly countenance. Moist eruption on it, starts with a stitching pain. White, sticky & blisters on, and on nose, as from sun burn. Cancer of lips. Painful swelling of submaxillary glands.

Teeth.—Stitching and jerking drawing toothache, when lying in a horizontal position at night; driving him to despair. Worse: Smoking.

Abdomen.—Swelling, and induration, with twitching pain in inguinal glands.

Urine.—Increased discharge of. Discharge of purulent urine. Stopped, or discharged drop by drop, from narrowing of urethra.

Sexual Organs.—Painfully swollen and indurated testes. Thickened scrotum. Aversion to coition, as after excessive sexual indulgence.

Neck.—Encircled by an itching pimply eruption having purulent tips, with soreness and rawness after scratching. Moist eruption on, extending up to occiput.

Chest.—Swelled and indurated mammae. Cancer of mammae.

Upper Extremities.—Swollen axillary glands. Spreading vesicles on the hands and fingers, < by cold water.

Lower Extremities.—Scaly, crusty tetter on thighs or legs.

Generalities.—Extraordinary emaciation. Flaccidity of all muscles. Twitching of muscles. Vibration through entire body after lying down.

Glands.—Painfully swollen and indurated

Skin.—Crawling, throbbing and burning in ulcers, with sticking in their edges when touched. Chronic, humid herpes itching intolerably from warmth of bed and after washing. The painful, non-itching, tettery eruption over entire body is red and moist during the increasing, but pale and dry during the waning moon. Scaly herpes with thick crusts. Itching, moist eruption spreads by a corrosive ichor, with redness, heat and swelling of skin.

COCULUS.

Sleep.—Day sleepiness with nightly sleeplessness.

Fever.—Pulse: Excited, with throbbing in all bloodvessels. Chill: With shuddering, then sweat without previous heat. Shivering c. every time he uncovers. Heat: Dry, with general hot feeling, only at night. Sweat: Profuse at nights, most toward morning, with aversion to uncovering.

Allied Remedies.—Bry., Graph., Mero., RHOD., Rhus-t.

COCULUS.

Mind.—He sits, as tho' buried in deep thought, and takes no notice of his surroundings. Time passes too rapidly. Mild, indolent temperament. Sadness during the sufferings. Intense anxiety. Intolerance of noise. Timidity, easily startled. Bad effects of grief with anger. Dull confusion in head, everything seems unreal.

Vertigo.—With qualmsiness when raising up in bed, or moving. As if intoxicated.

Head.—Sense of emptiness or hollowness in. Inward pressing, or sticking ache in forehead. Throbbing in forehead. Convulsive trembling of, from weakness of cervical muscles and neck. Dull compression in either temple or half of forehead, as if brain were screwed in. Headache with nausea. Worse: During and after meals; drinking; evening; carriage riding; cold or open air; after sleep; coffee; tobacco. Better: In house; when quiet; warmth of bed.

Eyes.—Pain as tho' they would be torn out of head. Inability to open them at night. Contracted pupils. Dim vision, and black spots before. Progressive amaurosis.

Nose.—Increased sensitiveness of smell.

Face.—Burning heat of, with red cheeks. Distorted features. Swelling and induration of submaxillary glands.

COCULUS.

- Mouth.—Dryness in, and in throat Impeded swallowing, as from paralysis of throat. Bubbling foam from. Difficult speech, as from paralysis of tongue.
- Appetite, etc.—Aversion to food, drink and tobacco. Great thirst, especially when eating. Aversion to all sour foods.
- Taste.—Sour, in mouth, after eating and coughing. Sulphurous, in mouth. Bitter to tobacco.
- Eructation.—With pain in epigastrium and nausea. Hiccup, at once after eating.
- Nausea, etc.—Attacks of, ending in fainting. Nausea and vomiting, from driving (riding), and becoming cold.
- Stomach.—Spasm in, during and immediately after eating, with intense clutching and squeezing. Fulness and pinching in, and in abdomen with oppression of breathing.
- Abdomen.—Constrictive pain in upper and lower. Sense of emptiness in. Hysterical abdominal spasms in women. Painful soreness in. Protruded and incarcerated inguinal hernia.
- Flatulence.—Nightly, spasmodic, wind colic, especially < coughing. Pushing upward.
- Stool.—Hard, every other day. Retarded. Ineffectual urging, from want of peristaltic action in upper intestines.
- Rectum.—Intense tenesmus of, after stool.
- Urine.—Watery. Frequent urging to urinate; with scanty discharge.
- Sexual Organs.—Sensitiveness of, with greatly excited sexual desire. Bruised pain in testicles.
- Menses.—Too early, with intense, spasmodic pains in abdomen. Suppressed with abdominal colic.
- Respiration.—Difficult, as from constriction of larynx.
- Cough.—Racking, with oppression of chest which comes on during cough. Irritation to, as from narrowing of trachea.
- Neck.—Weakness of muscles of. Snapping of cervical vertebræ.
- Chest.—Sticking pain in. Spasmodic constriction of. Burning in, ascending into throat. Sense of emptiness in. Anxious palpitation. Trembling about heart.
- Back.—Paralysis of spine and lumbar region (tabes dorsalis).
- Upper Extremities.—Bruised pain in bones of arms on raising them. Asleep feeling in arms. Hot swelling of hands.
- Lower Extremities.—Paralytic immobility, and paralysis below lumbar region. Bruised pain in thighs. Inflammation and swelling, with stitches in knee. Burning in feet. Hot swelling of feet.
- Generalities.—Paralytic immobility of limbs with drawing bone pains. Unilateral paralysis with deadness of limbs. Hemiplegia. Sense of emptiness or constriction of internal parts. Hysterical spasms with sadness. Inclination to tremble. Gouty pains without swelling of affected parts. Great fatigue, even to fainting, from slight exertion. Intolerance of open air, warm as well as cold. The sufferings are intensified by driving, eating, drinking, sleeping, talking, and smoking.
- Glands.—Hard, cold, swollen glands, with sticking pains.
- Bones.—Bruised pain, or tearing and burrowing in.
- Skin.—Anæmic paleness of. Ulcers, very sensitive to touch. Itching in evening, when undressing and when under feather-bed.
- Sleep.—Somnolency. Coma vigil. Sleeplessness, on account of anxiety and bodily restlessness. Anxious dreams.
- Fever.—Pulse: Small and spasmodic, often imperceptible; seldom hard, and somewhat accelerated. Chill: Very frequently alternates with heat. Internal, with shuddering over whole body, most on back and legs, not relievable by external heat; in afternoon and evening. Constant chilliness, with hot skin. Heat: Dry, through the whole night. Over-running, with burning heat of cheeks and cold feet. Intermittent fever with spasm of stomach and lameness of small of back. Sweat: The whole night, it is cold on face only. In early morning, most on chest. Exhausting, over whole body from least movement. On painful parts.
- Allied Remedies.—Agar., Ant-t., Bism., Calc-e., Caust., CHAM, Cupr., IGN., Ip., Kali-c., Mos., Nux-m., Nux-v., Oleand.

COFFEA.

COFFEA.

Mind.—Lively fancies and actively changing ideas. Acuteness of intellect. Active memory. Great nervous excitement. Hypererethism. Hurried. Beside himself with anxiety. Excessive howling and screaming over trifles. Hypersensitiveness, with tearful disposition. Great anguish, of conscience; also about heart. Anxious despair, with fever. Restlessness. Fainting.

Head.—Violent congestion to, especially after sudden joy. Unilateral headache, as from an inward pressing nail. Unilateral crackling after each impact of the pulse. Feeling as if brain were being torn, or shattered. Worse: Walking in open air; morning; after sleep. Better: In room; sitting quietly.

Eyes.—Sparkling, somewhat reddened, with increased visual power.

Ears.—Hearing more acute. Music sounds entirely too loud.

Nose.—Nosebleed. Sensitive smell.

Face.—Dry heat of, with red cheeks.

Teeth.—Twitching, tearing ache, with restlessness, anxiety and tearfulness.

Mouth.—Swollen, and painful soft palate, worse from swallowing.

Appetite, etc.—Great hunger, with hasty, greedy eating. Thirst increased, especially at night.

Taste.—Acute. Proper taste of food is too pronounced. Sweetish, as of nuts or almonds in mouth.

Stomach.—Spasm, as from overloading; can't bear tight clothing about pit.

Abdomen.—Spasmodic bellyache, which seems quite insufferable.

Stool.—Frequent, soft, during day. Diarrhœa: In children during dentition; tendency to.

Urination.—Increased, especially at night.

Sexual Organs.—Greatly excited sexual impulse, without emission of semen, and with dry heat of body. Insufferably painful labor or after pains.

Menses.—Uterine hæmorrhage.

Respiration.—Oppression of chest and short breath, whereby the chest visibly heaves.

Cough.—Short, dry, hacking, as from constriction of larynx, with restless anxiety. Irritating, at night. During measles, Neck.—Sweat on.

Back.—Chilliness along. Paralytic pain in lumbar region.

Generalities.—Twitching limbs. Great mobility of entire muscular system. Trembling. Increased sensitiveness to pain, driving to despair; with tearfulness. Excessively active vital forces. Extraordinarily increased sense of well being. Aversion to open air which also intensifies the sufferings. After effects of a wine debauch, taking cold or excessive joy with exaltation. Mental and physical erethism.

Skin.—Eruptions, with extreme excitability and tearfulness.

Sleep.—Sleeplessness, on account of excessive mental and bodily activity.

Fever.—Pulse: Almost entirely unaffected, only very slightly accelerated: Chill: Increased by every (beginning) motion. Internal, frequently recurring shivering; with external heat of face or entire body. Sensation of, with internal and external warmth. Runs down back. Great sensitiveness to external cold. Heat: External, dry, in evening after lying down, with shuddering on back. Nightly, dry, with delirium. Great, of face. Hot breath. Sweat: Occasionally after the heat. Slight, in early morning. On face, with internal cold shuddering.

Allied Remedies.—Aco., Agar., Anac., Ars., Aur., Bell., Bor., Bro., Caps., Cham., COLOC., Con., Ign., Mag-c., Mar., Merc., Mos., Nux-v., Op., Puls., Sul., Valer., Verat-a.

COLCHICUM.

COLCHICUM.

Mind.—Distraction and forgetfulness. Surly ill-humor. His sufferings seem intolerable. Slight pain or external causes and impressions put him quite beside himself.

Head.—Pressive pain in occiput excited by mental exertion. Tearing in scalp. Crawling on head and over forehead. Worse: Mental exertion; noise. Better: Rest; lying.

Eyes.—Ulceration of meibomian glands with swollen lids.

Ears.—Crawling in. Suppurating, with tearing pain therein (after measles).

Nose.—Crawling in. Smell morbidly acute.

Face.—Doleful, sad expression. Yellow, spotted color. Edematous swelling of. Crawling in. Sensation as if bones were being driven asunder.

Teeth.—Tearing in roots of, and in gums.

Mouth.—Heat in. Crawling in fauces. Inflamed buccal cavity and fauces. Profuse salivation. Tongue insensible and stiff.

Appetite.—Lost. Incessant, intense thirst.

Taste.—Food tastes like old linen.

Nausea, etc.—Nausea from odors; of fresh eggs or fat meat. Vomiting: Violent of ingesta, leaving a bitter aftertaste; renewed by every movement.

Stomach.—Sensitiveness of region, to touch. Burning or cold sensation in. Stitches in pit.

Abdomen.—Distension of, with dragging pains. Burning or cold sensation in. Ascites, with a fold overhanging the pubic arch.

Stool.—Painful urging, with scanty discharge. Constipated. Dysenteric, of white mucus only, with intense tenesmus.

Anus.—Crawling, tearing and burning in.

Urine.—Constant urging to urinate, with scanty discharge. Scanty discharge of dark red urine with burning and urging in urethra. Whitish sediment.

Menses.—Too early.

Respiration.—Difficult, with anxious oppression of chest, > bending forward.

Cough.—Frequent, short, dry. At night, with involuntary spurting of urine.

Chest.—Pressive tension in. Spasms in. Hydrothorax. Stitches in, during inspiration and when coughing. Violent palpitation.

Back.—Tearing in, and in lumbar region. Painful soreness of lumbar region to touch.

Upper Extremities.—Tearing in arms, extending into fingers. Paralytic pain in arms. Crawling in finger tips.

Lower Extremities.—Tearing through entire leg extending into toes. Edematous swelling of legs and feet. Crawling in tips of toes.

Generalities.—Creeping in many parts of body, as after being frosted, during changing weather. Tearing in limbs during warm, and sticking in during cold weather. Tearing jerks like electric shocks, with paralytic sensation thro' one whole side of body. Weakness thro' all limbs, with a feeling as if paralyzed. Debility and weakness from night work and night watching. Frequent starting. The pains become quite unendurable toward evening and only grow less at break of day. Sensitiveness to touch and motion, of entire body, especially the suffering parts. Tendency to dropsy.

Skin.—Edematous swelling and anasarca. Suppressed transpiration.

Fever.—Pulse: Extraordinarily accelerated, hard and full. Chill: And shuddering running thro' all the members. Frequent cold shudders run down the back. Heat: Only externally, a dry h. of the skin. Dry, but only external, throughout the whole night, with violent, insatiable thirst. Sweat: Completely suppressed and wanting.

Allied Remedies.—Ars., Bell., Flu-ac., Merc., Nux-v., Op., Puls., Tab.

COLOCYNTHIS.

COLOCYNTHIS.

- Mind.—Anxious depression with surliness and disinclination to talk. Anxiety and restlessness. Tearfulness. Inclination to concealed grief or vexation with indignation. Inclination to escape.
- Head.—Pressive ache in forehead, < stooping and lying on back. Attacks of gouty, unilateral squeezing pain, with nausea and vomiting, daily about 5 P. M.
- Eyes.—Burning cutting in. Acrid tears.
- Face.—Pale and flaccid, with sunken eyes. Dark red. Prosopalgia; tearing, crampy pain in one-half of.
- Throat.—Spasm in pharynx, with empty eructations and palpitation.
- Appetite, etc.—Great craving for water, without thirst.
- Taste.—Flat, in mouth after every drink. Bitter, of all food.
- Stomach.—Pressure, with feeling of hunger.
- Abdomen.—Extraordinary, colicky, crampy pain in, necessitating bending double, with anxiety and restlessness. Constriction of intestines. Frequent, violent, squeezing or cutting as with knives in, with tearing extending into thighs and chill. Tympanites, with pain in belly, as tho' intestines were squeezed between stones. Bruised feeling and great sensitiveness of. Violent motion, coffee and tobacco > the abdominal pains, but all other foods < them.
- Stool.—Constipation, with retarded stool during pregnancy. Diarrhoea: Foamy, sourish, and offensive; dysenteric, of mucus, and blood with tenesmus of anus. Diarrhoea and vomiting after all food. Diarrhoea with bellyache.
- Annus.—Painfully swollen hemorrhoids, and in rectum. Paralysis of sphincter ani.
- Urine.—Diminished secretion. Intensely offensive, it quickly becomes thick, gelatinous and sticky. Ineffectual urging to urinate. During pain there is profuse, watery urination.
- Sexual Organs.—Complete impotency. Retraction of foreskin behind glands. (Priapism.)
- Respiration.—Nightly attacks of shortness of, r. as from compression of chest.
- Cough.—Dry hacking, from irritation in larynx. Smoking tobacco immediately excites a persistent cough.
- Chest.—Painful nodes in female mammæ.
- Back.—Tensive pain in, and in scapulæ, extending into throat.
- Upper Extremities.—Swelling and suppuration of axillary glands. Crampy pain in hands and fingers.
- Lower Extremities.—Sciatica; tensive pain in hips, extending from kidneys down into thighs, with a sensation as if hip joint were fastened in iron clamps. Pain in thighs, as if psoas muscle were too short, when walking. Stiff knee, which hinders crouching down.
- Generalities.—Tearing stitches lengthwise thro' entire body. Crampy pain and contraction of internal and external parts. Stiff joints. Muscular twitchings. Shortened tendons. The limbs are drawn up so that he resembles a hedgehog. Fainting, with cold external parts. After effects of chagrin and indignation combined with silent internal grief. Worse; Night; in bed. Better: After rising; gentle motion in a warm room.
- Glands.—Painful swelling and suppuration of.
- Skin.—Itching over entire body, with great restlessness, especially in evening in bed, followed by sweat. Desquamation, over whole body.
- Fever.—Pulse: Generally full, hard and accelerated; seldom small and weak. Strong throbbing in all bloodvessels. Chill: And coldness of entire body, often with heat of face. Either cold hands or soles of feet, with warmth of rest of body. Chill and shuddering with the pains. Heat: Dry external. Sense of internal, with attacks of external overrunning heat. Sweat: At night, of a urinous odor, causing itching of skin. Especially on head and extremities.
- Allied Remedies.—Bell., Bry., Cann., Caust., Cham., COFF., Mag-c., Mecc., Phyt., Rhe., Sec-c., STAPH.

CONIUM MACULATUM.

CONIUM MACULATUM.

Mind.—Confusion of thought and insanity.

Weakened power of intellect and memory; very forgetful. Hysteria and hypochondriasis from too violent or unsatisfied sexual indulgence, with pensiveness, anxiety and peevishness. Aversion to work. Very ill humored. Anxiety of pregnant women. Antrophobia, yet fears to be alone. Nightly fearfulness. Indifference.

Vertigo.—Whirling, when looking around. Intoxication, from the least quantity of spirituous liquors; after waking from siesta and when walking in open air.

Head.—Pressive headache. Stupefying ache. Attacks of tearing, gouty pains in temples or side of, with asleep feeling in brain and nausea. Chronic, outward stitches, especially in vertex and forehead. Sensation of a large, thick lump in brain. Great sensitiveness of brain to noise. Unilateral bruised pain. Hydrocephalus. Falling of hair. Worse: Night; morning, fasting; early on awaking; touch; motion; turning eyes toward affected side; debauch, after a; after eating; talking; after waking from siesta, walking in open air. Better: Stooping; external pressure; lying; closing eyes.

Eyes.—Sense of coldness or burning, when in open air. Itching below. Pressure in, when reading. Gray cataract, after confusions. Daylight dazzles. Myopia. Surrounding objects appear red. Photophobia without inflammation.

Ears.—Tearing and sticking about and in. Roaring and buzzing in. Accumulation of discolored earwax. Painfully sensitive hearing.

Nose.—Purulent discharge from. Excessively acute smell. Persistent stuffed coryza, with obstruction of both nostrils. Sneezing.

Face.—Heat of. Pale, bluish, puffy. Itching. Moist, spreading eruption on. Nightly, sticking, tearing face pains.

Teeth.—Drawing ache, < cold things.

Mouth.—Spasm of œsophagus. Involuntary swallowing, especially when walking in wind. Swelled tongue. Sense of a rising body in throat, with much swallowing.

Appetite.—Complete want of, and of thirst.

Eruetation.—Continuous, empty. Tasting of ingesta.

Nausea, etc.—Inclination to vomit, with loss of appetite. After every meal. Nausea and vomiting during pregnancy.

Stomach.—Constrictive spasm in. Sense of inflation of, and of upper abdomen, after drinking milk. Painful soreness of.

Abdomen.—Painful soreness when walking on pavement. Induration of, from swelling of mesenteric glands. Hysterical uterine spasms.

Flatulence.—Rumbling and growling in abdomen. Discharge of cold flatus.

Hypochondria.—Stitches in spleen.

Stool.—Hard, every two days only. Constipation, with ineffectual urging; during pregnancy. Diarrhœa: Undigested, with bellyache; exhausting.

Urine.—White, turbid, thick. Bloody. Frequent, nightly urination. Pressure upon bladder. Cutting in urethra during urination.

Sexual Organs.—Impotency and want of erections. Insufficient erections, lasting too short a time. Excessive pollutions. Swelled testes, after contusions. Itching upon and in pudenda.

Menses.—Too early, but too scant. Painful, spasmodic, abdominal colic during. Suppressed (especially in barren women). Acrid, burning leucorrhœa, preceded by pinching in abdomen.

Respiration.—Suffocative attacks. Tightness of chest on waking early in morning. Short, when walking.

Cough.—Dry, spasmodic, from irritation as of a dry spot in the throat, mostly at night. Suffocative, with flying heat of face. With bloody expectoration. After measles or scarlatina, or when a chronic tracheal affection threatens. During pregnancy. Whooping cough, especially in nightly paroxysms, excited by itching and tickling in throat and chest.

Chest.—Stitches in sternum and chest. Scirrhous of mammae, after blows or contusions. Inflammation of female mammae with stitching pain.

CONIUM MACULATUM.

Upper Extremities.—Shoulder feels as though galled. Moist tetter on forearm. Sweat on palms. Pararitia. Numbness of hands and feet.

Lower Extremities.—Reddish spots, as from bruises, on calves, afterward turning yellow or green, preventing movement. Feet easily become cold.

Generalities.—General relaxation with inclination to laugh. Sense of exhaustion, early in morning when in bed. Sudden relaxation when walking. Faintness. Convulsive twitching of limbs. Spasmodic pains in various parts. Complaints of old age. After-effects of blows and contusions. Unusual liability to take cold. Most complaints appear during rest, especially at night and in separate attacks, others come on when walking in open air.

Glands.—Swelled, with crawling and sticking. Induration of, following blows or contusions.

Skin.—Sticking itching in. Nettlerash from violent bodily exertion. Death spots of old people. Old, moist tetter. Blackish ulcers, with bloody, fetid, ichorous discharge, especially from contusions. Pains in ulcers.

Sleep.—Sleepiness in daytime and early in evening, with forcible closure of eyelids. Sleeplessness with all complaints.

Fever.—Pulse: Extremely irregular; mostly slow and large, intermingled with small, quick beats. Sensible throbbing in blood vessels thro' entire body. Entirely absent. Chill: And coldness, early in morning and in afternoon (from 3 to 5 o'clock). With constant desire for warmth, especially that of sun. Early in morning, internal only; in afternoon with overrunning shivering. Heat: Great, internal as well as external, with great nervous excitability. With co-existent copious sweat. Sweat: Day and night, as soon as he falls to sleep or even closes eyes. Offensive at night and early in morning, causing smarting of skin.

Allied Remedies.—Ag-c., Anac., Ant-l., Coff., Cupr., Cycl., Dig., Dulc., GEL., LACH., Lyc., Nit-ac., Nux-v., Puls., Tab.

CROCUS.

CROCUS.

Mind.—Great distraction and forgetfulness. Extraordinarily changeable mood. Mournfulness alternating with cheerfulness. Inclination to joke, laugh and sing. Gay insanity with buffoonery. Angry and flying into a passion, alternating with gentleness.

Vertigo.—With fainting. Whirling, and feeling of intoxication in forehead when in room, but not in open air; with occipital headache and pains in eyes.

Head.—Sudden thrusts in forehead and temples. In evening by artificial light, pain in forehead with burning and pressure in eyes. Pulsating pain in one side of, extending into eyes.

Eyes.—Nightly spasms of lids. Visible quivering of lids. Lachrymation when in room but not in open air. Inclination to blink or wipe them. Dilated pupils. In evening by candle light, dim vision, as of gauze or fog before.

Nose.—Bleeding thick, tenacious, black blood, with cold sweat on forehead.

Face.—Earthy color. Red, burning spots on. Glowing heat of. Cracked lips.

Mouth.—Scratching in throat in evening, before and after (not while) eating. Sensation in throat, as of a stopper therein, or as tho' uvula had fallen. White coat on tongue with elevated papillæ.

Appetite, etc.—Thirst in evening.

Eruotation.—Heartburn after eating.

Nausea, etc.—Inclination to vomit disappearing in open air.

Stomach.—Sensation, as something living, hopping and jumping about in, and in abdomen or chest.

Abdomen.—Distension of. Sense of heaviness in lower, and pressing towards genitals.

Anus.—Sticking, itching and crawling in.

Sexual Organs.—Continual, sharp stitching from anus into groins, where it remains as a simple pain, < inspiration.

Menses.—Too early, and too profuse. Uterine hemorrhage of dark, tenacious, foul smelling blood. Discharge of blood during new or full moon.

CROCUS.

Respiration.—Difficult, with inclination to take a deep breath, better after yawning. Offensive smelling breath.

Cough.—Violent, dry, from irritation in trachea, relieved by laying hands on epigastrium. Hæmoptysis.

Back.—Sensation of coldness in.

Upper Extremities.—Sensation in shoulder joint, as tho' head of humerus would be dislocated. Asleep sensation in arms and hands. Burning, crawling and tension in finger tips. Frost bites on hands and fingers.

Lower Extremities.—Great weariness in knees and legs. Bruised pain in hip joint. Frost bites on toes.

Generalities.—Sensation as of something living, hopping and jumping about in body. Crawling thro' body, now here, now there. Asleep feeling in single parts, especially at night Hemorrhage of tenacious black blood from various organs. Chorea attacks with singing, laughing and dancing, toward evening, every eight days. Early in morning, intense weakness and he feels worse generally. In open air she is far better than in a moderately warm room. Great alternation of symptoms.

Skin.—Scarlet redness of entire body. Painful suppuration of bruised parts.

Sleep.—Persistent yawning and inclination to. Sleepiness after every meal. Drowsiness and somnolency.

Fever.—Pulse: Feverishly accelerated. Anxious palpitation. Chill: Afternoon, augmented towards evening, with cold shuddering spreading from back over legs, and trembling. Thirst, during chill as well as heat. Cold shuddering on posterior half of body only. Chills with goose-skin and yawning. Heat: Internal overrunning, with pricking and crawling in skin. Most on head and face, with pale cheeks and thirst. With a very red face and swelled blood vessels. Sweat: Scanty, some at night only and then it is cold and exhausting. On lower half of body only.

Allied Remedies.—Aco., Bell., Op., Plat.

CUPRUM.

CUPRUM.

Mind.—Vanishing senses. Exaltation of. Spiteful, malicious insanity with hauteur, intermingled with clonic spasms. Extraordinary anxiety as if afraid of death. Restless tossing about. Groaning. Desire to escape. Fearfulness. Frightened easily. Attacks of raving madness. Oversensibility of all senses. The attacks of frenzy end in sweat.

Vertigo.—With almost every complaint. With sinking forward of head (Gels.). With vanishing of all the senses.

Head.—Pressive ache < touch. Crawling sensation in vertex. Meningitis.

External Head.—Convulsions of; with to and fro motion; drawing it sharply awry or sideways; or sinking forward of; < or renewed by every touch (in hydrocephalus). Bluish-red swelling of, with convulsive twitching of limbs, < touch, which also causes pain in the swelling.

Eyes.—Distorted. Staring, sunken. Turned upward. Tightly closed. Insensible pupils.

Face.—Pale, sunken. Intensely red. Bluish, and blue lips. Spasms and distortion of facial muscles.

Teeth.—Difficult dentition in children, with convulsions.

Mouth.—Foaming at. Burning in throat. Cold tip of tongue. Hoarse crying, like a child. Drink gurgles audibly down the œsophagus.

Appetite, etc.—Eats hastily. Inclination for cold foods. Unquenchable thirst, with a dry throat.

Taste.—Sweetish, coppery.

Eruetation.—Hiccough precedes the spasmodic attacks.

Nausea.—From abdomen up into throat. Intense retching. Vomiting: Offensive bilious, or bloody; of water containing floating flocks; with abdominal cramps, and convulsions; of solid food only.

Stomach.—Pressure in pit, worse from touch. Gnawing and corroding sensation in.

Abdomen.—Intense abdominal pains with agony. Pressure as of a stone in, <

CUPRUM.

- touch. Atrocious cramps; also in stomach, with convulsions. Eroding sticking ulcers in.
- Stool.—Retained, with general heat. Diarrhoea: Violent; watery, mixed with flocks.
- Urine.—Suppressed. Tenacious and very offensive. Frequent nightly miction.
- Menses.—Continue too long. Suppressed, with abdominal cramps. Spasms of chest before.
- Respiration.—Arrested. Whistling. Rattling. Rapid, with whimpering, and snoring in trachea. Difficult, with convulsive working of abdominal muscles.
- Cough.—Incessant, dry, not even allowing an intermission for breathing, > a swallow of cold water. In long uninterrupted paroxysms, lasting until the breath is completely exhausted; excited by mucus in trachea or spasm in larynx; quite dry in evening; in the morning a scanty expectoration of mucus with dark blood, of a foul taste and smell.
- Chest.—Constriction. Rattling of mucus in. Painful and spasmodic contraction of. After fright or anger and before menses, spasms of, which deprive him of speech and breath. Anxious palpitation.
- Upper Extremities.—Tearing twitching in arms and hands. Bluish mottled arms and hands. Twitching of muscles of forearms and hand. Twitching fingers.
- Lower Extremities.—Weariness in knee joints. Twitching of muscles of lower leg. Painful cramp in calves. Twitches in toes.
- Generalities.—Violent convulsions with piercing shrieks. Chronic spasms, (cramps): Beginning in fingers and toes; preceded by weeping. Nightly twitchings. Epileptic attacks. Weariness and great relaxation of entire body. Great emaciation. Intolerance of the least touch, it renews and intensifies the symptoms. Stiffness and rigidity of whole body. Trembling.
- Bones.—Pain as tho' broken. Caries.
- Skin.—Dry itch. Chronic ulcers.
- Sleep.—Somnolency. Deep, with twitchings.
- Fever.—Pulse: Usually small, almost imperceptible, weak and very slow; more

CYCLAMEN.

- seldom full, hard and accelerated. Chill: Over entire body, most severe on extremities. Icy coldness of entire body. After every attack of illness (also after epilepsy). Heat: Overrunning; flying. Internal, exhausting, consuming h. Sweat: Cold, at night. Many attacks (of epilepsy and mania) end with (cold) sweat.
- Allied Remedies.—Bell., Calc-c., Caust., Chin., Cic'., Coccl., Con., Dulc., HEP, Hyos., Ign., Ip., Lyc., Merc., Nux-v., Op., Phos-ac., Phyt., PULS., Sep., Sil., Sul., VERAT-A.

CYCLAMEN.

- Mind.—Dulness of. Weak memory. Rapid alternation of cheerfulness and peevishness. Troubled conscience, as though he had not fulfilled his duty. Inclination to concealed, inward grief.
- Head.—Stitches in temples, disappearing when touched. Fine, sharp, itching or tearing sticking in scalp, changing place when scratched. Eruption on head, painless to touch.
- Eyes.—Sticking itching in, and in lids. Dilated pupils. Vision is obscured, as by a fog.
- Ears.—Drawing pain internally. Difficult hearing, as though stopped.
- Nose.—Diminished sense of smell.
- Face.—Induration, with sense of numbness in upper lip.
- Teeth.—Nightly, drawing ache.
- Mouth.—Constant sensation of mucus in.
- Appetite.—Lost, early in morning and in evening. A little food quickly satiates. Aversion to bread and butter. Thirstless.
- Taste.—Tastelessness of foods; they taste quite flat.
- Eruetation.—Hiccough after eating.
- Nausea, etc.—With accumulation of water in mouth. Early in morning after smoking tobacco. Inclination to vomit after every meal, especially of fatty food.
- Stomach.—Fulness and pressure in pit, as from overloading.
- Abdomen.—Discomfort and nausea in. Flatulent colic.
- Flatulence.—Rumbling and growling in abdomen immediately after eating.

CYCLAMEN.

Stool.—Frequent, pappy.

Annus.—Festering pain in, and in perinæum.

Urine.—Frequent urging to urinate, with profuse discharge of pale urine.

Menses.—Too profuse. Too early. †

Respiration.—Difficult, with oppression of chest. Short, as from weakness in chest.

Chest—Congestion to, with sensible palpitation.

Upper Extremities.—Paralytic pressure as though in periosteum, extending from shoulder into fingers. Tearing, as though in periosteum, of fingers. Sticking itching between fingers.

Lower Extremities.—Cramp-like pain on posterior thigh. Violent itching on calves, with distended blood-vessels. Sprained pain in ankle-joints. Violent itching in joints and toes, seemingly in periosteum.

Generalities.—Pressive drawing or tearing pains, mostly in periosteum or where skin lies close to the bone. Weariness of body in evening, with peevishness and sleepiness, disappearing from motion. As long as he moves about, aside from weariness, he feels quite well; however, upon sitting down, especially toward evening, all kinds of complaints appear.

Bones.—Pressive or tearing pains in periosteum.

Skin.—Unendurable, sticking itching, in evening in bed. Cracks on hands and feet. Frostbites. Offensive ulcers.

Sleep.—Great sleepiness in evening and forenoon. Constant inclination to lie and slumber.

Fever.—Pulse: Not markedly changed.

Chill: Forenoon or evening. Early morning or evening attacks of cold shudders over whole body. Great sensitiveness to cold air and uncovering with the evening fever. Heat: After the chill, most on face, but without thirst, while the hands remain cold a long time. Sense of, over entire body, especially on face and hands. Of single parts, except face General, after every meal. Sweat: Moderate, but of a bad odor.

At night, during sleep.

Allied Remedies.—Con., Puls.

DIGITALIS.

DIGITALIS.

Mind.—Great anxiety, weeping and solicitude for the future. Sadness. Raving excitement, alternating with melancholy.

Vertigo.—With trembling.

Head.—Stitches: In temples in evening and at night; in forehead, extending into nose, especially after cold drinks. Pressure in forehead from mental exertion. Feeling as tho' something in head fell forward, when stooping. Itching sensation inside of. Feeling like water or waves striking within. Worse: Standing; talking; shaking or bending it backward. Better: Inclining it forward.

External Head.—Constantly inclines to sink or fall backward, while sitting and walking, as tho' the anterior neck muscles had lost their tone. Hydrocephalus.

Eyes.—Burning pain in orbital arch. Blue lids. Inflamed meibomian glands. Lids are agglutinated by mucus. Biting tears. Cloudy crystalline lens, without pains. Dim vision.

Nose.—Coryza, with hoarseness.

Face.—Pale. Skin of is a transparent bluish color. Black, suppurating sweat pores. Thin, blue lips. Dry lips.

Mouth.—Rawness, redness and scratching in cavity of, and in throat. Profuse flow of sweetish saliva. Offensive salivation. Blue tongue.

Appetite, etc.—Loss of, with a clean tongue. Desire for bitter foods and sour drinks. Continual thirst, with dry lips.

Taste.—Bitter, in mouth. Sweetish, with constant collection of water in mouth. Bread is unpalatable, it tastes bitter.

Nausea.—Continuing after vomiting. And vomiting of all food, as soon as he eats. After expectorating she must instantly vomit the ingesta. Vomits: Mucus; first food, then bile.

Stomach.—Sense of intense weakness, as tho' he would die, immediately after eating. Cramp in, with nausea and vomiting, somewhat > by eructations. Stitches extending from pit into sides and back.

DIGITALIS.

Abdomen.—Pinching contraction in, as though intestines were twisted. Ascites.

Stool.—Diarrhœic, of fœcal masses mixed with mucus. Gray, ashy. White, like lime. Watery diarrhœa.

Urine.—Ineffectual, anxious urging to urinate. Constant urging, with scanty discharge of red urine. She is able to hold her urine longer when lying down. Frequent necessity to urinate, whereat a little only is passed by drops, each time. Difficult urination, as if from narrowing of urethra. Diminished secretion of, sometimes alternating with profuse watery discharge of. Dark brown or red. Inflamed bladder. Cutting before and after urinating.

Sexual Organs.—Dropsical swelling of. Hydrocele; the scrotum looks like a bladder filled with water.

Respiration.—Tightness of chest when lying and walking.

Cough.—Hollow, dry, spasmodic, excited by roughness in palate and trachea; dry in morning; in evening, scanty, difficult expectoration of yellow, gelatinous, sweetish mucus, sometimes with a little dark blood. Dry with pain in shoulders and arms. With smarting in chest. With bloody expectoration, or like boiled starch.

Larynx.—Hoarseness, early in morning.

Chest.—Sense of weakness rising from stomach. Hydrothorax. Anxious, strong and audible palpitation, with contraction in sternum.

Extremities.—Pains in shoulder and arm. Chronic sciatica. Tumefaction about knee, with sticking pains. Swelling of feet during day, becoming thinner again at night. Cold hands and feet.

Generalities.—Sticking pains in muscles of upper and lower limbs. Extreme faintness and debility, with sweat. Attacks of excessive weakness, especially after breakfast and dinner. Great nervous weakness. Dropsy, of internal and external parts. Gouty nodes.

Glands.—Swelled and indurated.

Skin.—Corrosive itching, terminating in burning sticking when not scratched. Anasarca. Cyanosis. Jaundice.

DROSERA.

Sleep.—Interrupted, at night. Persistent day sleepiness, like sopor. Drowsiness during day, disturbed by attacks of vomiting.

Fever.—Pulse: Extremely slow, especially during rest. Irregular and sometimes intermittent. From every motion it immediately becomes accelerated, full and hard; afterward during rest it quickly sinks back to its accustomed slowness. Chill: More internal, with warmth of face, but beginning with coldness of extremities, from which it spreads over entire body. Chilliness and shuddering over entire back. Internal, with external warmth. General, with heat and redness of face. Alternating with heat. Extraordinary coldness of hands and feet, with cold sweat. Great sensitiveness to cold. Heat: Usually appears a long time after the chill. Sudden overrunning sensation of, followed by weakness. Increased bodily warmth, with cold sweat on face. Heat of one hand, with coldness of the other. Sweat: At night, mostly cold and somewhat clammy. Immediately after the chill, without previous heat. General.

Allied Remedies.—Ars., Bell., Chin., Cow., Glo., Merc., Nux-v., Op., Phos., Phos-ac., Plat., Puls., Spig., Sul-ac.

DROSERA.

Mind.—Anxiety, especially in evening and when alone. Fear of ghosts. Restless disposition. Great mistrust of others. Capricious. Obstinate. Trifles quickly put him beside himself. Inclination to drown himself.

Vertigo.—When walking in open air.

Head.—Pressive ache seeming to push out thro' forehead and zygoma, with stupefaction and qualmsiness. Outward throbbing and hammering in forehead. Corrosive itching and painful soreness on scalp, > rubbing. Worse: Stooping; warmth. Better: Motion; cold.

Eyes.—Protrusion of. Outward stitches in, when stooping. Dazzled by light.

DROSER.A.

- Presbyopia, with contracted pupils. Letters run together when reading. Livid lids.
- Ears—Sticking and forcing in, especially when swallowing. Difficult hearing with buzzing and roaring in.
- Nose.—Nose-bleed, in early morning and evening. He blows blood from. Black pores on. Constantly dry. Sensitive to sour odors.
- Face.—Pale, with sunken eyes. Puffed and livid. Pimply eruption on, with fine sticking pains. Faceache, < pressure and touch. Black pores on chin.
- Mouth.—Sense of dryness in fauces, with absence of thirst. Bleeding from. Ulceration of velum palati. Sticking in pharynx when swallowing. Scratching in throat from salty foods. Difficult swallowing of solids, as from narrowing of throat. Sensation as if crumbs of bread remained in pharynx. Bloody saliva. Hawks up yellow or green mucus. Constant collection of water in.
- Appetite, etc.—Thirst in early morning. Thirst during the heat, but not during the chill. Aversion to pork.
- Taste.—Bitter: In mouth when eating; to bread. Food is tasteless.
- Nausea, etc.—After fatty food. And retching. Vomiting: Nightly; of bile or only water, in early morning; of mucus and food, during or after coughing; of blood; after drinking.
- Hypochondria.—Contractive pain in, when coughing; it compels him to press upon the spot with his hands.
- Abdomen.—Drawn in (with the vomiting). Constriction. Bellyache aftersour foods.
- Stool.—Bloody, and mucus diarrhoeas.
- Urine.—Brown, strong smelling. Frequent, nightly urination.
- Menses.—Suppressed. Too late Leucorrhoea, with labor-like cramps in abdomen.
- Respiration.—Bad smelling breath when coughing. Tightness of chest when talking, most while sitting. Compressive feeling in chest, when coughing and talking, as tho' something there held the voice and breath back. Attacks of suffocation. Gasping for breath.
- Cough.—From contraction of lower abdomen. Ringing, as from dryness in trachea during. When coughing the chest is compressed; he must press thereon with his hands. When singing, causing biting in larynx. Caused by smoking or drinking. Violent whooping cough in periodically recurring (1 to 3 hours) attacks of barking or non-resonant coughing fits, which do not permit a recovery of the breath; excited by tickling, feeling of dryness or of soft feathers in larynx; dry in the evening; in morning with a little yellow, generally bitter expectoration, which must be swallowed. With scraping in throat; with bleeding from nose and mouth, and pains in hypochondriæ. Hæmoptysis of bright red, foamy or black, coagulated blood. Green expectoration.
- Larynx, etc.—Constant roughness and dryness in, and in trachea. Sensation of a soft body (like a feather) in. Constriction of, when talking. Alternately soft (yellow, gray or green) and hard mucus in trachea. Inflammation of, and of trachea, with pain when talking. Phthisis of, and of trachea. Deep, husky voice.
- Chest.—Constriction. Sticking in. Pain compelling him to press it with hands when sneezing or coughing. Pressure on sternum causes festering pain therein. Black pores on, and on shoulder.
- Upper Extremities.—Nightly tearing in humerus disappearing from motion during the day. Cramp-like distortion of fingers. Cold hands.
- Lower Extremities.—Feet constantly chilly and covered with cold sweat.
- Generalities.—Gnawing, sticking pain in joints. Paralytic, bruised sensation in limbs. Soreness of limbs upon which he lies, as if the bed were too hard. Rapid emaciation (galloping laryngeal phthisis). Epileptic attacks with twitching limbs, they are followed by sleepiness and expectoration of blood. Most symptoms are intensified at night and toward morning, as well as from warmth and during rest. Because of its many alternate effects, a repetition of the dose, without an intercurrent remedy is seldom beneficial; Sulphur and Veratrum are the most appropriate inter-currents

DROSER.A.

Bones.—Gnawing, sticking pains thro' all long bones, < during rest.

Skin.—Intense itching when undressing; when scratched it easily peels off.

Sleep.—Frequent starting up during Sleepiness at noon and sunset.

Fever.—Pulse: Unchanged. Chill: With a cold pale face and cold extremities. In forenoon. Internal, at night in bed and during rest. In the morning one (the left) half of face is cold, the other (or right) is hot. And shuddering during rest, it seems too cold everywhere, even in bed. Chill by day, heat by night. Heat: Almost entirely on face and head. Increased warmth of upper part of body in evening. Intermittent fever with sore throat and inclination to vomit. Sweat: Warm, at night, especially after midnight and in morning, most profuse on face. Cold, on forehead.

Allied Remedies.—Cina, Hep., Ip., Nux-v., Sep., Spo., Verat-a.

DULCAMARA.

Mind.—Delirium, during the pains at night and during tl. heat. Internal restlessness. Great impatience. Inclination to quarrel, without anger.

Sensorium.—Great mental obtusion in head.

Head.—Outward boring in temples and forehead. Congestion to, with roaring in ears and difficult hearing. Pressive stupefying ache. Burrowing in forehead with distended feeling in brain, not affected by either rest or motion. Feeling as tho' occiput were enlarging. Worse: Evening until midnight; lying still; becoming cold. Better: Talking; lying.

External Head.—Disagreeable chilliness on occiput and over whole body with a feeling as if hair were bristling, recurring every evening. Thick crusts on scalp, denuding it of hair.

DULCAMARA.

Eyes.—Inflamed, after taking cold. Twitching, in cold air. Amaurosis.

Nose.—Nose-bleed of very warm, bright red blood, with a sense of pressure on it. Stuffed coryza < cold air. Dry nasal catarrh in a dry atmosphere.

Face.—Pale, with circumscribed redness of cheeks. Tettery eruption on. Milk crust. Twitchings in lips when in cold air. Mouth drawn away.

Mouth.—Much mucus in fauces. Inflamed throat after taking cold. Salivation. Dry tongue, with much thirst and increased secretion of saliva. Swelled tongue impeding speech and breathing. When becoming cold there is difficult speech on account of paralysis of tongue (and jaws).

Appetite, etc.—Hunger without appetite. Great hunger after the heat. Intense thirst. Excessive thirst for cold water.

Vomiting.—Of pale, tenacious mucus.

Abdomen.—Bellyache after taking cold. Cutting about navel. Ascites.

Stool.—Diarrhœa: With pains in abdomen, after taking cold; of green mucus; chronic, bloody.

Urine.—Retained. Offensive. Mucus sediment in. Involuntary discharge of fetid, u from paralysis of bladder.

Sexual Organs.—Herpes on.

Menses.—Of watery blood, too late and too short. Suppressed after taking cold. Miliary rash before.

Respiration.—Intense oppression of chest, from accumulation of mucus, after taking cold.

Cough.—From excessive secretion of mucus in larynx and trachea, hence with every attack there is considerable easy expectoration of tasteless mucus, often with bright red blood. Hæmoptysis. Seldom applicable except when after suppression of skin eruptions or taking a violent cold excessive secretion of mucus in internal organs follows.

Trachea.—Is full of mucus. Hoarseness.

DULCAMARA.

- Neck.—Stiff, after taking cold. Swollen cervical glands.
- Chest.—Dull, thrust-like stitches in and upon both sides of. Hydrothorax. Herpes on mammaræ. Suppressed secretion of milk after taking cold in child-bed. Nocturnal palpitation of heart.
- Back.—Paralysis of lumbar region after taking cold. While at rest, drawing from lumbar region downward into thighs; during motion, stitches therein, > drawing them up.
- Upper Extremities.—Paralysis of arms with icy coldness thereof, mostly during rest. Tetter on arms and hands. Sweat on palms. Warts on hands.
- Lower Extremities.—Herpes on knees. Erysipelatous eruption on feet, with itching and desquamation. Crawling as of ants on feet.
- Generalities.—Remarkable emaciation. Dropsical swelling of body. Tearing in limbs, and other complaints from taking cold. Unilateral spasms with loss of speech. Paralysis of a single limb. The complaints are intensified at night and during rest. Convulsions, beginning in face.
- Glands.—Swelled and indurated.
- Skin.—Redness, dryness and heat of. Thickness and desquamation in spots. Vesicular eruption. Nettlerash. Tettters of various sorts, i. e.: 1. Moist, suppurating. 2. Pale, which exude water upon being scratched. 3. Reddish, with a red circumference, which bleeds upon being scratched. 4. With reddish circumference, which smart from cold water, but don't itch. 5. Small, yellowish brown tetter which bleed after scratching. Thick crusts over entire body. Inactivity of external skin with excessive secretion from the internal mucous membranes and glands.
- Sleep.—Restless, after midnight. Very early awaking.
- Fever.—Pulse: Small, hard and tense, especially at night. Chill: Mostly toward evening, spreading from back, not relieved by external warmth. During the pains. With violent thirst. Heat: General, dry, burning, over entire body.

EUPHORBIIUM.

And burning in back. With flightiness, without thirst. Sweat: Offensive, over entire body at night and in early morning, during day, more on back, axillæ and palms of hands. Suppressed and entirely wanting.

Allied Remedies.—Aco., Ars., Bry., Cic., Con., Cupr., Led., Merc., Nux-v., Phos-ac., Phyt., Puls., Rhus-t., Sep., Sul.

EUPHORBIIUM.

- Mind.—Anxious, solicitous disposition. Quiet earnestness with inclination to work.
- Head.—Bruised sensation in occiput.
- Eyes.—Inflamed, with itching in lids and angles. Flow of biting tears. Agglutinated early in morning. Dim vision. Diplopia.
- Face.—Red, inflamed, painful swelling of cheeks, with yellowish vesicles which discharge a thick yellow moisture.
- Teeth.—Pressive, sticking acbe. Tooth-ache, < by touch. Crumbling teeth.
- Mouth.—Dry internally without especial thirst. Burning in throat, extending into stomach, with heat and anxiety. Salivation, preceded by shaking and griping in stomach.
- Thirst.—Intense, for cold drinks.
- Stomach.—Burning like fire in. Spasmodic constriction in.
- Abdomen.—Empty feeling in, as after an emetic. Burning in. Spasmodic, flatulent colic with distensive pressing pains > resting upon elbows and knees.
- Stool.—Diarrhoeic, with tenesmus, burning in anus and painfulness in abdomen. First thin, then nodular.
- Urine.—Urging to urinate, with diminished discharge passed drop by drop.
- Genitals.—Erections without sexual desire.
- Respiration.—Short, as tho' chest were too narrow; with tension in chest muscles.
- Cough.—Dry, hollow, from tickling in throat or chest. Dry by day and night; only early in morning is there copious expectoration.

EUPHORBIIUM

- Chest—Burning in Stitches in left side of during rest disappearing during motion Sensation is thro the lobe (left) of lung were adherent
- Upper Extremities—Scarlet red stripes on forearms itching when touched
- Lower Extremities—Dislocative pain in hip joint Nightly burning in upper femur Great weakness of lower legs
- Generalities—Rheumatic pains in limbs of a tearing orpressive sticking sort almost exclusively during rest Paralytic weakness in joints felt particularly when beginning to move Burning pains in internal parts Compliments not during rest, especially when sitting and from touching affected parts
- Bones—Burning in Caries
- Skin—Burning itching necessitating scratching Old indolent ulcers Cold gangrene Boils Warts
- Sleep—Day sleepiness falling to sleep late in evening
- Fever—Chill And chilliness predominate When beginning to eat and while walking in the open not cold, air With coexistent sweat Cold shuddering over whole upper part of body with heat of cheeks Want of proper bodily warmth, with internal burning heat Heat with intolerance of clothing it seems too heavy On head only Sweat Early in morning in bed Cold sweat on lower legs
- Alled Remedies — Ars, Flu ac., Kre, Lyc, Merc, Merc c, Mez, Puls, Rhus t, Sep, Zinc

EUPHRASIA.

- Mind—Indolent hypochondriacal mood, without interest in surrounding objects Introverted and silent, with aversion to talk Low spirited
- Head—Heaviness and dulness of Toward evening dazed bruised ache, with fluent coryza Sensible throbbing on external head Aching as though it would burst, with dazzling of eyes from sunlight
- Eyes—Dry pressure in, as if sleepy Scratching as of sand in Inflamed and

EUPHRASIA

- red after injuries Sticking in from bright light Burning, biting tears, especially when in wind Swollen under lid Fine eruption about Increased, pus like discharge of mucus, and nightly agglutination Photophobia, especially from day or sunlight Darkened spots or vesicles on cornea from mechanical injury Blue and impervious cornea Pterygium, extending from inner canthus
- Nose—Eruption on wings of Excoriated and painful internally Nosebleed Profuse, fluent coryza, with biting tears in eyes and photophobia
- Face—Red Military eruption on, itching when warm, burning and becoming red when moistened Stitches and stiffness in cheeks and lower jaw when talking and chewing Stiff upper lip, as tho' made of wood
- Teeth—Sticking in lower Bleeding gums
- Mouth—Difficult speech, from paralytic stiffness of tongue and cheeks A kind of stuttering, in speaking he begins the sentences over again too frequently Sensation of gurgling from below upward in throat
- Taste—Bitter, in mouth, early in morning from tobacco
- Abdomen—Short attacks of pinching in Squeezing extending across Abdominal pains, constantly alternating with eye symptoms
- Stool—Hard and too scanty
- Urine—Profuse discharge of clear u
- Sexual Organs—Spasmodically retracted, in evening
- Menses—Regular, but lasting only an hour
- Respiration—When coughing he is breathless, as during whooping cough
- Cough—Excited by much flat tasting, sometimes blood streaked, watery mucus in chest and throat, which is not easily dislodged and can be expectorated only in morning with difficult breathing Early in morning, profuse expectoration of mucus by means of voluntary hawking, with fluent coryza
- Back—Continuous, cramp like pains in
- Upper Extremities—Painless swelling of EUPHRASIA.

- wrist and finger-joints from motion. Cramp-like pain in metacarpus. Numb fingers.
- Lower Extremities.—Sticking in hip and knee-joint when walking. Jerks extending upward through thighs, followed by paralytic numbness thereof. Cramp in legs when standing, especially in calves.
- Generalities.—Cramp-like pains throughout entire body. Trembling of limbs. Sense of a fly creeping up one or the other extremity in a straight line, which becomes numb without affecting remaining parts. Bad effects of falls, blows or mechanical injuries to external parts. Fleeting, itching stiches here and there thro' entire night, with great restlessness. Most complaints are < in evening. Acrid watery secretions.
- Sleep.—Excessive yawning while walking in open air. Great day sleepiness. After midnight, from about 3 until 6 o'clock in the morning, he awakens every few minutes, then falls into a stupefying sleep, from which he awakens with many complaints.
- Fever.—Pulse: Unchanged. Chill: In forenoon, and internal chilliness, which, in afternoon, is changed to external chill and coldness, especially on arms. Predominant chilliness. Heat: Attacks of during day, with a red face and cold hands. Sweat: At night, during sleep, has a very strong and offensive odor and is most profuse on chest.
- Allied Remedies.—Cann., Hep., Nux-v., Spig.

FERRUM.

- Mind.—Changeable mood. Anxiety as tho' he had committed a crime. Quarrelsome, vehement and dogmatic. Excessively merry one evening, alternating with sadness and melancholy the next.
- Vertigo.—When descending, or looking at water, with nausea and blindness.
- Head.—Congestion so violent the veins swell up. Hammering, throbbing ache, recurring periodically. Headache in occiput when coughing. Painfulness of scalp to touch, with falling of hair. Worse: After midnight and toward morning.
- Eyes.—Puffiness around. Weak, dim, encircled by blue rings. Inflamed, with burning therein. Obscured vision in evening.
- Nose.—Nosebleed in evening. Nose constantly filled with clotted blood.
- Face.—Earthy, jaundiced complexion Pale, with red spots on the pallid cheeks. Pale, puffy face, especially about eyes. Heat and fiery redness of, with distended bloodvessels. Pale, dry lips.
- Throat.—Pressive pain in, when swallowing.
- Appetite, etc.—Loss of, especially in forenoon. No appetite for anything but bread and butter. Aversion to meat and sour foods. Bad effects from beer, meat and sour things. Unquenchable thirst (or thirstlessness).
- Taste.—Solid foods become dry and insipid when chewed. He can neither eat nor drink hot things.
- Eruclations.—Sour. Bitter, after fat food.
- Vomiting.—Of food, immediately after eating. Of the soured ingesta, at night or early in morning. After eating eggs. Sour, of food, relieved at once by eating. About midnight. Everything vomited is sour and acid.
- Stomach.—Spasmodic pressure in, after eating, especially after meat. Oppression of, each time after eating and drinking. Contraction in pit.
- Hypochondria.—Tension in right.
- Abdomen.—Hard, distended. Spasms in muscles of, as though a. were contracted, especially from the exertion of stooping, compelling him to straighten up slowly. Flatulent colic at night.
- Stool.—Diarrhœa: Watery, with burning in anus; of undigested food. Mucus, with ascarides.
- Sexual Organs.—Painful soreness and smarting in vagina, and want of pleasurable sensation during coition. Swellings and indurations in vagina. Barrenness. Miscarriage. Impotency in the male.
- Menses.—Too early, and too profuse. Suppressed. Uterine hæmorrhage, with labor-like pains in abdomen and a glowing red face. Labor-like pains and stitching headache, during. Persistent, milky, acrid (or painless) leucorrhœa.

FERRUM.

Respiration.—Hot breath. Want of breath, mostly when at rest. Tightness of chest, especially when sitting and after midnight. Anxious oppression of chest. Loud breathing, as if asleep, when sitting still.

Cough—Spasmodic, excited by tickling in trachea; with expectoration of transparent, tenacious mucus, early in morning, ceasing immediately after eating a little. Spasmodic, after the noon meal, with vomiting of ingesta. With frothy or greenish, finely blood-streaked expectoration during day, of a sweetish, putrid or sourish taste. Inability to breathe when coughing, > after eating. Copious, purulent expectoration early in morning; in evening, after lying down, the cough becomes dry. Hæmoptysis at night and early in morning.

Larynx.—Roughness of. Hoarseness.

Chest.—Constricting spasm of. Feeling of dryness in Stitches in, when coughing. Pains, as though bruised, when coughing. Pressure superiorly on sternum.

Back.—Tearing between scapulæ.

Upper Extremities.—Nightly sticking and tearing in arms. Paralytic tearing pain, extending from shoulder-joint into muscles of upper arm and clavicle, rendering raising of arm impossible, gradually disappearing from slow motion. Numb, distorted fingers. Swollen hands and feet.

Lower Extremities.—Nightly sticking and tearing, extending from hip-joint into thighs, gradually disappearing from slow motion. Numb thighs. Cramp in calves during rest, especially at night. Swelling of feet to ankles. Distorted toes. Cold feet.

Generalities.—Rapid emaciation. Weakness of body, almost amounting to paralysis. Restless limbs. Cracking in joints. Sudden cramps in limbs, frequently during day. Distorted limbs. Inclination to lie down, from a sense of weakness internally. Indisposition from walking in open air. After effects of misuse of China and tea. Most complaints appear at night and toward morning. Attacks are < during rest, especially when sitting still, and > from slow motion.

FLUORICUM ACIDUM.

Skin.—Dirty, earth-colored. Anasarca.

Sleep.—Restless, with anxious tossing. Great drowsiness and fatigue, with inability to sleep at night. Falls to sleep late in evening. Can lie on back only.

Fever.—Pulse: Full and hard. Violent ebullitions. Chill: Shuddering in frequent, short attacks. With a glowing face and thirst. General coldness in evening in bed, often lasting all night. Chilliness and want of natural vital heat. Heat: Dry, over the whole body, especially towards evening, with a very red face and inclination to uncover. Sweat: Very profuse and long-continued, from every movement, during day as well as at night, and while in bed in the early morning. Clammy and mostly very exhausting. From morning till noon, every other day. Strong-smelling night s. Sometimes a cold, anxious s. (during spasms).

Allied Remedies.—Ap., Arn., ARS., Ror., Carb-v., Chin., Glo., HEP., Ip., Puls., Sul., Sul-ac., Verat-a.

FLUORICUM ACIDUM.

Mind.—Gay and cheerful. Aversion to business; to his own family. Hatred of people. Anxiety, causing sweat to break out. Irritable. Forgetful. Feeling as if menaced by danger.

Head.—Determination of blood to, and unconsciousness; could not remember where he was. Pains: compressive, undulative, or shooting like lightning. A dull pressure proceeds from nape thro' center toward forehead. Cramp-like pain in occiput Better: Bending head back.

Hair.—Tangled. Great falling out of.

Eyes.—Feeling of a fresh wind blowing on. Quivering above outer canthus. Violent itching of inner canthus. Photopsias, like lightnings, etc. Vision clearer.

Ears.—Sensitive hearing, in morning.

Nose.—Sudden attacks of coryza, suddenly disappearing again. Suddenly filled with mucus on rinsing mouth with cold water. Worse: Alcoholic drinks.

FULVICUM ACIDUM.

Face.—Seems old and wrinkled. Puffy folds under eyes. Constant motion of facial muscles. Compression in zygoma. Heat, with desire to bathe it in cold water.

Teeth.—Warmth in. Feel sharp, rough or dull. Sensitive, especially to cold.

Mouth.—Prickling in, and on tongue. Mucous membrane peels off. Greasy feeling in. Dryness of left half of palate and roof of mouth. Flow of saliva precedes headache, diarrhoea, etc. Tenacious saliva. Pain, as from hot water in.

Taste.—Acrid, putrid, coming from roots of teeth. Like ink. Sweetish in throat.

Throat.—Constriction. Posterior nares feel wide open. Hawks up bloody mucus.

Stomach.—Excessive hunger; desire for something piquant. Speedy satiety. Aversion to coffee. Pressure in. Stale, disgusting eructations. Nausea.

Abdomen.—Faint emptiness in region of navel with a desire to take a deep breath, > bandaging. Frequent excessively offensive discharges of wind, which >.

Anus.—Itching in and about.

Stool.—Strong, disagreeable smell of. Diarrhoea worse from warm drinks.

Urinary Organs.—Burning in urethra.

Urine.—Copious, with diarrhoea. Smelling fragrant or strong; acrid; offensive. Free discharge, relieving him. Purple sediment.

Genitals.—Passion increased. Fulness in spermatic cords. Menses early, profuse, coagulated. Excoriating leucorrhoea.

Respiration.—Oppression; better bending head back.

Larynx.—Itching in, and on throat.

Mammæ.—Itching nipples; areola darkens and crust forms on.

Heart.—Soreness. Jerking in.

Neck.—Stiffness and soreness in nape.

Back.—Contractive, burning or prickling pains in scapular region. Better: Bending backward.

Extremities.—Pains: Burning; dislocative; like electric shocks; as if asleep; in bones of.

Upper Extremities.—Weakness and numbness in hands and head. Prickling in. Jerks in. Penetrating pain. Feeling as if air were pressing down along arm in bones. Red or mottled palms. Hands and fingers swelled, with throbbing pains, later forming blisters discharging a dark, offensive, acrid fluid. Feeling of a hair on back of fingers. Contusive pain in bones of ends of fingers. Burning about bone. Feeling of something working out from beneath nails. Acute prickings, as with a needle, in fingers. Feeling of a splinter under nail, < touch.

Lower Extremities.—Heaviness. Trembling. Burning shooting. Burning in toes, soles, etc. Back of foot feels like a cushion. Soreness in corns. Worse: Walking. Better: Rest.

Generalities.—Feeling of heat, with desire for cool air or cold bathing. Deep-seated pains in bones, sutures, etc. Localized congestions. Symptoms in spots. Acrid, excoriating discharges, sweat, etc. Numbing weakness. Feeling of warmth in internal organs. Pricking, burning, itching sensations, or pains shooting like lightning. Symptoms often ascend or are right-sided. Impulse to walk rapidly, which relieves. Better: From cold or cold washing, open air, etc.; motion and walking. Worse: Standing; sitting; spirituous drinks.

Skin.—Crawling in. Tormenting itching. Itching pustules. Cicatrices turn red around edges, itch and are covered with vesicles. Sensation as if a burning vapor were emitted from the pores of whole body. Excoriation. Roughness and desquamation, especially in spots. Red blotches. Nævi materni. Thrombi. Varicose veins. Flesh warts. Enlarged capillaries.

Sleep.—Sleepiness: Sudden; periodical; unconquerable. Wakefulness in evening.

Dreams.—Vivid, towards morning.

Fever.—Pulse: Somewhat accelerated, by motion only. Chill: Entirely wanting. Heat: Universal with qualmsness from the slightest motion; with inclination to uncover, but more to wash with cold water. Sweat: Clammy (glutinous), sour, unpleasantly-smelling, mostly on upper part of body, especially from motion and during the afternoon and evening. The sweat greatly favors the formation of excoriations and bedsores. Sweat with itching.

FLUORICUM ACIDUM.

Allied Remedies.—Am-c., Bor., Calc-c., Chin., Coloc., GRAPH., Hep., Merc-c., Nit-ac., Sep., Sil., Sul-ac.

GELSEMIUM.

Mind.—Dull, listless and languid. Misty. Incapacity to think or fix the attention. Stupid, intoxicated feeling. Impatient and irritable. Feeling as if in danger of stumbling or falling. Feels as if someone else were sick. Dread of liquids. Inclination to throw herself from a height. Feels as if she would lose her senses. Dread of being alone.

Vertigo.—Accompanies many symptoms. As if intoxicated; with blurred vision; in brows. Worse: Sudden motion.

Head.—Bruised feeling in, especially behind orbits. Dull, stupefying pain ascending from nape into forehead, accompanied by dizziness, blurred vision and heavy eyelids. Sensations of heaviness; tightness; a band about, or as if enlarged. Worse: From smoking, heat, or moving eyes. Better: Reclining head on high pillow, or from profuse urination.

Scalp.—Feels contracted at centre of forehead.

Eyes.—Twitching of eyeball. Sore aching in balls, < motion. Strabismus. Pupils dilated, or alternately dilate and contract. Distended. Right-sided supra-orbital pain. Heavy, drooping lids. Puffy lids. Vision: Dim, smoky or lost; double on raising head, looking sidewise or inclining head on one side, > by an effort of the will.

Ears.—Sudden temporary loss of hearing. The pains which ascend from back to occiput affect them.

Nose.—Fulness and tingling in, with sneezing and headache. Fluent coryza.

Face.—Heavy, besotted appearance; flushed and hot; dark; swelled. Lower jaw dropped or wagging sidewise. Overflow of saliva from mouth. Contraction of muscles, especially about mouth. Burning in zygo-ma.

GELSEMIUM.

Mouth.—Foaming at. Tongue: So thick can hardly speak; numbness of; burning on, extending over mouth, throat, stomach and into abdomen. Dry, also throat. Yellowish saliva. Foul, spoiled taste.

Throat.—Hawks up bloody matter. Spasmodic sensations, with cramp-like pains in. Feeling as if something had lodged in. Swallowing painful, difficult.

Stomach.—Pain from pylorus to axilla, under scapula and down r. arm; cramp-like in pit. Empty, weak feeling in, and in bowels. Hiccough, < in evening.

Hypochondriæ.—Cramp at last short rib in right side. Thrusting pain in left floating ribs, changing to left temple.

Abdomen.—Sharp pains in, with pappy, cream-colored stools. Burning pains moving around in intestines. Gnauling in region of transverse colon. Colicky pains below navel extending to testes, > expelling flatus.

Stool.—Diarrhœa. Urging to from exciting news, emotions, etc. Loose, but difficult. Feeling as if more remained behind after stool and after urinating.

Urine.—Copious, watery, with chill and trembling, alleviating heaviness of head, dulness of mind and dimness of vision. Intermittent stream.

Sexual Organs.—Male: Flaccidity and coldness of. Emission of semen without erection. Female: Severe, labor-like pains in uterine region, which extend to back and hips; alternating with heavy headache.

Respiratory Organs.—Voice weak, thick. Paralysis of glottis. Inability to expectorate. Suffocative sensation. Respiration slow, heavy superficial. Desire for fresh air. Worse: Moving head.

Chest.—Stinging along lactiferous ducts. Shuddering in right breast. Sore, when coughing. Constriction around lower. Suffocative sensation, as in hysteria. Heaviness. Weakness or burning in. Heart: Feels as if it would stop beating if he did not move. Palpitation. Irregular beat.

GELSEMIUM.

Neck.—Aching soreness in muscles of, and of shoulders. Contractive sensation in. Pains extend into head.

Back.—Rheumatic pains in bones and joints of, and of limbs. Soreness of muscles.

Extremities.—Trembling. Paralytic weakness and heaviness of. Sensation blunted.

Lower Extremities.—Staggering. Fatigue after slight exertion. Drawing or cramping pains in muscles or single fasciculi thereof.

Generalities.—Numbness or trembling of single parts or whole body. Great relaxation and loss of muscular power, causing sensations of heaviness and weakness, particularly of upper eyelids and lower extremities, as well as involuntary evacuations (stool, urine, semen, etc.) from emotional excitement, fear, etc. Sudden darting pains making one start; they leave a tenderness behind. Feeling of illness, as in a fever. Knew everything going on, but was unable to move. Paralytic pains. Periodical symptoms. Worse: Emotions, exciting news, fright, etc. Heat of sun or summer. Dampness. After midnight. Before a storm. Better: Open air. Profuse urination.

Skin.—Yellow. Sudden stinging. Measle-like eruption, with fever and itching.

Sleep.—Yawning, with stupor and inability to keep eyes open. Languor and drowsiness before a storm. Stupefying, with general numbness. Late falling to sleep, then nightmare.

Fever.—Pulse: Variable. Throbbing thro' whole body. Chill: With cold extremities, especially feet; extending upward along spine, with profuse urination, pain in back, heat of face and head, and headache; worse from mental excitement. Heat: Burning; in afternoon; without thirst. Sweat: With thirst; easy, cold, profuse or scanty. Relieving all the symptoms. Accompanied by languor and prostration.

Allied Remedies.—Anac., Arg-n., Bap., Bell., Bor., Caust., Con., Kalm., Op., Phos., Physos., Pic-ac., Sep., Tabac., Verat-a.

GLONIN.

GLONIN.

Mind.—Familiar things seem strange. Confusion, he could not tell where he was. Difficult memory. Unconsciousness.

Head.—Throbbing: With fullness; gradually increasing and gradually decreasing; with shocks at every heart beat; heart-beat felt like a hammer beating in head. Aching in and pulse increase and diminish together. Congestion to: It seems as if he must lose his reason; alternating with congestion to heart; causing a sensation of coldness. Sensation: As if hanging with head downward; of bursting, the skull seems too small, with violent heart action and pulsation over whole body; of enormous enlargement; As if brain were loose; as if sore, bruised; of undulation in; of cracking in brain; As if a cold cloth were spread over brain; of constriction around forehead; of aching deep in brain. Sudden, piercing pain in. Burning pain in. Excessive heat in. Brain fever. Numbness of scalp. Worse: Shaking head. Heat, external, of sun, of gas, etc. Stepping. Sitting erect. Stooping. Rising. Exertion. Blows or jars to head. Better: Open air. Cold applications. Pressure. Lying down. Throwing head back. After stool. Must have head uncovered.

Eyes.—Staring and wild; protruding. Redness of. Burning and aching in balls. Sensation of water running out of. Lightnings before. Lids heavy.

Ears.—Audible pulse in. Redness of.

Nose.—Twitchings in wings of.

Face.—Red during headache. Burning, twitching or simple pain in malar bone. Sensation: As if swelled; as if chin were elongated; as if lower lip were hanging down; of gnawing in masseter muscles. Contraction of temporal and masseter muscles.

Teeth.—Throbbing in all.

Mouth.—Dry, parched feeling in. Saliva increased. Swelled sensation of tongue, hard palate, fauces and throat. Tongue numb, twitching.

Throat.—Itching in, and in soft palate. Tingling in. Tight, choky feeling about.

GLONONIN.

- Taste.—Sweetish; fatty; like pine wood.
- Nausea.—With pain in stomach; with sinking in epigastrium.
- Stomach.—Gnawing pain or faintness in pit. Emptiness in.
- Hypochondria.—Sensation as if blood rushed thro' chest to head from.
- Abdomen.—Rumbling in.
- Stool.—Diarrhœa; with sudden cessation of menses. Copious. Blackish. Lumpy. Foamy, like soapsuds.
- Urine.—Albuminous.
- Sexual Organs.—Sensation as after repeated coition. Menses ceased and the headache increased in violence.
- Respiration.—Inclination to deep breathing; to sigh.
- Neck.—Weakness of muscles of. Cramp in. Constriction, as of a band around. As if something moved from nape to head. Stiffness of.
- Chest.—Constriction. Oppression with palpitation. Sudden throbbing in waves from left chest to head, < motion. Fulness or heat rising into head.
- Heart: Lancinations extending to between shoulders; to scapula. Anxiety at, < lying on left side, must lie with head high. Heaviness. Fulness. Alternation of palpitation and congestion to head. Shocks at, with pricking in arms and hands.
- Extremities.—Sensation of picking, tingling, being bloated, weariness, heaviness, or numbness. Falling asleep of part lain on.
- Upper Extremities.—Arms droop. Pains in bones of. Feeling in right wrist as if tied up or contracted. Pulsation in finger-tips.
- Lower Extremities.—Great weakness, even to giving way.
- Generalities.—Sudden and violent irregularities of the circulation. Sensations of throbbing expansion or fulness predominate. Inability to bear any heat about head; bad effects of heat of sun. Body seems asleep. Trickling sensations

GRAPHITES.

- over face, inside of forehead, down throat, etc. Gnawing in stomach, occiput and masseter muscles. Worse: Jar; heat; wine. Better: Coffee; sweat; after stool.
- Skin.—Dark blue. Rash on, after washing.
- Sleep.—Sleepiness, with hot face and pallor. Dreams, causing weeping; ludicrous.
- Fever.—Pulse: Sudden great variability, now quick, now slow. Failing. Chill: After getting heated. Coldness of single parts, head, feet, etc. Cold shudders down back. Heat: Stinging, burning, sudden glowing, in flushes. With pulsation in head: Of single parts. Burning between shoulders. Going upward. Sweat: During headache. Sweat ameliorates the symptoms.
- Allied Remedies.—AMYL-N., Ap., Bell, Cact., Ferr., Gels., Mell., Nat-c., Nat-m., Op., Phos., Sang., Stram., Sul.

GRAPHITES.

- Mind.—Extreme irritability and anger. Silent grief and despair, with much weeping. Anxious restlessness, driving him out of bed at night. Concern for the future. Anxious fear of misfortune. Apprehensive, early in morning. Irresolution and fastidiousness. Hysteria.
- Vertigo.—As tho' intoxicated, when rising from bed in morning.
- Head.—Violent headache every morning, ending in fainting and cold sweat. Contraction in forehead. Feeling of tensile pressure like a constriction, < in occiput, with stiff neck. Numb feeling in. Scald head. Worse: Early, on awaking and rising from bed; moving head; riding; eating. Better: Walking in open air; external pressure; at rest; in warmth.
- External Head.—Moist, crusty, foul, smarting eruption, spreading by eating at its edges from vertex down sides of head; scratching causes excoriation and more moisture, which dries into white crusts. Violent sticking itching on, most on vertex and behind ears, leaving moist bald spots when scratched, which develop erysipelas and pain like boils. Bald swellings, follicular tumors and

GRAPHITES.

- scales on, with great heat of. Paralytic tearing in cranial muscles, especially on sides and behind ears. Hair of vertex, sides and beard turns gray early and falls out. Worse: By day than by night; becoming cold; walking in open air. Better: Warmth; after being in open air.
- Eyes.—Pressure and sticking in, with lachrymation. Inflamed, with red, swollen lids and photophobia. Intolerance of daylight. Myopia.
- Ears.—Dryness of internal. Eruption and excoriation behind. Difficult hearing.
- Nose.—Chronic dryness of. Black pores on. Discharge of fetid pus from. Ulcerating, scurfy nostrils. Extremely sensitive smell. Coryza on becoming cold, during day. Stuffed coryza, with headache and nausea. Discharge of foul-smelling mucus from.
- Face.—Pale yellow color. Flying heat. Erysipelatous inflammation and swelling of. Follicular tumors on. Unilateral distortion and paralysis of facial muscles, rendering speech difficult. Ulcers on inside of lips. Scurfy eruption on chin, and about mouth. Hard, swollen submaxillary glands.
- Teeth.—Sticking ache from cold drinks, < warmth, Gums swell and bleed easily.
- Mouth.—Offensive, urinous odor from. Sore throat, with a feeling of a lump or plug therein, especially at night. Spasm in throat causing retching.
- Appetite, etc.—Excessive hunger. Aversion to warm, cooked food. Great thirst early in morning and after eating.
- Taste.—Bitter, in mouth.
- Eruetation.—Copious, sour, with bitter taste in mouth.
- Nausea.—Early in morning. And vomiting after every meal. Sour vomiting.
- Stomach.—Great weakness of digestion. Spasm and pressure in, with nausea, > from warmth of bed. Burning in, necessitates eating.
- Hypochondria.—Induration in region of liver.
- Abdomen.—Fulness and heaviness in. Indurations in. Painfulness in inguinal region, with swelling of glands. Distended after eating.
- Flatulence.—Extraordinary accumulation of gas in abdomen, which is tense and inflated. Excessive discharge of fetid f.
- Stool.—Chronic constipation. Hard and too large in form. (Chronic soft, too small in size.) Mucus.
- Anus.—Painful varicosities of, with fissures between them.
- Urine.—Sour smelling. Anxious, painful urging to urinate, with discharge of dark, scanty urine, drop by drop. Nocturnal enuresis. Pain in coccyx when urinating.
- Sexual Organs.—Tension in, with voluptuous thoughts. Uncontrollable sexual desire. Oedematous swelling of foreskin and scrotum. Excoriation of female pudendum. Painful swelling of ovaries.
- Menses.—Too late, too scanty and too pale. Appear with difficulty in young women. Cramp in abdomen during. Thin, white leucorrhœa.
- Cough.—In evening or at night, excited by deep breathing.
- Larynx.—Sensitive, with scratching therein and hoarseness. Husky voice.
- Neck.—Painful stiffness of nape when nodding head and raising arms.
- Chest.—Stitches in and palpitation from the least motion. Inflamed and swelled mammæ. Excoriated nipples with humid vesicles on.
- Back.—Formication on. Bruised feeling in lumbar region.
- Upper Extremities.—Emaciation of hands. Distorted fingers. Gouty nodes on fingers. Excoriation between fingers. Thick, distorted nails.

GRAPHITES.

Lower Extremities.—Excoriation between legs. Numb thighs. Stiffness and muscular contraction in popliteal spaces. Stiff knees Cold feet in evening in bed. Sticking pains in heels. Distortion and stiffness of toes. Spreading vesicles and ulcers on, and excoriation between toes. Thick, crippled toe-nails.

Generalities.—Great emaciation. Complaints are intensified when becoming cold; he takes cold easily. Drawing through entire body, with inclination to stretch Asleep sensation in limbs; of part whereon he lies. Contracted tendons. Distortion of single parts. Violent pulsation throughout entire body with every movement. Great general debility without pain, compelling him to groan. After walking in open air many complaints disappear.

Glands.—Indurated and swelled.

Skin.—Sense of dryness, and want of transpiration. Erysipelatous inflammations Eruptions and humid herpes. Eucysted tumors. Denuded, raw spots in children. Unhealthy. Ulcers with offensive pus and proud flesh. Thick, crippled nails.

Sleep.—Difficult falling to s., in evening. Dizzy, fatiguing morning sleep. Disturbed by anxious, fearful dreams at night.

Fever.—Pulse: Full and hard, but not noticeably accelerated. Chill: And chilliness. mostly in evening. Chilliness day and night, especially in evening after four o'clock. Heat: General, dry, in evening and during light, after previous chill. When riding in a carriage. Sweat: From slightest motion. Profuse night-sweat. Sour, offensive smelling, from cold, staining linen yellow. Utter inability to. Is aggravated by talking and ameliorated by walking in open air.

Allied Remedies.—Aco., Ag-c., Ap., Ars., Bell., Cal-c., Caust., FLU-AC., Guai., Kali-c., Lyc., Mag-c., NAT-C., Nil-ac., Nux-v., Phos., PULS., Sep., Sil., Sul., Thuj.

GUAIACUM.

GUAIACUM.

Mind.—Great forgetfulness, especially for names. Early in morning he frequently stares absently before him. Sadness and depression. Peevishness and perverseness. Inclination to find fault with and disparage everything.

Head.—Intensely violent stitches in brain. Tearing in side of, extending into cheek. Sensation as tho' external head were swollen and bloodvessels were over-filled.

Eyes.—Sensation in, as tho' balls were swelled and the lids were too short to cover them. Pimples with white tips in eyebrows. Dilated pupils. Paralysis of optic nerve.

Ears.—Intense earache with tearing pains.

Nose.—Profuse, watery discharge from.

Face.—Face-ache; painful stitches in zygoma and in cheek muscles.

Teeth.—Drawing, tearing pain in, terminating in a single stitch. Pressive pain when biting them together.

Throat.—Violent burning in.

Appetite, etc.—Intense hunger. Early in morning and in forenoon loathing of all food. Intense thirst.

Eruetation.—Much, empty e.

Vomiting.—Early in morning violent vomiting of watery mucus with great exertion.

Stomach.—Sense of constriction in region, with anxiety and oppressed breathing.

Abdomen.—Pinching pain, as from incarcerated flatus which constantly settles backwards and downwards. Quivering in muscles of. Inguinal hernia.

Stool.—Constipation. Hard, crumbling, very offensive.

Urine.—Continuous urging to urinate, with profuse discharge of foul-smelling urine. Cutting when urinating. Stitches in neck of bladder after ineffectual urging to urinate.

Cough.—Dry, excited by irritation in epigastrium, with shortness of breath until relieved by expectoration. Cough, with copious, offensive-smelling, purulent expectoration.

Chest.—Stitches in left, < inspiration.

GUAIACUM.

Back.—Intolerable stiffness thro' one side of, extending from nape to lumbar region, during motion. Tearing from axilla down along side of. Contractive pain between scapulæ.

Lower Extremities.—Crawling, pressive bone pains in thighs.

Generalities.—Tearing and sticking pains in muscles of upper and lower limbs, with heat of parts. Immobile stiffness of the distorted limbs. Asleep sensation in limbs. Great sluggishness and weariness, especially in thighs, with aversion to motion. Extraordinary emaciation. Discomfort in body, > yawning and stretching limbs. Most complaints appear when sitting, early in morning and during forenoon. Affected parts are very sensitive to touch.

Bones.—Swelling and softening of. Caries.

Sleep.—Nightly restlessness and sleeplessness. Insufficient, in early morning.

Fever.—Pulse: Small, weak and soft, but accelerated. Chill: Internal, over whole body, even near a warm stove, most in afternoon and evening. On back. Heat: Evening especially on face. Sweat: Likewise, mostly on head and face. Also when walking in open air. Very offensive night sweats.

Allied Remedies.—Bry., Graph., Kre., Merc., Phyt.

HELLEBORUS.

Mind.—Stupefaction. Blunting of internal senses, like a sort of stupor. Mental obfuscation, with somnolency. Frequently he stares at one point as tho' absorbed in thought. A kind of diminished power of mind over body; just as soon as she ceases to exert her will power and attention, the muscles refuse to do their duty, i. e., if spoken to when drinking, she unconsciously drops the glass. Extraordinary anguish. Woeful melancholic mood. Hypochondriasis. Involuntary sighing. Homesickness.

Head.—Stupefying ache, with fluent coryza. Feels heavy and thick-headed. Dull ache and confusion in. Burning heat in, with a pale face. Inward pressing ache. Bruised pain of the internal and external vertex and occiput, with chaotic obfuscation therein. He bores the back of his head into the pillow. Meningitis. Hydrocephalus. Worse: Thinking of the pain; stepping hard; stooping; walking; touch; motion; afternoon from 4 to 8. Better: Open air; lying at rest; diverting the attention.

HELLEBORUS.

External Head.—The occipital scalp feels drawn tightly downward. Painful external occiput. Falling of hair, not from head only, but also whole body, with sticking, boring pains in scalp, more in occiput. Humid scurfs on.

Eyes.—Sensation as tho' lids were pressed downward. Dilated pupils. Inclination to stare. Photophobia without perceptible inflammation of.

Face.—Pale, yellowish color. Pale, dropsical swelling of, and of rest of body. Wrinkled forehead. Upper lip cracked. White vesicles on the swelled lips. Excoriation of angles of mouth, from constant flow of saliva.

Teeth.—Sticking, tearing ache in molars in evening and at night in bed, which tolerates neither cold nor heat.

Mouth.—Vesicles and aphthæ in, and on tongue. Dry palate. Extraordinarily profuse salivation. Swelling and numbness of tongue.

Appetite, etc.—Great voraciousness. Loathing of fats and vegetables. Thirstlessness. Intense thirst.

Eructations.—Empty.

Nausea.—In stomach, with great ravenousness, but repugnance to food.

Stomach.—Fulness and distension of pit of. Burning and biting in. Painfulness within, when stepping hard or coughing.

Abdomen.—Distended. Pinching in navel region. Ascites. Sense of coldness in.

Flatulence.—Discharge of foul-smelling.

Stool.—Frequent, watery. Gelatinous, mucous diarrhoea, with tenesmus.

Urine.—Dark. Frequent urging, with scanty discharge. Feeble urinary stream.

Sexual Organs.—Suppressed sexual desire.

Respiration.—Difficult, as from hydrothorax. Suffocative attacks as from constriction of nose, larynx and chest.

HELLEBORUS

Cough—Dry hacking when smoking
Upper Extremities—Boring sticking in wrist and finger joints Vesicular eruption between fingers and toes Panaritria

Lower Extremities—Stiffness of (hip and) knee joints Boring sticking in knee and ankle joints Humid eruption on feet

Generalities—Sudden relaxation of every muscle The muscles refuse their service when not governed by strong attention unconsciously he staggers when walking lets his food fall when eating, etc Sucking boring pains in the periosteal coverings < in cool air Convulsive twitchings in the muscles especially during sleep The pains (sticking tearing and pressure) frequently move transversely across the parts Symptoms are intensified in the house and toward evening In the open air he feels better, with a sensation as tho he had been sick a long time, and were just recovering, especially after the fever Restlessness

Glands—Swelling of cervical

Skin—Pale color of Sudden dropsical swelling of (anasarcotous) Hair and nails fall out Desquamation of epidermis of entire body Painful where it lies in close proximity to bones

Sleep—He lies in deep slumber Great day sleepiness Somnolency, eyes half open and turned upward

Fever—Pulse Generally small, slow and hardly perceptible Chill Predominates during day, as long as he is up, with heat of face Alternating with pains in joints Shaking with gooseflesh and pains in joints And coldness of entire body, but with heat of head and no thirst The shuddering proceeds from the arms Heat In evening and during day, as soon as he lies down, generally accompanied by sweat Burning over the whole body, in evening in bed with internal shivering and aversion to drink First heat then chill with pains in abdomen in repeated attacks Sweat in bed during heat increased toward morning Cold sometimes sticks

Allied Remedies—Ap, Bell Chin, Gel Phos

HEPAR SULPHURIS CALCAREUM

HEPAR SULPHURIS CALCAREUM.

Mind—Extraordinary anguish in evening driving him to self destruction Fearfulness and depression Oversensitive and vehement with hasty speech

Vertigo—When riding, or shaking head

Head—Bent back, with swelling below larynx, forcible beating of carotids and rattling breathing, (in membranous croup) Pain, as of a plug or dull nail driven into Pressure In temples and on vertex, in evening, one sided, outward in forehead Inward boring in right temple, side of head or root of nose Sore pain in forehead right over eyes Sticking in

External Head—Burning itching from front to back, less on sides when scratched, leaving bumps and a burning smarting eruption which is excessively sensitive to touch Painless swellings and bumps on, and on nape, with smarting soreness when touched or lain upon (after severe illness, abuse of mercury or in hysterical headaches) Moist, foul purulent eruption smarting painfully on whole h, itching violently early on rising, scratching causes burning and excoriation Scalp sensitive Nodes on Profuse falling of hair, large bald spots on Takes cold every time he uncovers h, especially during (dry) cold east or north winds Cold, clammy, sour sweat most on head and face with aversion to uncovering Worse Early, on awaking, touch, night, cold, least motion, moving eyes, stooping, every jar Better After rising, tight bandaging, warmth, warm wraps, sweating

Eyes—Inflamed Lids surrounded by an eruption which smartens when touched, and running tears Bruised pain in Pressure as from a foreign body in Stiff, paining during motion Protruding Spasmodic closure of lids Ulcers and spots on cornea Photophobia Surrounding objects appear red

Ears—Itching of external Foul smelling purulent discharge from Crusty eruption behind Difficult hearing with rushing and throbbing in Roaring in head

HEPAR SULPHURIS CALCAREUM.

- Nose.—Inflammation of. Painful soreness, especially of dorsum to touch. Intensified acuteness of smell. Unilateral coryza with scratching in the throat. Sneezing, (also after cough).
- Face.—Heat and fiery redness of. Erysipelatous swelling of. Yellow, with blue rings around eyes. Pain in bones of, when touched. Thrusts in malar bone. Boils on lips, chin and neck, very painful to touch. Chronic facial eruptions, very sensitive to touch.
- Teeth.—Drawing, jerking ache, worse in a warm room. Swelling of gums, painful when touched.
- Throat.—Sensation as tho' a plug or sharp splinter stuck therein, when swallowing. Roughness in. Scratching, when swallowing saliva. Hawking up mucus. Swollen tonsils and glands of neck. Hoarseness with rapid, hasty speech, as from overexcitement.
- Appetite, etc.—Desire for sour, piquant things and wine. Repugnance to fat foods. Much thirst. Nausea. Retching. Vomiting.
- Stomach.—Distension of pit necessitates loosening clothes. Tickling in pit. Pressure, after a little food. Burning in.
- Hypochondriæ.—Stitches in region of spleen or liver. Inflammation of kidneys.
- Abdomen.—Spasmodic contraction of. Bruised pain in, early in morning. Cutting bellyache. Swelling and suppuration of inguinal glands.
- Stool.—Hard, dry. Dysenteric, difficult passage of scanty, soft feces or bloody mucus, with tenesmus. Whitish, sour-smelling diarrhœa in children.
- Urine.—Dark red, hot. Acrid burning, urine eroding the foreskin. Bloody. Nocturnal enuresis in children.
- Sexual Organs.—Excoriation, also of thighs. Congestion to uterus. Discharge of prostatic fluid during hard stool, and after urination. Chancre-like ulcers on foreskin.
- Menses.—Too early. Discharge of blood between menses.
- Respiration.—Rattling, during sleep. Anxious, short, whistling, r, which threatens suffocation and necessitates raising up quickly or throwing head backward.
- Cough.—Deep, dull, whistling, c. excited by tickling as of feather down in larynx; dry in evening; in morning with expectoration of mucous lumps which are often purulent and bloody, mostly sour but sometimes sweet; if the latter, they are also offensive. Deep, asthmatic c. Attacks of dry, hoarse c. with retching and anxiety. Dry, in evening; after chilling any part of body. With expectoration of blood. After every drink. Whooping cough. The child cries after coughing.
- Larynx, etc.—Membranous croup, with swelling below larynx. Sensitive to cold air. Pains in a spot within. Phthisis of, and of trachea. Rattling in trachea. Hoarseness.
- Neck.—Violent pulsation of carotids.
- Chest.—Pustules and ulcers on, which are painfully sore when touched. Cancerous ulcers which are sensitive to touch, on female mamma. Swelling and suppuration of axillary glands. Fetid sweat in axilla. Shattering shocks and soreness in. Rattling in. Weakness in, which makes speaking difficult.
- Back.—Sticking and drawing in. Bruised pain in lumbar region, extending into thighs.
- Upper Extremities.—Bruised feeling of humeri. Hot, red swelling of wrist and finger joints. Numbness of fingers. Fissured skin of hands and feet.
- Lower Extremities.—Bruised pain in thighs, as tho' in bone. Swollen knee. Swelling about ankle joints.
- Generalities.—Paralytic drawing pains in limbs. Stitches in joints. Fainting from slight pains in, evening. All symptoms are intensified at night. Great sensitiveness of affected parts to touch.
- Glands.—Inflamed. Swollen. Suppurating.
- Bones.—Bruised pain in. Caries.
- Skin.—Unhealthy. Burning itching in, followed by white vesicles after scratching. Erysipelatous inflammation of external parts Suppurations especially after previous inflammation Eruptions and ulcers are painfully sore to touch Burning and sticking in ulcers Ulcers bleed easily

HEPAR SULPHURIS CALCAREUM

Sleep—Day sleepiness especially early in morning and evening with spasmodic yawning Restless soporous slumber, with head thrown back Starts up from sleep at night as tho he could get no air

Fever—Pulse Hard full and accelerated, sometimes intermittent with ebullition of blood and throbbing in bloodvessels Chill Regularly each evening about six or seven o'clock In daytime, alternating with heat and photophobia Nightly in bed with intensification of all symptoms Great chilliness in open air Heat Dry burning with a red face and great thirst, thro' the whole night Dry, at night with dread of uncovering Flying high with sweat Sweat Constant, copious by day and night Very easy in daytime, especially from every mental effort At night and in early morning with thirst Cold, clammy, often sour or offensive smelling

Allied Remedies—Am c, ANT C, Ap, Arg n, ARS, BELL, Bro, Causi, CHAM, CUPR, Dros, Euphr, FERR, Ign, IOD, LACH, Lyc, MERC, Merc c, Nit ac, Rhus-t, Sep, SIL, SPO Sul, Thu, ZINC

HYOSCYAMUS.

Mind—Imbecile and irrational Total unconsciousness, he does not recognize his family and has no wants except thirst When spoken to he answers properly but immediately talks and acts irrationally, or relapses into unconsciousness Unconscious delirium about his business, with closed eyes Extraordinary forgetfulness and weakness of memory Loquacious insanity shamelessness and lasciviousness, lissing mania furious jealousy, buffoonery and clonic spasms Rage with striking about murderous frenzy and uncontrollable exhibition of strength Loquacity Confused babbling and prattling or much chattering, scolding and quarreling Anger and its consequences Anxiety and fearfulness Fear of being poisoned Desire to escape Melancholy Unhappy love with jealousy Unsociable Averse to light and company Immoderate or silly laughter Phantasies

HYOSCYAMUS

Vertigo—As if intoxicated

Head—Strong congestion to Hydrocephalus Meningitis with stupefaction Stupefying pressive pain in forehead Heat, crawling and surging, as from strong beating of arteries in Brain feels loose, when walking it swashes surges and seems shattered The head weaves and shakes to and fro or is drawn to one side Stitches in forehead Takes cold in, from dry cold air Worse Evening after eating and drinking, becoming cold, walking, especially in cold air Better: Stooing, in warmth, at rest

Eyes—Red, sparkling Dull, staring look Protruding Distorted or squinting Dilated pupils Red sclerotic Swollen lids Spasmodic closure of Diplopia Dim vision Night blindness Surrounding objects appear enlarged or red

Ears—Difficult hearing as if stupefied

Nose—Nosebleed of bright red blood Loss of smell (and taste)

Face—Hot, red Brownish red, swelled Distorted, bluish Feels about face with his hands Trismus Festering pain in soft parts between gums and cheeks

Teeth—Tearing ache early in morning, with congestion to head Ache after taking cold and in open air Throbbing ache as from an inflamed periosteum He clenches them together tightly

Mouth—Foam at Constriction of throat, with inability to swallow especially fluids Flow of salty saliva Bloody saliva Red tongue Inability to speak, he utters inarticulate sounds

Appetite, etc—Ravenous hunger and unquenchable thirst with inability to swallow Thirst, drinking but little at a time Convulsions after drinking

HYOSCYAMUS.

- Hiccough.—Frequent, especially at night and after eating.
- Vomiting.—Of blood, bloody mucus or food. Retching and vomiting after every cough.
- Stomach.—Great sensitiveness of pit to touch. Burning and inflammation of. Spasm of, i. e. vomiting.
- Abdomen.—Painful soreness in muscles when coughing. Painful distension.
- Stool.—Frequent urging to, with scanty, infrequent evacuations. Involuntary, from paralysis of sphincter ani. Slender. Painless diarrhoea (in childbed).
- Urine.—Suppressed. Frequent urging to urinate, with scanty discharge. Involuntary urination, as from paralysis of bladder.
- Menses.—Too profuse. Suppressed. Hysterical spasms before. Uterine hemorrhage of bright red blood, with spasms.
- Respiration.—Short. Slow and rattling. Catching, rattling, wheezing. Loss of breath, as after rapid running.
- Cough.—Nightly, dry, shattering, spasmodic c., from continuous tickling as from adherent mucus in throat (also in aged persons). In frequent paroxysms rapidly succeeding one another, like whooping cough, during rest as well as motion. Hæmoptysis of bright red blood, with spasmodic attacks. Dry at night, but with expectoration of somewhat saltish mucus or bright red blood mixed with lumps by day.
- Larynx.—Husky voice from mucus in, and in trachea.
- Chest.—Spasm of, with want of breath, necessitating leaning forward. Inflammation of lungs, with stitches in sides of. Soreness in muscles of.
- Upper Extremities.—Hands clenched over the flexed thumbs. Rigidity of hands. Carphology. Trembling of arms and hands. Coldness of hands and feet.
- Lower Extremities.—Spasms in posterior part of thigh and in calf.
- Generalities.—Extraordinary sinking of strength. Inflammation of internal parts. Spasms and convulsions. Convulsive twitching, with thrashing about of hands and feet. Effects of taking cold, and cold air. Epileptic attacks, ter-

IGNATIA.

- minating in deep, snoring sleep. Apoplexy, with snoring. Insensibility of body. Complaints are intensified in the evening and after eating and drinking.
- Skin.—Hot, dry, brittle. Brown or gangrenous spots on body, as in certain forms of typhus. Numerous, large boils. Bleeding ulcers.
- Sleep.—Deep, stupefying, with snoring. Starting up during and convulsions, especially after fright. Laughing during. Coma vigil. Sleeplessness from anxiety or over-excitement.
- Fever.—Pulse: Accelerated, full, hard and strong; more seldom weak, slow and intermittent. Great distension of blood-vessels. Chill: With shivering over whole body, and heat of face ascending from feet. Coldness at night, ascending back from lumbar region. He cannot get warm at all in bed at night. General coldness of body, with a glowing red face. Alternating with heat. Heat: Burning, over entire body, every evening. Extraordinary congestion to head with a foul taste in mouth during h. In evening, with thirst. Sweat: Continued, debilitating, during sleep. Much and very violent. Cold and sometimes sour smelling. Most profuse on legs.
- Allied Remedies.—BELL., Cina, Cupr., Gel., Op., Phos-ac., Pib., STRAM., Tab., Valer., Verat-a.

IGNATIA.

- Mind.—Weakness of thought and recollection, especially after violent concealed vexation. Extraordinarily changeable mood. Hysteria. Paroxysms of laughter or screaming. Introverted and taciturn with low spirits and weeping. Tenderness. Internal, concealed grief, with frequent sighing. Carking mental care. Unfortunate love. Very easily frightened. Overconscientious. After effects of mortification and vexation, with silent, concealed grief and shame. Fright followed by grief or spasms. Alternately frolicsome and sad. Always desires to be alone. Despair of recovery. Dread of work. Vertigo.

IGNATIA.

Head.—Heavy. Empty feeling in. Trembling, nodding or backward bending of. Headache: As of a nail pressing outward in temples or sides; from chagrin or silent grief, < or . by stooping. Tearing in brain, especially in forehead. Pressure in forehead and vertex, following a befuddled feeling in. Outward pressing or sticking pain in forehead and at root of nose. Pain as if crushed, often ending in a similar toothache. Distensive pressure in either temple. Worse: Coffee; spirituous liquors; smoking; noise; odors; morning; moving eyes; sunlight; reading; writing; after siesta; lying on painless side; lying on back; mental exertion; emotions; sitting upright. Better: Changing position; lying on painful side: lying on back; external warmth.

Eyes.—Scalding tears during day (especially in sunlight) with nightly agglutination of lids. Convulsive motions of. Flickering zigzags before. Pressure as from sand under upper lid. Swelling of upper lid, with bluish veins. Inflammation of upper part of eyeball, as far as covered by upper lid. Photophobia.

Ears.—Roaring before, like a strong wind. Difficult hearing, but not for the human voice.

Nose.—Excoriated and sensitive internally, with swelling of same. Fluent coryza.

Face.—One-sided redness. Alternate paleness and redness of. Sunken, earth-colored, with blue circles around eyes. Spasmodic twitching of muscles of. Sweat only on face (never on scalp). Dry, bleeding, cracked lips.

Teeth.—Ache, as tho' being crushed, from taking cold in molars. Convulsions of children, during difficult dentition.

Mouth.—Redness and inflammation in entire buccal cavity. Stitches in palate, extending into ear. Soreness as from a plug in throat, when not swallowing. Sticking sore throat > swallowing food. Sensation of a lump in throat, with painful soreness when swallowing. Much sour saliva in. Salivation. When talking or chewing he easily bites his tongue or cheek. Faint, tremulous voice.

Appetite, etc.—Feeling of hunger in evening, which prevents sleep. Appetite for this or that which is distasteful when obtained. Great aversion to tobacco, smoked meat or brandy.

Taste.—Flat; insipid; like chalk. Lost, of food.

Eructation.—If i c c u p y. Regurgitation: Bitter; of the ingesta. Hiccough after eating, drinking and smoking.

Nausea, etc.—Without vomiting. Qualmsiness, with sweat and bellyache after smoking. Nightly vomiting of ingesta.

Stomach.—Sticking in region of. Burning, especially after brandy. Pressure in pit. Weak or empty sensation in pit.

Hypochondriæ.—Fulness and distension in. Swelling and induration of spleen.

Abdomen.—Turning and twisting about navel. Protrusions here and there on. Throbbing in. Uterine cramps, with cutting, sticking and labor-like pains. Outpressing pain in inguinal region. Abdominal pains are < after sweet foods, coffee and brandy.

Flatulence.—Nightly, flatulent colic. Rumbling in abdomen, as from hunger. Evolution of much flatus, which is easily discharged.

Stool.—Easy and satisfactory. Very thickly formed; difficult altho' soft. Ineffectual urging, felt more in upper intestines. Diarrhœa, with fissures in rectum. Constipated, from taking cold and driving.

Anus, etc.—Itching and crawling in. Pro-lapsus recti with smarting pains during moderate pressure to stool. Contraction of, after stool.

Urine.—Frequent discharge of much watery. Sudden, irresistible urging to urinate. Involuntary urination. Constant urging to urinate after coffee. Burning and smarting in urethra when urinating.

Sexual Organs.—Violent itching in evening, disappearing by scratching. Sweat on scrotum. Impotency with lasciviousness. Pains in penis.

Menses.—Too early (and too profuse). Menstrual blood black, smells badly and is discharged in clots. Uterine hemorrhage. Uterine spasms during menses.

IGNATIA.

- Respiration.—Oppression of: Alternating with twitchings and convulsions; nightly, of chest, especially after midnight. Want of breath from abdominal disturbances. Loses his breath when running. Changeable. Deep. Slow inspiration and rapid exhalation.
- Cough.—Dry, spasmodic. Dry, hollow, from tickling in stomach, early in morning when awaking. Dry, from irritation, as feather-down or sulphur vapor in throat-pit, in evening, always < by continued coughing. Expectoration scanty and difficult, tasting and smelling like secretions of an old catarrh, in evening only.
- Larynx, etc.—Soreness in. Tearing and contraction in. Pains in whole trachea. Low voice.
- Neck.—Painless glandular nodules on.
- Chest.—Pressure in. Stitches in, from flatulent colic. Spasmodic constriction of. Feels as if too small. Nightly palpitation, with stitches at heart.
- Back.—Spine curved backward. Cutting stitches, as from a sharp knife, extending from lumbar region out thro' loins down into thighs. Pain in sacrum when lying on back in bed, early in morning.
- Upper Extremities.—Convulsive twitchings in arms, fingers and legs. Cutting stitches in shoulder-joint when flexing arm. Sense of numbness and something alive crawling about in arm, at night in bed.
- Lower Extremities.—Cutting sticking in hip and knee-joints. When walking knees are involuntarily drawn up. Ulcerative pain or stitches in soles of feet. Nightly burning of heels when held in contact with each other, at the same time they seem cold to touch.
- Generalities.—Extraordinary changeableness of all the symptoms. Crawling, asleep feeling in limbs. Dislocative pain in joints. Trembling of limbs. Pain, as from a hard, pointed body, pressing from within outward. Cutting stitches, as from a sharp knife. Convulsive twitches, especially after fright or vexation, with silent grief. Hysterical spasms. Coffee, tobacco and brandy intensify the symptoms. The attacks are renewed after dinner, in evening after lying down, and early in morning immediately upon awaking; they are diminished when lying upon back, upon painful parts, or in general by a change of posture.
- Skin.—Itching on body, which immediately leaves the spot when gently scratched. Itching when becoming heated or in open air. Great sensitiveness to drafts. During fever, violent, itching nettlerash covering entire body.
- Sleep.—Deep, stupefying. Sleep after the cough paroxysms. Extraordinary spasmodic yawning with pain in maxillary joint as tho' it would be dislocated. Sleep so light that patient hears everything. Restless sleep and great restlessness at night. Fixed ideas in his dreams which continue after waking.
- Fever.—Pulse: Generally hard, full and rapid, with throbbing in bloodvessels; more seldom small or slow; in other respects upon the whole, very changeable. Chill: And coldness, with increased pains. Capable of being > by external warmth, always with thirst. Often on posterior part of body only. Internal, with external heat. External coldness with internal heat. Heat: External only without thirst, with intolerance of external warmth. External, with redness, internal shuddering and sticking in limbs. Overrunning attacks of external h. Constant rapid changes of heat and cold. One-sided burning h., of face. Sweat: Slight, often only on face. Feeling as if sweat would break out, which does not. While eating. Sometimes cold, but generally warm and somewhat sour smelling. Thirst during apyrexia.
- Allied Remedies.—Alum., Arn., Ars., Bism., Calad., Calc-c., Caps., Carb-v., Caust., CHAM., Cochl., Coff., Cupr., Hep., Ip., Lyc., Mgs., M-aret., M-aust., Nar., Nux-v., Phos-ac., Plat., Pnls., Ruta, Selen., Stram., Valer., ZINC.

IODUM.

IODUM.

Mind.—Anxiety. Great excitement, irritability and sensitiveness. Low spirits and weeping, with ill-humor. Restlessness which renders sitting quietly or sleep impossible. Excessive loquacity and mirthfulness.

Head.—Congestion to, with throbbing therein. Aching as from a tight band about. Headache from warm air or a long drive < noise and talking.

Eyes.—Smarting. Dirty yellow sclerotic. Swollen lids. Obscured vision. Diplopia.

Ears.—Difficult hearing. Sensitive to noise.

Nose.—Increased secretion of mucus from. Nasal catarrh, dry in morning, fluent in evening.

Face.—Complexion pale, yellow or rapidly changing to brown; earth-colored. Twitching of facial muscles. Suppurating ulcers on cheeks with swelling of submaxillary glands.

Teeth.—Yellow and covered with mucus in morning. Gums are detached and bleed easily.

Mouth.—Ulcers in, with fetid odor therefrom. Aphthæ. Throat inflamed, with burning pains. Constriction of throat with difficult swallowing. Salivation. Thickly coated tongue.

Appetite, etc.—Unusual hunger; the patient feels generally better after satisfying it. Ravenous hunger alternating with loss of appetite. Increased thirst.

Eruetation.—Heartburn after heavy food.

Nausea, etc.—Frequently nauseated. Vomiting: forcible, renewed after every meal; bilious, with violent pains in stomach.

Stomach.—Pain in. Pressure after every meal. Burning and corrosive gnawing in. A single internal tremor, which radiates therefrom, with increased warmth.

Hypochondriæ.—Pain in liver. Painful swelling of spleen.

Abdomen.—Abdominal pains renewed after every meal. Enlarged a., it threatens suffocation when he assumes a wrong position. Swollen mesenteric glands. Labor-like cramps in. Scirrhus swelling of inguinal glands.

Flatulence.—Incarcerated.

Stool.—Hard, nodular. Soft, frequently whitish diarrhœic s., alternating with constipation. Of dysenteric mucus without feces.

Urine.—Suppressed. Yellowish, green or acrid. With an iridescent pellicle.

Sexual Organs.—Swollen and indurated testes and prostatic gland. Increased sexual desire.

Menses.—Sometimes too early, sometimes too late. Long-continued, profuse uterine hemorrhage. Corrosive leucorrhœa.

Respiration.—Difficult, with tightness of chest.

Cough.—Chronic, dry, early in morning, excited by an unbearable crawling or tickling in larynx or throat pit. With sticking and burning in chest. With copious, frequently bloody or tenacious yellow mucus expectoration in evening.

Larynx.—Inflammation of, and of trachea. Increased secretion of mucus in, in trachea and bronchi. Hoarseness and insufferable crawling, early in morning.

Neck.—Swollen externally. Swells up when talking. Goitre from swelling of thyroid gland. Constant sensation of constriction in the goitre. Swelling of glands of throat and neck.

Chest.—Burning, sticking tension in integuments of. Burning, itching and tickling in. Forcible palpitation increased to violence by every exertion. Flaccidity and dwindling of the female mammæ.

Upper Extremities.—Nightly bone pains in arms whereon he lies. Trembling arms and hands. Cold sweat on hands.

Lower Extremities.—White swelling of knee. Hot, bright swelling of knee, with inflammation, sticking and burning, greatly < touch and pressure. Sweat excoriates the feet.

Generalities.—Violent trembling of limbs. Twitching of muscles and subsultus tendinum. He emaciates to a skeleton. Œdematous swellings. Great weakness, even talking causes sweat to break out. Great irritability of entire nervous system. Violent tearing in joints. Chronic gouty arthritis, with violent nightly pains, but without swelling. Intolerance of heat.

IODUM.

Glands.—Swollen, indurated after bruises.

Bones.—Nightly pains. Curvature.

Skin.—Dirty, clammy, moist. Rough, dry. Anasarca.

Sleep.—Sleeplessness. Anxious dreams.

Fever.—Pulse: Large, hard and accelerated, with strong ebullition and throbbing in bloodvessels. Quick, but weak and thready. It instantly becomes quicker, from every movement. Chill: Frequently alternating with heat. Cold feet throughout entire night. With shaking, also in a warm room. Heat: General, flying over whole body. Internal, dry, with external coldness of skin. Sweat: Very profuse at night. Very exhausting, in the morning hours, of a sour odor and with much thirst.

Allied Remedies.—Ap., Ars., BELL., Bro., Bry., Calc.-c., Chin., HEP., Kali-c., Lyc., Merc., Par., Phos., Sil., Spo., Sul.

IPECACUANHA.

Mind.—Very excitable, impatient disposition. Taciturn peevishness, with inclination to scorn everything. Intolerance of noise. Anxiety. Crying and screaming of children.

Head.—Sticking headache in vertex or forehead. Bruised sensation in brain and cranial bones, especially the parietals, with nausea and vomiting. Throbbing and shocks in. Occiput and nape painful. Blondes. Worse: In room. Better: In open air.

Eyes.—Twitching lids. Dilated pupils. Dim vision. Weeping, inflamed.

Ears.—Coldness and chill on, during the heat.

Nose.—Frequent, violent nosebleed. Loss of smell. Obstruction of, and stuffed coryza.

Face.—Pale, with blue circles about eyes. Livid, puffed. Convulsive twitches of facial muscles and lips. Smarting eruption and aphthæ on margin of lips.

IPECACUANHA.

Redness of skin about mouth. Redness of one cheek and paleness of the other.

Teeth.—Hollow teeth ache as tho' they would be torn out, when biting on them.

Mouth.—Biting in, also on tongue. Difficult swallowing. Salivation. Yellow-coated tongue. Bleeding from. Inflamed throat.

Appetite, etc.—Loss of, as from a relaxed stomach. Loathing of all food. Desire for delicacies and sweet things. After-effects of pork. Thirstlessness.

Taste.—Sweetish, bloody, in mouth.

Nausea, etc.—Incessant nausea and vomiting. Qualmishness, as if from stomach. Inclination to vomit and retching after cold drinks and smoking. Vomiting: Of all ingesta; bilious; of green, gelatinous mucus. Hæmatemesis. Bad effects of all kinds of fat. Averse to all sorts of food.

Stomach.—Intense, indescribably sickening pain in. Sense of emptiness and relaxation in. Distension and throbbing in pit. Shocks in.

Abdomen.—Cutting and pinching about navel, < motion.

Flatulence.—Flatulent colic, with frequent, diarrhœic stools.

Stool.—Diarrhœic, as if fermented, with nausea and violent bellyache. Diarrhœa of various kinds. Dysenteric, with tenesmus. Fecal, covered with bloody mucus. Bloody. Foul-smelling. Green.

Urine.—Diminished, dark red. Bloody, with cutting in abdomen and urethra (after suppressed itch). Ineffectual urging to urinate. Retained.

Menses.—Too early and too profuse. Uterine hemorrhage of bright red, clotted blood.

Respiration.—Fetid breath. Anxious, hurried. Sighing. Suffocative attacks in room, be coming better in open air. Want of breath from slightest motion. Gasping for breath. Spasmodic asthma, with contraction of throat and chest.

Cough.—Dry, excited by tickling, as from sulphur vapor, especially in upper part of larynx. Whooping cough in violent, shattering, rapidly succeeding paroxysms of hollow coughs, which do not permit recovery of the breath. Incessant suffocative c. in evening, with sweat on forehead, shocks in head, retching and vomiting. With stiff body and a blue face. Hæmoptysis, after every exertion. Dry in evening; in morning expectoration of bright red blood mixed with mucus, of a putrid, sweetish taste.

IPECACUANHA.

Neck.—Swelling and suppuration in suprasternal fossa.

Chest.—Spasmodic constriction. Sore pain in. Oppression. Palpitation Rattling, from accumulation of mucus within.

Back.—Opisthotonos and emprosthotonos.

Upper Extremities.—One hand cold, the other hot.

Lower Extremities.—Sensation in hip-joint as tho' it would be dislocated, immediately upon sitting down. Convulsive twitches in legs and feet. Nightly cramp in calf muscles, drawing them into lumps. Violent itching of calves. Ulcers on feet which have a black base.

Generalities.—Symptoms are accompanied by great weakness, repugnance to all food and nausea. Hemorrhages from all orifices of body. Asleep sensation in joints. Oversensitive to both cold and warmth. Twitches in limbs. Tonic spasm bending bo., backward and forward. Gastric disturbances and disposition to hemorrhages. He falls to the floor. Shattering of entire body. The entire body is stretched out rigidly. Apoplexies. After-effects of intemperance, taking cold or eating pork. Complaints are > in open air.

Bones.—Bruised pain in.

Skin.—Miliary or receding rash in childbed. Violent itching of the clear skin of arms and thighs, with nausea; he is compelled to scratch until he vomits.

Sleep.—Whimpering and restlessness with half-open eyes. Frequent starting up during. Complete insomnia.

Fever.—Pulse: Greatly accelerated, but often imperceptible. Chill: Generally of short duration and soon passing into heat. Internal, as if under the skin, increased by warmth. With thirst. Moist coldness of hands and feet. Want of natural vital heat. Heat: General, continued, with dry, parchment-like skin; after a short chill. Anxious, dry, in evening. Sudden attacks of general h. with cold hands and feet. Mostly without thirst. With chilliness, and heat of face. Sweat: Very profuse, mostly at night. Biting, mostly sour smelling, often also cold. Frequent attacks of hot sweat when in a room. Cold, on forehead. Intermittent fever with a slight chill, violent heat, gastric symptoms and oppression of chest. Exacerbation of fever in evening.

KALI BICHROMICUM.

Allied Remedies.—Alum., Ant-c., ANT-T., ARN., ARS., Bry., CALC-C., Carb-v., Cham., Chin., Coel., Cupr., Dros, Ferr., Igu., Kali-n., Laur., NUX-V., Op., Phos., Puls., Sul-ac., Tab., Verat-a.

KALI BICHROMICUM.

Mind.—Disinclination to mental work, to business. Ill humor. Gloomy. Discouraged. Better: Eating.

Vertigo.—Whirling, on rising; with epigastric pain; with nausea; sudden; paroxysmal. Better: Atter acid vomiting.

Head.—Blindness followed by violent headache, sight returns as headache increases. Violent, shooting pains from root of nose to external canthus, increase till noon, cease toward evening. Feeling as if brain were too large and was driving skull bones asunder. As of a weight on vertex. Pains: Shooting or pressing, mostly in forehead and temples; as tho' cut to pieces with knives; sore, with bristling of hair on vertex; periodical; in small spots or radiating therefrom; over one eye. Sensitiveness of bones. Worse: Stopped nasal discharge; cold air; motion; stooping; at night. Better: Nosebleed; lying down.

Hair.—Bristling; painful to touch over affected area. Falling out.

Eyes.—Brownish spots on sclerotic. Inflammation: With itching; with lachrymation; with agglutination. Redness of lid margins. Lashes lost. Pus or mucus in; in canthl. Burning. Dryness. Feel raw. Swelling of upper lids; cedematous; with heaviness. Granular lids. Chromopies. Twitching lids. Worse: Morning.

KALI BICHROMICUM.

Ears.—Stitches in; extending into palate.

Nose.—Running of eyes and n. from least exposure to cold. Frequent violent sneezing. Snuffing. Stoppage. Discharges: Corrosive; watery; sudden purulent; of clinkers, scabs or plugs; offensive; of bloody mucus. Nosebleed: When bathing; after eating; preceded by burning eyes and sleepiness. Sensations: Dryness; stiffness within; burrowing; crawling; twitching; the bones rubbing together; being swollen; heaviness, as if a weight were hanging to it; tickling, as of a hair in; pressure or pain at root or in bones of; painful soreness of; sensitive tip. Expired air feels hot, the inspired cold. Ulcers in, especially perforating the septum. Smell: Imaginary, putrid; fetid from; lost. Worse: Damp weather; touch; evening.

Face.—Yellowish; sickly; anxious. Drawn, pale, and covered with cold, clammy sweat. Acne on. Bones of: Bruised feeling; periodical tearing; boring; sensitiveness of, and of cranium. Tension in scalp and face making features stiff. Swelling, over malar bones; under nose.

Teeth.—Boring; burrowing; gnawing; drawing; tearing; stitching. Gums: Livid; abscess in; bleed easily.

Tongue.—Dry, smooth, red and cracked. Thick. Coating: Yellowish, of base; of thick mucus on; mapped. Stinging prickling in. Burning at tip.

Mouth.—Aphthæ. Burning and excessive dryness in, and in throat, > drinking cold water. Saliva: Salty, frothy, sticky. Salivation: With toothache; with drawing in ears; with tension and drawing in masseter muscles.

Throat.—Posterior pharynx: Dark red and glistening; injected with bright red bloodvessels; a fissure exudes blood. Hawks up thick gelatinous or much tenacious mucus in morning. Rawness, redness, roughness and swelling in. Ulcers in, and in mouth; covered by an ash y slough; excavated, containing yellow tenacious matter. Uvula elongated. Sensation: Of a plug in; of a hair in fauces; coldness in pharynx; a prickling substance in; sticking, extending into ears; adherent mucus in; scraping, causing vomiting. Swallowing difficult, feeling as if food stuck in cesophagus. Worse: Protruding tongue; swallowing; speaking. Better: In air.

Appetite.—Sense of hunger, with nausea and disinclination for food. Dislikes meat. Great thirst; longing for beer; for acid drinks.

Taste.—Astringent; metallic; greasy; putrid; sweetish; bloody; resinous.

Eructations.—Convulsive; fetid; rancid; when hawking; with imaginary putrid smells.

Nausea, etc.—At sight of food; sudden; excessive; with hot risings and sweetish flat salivation; with shuddering or chilliness; excited by slightest pressure on pit of stomach; after a glass of water. Vomiting: Sudden; forcible; painful; glairy; bloody; with keen smell and taste; preceded by retching and followed by hiccough; of bright yellow water; with cold sweat on hands.

Stomach.—Dyspeptic attacks: With low spirits; with confusion of head; with emaciation. Swelling of. Sensation: Of pressure, as of a load; weakness; emptiness; sinking; anxiety; gnawing at pit; turning over in; soreness of; coldness of; burning; twisting and electric shocks. Pain, especially in pit. Alternate gastric and rheumatic symptoms. Worse: Pressure of clothes; motion; after meat. Better: After eating.

Hypochondriæ.—Sticking in. Boring in left. Pain, in a small spot, in posterior (l.); in liver.

Abdomen.—Inflamed, with cramps in many parts, chiefly legs. Distension. Painfully sensitive. Cramp-like constriction with nausea, then a pasty stool with burning and tenesmus in anus. Rumbling, gurgling and emission of much flatus. Violent cutting gripping and twisting in. Gnawing at navel. Retracted. Weakness in navel region. Worse: Touch; draft of air; afternoon; deep inspiration. Better: Pressure; after passing stool or flatus.

KALI BICHROMICUM.

Stool.—Diarrhœa, of brown frothy water, with excessively painful pressure, urging and tenesmus. Dysenteric; Bloody, dark coffee colored, extremely painful. Gushing, hurrying her out of bed. Involuntary. Odorless. Slate colored. Clay colored. Constipated; extremely hard. Followed by burning, soreness and pressure in anus. Worse: In morning, before rising; periodically.

Anus.—Constipation, with painful retraction of. Sore, making it painful to walk. Sensations of: Boring; rawness; smarting; a plug; dragging; biting; tickling; stitches in.

Urinary Organs.—Burning in, especially in bulbous and navicular portion of urethra. Sensation as if a drop of urine remained behind. Pyelitis. Albuminuria. Urine deposits a thick mucus sediment.

Sexual Organs.—Escape of prostatic fluid during stool. Painful constriction at root of penis. Itching in glans. Smarting and rawness in vulva. Swelling of. Adhesive leucorrhœa.

Respiratory Organs.—Bronchitis. Much mucus in air passages excites hawking. Sore, ulcerative or burning pain in. Dyspnœa, in sleep; < in damp weather. Worse: After eating or drinking; on undressing; morning on waking. Better: Getting warm in bed; lying.

Cough.—On every inspiration, excited by scraping or tickling in air passages; after meals; must hold his sides; with bloody taste in mouth. Rough, hoarse voice. Expectoration: Of very tough mucus, so viscid it hangs in strings down to feet; difficult to detach; sticky; heavy; lumpy; of reddish mucus, with traces of blood; slate colored; yellow; sweet.

Neck.—Stiff. Drawing. Tearing. Worse: Motion.

Chest.—Pains: Cutting, from mid-sternum thro' to between shoulders; tearing sticking in; sore, as if bones were broken. Sensation of itching, dryness, rawness or burning in. Sensitive in nipple region. Heart: Coldness at. Pressive or sticking pains. Cramps about. Fluttering. Worse: Motion of lifting arms, of deep breathing, etc.

Back.—Scapular pains. Undulative contraction of dorsal muscles. Aching in kidney region, with scanty reddish urine and nausea. Sprained or paroxysmal lumbar pain; can't rise from stooping or a chair. Pain as of a blow on sacrum. Pain in coccyx; while sitting, walking or touch. Worse: Motion; during coition.

Extremities.— Loud cracking in joints. Twitchings. Pains: Rheumatic, bruised, paralytic, boring, gnawing, drawing, or tearing; in and about joints, often confined to a single fibre or spot; alternating with throat symptoms.

Upper Extremities.—As if asleep. Weakness, especially in hands; she drops things. Swelling of finger-joints. Pains in bones of; in wrists.

Lower Extremities.—Trembling. Coldness. Heaviness. Sensitiveness of. Statica; > walking and flexing leg, < standing, sitting, lying, pressure and in hot weather. Swollen sensation. Cramp in patella. Twitching in calves. Soreness of heels. Pain in bones of toes as if they would be torn off.

Generalities.—The secretions become tough, stringy and adhesive, finally hardening into plugs, clinkers or lumps, causing obstruction of the outlets or narrow portions of hollow organs with consequent dilatation above. Erosions and ulcers on skin and mucous membrane. Symptoms alternate or suddenly shift their position. Pains often go from before backward, or are diagonal. Many symptoms appear in small spots. Yellow; vision, vomit, pus, saliva, sclerotic, skin and stool. Pains, gnawing, burning, cramping; drawing-tearing, mostly near or in periosteum or tendinous expansions. Periostitis. Great prostration, heaviness and sick feeling. Sluggishness. Emaciation. Hectic. Sensitive to cold air.

Worse.—Morning. 2 A. M. and 4 P. M. Periodically. Hot weather. Dampness. After beer. In fat subjects. After coition. From touch.

Better.—After a short nap. After eating. Evening. In open air. Motion, especially of affected parts.

KALI BICHROMICUM.

Skin.—Brown spots on. Measle-like rash. Hard pimples. Deep ulcers; Having a punched-out appearance and penetrating to the bone; with overhanging edges and a dark center; painful in cold weather; leaving depressed white cicatrices; with adherent secretions.

Sleep.—Incessant, distressing yawning, with overpowering sleepiness; with gastric symptoms. Symptoms on falling to sleep. Nightmare, with arrested breathing. Unrefreshing. Worse after.

Fever.—Surface of body cold. Shivering coldness starting in extremities, with constriction in pericranium. Heat: Glowing mostly on face, with internal chilliness, dry mouth and lips, and cold arms and hands; must moisten lips. Sweat: Cold, on forehead; clammy.

Allied Remedies. — Ars., Bio., Caust., Cinnab., Cocc-c., Ferr., Hep., Hydras., Iris-v., Kali-c., Kali-io., Lach., Mar., Merc., Mez., Nit-ac., Phyt., PULS., Sep., Sil., Spo., Staph., Sul., Thuja.

KALI CARBONICUM.

Mind.—Angry and irritable. Very easily frightened. Anxious fears.

Vertigo.—Seeming to come from stomach. Dizziness. Sudden unconsciousness.

Head.—Congestion to, with throbbing and roaring therein. Unilateral headache, with nausea. Pressive pain in occiput. Stitches in temples and forehead. Headache when driving. Worse: Stooing; moving it, eyes or lower jaw. Better: Warmth; raising up.

External Head.—Painful gatherings, like progressing boils, paining more from motion and external pressure, less from warmth, with coincident itching seemingly in skull bones. Falling of hair, especially from temples, brows and beard, with great dryness thereof. Violent burning itching in early morning and evening, often becoming moist after scratching. Takes cold in, especially from staying in a draft while heated. Great coldness of. Worse: Early in morning; in cold. Better: In warmth.

KALI CARBONICUM.

Eyes.—Stitches in. Pimply eruption in brows. Sense of coldness in lids. Swelling and nightly agglutination of lids. Inclination to stare. Easily dazzled by light. Sparks before. Musca volitantes, when reading and looking into space. Swelling between brows and lids. Lachrymation.

Ears.—Inflammatory swelling, with purulent discharge. Outward stitches in. Inflammation of parotid glands. Hearing dull, diminished.

Nose.—Stuffed coryza, with ulcerated nostrils. Red and swelled, with internal soreness. Dull sense of smell.

Face.—Yellow. Puffy. Swelling and redness of cheeks. Thick, ulcerated lips. Cracking, peeling lips. Freckles.

Teeth.—Ache, when eating only. Twitching, tearing ache, with pain in facial bones. Sticking ache, with swollen cheeks.

Mouth.—Sense of dryness in, with increased flow of saliva. Sticking sore throat when swallowing. Much mucus on palate. Swelling of, and vesicles on tongue.

Appetite, etc.—Aversion to rye bread. Great desire for sugar or sour things. Complaints from milk and warm food.

Taste.—Bitter, in mouth.

Eruetation.—Sour. Heartburn.

Nausea, etc.—Inclination to vomit; Anxious; from emotions. Sour vomiting.

Stomach.—Fulness after eating. Tension straight across. Spasm of, renewed after every meal. Stitches in pit and hypochondria, which take away his breath.

Hypochondria.—Pressure and sticking in region of liver and kidneys. Pain when stooping, as tho' liver were wrenched.

Abdomen.—Inactivity and coldness of. Great distension after eating. Emptiness. Stitches. Heaviness. Ascites. Labor-like colic, with pains in lumbar region. Stitches in inguinal region.

Flatulence.—Incarcerated. Excessive discharge of flatus.

Stool.—Mucus. Retarded, on account of inactivity of intestinal canal. Constipation, with difficult passage of too large-sized feces; with inactivity of rectum.

Anus.—Itching. Painful hemorrhoids.

KALI CARBONICUM

Urine—Frequent urging to urinate with scanty discharge of fiery urine Burning in urethra when urinating

Sexual Organs—Deficient or excessive sexual desire Constant downward pressure toward female genitals Stitches in pudendum

Menses—Too early Too scanty Suppressed First menses appear with difficulty in young women Discharge of blood during pregnancy Burning leucorrhœa passed with labor like colic and pains in small of back

Respiration—Difficult whistling r Spasmodic tightness of chest, early in morning especially during motion

Cough—Asthmatic hacking cough in short but frequently repeated attacks excited by tickling in throat and larynx Dry, tickling c, in evening and at night, with dislodgment early in morning and during day of tenacious mucus or yellow pus of a flat, sweetish or sour taste, which is not expectorated but swallowed Spasmodic early in morning, with retching and vomiting Whooping cough, with inflammation of chest

Larynx, etc—Rawness of throat and hoarseness, with excessive sneezing

Neck—Hard swelling of glands of Goitre Stiff nape

Chest—Spasm of, when coughing Stitches in, with inflammation of lungs Hydrothorax Palpitation, with ebullition of blood early in morning Suppuration of lungs and ulcerative phthisis Emptiness in

Back—Stiffness between scapulae Pain in small of, with labor-like pains in abdomen Lumbar pains after a fall Drawing pain from the lumbar region into the middle of back

Upper Extremities—Asleep sensation in arms when in cold air and after violent exertion Great weariness and powerlessness in arms early in morning in bed Numb finger tips

Lower Extremities—Nightly tearing in legs Burning and sticking in legs Restlessness in legs in evening Cold feet in evening in bed Stinking foot sweat

Generalities—Sticking pains in internal parts, as well as in muscles and joints Tearing pains in limbs, with swelling mostly during rest Faint like weakness and trembling after walking Great tendency to take cold after being overheated, with aversion to open air and drafts Limbs pain whenever he rests them Muscular twitchings Paralysis In the open air she seems better than in the room, except that the fever is more intense then Complaints are worse at 2 or 3 o'clock in morning and during rest than during day and when moving about Cold hands and feet Sensations of emptiness

Glands—Swelled and indurated after contusions

Skin—Burning (and sticking) itching of Burning itching spots, exuding a moisture when scratched Anasarca Bluish red frost-bites Ulcers which bleed every evening

Sleep—Sleepiness early in evening Late falling to sleep Twitchings during Full of voluptuous fancies and anxious dreams Waking up from

Fever—Pulse Very variable, often weak and slow, but also often remarkably accelerated and hard Sometimes quick early in morning and slow in evening seldom the reverse Violent ebullition of blood, with throbbing in all blood-vessels Chill Mostly in evening Quickly follows the pains Shuddering sometimes running over the body during day Chilliness in evening, ceasing soon when near a warm stove and after lying down Heat In early morning in bed Internal, with external shuddering Sweat Every night Early in morning Easy, during day from motion and mental exertion Principally on upper part of body, increased by warm drinks Offensive or sour smelling Entire want of natural perspiration and inability to sweat Warm on forehead

Allied Remedies—Ap, Arg n, Ars, Bry, Calc-c., Carb-c., Coel, KALI BI, Laur, Lye, Mag-c, Nat-c, Nat-m, NIT-AC, Nux v Phos, PULS, Sil

KALI NITRICUM.

KALI NITRICUM.

Mind.—Anxious restlessness. Faint-hearted, and fear of death.

Sensorium.—Stupefying heaviness of head, as after a debauch, early in morning.

Head.—Congestion to. Sticking ache. Compressive sensation in occiput, > binding up the hair. Pressive ache, < coffee, driving in open air. Headache after eating veal. Painfully sensitive scalp.

Eyes.—Burning in, after washing early in morning. Blackness before the eyes (after inhaling camphor). Rainbow-colored circles around the light.

Ears.—Nightly sticking in, < when lying thereon. Deafness from paralysis of auditory nerve.

Nose.—Inflamed tip, with stitches therein. Nosebleed; blood is acrid and sharp like vinegar.

Face.—Red cheeks with tension therein, with increased headache. Contractive pain in forehead, eyes and face, which concentrates itself in tip of nose.

Teeth.—Sticking or tearing ache. Nightly, throbbing ache, < cold things. Gums swell and bleed easily, as in scurvy.

Mouth.—Stench from. Sticking sore throat, with inflammation of soft palate and uvula. Impeded swallowing, with tension and cutting in larynx. Shiny white coating on tongue.

Appetite, etc.—Greater in evening than at noon. Continuous, violent thirst.

Nausea.—Nightly, as tho' he would vomit.

Stomach.—Spasmodic, contractive, cramp-like stomach-ache, especially after eating veal. Burning in. Pressure in pit.

Hypochondria.—Stitches in kidneys.

Abdomen.—Violent pains after eating veal.

Flatulence.—Obstructed, especially in afternoon.

Stool.—Hard, difficult. Soft, with and without colic.

Urine.—Frequent and profuse passage of bright-colored urine.

Menses.—Of black blood, too early and too profuse. Violent lumbar pain before and during. Leucorrhœa with pains in small of back.

Respiration.—Tightness of chest compelling him to lie with head high. Oppression of chest when ascending.

Cough.—Dry, especially early in morning. The cough awakens him at 3 o'clock in morning, with a stupefying headache. Chest pains when coughing, lasting until expectoration is loosened. With stitches in chest and expectoration of clear blood. Purulent expectoration from lungs, with colliquative sweats.

Larynx.—Hoarseness, with roughness and scratching in. Tracheal phthisis.

Neck.—Neckache extending into shoulders, as tho' hair were violently pulled.

Chest.—Stitches in, with anxiety and oppression, especially when taking a deep breath and lying with the head low. Contractive chest pains coming from the back, as tho' lungs were being constricted. Inflammation of lungs. Violent palpitation, most intense when lying in bed at night.

Back.—Stitches in and between scapulae, with arrested breathing. Violent pain in small of, early in morning and when stooping. Pressive pain in lumbar region during rest, especially < when coughing.

Upper Extremities.—Nightly tearing and sticking in joints of arms. Sensation as tho' hands and fingers were thick and swollen.

Lower Extremities.—Great paralytic weakness and debility in lower legs.

Generalities.—Relaxation early in morning, with a sensation of warmth in face and a hot forehead. Greater debility when sitting than during moderate exercise. Tearing and sticking in limbs and joints. After-effects of eating veal which is too young and tender. Inflammation of internal organs. The symptoms are intensified after midnight and towards morning. Camphor aggravates.

Skin.—Stitches as of needles in skin, especially of face, then burning. Burning vesicles containing a yellowish fluid, which cease to burn after being scratched open. Sudden, dropsical swellings.

KALI NITRICUM.

Sleep.—Day sleepiness. Stupefying. Restless, especially after midnight. Nightmare.

Fever.—Pulse: Full, hard and accelerated. Slow in morning, rapid in afternoon and evening. Chill: And coldness in afternoon and evening, increased by every motion, disappears when lying. Succeeded by sweat, without previous heat. In evening, with pains. Coldness with thirst in afternoon. Heat: Some but insignificant h. in the evening. Nightly, without thirst or succeeding sweat. Sweat: Very exhausting, from the least exertion. Night-sweat, most profuse on legs. Early morning s., most profuse on chest.

Allied Remedies.—Amyl-n., Calc-c., Glo., Ip., Melil.

KREOSOTUM.

Mind.—Peevish irritability. Vexed at every trifle. Cross, wilful and obstinate. Excited, before menses. Strong disposition to tears, sometimes with moroseness or melancholy. Weak memory, thoughts vanish.

Head.—Outward pressure in forehead and temples. Heaviness and fulness, as if everything would press out at forehead on stooping; or in occiput, as if he would fall backward. Aching, with desire to sleep, contraction of eyelids, a red face, weariness, especially of legs, and a bitter taste. Pains: Throbbing, especially in forehead; obtuse, peg-like, over right eyebrow; pricking. Painful scalp. Pain as if hairs were being pulled. Worse: Emotions. Before and during menses. Better: Bathing in hot water.

Eyes.—Look as if swimming in tears. Projecting. Lids red, swelled; twitching. Heat and constant burning in, with lachrymation on looking at the light. Hot, acrid tears Greasy mucus in inner canthi. Feel smaller. Blue vision. Worse: Looking at anything. Rubbing. Better: Wiping.

KREOSOTUM.

Ears.—Heat and burning redness of. Inflammatory swelling of, with tensive burning pain and painful stiffness in neck, shoulder and arm of affected side. Cramp-like pain in. Bubbling in. Itching in and in soles of feet. Difficult hearing before and during menses.

Nose.—Frequent sneezing, with dry coryza; with moisture in. Epistaxis. Fluent coryza, with painful sensitiveness to inspired air.

Face.—Earthy. Pale, bloated. Brownish-red. Deep red and hot, with throbbing in cheeks and forehead, and frequent desire to urinate. Tearing and burning pains, < motion, > lying on affected part. Lips: Hot; tense; blue; upper cracked; scaling. Right half of lower feels drawn towards corner of mouth.

Mouth.—Fetid breath. Drawing or jerking in hollow teeth, with scorbutic gums. Inflamed gums. Mouth and throat white (pale). Grayish ulcers on gums and in commissure of lips.

Tongue.—Pale, as if withered; cold feeling on. Taste: Sour on back; of cubebs; of straw; bitter, of food just as it goes down.

Throat.—Feeling of something hanging in left side of. Sloughing, diphtheritic appearance. Constantly hawks up sweetish mucus. Painful choking low down, extending thro' to back. Dysphagia. Burning, scraping in. Roughness in.

Eruetations.—Violent, acid, frothy. Nausea, with burning in mouth; with spitting of saliva and chill.

Vomiting.—During pregnancy; undigested food several hours after eating; sweetish water in morning fasting. Violent retching.

Stomach.—Sensation of coldness, as from ice-water in. Gnawing, soreness or burning in epigastric region, better temporarily by eating. Worse: Pressure of clothes. Better: Eating warm things.

Hypochondria.—Pressive pain in spleen and hepatic region. Gnawing under left short ribs. Worse: Pressure of clothes.

Abdomen.—Tense distension of, sometimes with shortness of breath. Drawing from upper to sacrum, with heat of face and

KREOSOTUM.

- ineffectual urging to defecate and urinate. Sensation: Of a hard, twisted lump lying in navicular region; prickling; ulceration; painful coldness in; clawing; burning; stitches; shooting, extending into genitals; shattering in. Worse: Motion. Coughing. Pressure of clothes. Better: Stooling.
- Stool.—Green mucus, with nausea and weakness. Frequent by day. Pasty.
- Rectum.—Creeping. Cramps. Dragging in. Stitches in, extending into left flank, during menses.
- Urine.—Profuse, passed in great haste. Stream feeble, spray-like. Strangury. Albuminous; black; offensive; acrid; hot, causing burning between pudendæ. Involuntary, when coughing or lying down. Worse: Lying down.
- Sexual Organs.—Hot swelling of, with corroding, burning pains and bleeding after coition. Soreness, corrosive itching and burning in labia, vagina, etc. Ulcerative pain in, in neck of uterus during coition. Hard lump in neck of uterus. Vagina prolapsed. Labor-like pains alternate with eye symptoms (watering of). Better: Walking.
- Leucorrhœa.—Putrid; corrosive, causing swelling, burning, itching and biting externally; exhausting; whey-like; milky; yellow; staining yellow, with weakness in legs; staining gray; discharge of, preceded by sacral pains or by contractive pains in vagina; before every urination. Menses profuse; worse lying down; causing itching; followed by a discharge of acrid bloody matter.
- Cough.—Hollow, or whistling spasmodic c., excited by roughness, scratching and tickling in chest and throat, without expectoration. Hoarse, croupy, exhausting. Concussive, with vomiting.
- Chest.—Feeling of a weight in centre of c. with dyspnoea, he involuntarily takes a deep breath; anxious dyspnoea. Pains in chest and sternum which necessitate pressure with the hand. Sensation of: Being bruised; sticking; shooting between ribs occurring periodically; burning; a throbbing constriction; stabbing under left mamma. Lungs enlarged; excessive bronchial secretion. Emotions excite tightness of heart and weeping. Scratching, creeping and tickling in trachea. Worse: Expiration. Motion. Awakening. Lying in bed, especially on side. Turning over. Morning and evening. Music. Better: Pressure, with hand.
- Back.—Shoulders: Chilly between; as of a band between; feeling of a weight from s. to elbows, could not raise arms to head. Scapular pains, plug-like or as if beaten. Painfully bruised feeling of crista illi. Violent drawing and shooting sacral pains going into genitals or thighs. Sensations: Of burrowing; as if broken; of ulceration; as if asleep; as if vertebrae were suppurating. Worse: Stooling. Better: Pressure.
- Upper Extremities.—Elbow: Cramp in; tendons feel too short. Hands icy cold. Fingers go to sleep, with creeping, they turn white after rising. Left thumb pains as if sprained and is stiff. Desquamating hands. Better: Bathing in hot water.
- Lower Extremities.—Pains in hip, < from exposure to air. Edema of legs and feet. Feet: Sweaty; feel as if gathering in soles; burning and itching in soles < in evening.
- Generalities.—Rawsness, Burning, Putrid discharges. Bleedings, often profuse from slight causes. Weakness, prostration and muscular feebleness. Numbness. Pains: Excoriative; ulcerative; pulling; paralytic, shooting like lightning; as if torn out; bruised, can't find an easy position. Most useful in aged persons and pregnant women. Worse: Contact. Uncovering. Rubbing or scratching. After menses. During leucorrhœa. Better: After sleep. Warmth.
- Skin.—Feels all afire. Tettery eruptions. Intense itching. Prurigo. Pustules. Nettlerash in morning. Pimply rash on face. Blue spots. Dry. Better: Warmth.
- Sleep.—Yawning, with chilliness and watery eyes. Anxious dreams and sweat during. Laughs in her dreams. Great sleepiness and sound sleep.

KREOSOTUM.

Fever.—Pulse: Small and weak with great ebullition of blood. Throbbing in all bloodvessels during rest. Chill: Predominating, principally when at rest. Shaking c., with violent flushes of heat in face, red cheeks and icy cold feet. With great bodily restlessness. Alternating with heat. During menses. Skin as if dead during c.; pain in patella during. Heat: Mostly on face. Flying h. with sharply circumscribed redness on cheeks. Bed is too warm, but she is chilled if she puts her foot out. Sweat: Scant and only in morning, accompanied by heat and red cheeks. On chest and back during menses.

Allied Remedies.—Arn', Ars', Brom., Carb-ac., Carb-v', Caust., Cham', Chin', Eupion., Merc-c., Nat-m., Nit-ac', NUX-V., Petr', Sec-c', Sep., Sul.

LACHESIS.

Mind.—Indolent, phlegmatic disposition. Increased mental power. Ecstatic, easily excitable nature. Loving tenderness. Unhappy love. Inclination to silent grief. Grumbling discontent. Hasty speech. Easily frightened. Insane jealousy with mistrust and suspicion. Dogmatic. Spiteful. Extraordinary loquacity. Greatly inclined to mockery, satire and breaking out into laughter. Despair and satiety of life. Anxious trembling. Restlessness, driving him into the open air. Hideous phantasies.

Head.—Pressive ache in temples like an outward urging, in morning after rising. Violent congestion to. Hammering headache when stooping. Headache over eyes early in morning after rising. Sharp cutting pain, as with knives, in vertex, or as if someone cut a piece out of (r.) parietal bone. Worse: Stooping; external pressure; rest; ascending steps; after rising from bed; in the sun. Better: Eating; lying; after sleep; warmth; eructations.

External Head.—Hair falls out, especially during pregnancy, with biting itching on scalp, scratching causes swellings and thickening of skin. Great sensitiveness of the uncovered head to sunshine.

LACHESIS.

Eyes.—Tension in.

Ears.—Sensitive to wind; to noise.

Nose.—Itching, when eating. Pain in nasal bones. Nosebleed and blowing of blood from. Purulent discharge from. Fluent coryza in evening; stuffed coryza with obstruction, early in morning. Fluent coryza with inflammation of margin of nostrils and acrid, watery discharge.

Face.—Sunken or unnaturally red. Heat and redness of the usually pale face. Lead colored. Livid. Itching of. Swellings here and there upon. Blue circles around eyes. Erysipelatous inflammation of cheeks just below eyes.

Teeth.—Hollow, crumbling. Boring pain in molars extending into maxillary bones, especially after eating. Swollen gums.

Mouth.—Scratching on posterior palate. Rawness in throat. Sensation, as tho' something had lodged in the throat, which necessitates continual swallowing. Sensitiveness of internal throat to external pressure. Empty swallowing increases the throat pains, but swallowing solids does not. Salvation.

Appetite, etc.—Loss of, early in morning. Desire for smoking is lost, without having any particular aversion to tobacco. Continual thirst. Intense craving for wine and beer. Craving for coffee which >. Very weak digestion.

Nausea.—And forcible vomiting of ingesta, and bile.

Stomach.—Pit painful to pressure. Spasm of. Alternate coldness and burning in.

Abdomen.—Distension of. Heat in. Empty sensation in. Hypochondriæ feel bruised.

Stool.—Papescent, clayey, very offensive, followed by tenesmus. Constipation; flatus only is passed. Constipation alternating with diarrhoea.

Anus.—Burning in. Prolapsus recti during stool.

Urine.—Clear, foamy. Burning when urinating. Continual dribbling after stool, as well as after urination.

LACHESIS

Sexual Organs—Great lasciviousness and violent sexual excitement

Menses—Too scanty

Respiration—Lightness of, after eating
Inclination to take a deep breath when sitting Touching larynx externally causes fear of suffocation

Cough—During and after every nap Paroxysms of short, very fatiguing, hacking cough excited by tickling in stomach, rarely in larynx dry in evening and night, in morning and by day, with difficult dislodgment of scanty, watery, sometimes salty mucus which is swallowed

Larynx—Painfully sensitive Feeling of something fluttering above Hollow voice Hoarseness and aphonia as tho' a foreign body were tightly lodged in l and could not be hawked loose

Chest—Burning on c, at night Anxious palpitation Soreness in, also of sternum

Back—A stitch deep in, as tho' something stuck therein, necessitating taking a deep breath and bending backward

Upper Extremities—Itch vesicles on hands and fingers Paronitis Livid swelling of hands

Lower Extremities—Weak, stiff knees Cramps in calves Flat ulcers on legs Coldness, with internal burning of feet Swollen feet Deep, itching fissures on toes

Generalities—Great emaciation Relaxation and weariness in evening Apoplexies The complaints are intensified at night Aversion to motion, with inclination to lie down Bad effects of mental exertion, wine or tobacco

Skin—Unhealthy Itching, after scratching skin becomes thickened and large lumps appear Spongy ulcers which burn when touched Blush black vesicles upon hands and feet Angry ulcers

Sleep—Sleepiness with loquacity in evening Falls to sleep late in evening Constant sleeplessness Many frightful or lascivious dreams Restless, with many dreams and frequent waking

Fever—Pulse Small and weak, but accelerated, often alternating with a full, strong beat, generally very irregular and intermittent Chill Universal with chattering of teeth desire for warmth and external, benumbing coldness Shivering running up the back, often every other day Alternating with heat changing from place to place Every other day Heat In evening, especially on hands and feet Burning in palms of hands and soles of feet, in evening and at night Nightly, as if from ebullition of blood, with great sensitiveness of neck Sense of internal heat, with cold feet Sweat Profuse, with most complaints Great inclination to Cold, staining yellow, bloody, or red

LAUROCERASUS

Allied Remedies—Atom, Ap, Ars, BELL, Carbo, CAUST, Chin, CON, Gel, HEP, LYC, MERC, Nat m', Nux-v, Phos-ac, PLAI, PULS, Stann, Zinc

LAUROCERASUS

Mind—Condition similar to intoxication Stupefaction Loss of consciousness Blunting and insensibility of perceptive powers Weakness of mind and memory Sad and very low spirited Anxiety, with fear of impending evil Peevish

Head—Dull, pressive, stupefying ache Dull heaviness Congestion, with heat and throbbing therein Feeling as tho' brain fell into forehead when stooping Cold feeling in forehead or vertex, as of a cold wind blowing down neck and back Worse Afternoon, evening, in room, stooping Better In open air

Eyes—Staring, distorted Protruding Dilated, immobile pupils Surrounding objects appear enlarged Obscured vision, as of a veil before

Ears—Difficult hearing

Nose—Fluent coryza with sore throat

Face—Sunken, livid gray Distorted Puffed Twitchings in Foam from mouth Lockjaw Eruption about mouth

Mouth—Dry buccal cavity Roughness and dry feeling in throat Contraction of throat when drinking Spasm of throat

LAUROCERASUS.

- and cesophagus. Impeded swallowing. Fluids roll audibly down throat. Speech difficult or lost
- Thirst.—Intense, with dry mouth
- Nausea.—From stomach, with vomiting of ingesta.
- Stomach—Inflammation of. Cooling burning in. Faintish stomach-ache.
- Abdomen.—Cooling burning in. Colicky contraction and cutting in Gripping about navel.
- Stool.—Involuntary. Constipation. Diarrhoea with tenesmus.
- Urine.—Suppressed Retained, as from paralysis of bladder. Involuntary urination.
- Sexual Organs.—Gangrene of penis.
- Menses.—Of thin, fluid blood, too early and too profuse.
- Respiration.—Weak, anxious and slow. Rattling. Tightness of chest, as tho' he could not inflate lungs properly. Threatening paralysis of lungs, with cessation of expectoration.
- Cough.—Short, dry, hacking c., excited by tickling in throat. With copious expectoration of gelatinous mucus dotted with blood. Frequently recurring, whistling, spasmodic, single coughs, excited by tickling in larynx and trachea, as if they were dry.
- Larynx, etc.—Hoarseness, with scratching in, and in trachea. Spasmodic constriction of trachea.
- Chest.—Constriction of. Sticking in, more in ribs. Pressure upon sternum. Irregular heart beat.
- Generalities.— Sticking and tearing in limbs Extraordinary physical relaxation. Rapid sinking of strength. Painless paralyzes of limbs. Want of vital energy and failing reaction. Apoplexies with paralyzes. Convulsive twitchings. Epileptic convulsions, with foam from the clenched mouth. Tonic spasm. Complaints without pain. Aggravation in evening. He feels better in the open air and at night
- Skin.—Between the fingers it is raw and exfoliates; water causes it to burn.

LEDUM.

- Sleep.—Irresistible somnolency, especially after dinner and in evening.
- Fever.—Pulse; Extremely irregular, now small and slow, often imperceptible, then again somewhat accelerated; seldom full and hard. Weak. Veins on hands are distended. Chill; Coldness and shivering in afternoon and evening, not > external warmth. Alternating with heat. Want of natural vital heat. Heat; After the chill, in evening until midnight. Running down the back. Sweat; Mostly with the heat and continuing until toward morning. After eating.
- Allied Remedies.—Ganth., HYDROC-AC', Ip., Kali-c., Merc., Spig.

LEDUM.

- Mind.—Vehement, angry mood. Dissatisfying and hatred of mankind. Love for solitude. Great seriousness. Chaotic dullness, with general heat.
- Vertigo.—As tho' intoxicated, especially when walking in open air.
- Head.—Stupefying ache causing mental dullness. Raging, pulsating ache. Pressive ache which renders head coverings intolerable. Shattering sensation in brain when making a misstep.
- Eyes.—Nightly agglutination of lids without pain or inflammation. Violent suppuration with a foul smelling discharge. Biting tears. Dilated pupils.
- Ears.—Roaring or ringing before. Difficult hearing.
- Nose.—Burning in. Nose-bleed of bright red blood.
- Face.— Alternately pale and red. Dry herpes on, which burns in open air. Dry pimples like millet seed on forehead. Red nodular eruptions, like those of brandy drinkers, they stick when touched. Boils on forehead. Swelling of glands under chin.
- Mouth.—Offensive odor from.
- Throat.—Sore, with fine sticking pain, worse when not swallowing.
- Qualmishness.—And inclination to vomit when spitting.

LEDUM.

- Stomach.—Pressure in, after eating a small quantity.
- Abdomen.—Sense of fullness in upper. Bellyache like that of dysentery. Cutting colic every evening. Ascites.
- Stool.—Constipation. Diarrhoea, feces mixed with blood and mucus.
- Urine.—Frequent urging to urinate, with scanty discharge. Frequent, profuse. Enuresis.
- Sexual Organs.—Intensified sexual desire. Inflamed swelling of penis and glans.
- Menses.—Of bright red blood, too early and too profuse.
- Respiration.—Spasmodic, double inspiration and sobbing, as after angry weeping. Obstructed breathing, as tho' he would suffocate, and opisthotonos precedes the cough. Tight, rapid. Constrictive tightness of chest when walking and ascending steps.
- Cough.—Violent, with expectoration of bright red blood. Only at night or early in morning, with purulent, offensive expectoration. Spasmodic, like whooping cough, with painful concussion of head and entire chest. Hollow, shattering c., from tickling in larynx, with suffocative arrest of breathing.
- Trachea.—Crawling in. Phthisis of.
- Chest.—Sore, burning pain in. Stitches in. Shattered feeling of. Suppuration of lungs. Chicken-pox on chest.
- Back.—Painful stiffness of, and of loins when rising from sitting. Pains in, and in sacred region.
- Upper Extremities.—Tearing in joints of. Stitches in shoulder when raising arm. Pressive pain in shoulder and elbow joints, < motion. Gouty nodosities on wrist and finger joints. Sweat on palms.
- Lower Extremities.—Paralysis of hip joint. Tearing in hip, knee and ankle joints. Swelling, tension and sticking in knee. Obstinate swelling of leg and foot. Podagra.
- Generalities.—Painful, gouty nodes about joints. Intolerance of warmth of bed, from a sense of heat in extremities. Heat in hands and feet in even-

LYCOPODIUM.

- ing. Gouty tearing in joints, < warmth of bed, and in evening until midnight. Hard, hot swelling of painful joints. Suffering parts emaciate. Only the joint pains are intensified by motion. After effects of immoderate use of spirituous liquors.
- Skin.—Dry; want of natural perspiration. General anasarca. Dry herpes which itches violently and burns in open air. Boils. Bluish spots like petechia.
- Sleep.—Somnolent as tho' intoxicated, during day. Sleepless at night, with restlessness and phantastic illusions as soon as he closes his eyes.
- Fever.—Pulse: Full and rapid. Frequently perceptible in one arm, but not in the other. Chill: With shuddering and thirst, continues a long time with a feeling as if some parts were dashed with cold water. Coldness and want of vital heat. Predominating chill and thirst. Early in morning and forenoon. General coldness with redness and heat of face. Heat: Without thirst, more pronounced toward evening. Burning hands and feet in evening. Alternating with sweat. Sweat: Thro' whole night, with inclination to uncover. Foul or sour night sweat. From the slightest motion, more on forehead. Itching sweat.
- Allied Remedies.—Bry., Dulc., Lyc., Puls.

LYCOPODIUM.

- Mind.—Diminished mental activity. Silent grief and melancholy, he doubts his salvation. Religious depression with mildness, weeping and silent meditation. Anxiety with grieving and weeping. Sensitive, he sheds tears easily. Nervous debility. Irritability. Anger and wilfulness. Reserved ill-humor. Anthropophobia, with anxiety at the approach of man, yet fears to be alone.
- Vertigo.—Whirling, when stooping or in a warm room.
- Head.—Stupefying ache with heat in the temples and on ears, also dry mouth and lips. Congestion. Outward sticking in temples, < right. Pains: Unilateral; worse on right side; press-

LYCOPODIUM.

- ive, on vertex and occiput, then weakness; tearing, here and there in forehead or from right side of neck; tensive. Jerkings thro'. Thrusts in temples. Worse: Evening, from 4 to 8; night; raising up; after lying down; warmth; mental exertion; becoming heated in open air; stooping. Better: Gentle motion in open air; cold; uncovering h.
- External Head.—Nightly tearing, boring and scraping, especially in temples and sides, > moving, and uncovering h., while keeping rest of body warm in bed. Violent, erosive, creeping and burning itching when heated, intermingled with twitching tearing, most from vertex down over occiput; scratching causes moist swellings forming thick but painless crusts which bleed easily and discharge fetid pus from beneath. Beginning on temples and vertex the hair turns gray early and falls out profusely, even to baldness, while it grows and increases on other parts, especially after suppurating scalp eruptions, or a coarse burning exanthem on nape, also after abdominal diseases or parturition.
- Eyes.—Sticking and smarting in, by candle-light in evening. Inflammation of, with lachrymation during day and nightly agglutination. Dim vision, as of feathers before. Presbyopia. Vertical hemiopia. Photophobia.
- Ears.—Suppurating. Roaring before. Hearing difficult; oversensitive.
- Nose.—Ulcerating nostrils. Oversensitive smell. Coryza, obstructing both nostrils.
- Face.—Pale, especially toward evening. Earthy, yellowish countenance, deeply furrowed, with blue circles about eyes and blue lips, or with circumscribed redness of cheeks. Frequent attacks of heat in. Moist suppurating eruption on. Tearing in right side of face, eyes and teeth. Freckles. Swollen submaxillary glands.
- Teeth.—Turn yellow. Jerks in, when eating. Toothache with swollen cheeks, > by warmth and heat of bed. Dental fistula.
- Mouth.—Foul stench from. Dry, without thirst, with stiffness of tongue and indistinct speech. Inflammation of throat, with sticking on swallowing. Swelling and suppuration of tonsils. Hoarseness.
- Appetite.—Disappears as soon as he takes the first bite. Ravenous hunger. Excessive desire for sweet things. Milk excites diarrhoea.
- Taste.—Lost. Bitter, in mouth, with qualmsickness early in morning. Sour, of food.
- Eruetation.—Sour. Heartburn. Attacks of violent hiccough.
- Nausea.—Frequent; early in morning, when fasting and when driving. Nightly vomiting of ingesta and bile.
- Stomach.—Pressure in, with bitter taste in mouth after every meal. Cancer of. Swelling and sensitiveness of pit to touch and tight clothes.
- Hypochondria.—Tension as from a hoop about. Inflammation of liver. Induration of liver. Pressure and tension in liver, especially after eating to satiety. Stitches in. Hepatic pain.
- Abdomen.—Distressing fulness and distension of, and of stomach. Pain in both sides of. Indurations in. Pinching in. Cutting colic in upper. Ascites. Inguinal hernia.
- Flatulence.—Incarcerated. Inability to discharge flatus. Continued rumbling and gurgling in abdomen.
- Stool.—Constipation: With ineffectual urging; persistent. Diarrhoea during pregnancy; from milk. Pale, putrid, stinking stools.
- Anus.—Itching and tension in. Rectal spasm.
- Urine.—Bloody. Diminished discharge of dark u. Frequent urging to urinate, with profuse urine. Renal calculi.
- Sexual Organs.—Sexual desire immoderate, or wanting. Impotency of many years' standing. Gonorrhoea of glans. Chronic dryness of vagina. Burning in vagina during coition. Varicose veins on.
- Menses.—Too profuse and lasting too long. Too scanty. Low-spirited before. Corrosive leucorrhoea.
- Respiration.—Shortness of breath in children, especially during sleep. Every exertion shortens his breath. Oppression of chest, < walking in open air. Threatening paralysis of lungs.

LYCOPODIUM.

Cough.—Dry, by day and night. At night, which affects the stomach. Excited by irritation as from sulphur vapor in trachea. Tickling c., from deep inspiration. With expectoration during the day, but not at night. Expectoration copious, purulent, offensive, lemon-yellow, gray, salty, bitter, flat, putrid, etc. Hæmoptysis.

Neck.—Yellowness of skin of. Swelling and stiffness of one side of. Swelling of glands of. Stiffness of nape.

Chest.—Continual pressure in. Stitches in left, (in typhoid or neglected) pulmonary inflammations. Shattered feeling and shocks in. Rattling. Roughness, soreness and tension in. Liver spots on. Hydrothorax. Moist nipples. Palpitation, with anxiety, especially during digestion.

Back.—Nightly drawing and sticking in.

Upper Extremities.—Nightly bone pains in arms. Twitches in arms and shoulders. The arms and fingers fall to sleep easily. Dry skin on hands. Redness, swelling and tearing in finger-joints.

Lower Extremities.—Nightly tearing in legs. White swelling of thigh. Swelling and stiffness of knees. Contraction of calves when walking. Old ulcers on lower leg with nightly tearing, itching and burning. Dropsical swelling of feet. Cold foot-sweat. Cold feet.

Generalities.—Drawing and tearing in limbs, especially at night and during rest or every alternate afternoon. Insensibility of limbs. Distortion of single limbs. Jerking of limbs. Twitches through body. Extraordinary emaciation. Great internal debility. During rest he feels his weakness most, yet he shuns every motion. Great desire for or aversion to open air. Easily takes cold. The symptoms are intensified at about 4 o'clock P. M., but, with the exception of weakness, at about 8 o'clock they are again relieved.

Glands.—Swelled, inflamed and suppurating.

Bones.—Inflammation of, with nightly pains. Curvature. Softening. Caries.

Skin.—Corrosive itching, when becoming heated during day. Moist suppurating herpes. Humid excoriations on children.

MAGNES ARTIFICIALIS.

Ulcers tear and itch at night, and burn when touched. Boils. Liver spots. Freckles. Varicose veins. Gouty nodosities. Dropsy of single parts or entire body.

Sleep.—Restless, with anxious dreams and frequent awaking. Day sleepiness, with late falling to sleep because of a rush of ideas. Yawning.

Fever.—Pulse: Somewhat accelerated, only in evening and after eating. In evening, ebullition of blood with restlessness and trembling. Sensation as if circulation stood still. Chill: In afternoon and evening (from 4 to 8 o'clock) with deadness of hands and feet. In evening in bed, preventing sleep. One-sided, mostly the left. Then sweat, without previous heat. Alternating with heat. Want of natural vital heat. Heat: Flashing over entire body, mostly toward evening, with frequent drinking, but little at a time, constipation and profuse urination. Of one foot (left) with coldness of the other. Sweat: Profuse during day from least exertion, most on face. Night and morning, often with a cold face. Clammy at night. Often cold, sour or offensive, or with odor like blood or onions.

Allied Remedies.—Aco., Agar., Ag-c., Alum., Ambr., Ang., Ap., Arg-n., ARS., Bry., CALC-C., CANTH., Causl., CHAM., Chel., Chin., Cic., Con., Opur., Euphor., Graph., Hep., Igu., Iod., Kali-c., LACH., Led., Mag-m., Mang., Merc., Mur-ac., NAT-C., Nat-s., Nit-ac., NUX-V., Pétr., Phos., Phos-ac., PULS., Rhus-t., Sep., Sil.

MAGNES ARTIFICIALIS.

Mind.—Irascibility and proneness to fly into a passion. Irresolution. Overy activity and hurry, with great exhaustion.

Head.—Bruised headache on first awaking in morning. Sharp pressure, as from a nail or sharp body upon a single spot on brain, after vexation. Painful soreness in head after vexation.

Eyes.—Dilated pupils. Fiery sparks before. Beyond line of vision there are white, quivering particles of light before eyes.

MAGNES ARTIFICIALIS.

- Ears.—Deafness, without noises in.
- Nose.—Muggy odor before.
- Face.—Profuse sweat on. Intolerable, burning stitches in facial muscles, in evening. Painful sensitiveness round about margin of lips. Dislocative pain in maxillary joint.
- Teeth.—Bruised or excoriative pain in roots of lower incisors. Ache from cold drinks and cold air entering mouth.
- Mouth.—Bad odor from, early in morning. Salivation with swollen lips, in evening.
- Appetite, etc.—Rapid satiation even of tobacco which bites the tongue. Great hunger in evening.
- Taste.—Musty, slimy, of some things.
- Eruclatations.—Tasting of spoiled food.
- Stomach.—Pressure in, with restlessness and coldness of body. Creaking in pit.
- Abdomen.—Pressure, like a stone in upper.
- Flatulence.—Many flatulent symptoms. Discharges much hot and very fetid f.
- Stool.—Constipation, as tho' rectum were too narrow. Painful fecal diarrhoea.
- Anus.—Itching hæmorrhoids. Prolapsus recti during stool.
- Sexual Organs.—Burning in penis and in region of seminal vesicles. Intensified sexual desire.
- Menses.—Too early and too profuse. Uterine hæmorrhage.
- Respiration.—Nightly tightness of chest, from mucus in trachea, which is easily expectorated early in the morning.
- Cough.—Violent attacks of dry cough in evening and at night (before midnight). Convulsive. Spasmodic, after midnight.
- Neck.—Stiffness and cracking in cervical vertebrae.
- Chest.—Intolerable, burning stitches in lateral muscles of.
- Upper Extremities.—Drawing and burning in arms. Twitchings and blows in arms.
- Lower Extremities.—Drawing and burning in legs.
- Generalities.—Intolerable, internal burning

MAGNETIS POLUS ARCTICUS.

- from head to foot, without external heat or redness. Twitchings and thrusts thro' body. Bruised pain in joints, especially in side on which he does not lie. Asleep feeling in limbs. Great tendency to take cold.
- Skin.—Renewed bleeding of fresh wounds. Boils.
- Sleep.—Stupefying slumber after sunrise. Coma vigil toward morning. Snoring s.
- Fever.—Nightly heat without thirst, with desire to uncover which is agreeable.
- Allied Remedies.—Ign., Zinc.

MAGNETIS POLUS ARCTICUS.

- Mind.—Anxious, fainthearted, mild mood with chilliness. Anxious, uneasy scrupulosity. Fainthearted and want of courage. Tearful.
- Vertigo.—As tho' intoxicated, when walking in open air.
- Head.—Bruised pain in, from looking up and moving eyes. Pressure, as tho' upon a bruised spot. Sensation within, like the movement of a pendulum, after ascending steps. Tension in scalp, as tho' it adhered too tightly.
- Eyes.—Twitching and drawing in lids. Coldness of weak eye, as tho' a piece of ice lay in the orbit. Tearful. Restless motion of. Staring look.
- Ears.—Deafness with tension in drum.
- Nose.—Violent nosebleed preceded by aching in forehead. Odor as of rotten eggs or fresh whitewash within.
- Face.—Pale. Tension of. Single jerks in periosteum of jaw during toothache. During (violent spasmodic) yawning, pain in maxillary joint, as tho' it would be dislocated. Trismus.
- Teeth.—Incisors sensitive when inhaling. Toothache in hollow teeth, with inflamed, swollen gums and red, hot, swelled cheeks. Cramp-like pain in hollow teeth, with single jerks in right lower jaw. Ache, with violent jerks, as tho' they would be torn out. Worse: After eating; in a warm room. Better: In open air.

MAGNETIS POLUS ARCTICUS. MAGNETIS POLUS AUSTRALIS.

Mouth.—Bad odor from. Increased flow of saliva.

Appetite.—Ravenous hunger in evening.

Heartburn.—Especially after supper.

Abdomen.—Distended. Sensitiveness of upper a. region. Pressure, as upon a bruised spot, here and there in. Inguinal hernia with outward boring pains.

Flatulence.—Gurgling, as from flatus in abdomen. Flatulent colic in evening.

Stool.—Constipated, infrequent, too large in form and passed with difficulty.

Urine.—Dark.

Sexual Organs.—Violent erections and excessive pollutions.

Menses.—Too scanty.

Cough.—Suffocative, asthmatic c., < in open air. Dry, spasmodic, suffocative, c., in evening after lying down and toward midnight, only > suppressing it. From smoking.

Neck.—Crepitation and cracking in cervical vertebræ.

Back.—Bruised pain when bending backward.

Upper Extremities.—Heaviness in arms. Cold sweat on hands. Panaritium.

Lower Extremities.—Cold sweat on soles.

Generalities.—Excitability and trembling, great restlessness in limbs and great nervous weakness. Weariness and bruised sensation in limbs, < in open air. Heaviness of single limbs, with sensation of increased strength therein.

Bones.—Drawing in periosteum.

Sleep.—Great day sleepiness, like sopor. Stupefied sleep. Violent, spasmodic yawning, with pain in maxillary joints, as tho' they would be torn out. Toward morning sound, deep sleep.

Fever.—Predominating chilliness and shaking chill during entire day. Chilliness accompanies the symptoms.

Allied Remedies.—Bell., Ign., M-aust., Puls., Zinc.

MAGNETIS POLUS AUSTRALIS.

Mind.—Unsteadiness and instability, ideas cannot be properly fixed and objects hover only half observed before the senses. Disposition to start. Vehemence and irascibility. Harshness in word and deed.

Sensorium.—Reeling and staggering when walking.

Head.—Congestion to (without heat). Crawling in brain, root of nose and temples. Headache from mental exertion.

Eyes.—Tears in. Painfully, sore dryness of lids.

Ears.—Sensation, as of a cold (or warm) wind blowing on.

Nose.—Suppressed fluent coryza.

Face.—Sensation of a cold breath on.

Teeth.—Tearing twitching in upper jaw (or in one eye-tooth) extending toward eye, in evening. Stitches in hollow t. Toothache, < warm drinks.

Mouth.—Foul odor from, early in morning. Salivation. Difficult speech.

Appetite, etc.—Indifference to food, drink and smoking. Great appetite in evening. Ravenous hunger during chill.

Stomach.—Pressure in, from mental exertion. Pain in, as tho' a bruised place were pressed upon.

Stool.—Diarrhœa, preceded by cutting in abdomen and chill.

Urine.—Nightly involuntary discharge of, from weakness of urinary organs. Incontinence from weakness of sphincter vesicæ. Interrupted urination, the urine passes drop by drop, with insensibility of urethra. Feeble stream.

Sexual Organs.—Drawing and twitching in spermatic cord. Spasmodic retraction of testes. Violently excited sexual desire. Impotency from a sudden disappearance of voluptuous sensations during coition.

Menses.—Of pale, watery blood, too early and too profuse. Uterine hemorrhage.

Respiration.—Short, seeming to arise from epigastrium. Deep, sighing r., with in-

MAGENTIS POLUS AUSTRALIS.

- voluntary swallowing at the same time. Slow, loud, snuffling expiration before, and a similar inspiration after midnight
- Chest.—Pressive pain in, with anxiety. Violent palpitation.
- Back.—Heat in. Lumbar ache.
- Upper Extremities—Rumbling and gurgling down arm. Panaritium with throbbing in finger-tips
- Lower Extremities—Paralytic drawing in legs. Easy dislocation of ankle. Varicose veins during pregnancy. Ingrowing toe-nails; they grow into the flesh.
- Generalities.—Great tendency to take cold; on exposure to slight cold, nose, ears, hands and feet are frozen, and in a warm room they become hot, creep and itch. Great aversion to open air. Sensation of a cold wind blowing over entire body. Twitching pains here and there. Bruised pain in parts upon which he does not lie. Many symptoms are intensified by motion.
- Sleep.—Sleepiness with inability to sleep before midnight.
- Fever.—Warmth all over. Warmth constantly predominates.
- Allied Remedies.—Ign., M-arct., Nux-v., Zinc.

MAGNESIA CARBONICA.

- Mind.—Anxiety and fearfulness, with trembling and heat. Peevishness in evening.
- Head.—Congestion to. Pressive pain over entire h., with preoccupation during mental exertion. Stitches in side upon which he lies at night. Tension in occiput. Dandruff on scalp, itching during wet weather.
- Eyes.—Inflamed, with obscuration of cornea. Agglutinated early in morning. Swollen eyeball. Black spots before. Cataract.
- Ears.—Difficult hearing. Sensitive to noise. Diminution of hearing, especially in the room, with buzzing and roaring in.
- Nose.—Complete stoppage, compelling one to open the mouth.

MAGNESIA CARBONICA.

- Face.—Sickly, earthy countenance. Changing color. Tension, as tho' white of egg had dried on. Puffiness and nodular swellings on. Face-ache; nightly tearing, boring and digging in zygoma, insupportable during rest.
- Teeth.—Ache when driving. Burning in, in evening and at night in bed, insupportable during rest, compelling him to get up. Ache, with great physical restlessness. Sticking in, after eating. Ache during pregnancy. Worse: Cold.
- Mouth.—Nightly dryness in. Vesicular eruption in, and on tongue. Sticking sore throat when talking and swallowing. Stitches in throat. Roughness in throat, as from awns of barley. Often there is a sudden faltering in speech.
- Appetite.—Great, for vegetables with aversion to meat. Violent thirst for water at night.
- Taste.—Sour, in mouth. Lost, of food, it tastes like straw.
- Stomach.—Spasm of. Pressive contraction in, with sour eructations.
- Abdomen.—Spasmodic colic in; with discharge of leucorrhœa, or during menses.
- Stool.—Constipated and retained. Green, frothy diarrhœa with cutting in abdomen. Sour-smelling d. of children.
- Urine.—Greatly increased, pale or greenish. Involuntary discharge of. Enuresis.
- Sexual Organs.—Diminished sexual desire. Erections wanting.
- Menses.—Retarded or entirely suppressed. Pale face and other symptoms, during. White, acrid, mucous leucorrhœa.
- Cough.—Violent, from tickling in throat or thyroid region, dry in evening and at night; in morning and by day, expectoration of a yellow, thin, but tenacious, mucus, or of dark blood of a somewhat saltish taste. Spasmodic, at night Hæmoptysis.
- Chest.—Constriction of. Soreness in.
- Back.—Violent bruised pain at night in, and in lumbar region.
- Upper Extremities.—Nightly tearing in shoulder, with crawling extending into fingers. Cracks in skin of hands. Sticking, spreading vesicles on hands and fingers. Inflammatory swelling and redness of fingers.

MAGNESIA CARBONICA.

Lower Extremities.—Burning spots on shin-bone. Boils on lower leg. Cramp in calves at night.

Generalities.—Painless twitchings here and there. Emaciation and physical relaxation, especially of children. General painfulness of entire body. Sense of great exhaustion when sitting. Sudden falling to the ground with unconsciousness. In evening, after prolonged sitting, restlessness in limbs, which necessitates rising. Most symptoms appear or are intensified in the evening and at night, as well as during rest.

Skin.—Spreading vesicles on hands and fingers. Small, red, painless herpes, which afterward desquamate. Violent itching. Small boils. Dry.

Sleep.—Day sleepiness. Unrefreshing, at night. Crying out during. Sleeplessness from nightly oppression in abdomen. Anxious dreams.

Fever.—Pulse: Somewhat accelerated, at night only. Chill: And shuddering, with external coldness in evening and after lying down, only disappearing slowly. Heat: Most in forenoon, often with sweat, but on head only. In evening after chill. Nightly, anxious, internal, with restlessness and fear of uncovering. Sweat: During whole night, most profuse in the morning hours. Greasy, staining the linen yellow, at the same time it is sour and fetid.

Allied Remedies.—Ars., Bro., Cham., Coff., Coloc., Graph., Kali-c., Mag-m., Nux-v., Puls., Rhe.

MAGNESIA MURIATICA.

Mind.—Anxious tearful mood. Peevish, ill-humor.

Vertigo.—Giddiness in head with heaviness thereof, especially early in morning.

Head.—Congestion to, with roaring therein. Tensive pressure in forehead on awaking. Gripping and raging in temples in evening while in bed. Numb feeling in forehead, with stupefaction of head. Worse: Early on awaking; lying down. Better: Wrapping head warmly; walking in open air.

MAGNESIA MURIATICA.

Eyes.—Inflamed, with red sclerotic and violent burning when looking into light. Nightly agglutination. Yellow sclerotic.

Ears.—Pulsation in. Deafness, as tho' something were lying before.

Nose.—Swelling of wings. Want of smell, with scurfs in nostrils paining violently when touched. Coryza: With discharge of yellow, offensive mucus, and diminished taste and smell; stuffed c. at night.

Face.—Pale, yellowish complexion. Eruption, paining violently when touched. Cramping pains in facial bones. Large, clear blisters on vermillion border of lips. Cracked lips.

Teeth.—Eyeteeth are painful and feel elongated. Toothache greatly < by touch of food. Gums bleed easily, are swollen and painful.

Mouth.—Burned sensation in entire buccal cavity. Thick, tenacious mucus in throat, is hawked loose with difficulty. Rawness and soreness in fauces.

Appetite, etc.—Ravenous hunger and hungry sensation in stomach. Hunger without knowing what he wants. Inclination to nibble dainties. Violent thirst.

Eructation.—Sense of a ball rising into throat, disappearing after eructation. Hiccough during and after dinner, so violent that the stomach becomes sore.

Stomach.—Ulcerative and bruised pain in, also sensitive to touch externally.

Hypochondria.—Chronic inflammation of liver. Stitches in hepatic region. Pressive pains in liver, < lying on right side.

Abdomen.—Constant, violent distension of, with constipation. Tearing in. Old, painful induration of right lower a. Hysterical uterine and abdominal spasms which extend into thighs and are followed by a discharge of leucorrhœa.

Stool.—Knotty, hard, difficult, unsatisfactory and retarded. Diarrhœa of mucus and blood.

Urine.—Diminished flow.

MAGNESIA MURIATICA.

Menses.—Too early and too profuse, with violent lumbar pains and a remarkably pale face. Suppressed. Leucorrhœa, especially during motion.

Cough.—Dry, in evening and at night. Spasmodic, nightly c., with tickling in throat. During day, with expectoration of a watery but tenacious, yellowish, sometimes purulent mucus mixed with clots of blood, of a fatty taste and offensive odor.

Larynx.—Roughness and dryness in. Burning in. Hoarseness.

Chest.—Stitches at heart, which arrest breathing. Palpitation when sitting, which disappears during motion. Constriction in cardiac region. Burning soreness in. Ulcerative pain in.

Back.—Burning in, especially after coition.

Upper Extremities.—Asleep sensation in arms, on awaking early in morning.

Lower Extremities.—Restlessness in thighs when sitting. Cramps in calves at night. Foot sweat. Burning in soles.

Generalities.—Restlessness of entire body, as soon as she closes her eyes, in evening when in bed. Jerkings thro' body, at night while lying awake. General sick and bruised sensation, with great sensitiveness to noise. Attacks of hysterical spasms. Most complaints appear at night and during rest, especially when sitting, and are > by gentle motion. With the exception of the chest complaints, he feels better in the open air.

Sleep.—Great day sleepiness, with indolence and yawning. Nightly sleeplessness on account of heat, with restlessness and violent thirst. Late falling to. Frequent waking, from cough.

Fever.—Pulse: Somewhat accelerated, with ebullition of blood when sitting. Chill: In evening between four and eight o'clock, even when near a warm stove, slowly disappearing after lying down. Heat: After the chill, in evening until midnight. In evening, with sweat on head only. With thirst. Sweat: With thirst, continuing from midnight until morning. Early morning sweat.

Allied Remedies.—Calc-c., Lyc., Mag-c., Nux-v., SEP., Sul.

MANGANUM.

MANGANUM.

Mind.—Quiet, introverted, peevishness.

Head.—Congestion to. Sticking or tensive ache. Painful concussion in brain during motion. Headaches which come on when in the room, are > in open air and vice versa.

Eyes.—Burning heat and dryness. Myopia.

Ears.—Violent earache. Sticking pain in, when talking, laughing, swallowing and walking briskly. Pains migrate from other parts into ears. Difficult hearing, as from stoppage of, varying with the change of weather. Cracking in, when blowing nose and swallowing.

Nose.—Stuffed coryza, with obstruction of both nostrils.

Face.—Pale, sunken. Dry lips. Corners of mouth ulcerated.

Teeth.—Painfully sensitive. Smarting ache, insupportably intensified by cold things. Violent (tearing) pains, suddenly migrating to other parts, especially to ears.

Mouth.—A dull stitch on both sides of larynx extending into ears, when swallowing. Sore throat, a cutting soreness when not swallowing. Chronic inflammation of throat. Nodules and burning vesicles on tongue.

Appetite, etc.—Aversion to food, with a sense of satiety. Thirstless.

Taste.—Foul, flat, in mouth.

Stomach.—Burning in, extending up into chest, with great restlessness.

Stool.—Dry, knotty, difficult. Constipation.

Urine.—Frequent urging to urinate. Earthy, violet-colored sediment.

Genitals.—Twitching drawing in spermatic cord, with a sense of weakness in g.

Menses.—Too early.

Respiration.—Hot breath, with disagreeable warmth in chest.

Cough.—Dry, when reading aloud and talking, with painful dryness and roughness in larynx. Easy expectoration of much, grayish, yellow mucus in lumps, early in morning.

Larynx.—Rough, hoarse voice early in morning and in open air, from old established laryngo-tracheal affections. Phthisis of, and of trachea.

MANGANUM.

Chest.—Stitches shooting upwards and downwards in sternum and chest. Unpleasant warmth in. Thrusts from above downward at heart.

Generalities.—Violent drawing and tearing in extremities. Insupportable, nightly digging pains in joints. Red, glistening swelling of joints after taking cold. Arthritic gout with sticking, twitching and digging, mostly at night, often one-sided or diagonal, with red, glistening swelling of joints. Painful soreness of entire body to touch. Many symptoms change for better or worse with the weather, but are always worst at night.

Bones.—Insupportable nightly digging in, and in periosteum. Inflammation of, and of periosteum.

Skin.—Excoriation and deep cracks in flexures of joints. Itching herpes. Skin does not heal easily.

Sleep.—Great drowsiness and fatigue at 8 o'clock in evening. Numerous, very vivid or distinctly remembered dreams.

Fever.—Pulse: Very uneven and irregular, now quick, now slow, but always weak and soft. Chill: Mostly in evening, with icy-cold hands and feet. With heat in head and ache in forehead, lasting long after the chill. Shaking chill, with sticking headache, without thirst in evening. Heat: Sudden flying heat in face, on chest and over back. Sweat: Profuse all over, with short, anxious breathing. Itching night-sweat, often on neck and legs only.

Allied Remedies.—Bry., (CHIN.,) Lyc., Fuls.

MARUM.

Mind.—Indolence, with indisposition to both mental and physical exertion. Greatly increased irritability after eating. Extraordinary excitability and sensitiveness. Irresistible inclination to sing.

Head.—Pressive pain in front, < stooping.

Eyes.—Look as tho' he had been weeping, with biting in canthi and red conjunctiva. Biting tears in, when in open air.

MARUM.

Ears.—Ache, with sticking pains. Dry herpes on lobules. A hissing sound in, excited by passing the hand over them, talking and drawing air thro' nose.

Nose.—Violent crawling in. Sticking tearing high up in. Sensation as tho' one nostril, were half obstructed. Nasal polypi. Frequent sneezing, with crawling in, without coryza. Coryza with stopped nostrils.

Face.—Pale countenance. Frequent sense of a flush of heat, without redness. A pair of deep furrows with high edges on both sides of inner surface of under lip.

Teeth.—Violent tearing in roots of stomach-teeth and adjacent gums.

Mouth.—Biting and scraping in posterior fauces and at root of tongue. Much mucus in. Pressive or sticking sore throat, which impedes swallowing.

Appetite.—Sensation of hunger, in morning and evening.

Taste.—Musty, after hawking up mucus.

Regurgitation.—Of ingesta of a bitter taste.

Stomach.—Sense of emptiness with rumbling in. Anxious oppression in pit.

Abdomen.—Cutting in bowels after drinking beer or water.

Flatulence.—Copious, silent discharge of hot, bilious-smelling flatus. Obstructed f.

Stool.—Profuse evacuation of papescent, foul feces. Discharge of many ascarides.

Anus.—Incessant itching and crawling in.

Urine.—Increased discharge of watery urine.

Genitals.—Greatly diminished sexual desire.

Cough.—In evening after lying down, a short, dry, irritating c., from tickling in upper air passages (or as from dust therein); it is < by the cough itself.

Chest.—Tight feeling in (not connected with breathing). Accumulation of mucus, with a sense of dryness in air passages.

Upper Extremities.—The fingers are easily bent over. Burning in finger-tips. Panaritia.

Lower Extremities.—Toe-nails are ulcerated and grow into the flesh.

Generalities.—Rheumatic tearing in limbs, especially in bones and joints. Asleep sensation in limbs. Sensation of nervous agitation and trembling in entire body. Sense of general relaxation at noon. Desire for exercise in open air, which is very agreeable and does not tire.

MARUM.

Bones.—Tearing in Sleep.—Nightly restlessness and sleeplessness from excitement, especially before midnight. Late falling to.

Fever.—Pulse: Somewhat accelerated toward evening. Chill: After each meal, seemingly spreading from abdomen. With trembling in evening, especially when speaking of disagreeable things. Want of natural vital heat. Heat: Toward evening, with great excitement and loquacity. Sweat: Wanting.

Allied Remedies.—Coff., Igu.

MENYANTHES.

Mind.—Anxiety about heart, as tho' some evil impended. Sad weeping mood.

Head.—Constant heaviness. Pressive ache, > external pressure with hand, < after eating and when ascending steps. Headache pressing together from sides.

Eyes.—Pressure in. Stiff lids, like a tonic spasm. When reading everything turns black.

Ears.—Stitches in. Discharge from. Cracking in, when chewing.

Nose.—Tension in root of. Odor as of rotten eggs before. Coryza with a stopped feeling.

Face.—Redness and heat of, during sleep. Painless twitching of facial muscles. Pain and cracking in maxillary joint when chewing.

Mouth.—Great dryness in throat, without thirst. Sensation when yawning and coughing, as tho' left side of palate were paralyzed.

Appetite.—Ravenous hunger disappearing after eating. Violent hunger preceded by heat in stomach. Desire for meat and aversion to bread and butter.

Stomach.—Grumbling and sensation of emptiness in.

MENYANTHES.

Abdomen.—Cold feeling in. Painful soreness of external walls.

Stool.—Hard and constipated.

Urine.—Frequent urging to urinate, with diminished discharge.

Sexual Organs.—Excessive sexual desire without erections.

Larynx.—Spasmodic narrowing of, efforts to inspire excite cough. Rough, hoarse voice with stoppage of ears.

Neck.—Paralytic tension in muscles of. Stiff nape.

Chest.—Pressing together from both sides of, with stitches, inspiration greatly <. Stitches in cardiac region.

Back.—Bruised pain in lumbar region when sitting and stooping.

Upper Extremities.—Cramp-like pain in arms, hands and fingers. Bloodvessels on hands and forearms are distended.

Lower Extremities.—Cramp-like pains in legs. Bruised sensation in thigh. Extremely cold feet.

Generalities.—Visible but painless muscular twitchings in various parts, principally during rest. Cramp-like pains in extremities. Pinching sticking in limbs and joints. Most symptoms are intensified during rest and toward evening, and are better during motion and from the laying on of hands.

Fever.—Pulse: Slow during the chill, accelerated during the heat. Chill: Predominating. With shuddering over back, icy cold hands and feet and cold feeling in abdomen. General, it disappears near a warm stove, except on back. Overrunning shudders without chill, (as if hearing some gruesome tale) on upper part of body only. Chilly feeling on fingers and legs. Heat: General in evening, most severe on head, with cold feet. Sense of, especially in back, intermingled with a feeling of coldness, particularly in abdomen. Without thirst. Sweat: In evening in bed, immediately after lying down, often lasting all night.

Allied Remedies.—Asaf., Calc-c., Cann., Plat., Sep.

MERCURIUS.

MERCURIUS.

- Mind.—Great mental (and bodily) restlessness, especially in evening and at night. Effects of grief or fright, with nightly anxiety and fear. Impatience and wilfulness. Inclination to contradict and quarrel. Dissatisfied and complains about everything, his relations, surroundings, etc. Satiety of life. Desire to escape. Homesickness.
- Sensorium.—Whirling vertigo when lying on back, with headache, blackness before eyes, nausea and heat. Sweetish rising in throat, followed by fainting, then sleep.
- Head.—Congestion to. Tearing, burning pain in one (mostly the left) side and temple. Bursting ache. Pains: Burning, sticking; festering; ascending from nape. Feels as if a band lay around it, or it were screwed in. Meningitis, with ebullition and throbbing in forehead. Painful soreness of. Exostoses easily passing into caries. Open fontanelles. Eruption of offensive yellowish crusts on. Tickling and crawling itching; bleeding easily when scratched or passing into an erysipelalous inflammation. Falling of hair. Worse: Evening; becoming insufferable in warmth of bed at night; touch. Better: Sitting up; after rising from bed; at rest; in a warm room; laying hand on part; dry weather; rubbing.
- Eyes.—Ulcerated and scurfy tarsi, with scurfs around eyes. Inflamed, with intolerance of firelight. Profuse, acrid lachrymation. Pain as of a cutting body under lids. Biting and burning in, especially in open air. Black points before. Progressive paralysis of optic nerve. Aversion to light and firelight.
- Ears.—Earache; tearing or sticking pains. Ulceration of concha. Discharge of blood and foul-smelling pus from. Fungous growths in. Swelling of parotid gland. Difficult hearing, > after blowing nose. Roaring in.
- Nose.—Red, glistening swelling of. Nose-bleed; blood coagulates quickly. Violent, fluent coryza; acrid watery discharge. Sneezing.
- Face.—Deathly pallor. Dirty, earth-colored. Dirty yellow crusts on, which bleed after scratching. Pimply eruption on chin. Swelling of one cheek. Sore, cracked lips. Induration of submaxillary (parotid and cervical) glands.
- Teeth.—Ragged, swollen gums, with nightly burning, smarting pains, especially when touched and during eating. Ulcerated gums, with jagged prominences. Teeth loose, falling out. Nightly tearing toothache, excited by cold air, eating and cold as well as warm drinks. Stitches in.
- Mouth.—Fetid odor from. Burning ulcers or aphthæ in. Swelling of soft palate, pharynx and tongue. Burning in throat. Inflammation and suppuration of throat. Constant inclination to swallow. Sticking pain in throat and tonsils when swallowing. Copious, fetid saliva. Swelling, induration and suppuration of tongue. Inability to speak. Hoarse, husky voice.
- Appetite, etc.—Ravenous hunger, with weak digestion. Aversion to all food. Unquenchable, burning thirst. Violent thirst for cold drinks.
- Taste.—Putrid (also salty or sweetish).
- Nausea, etc.—Inclination to vomit, with a sweetish taste in throat. Nightly vomiting of bile.
- Stomach.—Pressure in, with sensation as tho' hanging down heavily, after every meal.
- Hypochondria.—Inflammation and induration of liver, with sticking pains.
- Abdomen.—Inflammation, with distension of. Cutting and pinching in, after taking cold. Feeling of something alive in. Ascites (following inflammation of the mesenteric glands). Inflammatory swelling and suppuration of inguinal glands. Erysipelas encircling abdomen.
- Stool.—Frequent, ineffectual urging to, with tenesmus, especially at night. Dysenteric diarrhœas with tenesmus. Acrid, bloody, mucus. Sour-smelling, green, excoriating anus. Involuntary.
- Rectum.—Prolapsus of, during and after, urging to stool.
- Urine.—Frequent, sudden urging to urinate, with scanty discharge. Excessive urination. Dark red, very foul smelling u.

MERCURIUS.

Sexual Organs.—Gonorrhœa of glans (Jacaranda)†. Gonorrhœic discharge from penis, especially at night. Swelling of glans and foreskin. Ulcers on glans and foreskin, with a cheesy lardaceous base and hard margin. Painful nightly erections. Prolapsus uteri.

Menses.—Too profuse, with abdominal pains and anxiety. Purulent, corrosive leucorrhœa.

Respiration.—Short, when ascending steps, and walking rapidly.

Cough.—Dry, hacking, as tho' head and chest would burst. Spasmodic, always in two rapidly succeeding fits, excited by irritation in larynx and upper part of chest. Dry at night; in daytime, expectoration of a thin, acrid, purulent, yellow mucus often mixed with bright red, somewhat clotted blood, and of a repulsive or saltish taste and offensive odor. Hæmoptysis.

Larynx.—Hoarseness, even to aphonia.

Neck.—Swollen cervical glands, with sticking pains therein.

Chest.—Spasms of. Stitches, extending to back, < coughing. Bursting pain in. Soreness. Dry feeling in. Burning in. Inflammation of lungs. Palpitation. Deformed, suppurating nipples. Bad breast milk, it is repugnant to infant.

Back.—Bruised pain in scapula, back and lumbar region.

Upper Extremities.—Nightly tearing in shoulders, upper arm and legs. Hot, red swelling of forearm. Cracks on fingers. Hang nails.

Lower Extremities.—Nightly tearing in. Dropsical swelling of thigh and leg. Painful swelling of bones of feet.

Generalities.—Nightly tearing pains in extremities, with continual sweating. Sticking pains in limbs and joints. Gouty arthritis, with swelling and cold sensation in affected parts. Tremulous restlessness of limbs in the evening. Great debility and weakness from slight exertion. The symptoms are < in the evening, at night they become quite insupportable from the warmth of the bed.

Glands.—Inflammatory swelling and induration of. Suppurating.

Bones.—Painfulness of all. Inflammation, with nightly pains. Suppurative osteitis. Rachitis.

Skin.—Increased itching, from warmth of bed at night. So-called fatty itch. Dry, miliary eruption bleeding when scratched. Eruptions burn after scratching. Hot inflammations with tardy formation of pus. Syphilitic ulcerations. Liver spots.

Sleep.—Late falling to sleep on account of anxiousness and restlessness. Prevented by frightful phantasies. Very light sleep. Somnolency.

Fever.—Pulse: Irregular, mostly full and accelerated, with strong throbbing in blood vessels; sometimes weak, slow and trembling, seldom intermittent. Disappearing; with warmth of body. Ebullition of blood, with trembling from slight exertion. Chill: In early morning while rising, but most in evening when lying down; as if dashed with cold water, not > by warmth of stove. Nocturnal, with frequent urination. Alternating with heat; often on single parts only. Internal, with heat of face. Heat: In bed, and chill out of it. After midnight, with violent thirst for cold drinks. Anxious h., with compression of chest. Sweat: Toward morning, with thirst and palpitation. Profuse, from least exertion, even from eating. Evenings, in bed, before going to sleep. Copious night sweats, very debilitating. Sour or offensive smelling, also cold, greasy or sticky s., and burning on skin. Sweat, or at least dampness of skin with almost all pains. On affected parts.

Allied Remedies.—Aco., Ag-c., Alo., ANT-C., Ap., Arg., Arg-n., Arn., Ars., ASAF., Aur., BELL., Bry., Calc-c., CARB-V., CHIN., Cic., Cina., Clem., Coff., Cold., Cupr., Dig., Dulc., EUPHORB., Guai., HEP., Iod., Kalibi., LACH., Laws., Lyc., MERC-C., Mez., NIT-AC., Nux-v., OP., Phos-ac., Phyt., Plat., Pod., Puls., Rhe., Rhod., Rhus-t., SARS., Selen., Sep., Sil., Spig., STAPH., Sul., Thuja., Valer., Verat-a., Zinc.

MERCURIUS CORROSIVUS.

MERCURIUS CORROSIVUS.

Mind.—Great agitation with anxiety, inquietude and continued jactitation. Anxiety, during sleep. Low spirited. Ill humor. Weak intellect. Indecent exposure. Delirium and stupor. Disconnected speech.

Vertigo.—On lifting head.

Head.—Confusion, > emission of flatus. Congestion to, and to face, with burning cheeks. Pains: Violent; causing screaming; as if on fire; sticking; tearing in occiput; aching, drawing in pericranium; undulating, in brain. Falling of hair.

Eyes.—Protruding. Glistening. Inflamed. Bloodshot. Burning in. Dry. As if forced out from behind. Tearing in bones above. Squint. Lachrymation in, open air. Objects seem smaller and more distant. Worse: Light.

Ears.—Violent pulsation in. Whirring, rythmical with the pulse.

Nose.—Coryza. Frequent nosebleed. Perforation of cartilage. Discharge like isinglass. Dryness, in back of, < in open air.

Face.—Swollen, worse lower part; tense shining cheeks; and red. Pale, anxious and pinched. Frowning. Hippocratic, with sunken eyes. Convulsive motions of. Tearing in malar bones. Necrosis of upper jaw. Painfully swollen glands.

Lips.—Black; excessively swollen and tender. Blue. Dry and cracked. Convulsive motions at corners of.

Teeth.—Loose; and feel blunt. Sordes on. Prickling at roots of. Gums: Purple. Swollen, spongy and tender, bleeding easily. Inflamed, with burning pains. Ulcerated. Worse: Night.

Tongue.—Inflamed, swollen, preventing protrusion.

Mouth.—Inflammation, swelling, ulceration and burning heat, extending into stomach. Great dryness of, and of throat, with intolerable thirst for cold water. Rawness of and of throat. Fissured. False membrane in, and in throat. Fetor. Salivation: Bloody; yellowish; difficult to expectorate. Better: Cold water.

Taste.—Bitter; salt; astringent, metallic; fatty.

Throat.—Excessively violent burning pain in fauces, pharynx and œsophagus. Swelling: Threatening suffocation; of pillars and tonsils; of uvula with elongation; of glands; externally, with heat. Extremely painful soreness of, and of mouth and tongue. Constriction with dysphagia. Spasm of glottis, œsophagus and stomach. Dark, or fiery redness of. Scraping roughness, causing hawking. Filled with a glairy, sticky or bloody mucus. As if something stuck in lower œsophagus. Better: Cold water. Worse: Slightest external pressure.

Stomach.—Painful inflammation and contraction of gastro-intestinal tract. Hiccup, with every motion of body. Regurgitation thro' nose. Vomiting: Violent, with constriction of throat; incessant; after least quantity of water, with nausea, painful retching and insatiable thirst; spasmodic; profuse; at night; with frightful pains in pit and umbilical regions; with bilious diarrhœa; green; stringy; sticky; bloody, in streaks or like coffee grounds; blue. Pains: Pricking; gripping; pinching. Swelling of. Ulcers and ecchymoses in. Worse: Slight pressure.

Abdomen.—Swollen, tympanitic and exquisitely sensitive. Pains: Cutting; gripping; pinching; sticking; bruised, worse in coccal region and transverse colon; colicky at umbilicus; in epigastrium, with cramps in pelvic and genital organs. Coldness of skin all over. Apprehension in lower, and in bladder region. Swollen sensation in inguinal and axillary glands. Worse: Sensitive to touch, pressure and the air. Better: Passing flatus. Bending double.

Stool.—Bloody: Frequent, at night, with great tenesmus and colic; scanty, of blood and mucus, with constant desire; dysenteric, of scanty bloody mucus with cutting in abdomen, excessively painful tenesmus and almost ineffectual urging; dark green; blackish; streaked; bluish; grumous; pasty; of membranous shreds; involuntary, of pure blood; very offensive; purulent.

MERCURIUS CORROSIVUS.

Rectum.—Oozing corrosive ichor. Violent burning in, and in anus. Distressing tenesmus, getting worse and worse, passes nothing but blood-tinged mucus. Inflammation and ulceration of.

Urinary Organs.—Suppression of urine and stool. Urination frequent, scanty; urine passed drop by drop with great pain, burning and tenesmus. Urine: Albuminous; thick; blackish; bloody; containing mucus; scalding. Pyelitis Bladder: Feels full, even after micturition; inflamed; contracted. Gonorrhœa, discharge thick, with smarting urination and shooting pains along urethra. Sticking, burning, itching, shooting and inflammation in urethra and meatus.

Sexual Organs.—Inflamed and enormously swollen. Violent erections and sexual desire; burning in urethra after coition. Shooting or painful griping in testicles. Leucorrhœa of a nauseating sweetish odor. Suppressed menses, with headache and trembling of hands, legs and neck. Menses excessive, like a flooding. Pressive pain on touching os uteri during coition. Painful swelling of glands around nipples.

Respiratory Organs.—Paroxysmal tickling in throat, with convulsive, suffocative cough and anxiety. Coughs up blood-tinged mucus. Dryness of larynx. Frequent stitches shoot through thorax. Chronic pleuro-pneumonia, especially of left side. Cramp from right breast to back, just below scapula. Milk suppressed.

Heart.—Beat: Tumultuous; intermittent. Pulse uneven.

Neck and Back.—Tonic cramps during which respiration stops. Lumbar pains which spread into hypogastrium and groins, alternating with convulsions and contraction of muscles.

Extremities.—Hands and feet livid, shrunken and cold. Fornication, numbness, heaviness, weakness and trembling of. Cramps, convulsions or stiffness of. Lax feeling in deltoid, calf and thigh muscles; in joints.

Lower Extremities.—Drawn up. Sticking, tearing or shooting pains in hip joint. Feet icy cold. Paralysis and complete insensibility of. Pricking in.

Generalities.—Violence characterizes its action. Intolerably violent pains. Osteocopic pains; painful drawing in periosteum. Acrid or corrosive discharges. Spasms and spasmodic motions. Tremblings. Lying on back with knees bent up. Great debility and inclination to lie down. Extreme sensitiveness of whole body. Paralytic stiffness and paralysis of extremities, with extreme sensitiveness to the slightest motion, headache at the root of the nose, eyes fixed and brilliant, and skin dry, sweating on forehead only. Violent swelling and burning of affected parts. Pains in body with general stiffness, more from movement. Worse: Walking in open air aggravates many symptoms. Acids. Fat foods. Motion. Night. Better: Rest.

Skin.—Fornication in. Desquamative dermatitis. Shriveled. Dry, burning, hot and smarting. Great coldness of. Pustules. Itching, prickling, sticking in. Rapid ulcerations.

Sleep.—Continual insomnia. Somnolency, frequent yawning and stretching. Starting during or on falling to sleep. Frightful dreams. Coma.

Fever.—Pulse: Small, weak, often intermittent; sometimes tremulous. Chill: From the least movement and in open air; cutting in abdomen is an almost constant accompaniment. Chilliness in evening, especially on head. Chill at night in bed. Heat: External, with yellow skin. Burning and sticking heat in skin. Heat when stooping and coldness when raising up. Sweat: Night-sweat; towards morning it becomes offensive. Cold sweat often upon forehead only. Entire skin covered with a cold anxious sweat. Sticky sweat.

Allied Remedies.—Ars., Aur., Bell., Ganth., Kali-bi., Kali-io., Kre., Lach., MERC., Nit-ac., Nux-v., Sul-ac.

MEZEREUM.

MEZEREUM.

Mind.—Mental dulness. Frequent vanishing of thought. He seems intoxicated. Peevishness. Restlessness when alone, with desire for company. Hypochondriacal disposition, with low spirits and weeping.

Vertigo.—Dizzy, as tho' drunken, with pressure in temples and over eyes, and dulness in head, > eating.

Head.—Headache, with shivering and chilliness in open air. Unilateral, stupefying, pressive ache.

External Head.—Burning, biting, itching, most on vertex, < and changing its position from scratching, followed by smarting gatherings and a moist eruption. Bone pains on both sides of crown, often ending in swelling and caries with great sensitiveness to cold. Numbness of scalp, with drawing therein, in one, seldom both sides. Worse: Evening; cold; undressing; after lying down; touch; motion.

Eyes.—Pressure in, as tho' balls were too large. Twitching of muscles about.

Nose.—Excoriated nostrils. Diminished sense of smell. Fluent coryza, with burning and excoriation of nose and upper lip.

Face.—Pale. Squeezing, benumbing pressure in malar bones, extending into temples. Swollen, cracked lower lip.

Teeth.—Sticking ache, extending into malar bones and temples. Rapidly become hollow. Boring sticking in hollow t., extending up into zygoma. Dull.

Mouth.—Dry in back part, with saliva in anterior part. Salivation. Continuous burning, also in throat. Narrowing and constriction of pharynx. Difficult speech.

Appetite, etc.—Beer tastes bitter and causes vomiting. Great hunger at noon and in evening. Anorexia, with constant thirst.

Eruclations.—Frequent, empty.

Qualmishness, etc.—With shivering and collection of water in month. Vomits blood; bitter, watery mucus. Retching.

Stomach.—Burning in. Intense pressure in.

Abdomen.—Burning in. Tense and hard. Tearing bellyache. Pains in spleen.

Flatulence.—Flatulent colic, with shortness of breath and chill.

Stool.—Frequent, small, diarrhœic, with unendurable pains in abdomen. Shaking chill before and after.

Anus.—Prolapsus recti during stool, which is difficult to replace on account of constriction of anus.

Urine.—Diminished discharge of. Bloody. Flocculent, with reddish sediment. Pale.

Sexual Organs.—Gonorrhœa of glands. Swelled testes.

Respiration.—Tightness of chest, as tho' it were too narrow, and with it a sensation as tho' lungs had become adherent.

Cough.—Dry, with retching and vomiting, in evening and at night. Violent, spasmodic, excited by irritation from larynx down into chest. In morning, with expectoration of a yellow or albuminous, tenacious mucus, tasting salty, or like an old catarrh. Intense c. when lying down. Hæmoptysis.

Trachea.—Hoarseness, with burning and dryness in.

Chest.—Stitches in, worse during inspiration. Painful tension of pectoral muscles. Sore pain and burning in bones of.

Lower Extremities.—Sciatica, with twitching pain and shortness of limbs.

Generalities.—Paralytic tension in limbs. Twitching and quivering in muscles. Burning of internal, with chill of external parts. Heaviness of limbs. Sensitive to cold air. The complaints are intensified by motion and touch. He feels worst in evening. Usually one-half of body only is entirely or partly affected.

Bones.—Exostoses. Caries.

Skin.—Nightly itching, with swelling after scratching, which is quickly followed by violent itching. Desquamation of, over entire body. Burning and sticking in inflamed ulcers. Ulcerations terminating in suppuration.

Sleep.—Great day sleepiness. Awakened by nightmare after midnight.

MEZEREUM.

Fever.—Pulse: Full and hard, sometimes intermittent; accelerated in evening.
Chill: Predominates, even in a warm room. With external coldness and thirst for cold water, but without desire for warmth. Constant thirst during, with dryness of back part of mouth and increased collection of saliva in forepart, but without desire for drink. Chilliness and shivering with most complaints. Great sensitiveness to cold air. Which runs from upper arms down back to feet.
Heat: In bed; most on head. Internal, with external coldness. Sweat: With sleep, immediately after the chill, without previous heat. Cold sweats.

Allied Remedies.—Arg-n., Bry., Euphor., Kali-bi., Merc., Mur-ac., Nit-ac., Phyt., Rhus-t., Sil., Verbas.

MOSCHUS.

Mind.—Stupefying confusion of head. Hypochondriacal peevishness and anxiety. Anxiety and dread of death.

Vertigo.—From slightest motion of head. With loss of speech, yet sees and hears everything.

Head.—Violent congestion to. Stupefying compressive ache, especially in forehead, with qualunishness. Heaviness of. Tension in occiput extending into nape. Worse: Evening; moving head; in room; becoming cold. Better: Walking in open air; becoming warm.

Nose.—Crawling in tip of. Nosebleed. Stuffed coryza.

Eruetation.—Frequent, forcible e. of air.

Stomach.—Fulness and oppression in region. Pressure in pit extending thro' to back.

Abdomen.—Anxious fulness and oppression in, with restlessness. Tension and pressure in, coming from stomach. Hysterical spasms in, and in uterus.

Flatulence.—Shifting; becomes incarcerated

Stool.—Constipated for many days. Faint, sweetish smelling stools. Uncconscious, diarrhoic s., at night.

Urine.—Pungent, ammoniacal smelling.

Genitals.—Sexual desire violently excited.

Moschus—Too early and too profuse

MOSCHUS.

Respiration.—Oppression of, from suffocative constriction of chest, as soon as he becomes cold.

Cough.—Spasmodic, as if from constriction of chest and trachea, excited by sulphur vapor. Expectoration absent, or has absolutely ceased.

Larynx.—Speechlessness.

Chest.—Spasmodic constriction of, without cough, especially when becoming cold. Painful under arms when pressed upon. Anxious palpitation.

Upper Extremities.—One hand is hot, the other cold.

Lower Extremities.—Cold feeling in shin-bone. Restlessness in legs with a sensation as tho' becoming stiff, necessitating moving limbs.

Generalities.—Cramp-like pains in limbs. Prickling in limbs, with heaviness therein. Shaking and trembling throughout entire body. Weakness, which is more evident during rest than motion. Fainting followed by pains in head. Tetanic spasms. Tonic spasms of hypochondriacs. The part upon which he lies pains as tho' it would be dislocated or broken. Symptoms, especially those of respiration, are < on becoming cold. Extreme sensitiveness, the open air seems exquisitely cold to him.

Skin.—Herpes, with unbearable burning.

Sleep.—Comatose sleepiness especially in forenoon. Sleeplessness of hysterical persons. Somnolency.

Fever.—Pulse: Very full and accelerated, with strong ebullition of blood. Great anemia with weak pulse and faintings.

Chill: With shuddering spreading from scalp over entire body. Sensation as of cold air blowing on uncovered parts. External coldness with internal heat. Shuddering alternating with heat. One cheek hot without redness, the other red without heat. Heat: Burning, in evening in bed, often only on right side, with restless and inclination to uncover. One hand burning hot (and pale), the other cold (and red). Sweat: Smelling like musk. Clammy, in morning.

Allied Remedies.—BELL., Coccl., Coff., Nux-v., Op., Phos.

MURIATICUM ACIDUM.

MURIATICUM ACIDUM.

- Mind.—Introverted and silent with anxious solicitude. Sadness. Inclined to anger.
- Head.—Heaviness in occiput, with darkness before eyes. Aches, as tho' brain were torn and shattered. Sticking ache. Headache from raising up in bed or moving eyes.
- Eyes.—Swelling and redness of lids. Vertical hemiopia.
- Ears.—Cramp-like tearing in. Insensibility of inner auditory canal. Difficult hearing. Sensitive to noises.
- Nose.—Epistaxis. Dry nasal catarrh.
- Face.—Glowing red cheeks when walking in open air, without thirst. Scurfy, pimply eruption, especially about mouth. Freckles. Thick, swollen lower lip.
- Teeth.—Crawling in (lower). Throbbing ache, < cold drinks, > warmth. Swollen, ulcerated gums which bleed easily.
- Mouth.—Great dryness of entire buccal cavity. Burning, rawness and soreness in fauces. Heaviness of tongue when speaking, as tho' it contained lead. Deep ulcers on tongue. Difficult speech and paralysis of tongue.
- Appetite.—Gluttony and constant desire to drink.
- Eructations.—Putrid (or bitter).
- Stomach.—Empty sensation, also in œsophagus. Disagreeably sick sensation in.
- Hypochondriæ.—Tensive, squeezing (or empty sensation) in.
- Abdomen.—Distension of. Spasms in, with pinching in navicular region, which extends to sides. Disagreeable sensation of emptiness and discomfort in.
- Stool.—Fecal diarrhoea, with smarting and burning in anus. Involuntary discharge of watery s. when urinating. Too slender in form. With blood.
- Anus.—Moist hemorrhoids. Inflamed, thickly swollen, external hemorrhoids with excoriative, burning pain. Prolapsus recti when urinating.
- Urine.—Frequent urging to urinate, with profuse discharge. Excessive discharge of watery urine. Weakness of bladder and of neck thereof.
- Sexual Organs.—Impotency and dormant sexual instinct.
- Menses.—Too early and too profuse.
- Respiration.—Deep, groaning.
- Cough.—Violent, panting c., followed by downward rumbling and gurgling in chest. Excited by tickling in chest; dry in afternoon and evening; in morning, there is a slight loosening of yellow or watery uncoagulated mucus, of a fatty taste, which must be swallowed. Hæmoptysis of dark blood.
- Larynx.—Persistent hoarseness.
- Chest.—Dyspnoea, and constriction of. Bursting pain in, also pain as if beaten; soreness and stitches. Sticking in, and in cardiac region when breathing and after violent exertion. Cutting thrusts in centre of, with a dull pressure in posterior part of thorax. The heart beat is so violent at night that it is felt in face.
- Back.—Violent, pressing backache, as if from overlifting.
- Upper Extremities.—Heaviness of arms, especially forearms. Drawing in upper arm. Scurfy eruption on back of hands and fingers. Nightly numbness of fingers.
- Lower Extremities.—Spasmodic tearing in thighs. Tottering gait from weakness of thighs. Fetid ulcers on lower legs. Burning, swollen tips of toes.
- Generalities.—Drawing tearing in extremities during rest, > motion. Bruised pain in all joints. Debility so extraordinary, that upon sitting down the eyes immediately close. Great sensitiveness to wet weather.
- Bones.—Periosteum of all bones is painful, as in intermittent fever.
- Skin.—Scurfy eruptions, itching, particularly when getting warm in bed. Painful, putrid ulcers which burn at their circumference. Boils, sticking when touched. Black small-pox.
- Sleep.—Great day sleepiness quickly disappearing during motion. Continual snoring, groaning, tossing about and talking, with sliding down in bed, especially before midnight. Frequently wakened by a chill early in morning in bed.

MURIATICUM ACIDUM.

Fever.—Pulse: Weak and slow, intermits every third beat. Chill: Predominates. In evening, with cold feeling in back, with external warmth and burning of face. Shuddering over whole body with hot cheeks and cold hands. Shaking chill without thirst, with stretching and yawning. Chill and heat without thirst. Heat: Internal, with inclination to uncover and general physical restlessness. Burning, especially on palms and soles. Sweat: In first sleep until midnight, especially on head and back. Night and early morning sweat. A cold sweat on feet, first on lying down in evening.

Allied Remedies.—Ars., BRV., Lyc., Mz.

NATRUM CARBONICUM.

Mind.—Gloominess of head, with incapacity for thinking or any mental exertion, especially in room and when at rest. Great mental impressionability, everything (for instance music) excites trembling. Restlessness with attacks of anxiety, especially from the heavy air preceding a thunderstorm. Aversion to mankind and society. Hypochondriacal mood.

Vertigo.—From small quantities of liquor or mental or physical exertion, < in a room or walking in the sun.

Head.—Stupefying pressure in forehead followed by heat in head. Sticking ache in forehead and out thro' eyes, with heat in forehead and anxious sweat. Tearing in external forehead, recurring at certain hours of the day. Worse: Rest; in the sun; mental exertion. Better: Motion, in open air.

External Head.—Crampy tearing in cranial muscles, especially of forehead, with trembling and cold sweat. Worse: Rest; stormy weather. Better: Motion; rubbing; pressure.

Eyes.—Black spots or dazzling flashes before. Inflammatory swelling of lids. Ulcers on cornea. Inability to read small print. Photophobia.

Ears.—Difficult hearing. Sensitive to noises.

NATRUM CARBONICUM.

Nose.—Sensitive. Exfoliation of skin of. Stopped by hard, foul-smelling mucus. Coryza, with hoarseness from the least draft or cold, > from sweating only.

Face.—Heat with redness of. Yellow spots on forehead and upper lip. Numerous freckles. Humid, herpetic eruption on nose and about mouth.

Teeth.—Excessive sensitiveness of lower (incisors). Ache when eating fruit or sweet things.

Mouth.—Burning, flat ulcers or blisters in. Stuttering, from heaviness of tongue.

Appetite.—Ravenous hunger in forenoon. Inclined to nibble dainties. Violent, continuous thirst. Effects of cold drinks.

Taste.—Bitter or sour, in mouth.

Nausea.—Continuous, and sick stomach.

Stomach.—Extraordinary weakness of digestion, which causes ill-humor and general discomfort after the slightest dietetic errors or even after every meal. Pressure in, after every meal. Sensitiveness of pit to touch.

Hypochondriæ.—Stitches in splenic or hepatic region.

Abdomen.—Distension of. Colic, with retracted navel.

Flatulence.—Excessive generation of f., with painful movements in abdomen. Discharge of sour or fetid-smelling f.

Stool.—Frequent, ineffectual urging. Unsatisfactory. Bloody. Soft, with tenesmus.

Urine.—Stinking, with mucus deposit. Frequent, violent urging to urinate with excessive discharge. Burning in urethra during and after urination.

Sexual Organs.—Greatly intensified sexual desire, like a sort of priapism. Crushing pain in testes. Excoriated scrotum. Pressure and urging toward female s. o., as tho' everything would be forced out.

Menses.—Too early, with lumbar and abdominal pains. Profuse leucorrhœal discharge preceded by colicky pains.

Respiration.—Short and tight from tightness of chest.

Cough.—With purulent, salty expectoration. Violent, dry c., when passing from a cold into a warm place.

NATRUM CARBONICUM.

Neck.—Swelling of glands of. Hard swelling of thyroid gland.

Chest.—Constant chilliness in left side. Nightly, anxious palpitation when lying upon left side.

Upper Extremities.—Tearing in shoulders with weakness of arms Herpes or warts upon backs of hands. Burning blisters on fingers.

Lower Extremities.—Heaviness in legs and feet. Uncertain gait. Shortened ham strings. Herpes in popliteal spaces. Easy turning (wrenching) and dislocation of ankle. Cold feet. Chronic heel ulcers arising from spreading blisters. Excoriation between and blisters on tips of toes.

Generalities.—Involuntary twitching in muscles and limbs. Parts are easily sprained and dislocated. Relaxation and prostration of entire body. Great weakness and debility in all limbs, especially early in morning. Exhausted and ready to drop after a short walk. Easily takes cold. Aversion to open air. Great physical restlessness in evening unless he exerts himself mentally. Most complaints appear when sitting and disappear during motion, from pressure or rubbing. Anxiety, trembling and cold sweat during pain. The heavy air preceding a thunderstorm < the symptoms.

Glands.—Swelling and induration of.

Skin.—Dry, but on the slightest exertion it immediately sweats profusely. Herpes which enlarge and suppurate; in yellow rings. Ulcers, with swelling and inflammatory redness of affected parts.

Sleep.—Irresistible day sleepiness, but late falling to sleep in evening. Nightly restlessness. Twitching and jerking during. Many vivid dreams.

Fever.—Pulse: Excited, mostly at night, with ebullition of blood in body. Chill: And internal chilliness, with shuddering the whole day, most in forenoon, with cold hands and feet and hot head, or the reverse, with warm hands and cold cheeks. In evening, shivering, with dull confusion of head then heat with sleep. Heat: With weariness and sleep (without headache, which is very severe in Nat-m.). Running from neck down back, with great ill-humor. With concomitant sweat over entire body. Sweat: Profuse, anxious, from least exertion. Burning on forehead where the hat touches. Profuse at night. Nightsweat alternating with a dry skin. Cold, anxious s., with trembling during pain

NATRUM MURIATICUM.

Allied Remedies.—CALC-C., Caut., Graph., Kali., LYC., Nat-m., Nat-s., PULS., Sep., Sil. Spig., Sul.

NATRUM MURIATICUM.

Mind.—Weakness of understanding and memory. Distraction and absence of ideas. Melancholic sadness, with aversion to exertion. Melancholy, with much weeping, aggravated into violent outbursts of anger by consolation. Awkwardness. Angry irritability, easily flies into a passion. Anxiousness; frightened easily. Hatred toward those that have injured him. Haste and impatience. Concern for the future.

Vertigo.—With jerks in head and want of recollection. Painful dizziness in head.

Head.—Many kinds of headache. Throbbing and hammering, most in forehead, with nausea and vomiting. Heaviness of, every day, especially in occiput; it draws the eyes shut. Violent ache, as tho' it would burst. Tearing from root of nose into forehead, with darkness of vision. Attacks of gout in, with nausea and vomiting Painful stitches, which go through head like a jerk. Pain, as if compressed in a vise. Headache, often of an extraordinarily violent sort accompanies most other complaints. Worse: Awaking from sleep; early in morning; motion; cold air; anger; reading; writing; looking fixedly; mental exertion; talking. Better: Sitting or lying quietly, especially with head high; open air; after sweat.

NATRUM MURIATICUM.

- External Head.—Hair falls out when merely grasped, most on bregma and temples, but also on beard and genitals; especially frequent in child bed. Scalp smarts when touched, especially at edge of hair, on temples and forehead. Scalp feels contracted as if in a snare. Takes cold in. Worse: Night and morning; warmth of bed. Better: Sitting up.
- Eyes.—Inflamed, with ulcerated lids and glutinous mucus in (external) canthi. Acrid tears. Spasmodic closure of lids in evening. Letters run together when reading. Progressive paralysis of optic nerve. Weak vision.
- Ears—Swelling and heat of external. Purulent discharge from. Roaring in. Difficult hearing.
- Nose.—Dryness of internal. Numbness of one side. Painful swelling of one side. Lost smell. Early in morning stuffed (or fluent) coryza, with loss of smell and taste. Ineffectual attempts to sneeze.
- Face.—Glistens as if greasy. Yellowish, earthy complexion. Sweat on, when eating. Lips are cracked and ulcerated. Herpetic eruption about mouth. Swelling of the submaxillary glands.
- Teeth.—Very sensitive to air and touch. Drawing ache extending into ears and throat. Swollen gums, with sensitiveness to warmth or cold. Putrescent, easily bleeding gums. Dental fistula.
- Mouth.—Burning blisters in mouth and on tongue. Chronic sore throat, with sensation of being compelled to swallow over a lump. Gurgling in throat. Inflamed throat with sticking pains. Hawks up mucus, early in the morning. Numbness of half of tongue. Dry tongue, with constant thirst. Difficult speech from heaviness of tongue. Sense of a hair on tongue. Salivation.
- Appetite.—Extraordinary, at noon and in evening. Aversion to bread and fatty food. Desire for bitter food. After effects of sour food or bread. Continuous thirst. Complaints appear after drinking.
- Taste.—Lost. Putrid or sour, in mouth. Persistent after taste of sour food.
- Eructation.—Sour, after eating. After eating, heartburn and many empty eructations. Water collects in mouth.
- Nausea.—Qualmishness early in morning. Vomiting, at first food, then bile.
- Stomach.—Pressure, as of a stone in, with qualmishness. Contractive spasm in, with qualmishness. Gripping in pit. Sensitiveness of pit, which is swollen. Red spots on pit. Jerks and thrusts in pit.
- Hypochondria.—Chronic inflammation of liver, with sticking pains.
- Abdomen.—Distension of. Hypochondriacal discomfort in. Daily cutting and pinching in. Pressure in. Jerks and thrusts in. Disagreeable feeling in.
- Flatulence.—Incarcerated, with cutting and pinching. Loud grumbling and rumbling in abdomen.
- Stool.—Ineffectual urging to. Involuntary. Difficult, with stitches in rectum. Constipation.
- Anus.—Burning in, and in rectum during and after stool. Sticking anal hemorrhoids. Herpes at.
- Urine.—Violent urging to urinate (day and night), with profuse discharge of urine. Involuntary discharge of, when coughing, sneezing and walking.
- Sexual Organs.—Gonorrhoea of glans. Gleet. Itching in pudendum. Excessive sexual desire with impotency.
- Menses.—Too early and too profuse (or too late and too scanty) with sterility. Irregular. Suppressed. Delayed appearance of first, in young women. Headache before, during and after. Acrid leucorrhoea with a yellow face.
- Respiration.—Tightness of, chest when walking rapidly and during manual labor. Suffocative attacks. His breath seems hot to himself.
- Larynx.—Soreness and dry feeling in, and in trachea.
- Cough.—Long continued, dry c., with rattling in chest. Early in morning. From tickling in throat and epigastrium during day and night. Dry in evening; in morning expectoration of yellow, often blood streaked mucus, generally of a flat, sometimes sourish or more rarely a salty taste. With retching up of bloody mucus. During cough, sticking in chest and headache which threatens to burst forehead.

NATRUM MURIATICUM.

Chest.—Tension and cutting in. Stitches in, and in sides thereof. Violent anxious palpitation, most violent when lying upon left side. Snoring and rattling in. Heart beat irregular or frequently intermittent. Fluttering feeling at heart.

Neck.—Pains in cervical glands.

Back.—Lame, bruised feeling in and in sacral region. Drawing in.

Upper Extremities.—Weakness and paralytic heaviness of arms. Warts on palms of hands. Sweaty hands. Asleep sensation and crawling in fingers. Numerous hangnails.

Lower Extremities.—Dislocative pain in hip joint. Drawing pain in legs. Painful shortening of hamstrings. Heaviness of lower leg and foot. Stitches in corns.

Generalities.—Great relaxation of all mental and physical powers after exertion. Every movement excites the circulation exceedingly. Early in morning the limbs feel very weak and as if severely bruised. Extraordinary enaciation. Easily takes cold. Complaints from too much speaking. Bad effects of anger. Shortened tendons. Twitching of muscles and limbs. Paralyzes. Hysterical complaints. The nightly pains take away the breath and cause a sort of unilateral paralysis. He is weakest early in the morning when in bed.

Skin.—Ehives after violent exertion. Boils. Warts. Parvaritia and hang-nails.

Sleep.—Insufficient and unrefreshing in morning. Full of vivid fancies. Day sleepiness. Nightly sleeplessness, with ineffectual desire for. Anxious dreams.

Fever.—Pulse: Extremely irregular, often intermittent, especially when lying on left side, with throbbing and distension of blood vessels. Now quick and weak, then full and slow. Pulse-beat shakes the entire body perceptibly. Chill: Predominating, mostly internal, as if from want of natural vital heat, with icy-cold hands and feet, most in evening. Long continued, from morning to noon. Heat: Overrunning, with the most intolerably violent head pains, often with shuddering over the back, and sweat in arm-pits and on soles of feet. Long continued, in afternoon, with the most extraordinary head pains and insensibility, which gradually disappear during the subsequent sweat. Mostly with violent thirst. Intermittent fever with violent headache, especially during the heat. Sweat: Profuse, wherein the symptoms cease which appeared during the fever. Much during day, and great inclination thereto from every movement. Night and early morning s. Debilitating, somewhat sour smelling s.

NATRUM SULFURICUM.

Allied Remedies. — Ag-t., Alum, Anac., Ars., Bro., Cann., Carb-v., Chin., Gel., Kali-c., Kre., Nat-c., Nat-s., Nux-v., Petr., PULS., Ruta., Spig.

NATRUM SULFURICUM.

Mind.—Depressed, irritable and taciturn. Despair: Of recovery. Passionate. Sensitive. Music causes sadness.

Vertigo.—On rising, then ascending heat till sweat breaks out on forehead, with buzzing in head. Then vomits sour mucus. Inclines to fall to the right.

Head.—Dull, muddled feeling in, with darkness before eyes. Brain feels loose. Pain: As if to burst; as if top would split; like a hard substance in forehead; must hold it; like electric shocks; breaking in forehead, followed by sleepiness; grasping in forehead, > cold foot bath; tearing from r. temple to vertex, with shaking chill, or towards facial bones, or in occiput; boring, in bones; burning, with excessive feebleness; violent beating in temples; aching, when reading, which causes heat and sweat; pressive squeezing in occiput. Suddenly jerked to one side. Worse: Walking; during menses; exerting arms; periodically; after vomiting.

NATRUM SULFURICUM.

- Scalp.—Sensitive; every hair pains when combed. Sensitive bunches of hair.
- Eyes.—Rough, dry, red and burning. Balls feel as if they gave out heat. Lachrymation, running burning water. Itching, crawling as of a bug. Sticking. Piercing in, with nausea. Lids; Heavy; agglutinated, with photophobia, < lamplight. Vision: Bleared. > bathing them; glittering bodies before, after blowing nose. Worse: Near fire. Better: Rubbing.
- Ears.—Boring behind. Outward forcing pressure in. Stitches: Like lightning fly out of; sudden, violent, causing starting. Tinkling, as of distant bells in.
- Nose.—Wandering boring, in bones of root. Itching of wings. Much sneezing. Crawling, as of an insect on back of. Stuffed coryza. Bleeds during menses.
- Face.—Looks pale, wan and cross. Skin of cheek feels drawn up. Tearing in cheeks bones, < cold air, > hard rubbing. Itching. Painfully stiff maxillary joint. Lips: Dry, peeling. Burn as from pepper. Vesicles on.
- Teeth.—Jerking, tearing, pulsating in, with heavy head, warm body and restlessness, then nose-bleed. Grasping, raging in. Better: Cold air; tobaccosmoke. Movable, painless swelling on gums.
- Tongue.—Covered with mucus. Grayish or brownish coat, at root. Boring in. Shooting in tip. Stitches thro' root of.
- Mouth.—Rough and almost insensible in A. M. Burning: On palate; like pepper on tip of tongue; like fire on gums, which are red. Blisters: On tip of tongue; sensitive, on palate; > cold things; on gums, which suppurate. Sour water collects in. Salivation.
- Throat.—And mouth very dry, without thirst. Sore. Glands, uvula and tonsils swell, swallowing difficult. Haws up much, salty mucus in A. M.; tenacious mucus. Constriction.
- Appetite.—Feeling of voracious hunger, with boring pain in stomach, > eating. Thirst for very cold things in evening.
- Taste.—Slimy.
- Eruetation.—Disagreeable, with incarcerated flatus, nausea and flow of saliva.
- Nausea.—With sticking in r. flank. Aud vomiting salty, sour water. On descending.
- Stomach.—Pressive pain in pit. Trembling in pit, with want of breath, feels faint. Burning and pinching in. Fulness, extending into chest, with difficult breathing. Beating pain in. Better: Eating.
- Hypochondria.—Sticking, bursting or pulsating pain in r. Worse: Lying on l. side; walking; touch; deep breathing.
- Abdomen.—Bellyache: With bruised pain in small of back, > lying on l. side. Grumbling and rolling, with sudden pinches, as after a purgative, then diarrhœa. Painful contraction extending into chest, oppressing the breathing, then diarrhœa. Pinching: As if bowels were stretched; extending into genitals, then diarrhœa. Digging, during menses. Fulness, as if to burst, in r. groin. Pains: Flatulent; now here, now there, more about navel; Worse: Walking; during menses.
- Stool.—Diarrhœic: Forcibly expelled, with much flatus, in morning after rising, preceded by bellyache. Copious, watery, preceded by colicky pains and gurgling. Difficult. altho' soft. Knotty. Worse: Pastry; cold food and drink.
- Anus.—Itching. Burning during and after stool (Iris).
- Urine.—Copious. Cutting in meatus or burning in urethra during and after urination. Urging to urinate, with sticking in groins. Violent pinching around navel and pain in small of back when he retains urine because it is so burning. Sediment brick red, yellowish-red or yellowish-white.
- Sexual Organs.—Itching: On scrotum, scratching causes burning.
- Menses.—Late. Of acrid lumpy blood, excoriating thighs. Of white, bloody mucus. More when walking. With pinching bellyache. Chilly during.
- Respiration.—Short: When walking; with a sharp stitch in l. chest, if standing.
- Cough.—With many pains. Excited by tickling scraping in throat. Dry, with soreness or sticking in chest, must sit up and hold chest with both hands, for relief. Expectorates much mucus in on awaking in morning.

NATRUM SULFURICUM.

Neck.—Tearing and tension in tendons of. Throbbing. Nape: Stiff; burning in, later coldness and prickling there; pains from nape, into occiput, extorting screams, > rubbing; piercing pain in; drawing in. Worse: Motion.

Chest.—Trembling in, making her irritable. Pressure as of a load on. Sticking; as of a dull instrument. Itching about nipple. Heart: Anxiety at, with rapid beats, and dim vision, in open air.

Back.—Piercing, like knives between shoulders. Gnawing in bones. Suppurative or bruised pain in small of. Distensive pain as of a soft body in r. flank.

Extremities.—Many pains in joints of toes and fingers Twitching; Here and there; of hands and feet after midnight. Hands and feet, weary and sore; pain in borders of. Compression, especially about joints. Feel too full. Pains: Sticking or ulcerative under nails; boring in joints. Worse: Walking. Better: Open air; motion > temporarily only.

Upper Extremities.—Heaviness of r. Stiff. Ulcerative pain in tendons of elbow. Transient burning above and below elbow; asleep feeling in. Hands: Weak, drops things; pain in flexors when grasping things; tremble on waking, when writing; burn like nettles, with red backs; pain deep in palm. Fingers: Itching between; tearing and numbness from elbows into. Tips of: Pulsation in; stitches; fine piercing as if veins were pulled out; crawling as if becoming numb; boring in. Better: Out of doors.

Lower Extremities.—Piercing as with knives, or breaking, rending, excoriating hip joint pains, on motion, stooping or rising from sitting; piercing rending from coccyx to middle of thigh. Bruised pain in anterior thigh. Burning in bend of thighs. Digging in hollow of knee, > motion. Leg: Swollen feeling, deep in; hot, up to knee. Cramp-like contraction in calves. Tearing, breaking pain in shin Feet: Weary, she often changes their position; itching, on dorsa, undressing and scratching; alternating between soles; of balls of toes, they feel drawn together. Ankles feel sprained, continued motion. Sensitive. Burning in soles at night. Piercing rending in heels, extorting screams; ulcerative pain in. Shooting, stitches or burning in tips of toes. Numbness in toes. Better: Stretching; rubbing.

Generalities.—Symptoms in other parts cause oppression of breathing (Puls.). Weariness of whole body, must lie down; in knees, > walking. General trembling, with visible spasmodic muscular motions, anxiety and fear of misfortune. Pressure, as of a dull instrument (or plug) forcing or boring into part. Wandering pains. Piercing, compressive, needle-like, boring or tearing pain in almost any part. Worse: Wet weather and dampness; morning and evening; during menses; lying on l. side; walking; motion; pressure of clothes; rest; touch. Better: Dry, open air; cloudy weather; momentarily, on changing position; after breakfast.

Skin.—Vesicles on, during menses. Itching: On undressing; now here, now there. Gnawing and tearing in bones.

Sleep.—Restless at night, violent headache awakes her. Starting up on falling to. Dreams: Of falling; terrifying; fighting; of flying; beautiful; heavy. Lazy and sleepy after breakfast.

Fever.—Chill: In evening, without heat or sweat. Up back, with shaking and chattering of teeth. With anxiety, followed by sleep, > lying down. With internal heat in head and a pale face. With icy coldness and gooseflesh. Then sweat without thirst. At 4 P. M. > in bed, then sweat at 4 A. M. Internal coldness, with stretching and yawning. Coldness not > heat. Heat: Dry in flashes, toward evening. Sweat: Profuse, followed by dry mouth. On scrotum. No thirst in any stage.

Allied Remedies.—Alo., Arg-n., Asclep., Bell., Bry., Coloc., Dros., Dulc., Gamb., Lyc., Nat-c., NAT-M., Pod., Puls., Rhod., Rhus-t., Rum., Scill., Sul.

NITRICUM ACIDUM.

NITRICUM ACIDUM.

Mind.—Anxious about his illness, with fear of death. Sadness and despondency. Excessive excitability (after abuse of Mercury). Angry willfulness. Long continued animosity toward those who have offended him. Attacks of rage, with imprecation and swearing.

Head.—Headache pressing inward, with tension extending into eyes, nausea and vomiting. Congestion to, with much heat therein Throbbing ache. Stitches in, compel lying down. Attacks of gouty headache; excessively sensitive to the rattle of vehicles. Bone pains in skull. Dark brown or black, stiff, fibrous hair. Worse: Evening; noise. Better: Riding in a carriage; lying.

External Head.—Moist, sticking, itching eruption from vertex down over temples into beard, bleeding easily when scratched, from which as well as on the side whereon he lies a smarting pain results. Exostoses. Cephalic bone pains as tho' skull were constricted by a band, readily passing into inflammation and necrosis. Painfully sensitive to touch and pressure even of hat, with anxiety. Falling of hair, with a moist eruption which sticks like painfully penetrating splinters when touched; also from genitals, especially after a nervous headache or abuse of Mercury. Worse: Evening and night; external pressure; lying thereon. Better: Cool air; during a carriage ride.

Eyes.—Pressure and sticking in. Inflamed (after suppressed syphilis or abuse of Mercury). Spots on cornea. Lachrymal fistula. Myopia. Black spots before.

Ears.—Sticking in. Suppurating. Difficult hearing (after abuse of Mercury). Pounding and roaring in.

Nose.—Tip red and scurfy. Sticking, as of a splinter in. Scurfs in. Nosebleed of dark, clotted blood early in morning. Offensive smell from. Stuffed coryza, with obstructed nostrils. Fluent coryza after taking cold. The nasal mucus flows only thro' the choanæ. Sneezing.

Face.—Yellow. Sunken eyes encircled by yellow. Dark yellow, almost brownish, complexion. Eruption, on forehead and temples; pimply on. Swollen lips. Ulcers on red part of lips. Painfully swelled submaxillary glands.

Teeth.—Loose and turn yellow. White gums.

Mouth.—Foul, cadaverous smell from. (Syphilitic and mercurial) ulcers in, and on fauces. Inflammation of throat with burning and painful soreness. Painful excoriation of palate, tongue and inner gums Sticking in pharynx. Salivation. Salivary fistula. Hoarseness.

Appetite, etc.—Desire for earth, chalk, lime, etc. Milk disagrees. Violent thirst.

Taste.—Bitter, in mouth. Sour, with burning in throat.

Stomach.—Pain in cardiac orifice when swallowing solid food. Stitches in pit.

Hypochondria.—Pressure and sticking in splenic region.

Abdomen.—Pinching, cutting and sticking in. Ulcerative pain in. Colic from taking cold. Inguinal hernia. Swelling and suppuration of inguinal glands.

Flatulence.—Obstructed f., early in morning and in evening. Accumulation of flatus in abdomen.

Stool.—Diarrhœic, often of mucus or foul-smelling s. Dysenteric, bloody, with tenesmus. Constipation and dry stool. Nervousness and relaxation after.

Anus.—Itching and burning of. Swollen hemorrhoids, which bleed with every stool. Stitches in rectum.

Urine.—Discharge of scanty, dark, stinking u. Feels cold when passed. Incontinence.

Sexual Organs.—Figwarts and sycotic gonorrhœa. Chancre-like ulcers on foreskin and glands. Inflamed and swelled testes, from whence pain ascends through spermatic cord. Falling of hair from pudendum. Want of or intensified sexual desire, with painful erections at night.

Menses.—Too early. Suppressed. Cramps in abdomen, with urging toward sexual organs during.

Respiration.—Panting. Tightness of chest and want of breath when walking or ascending steps. Wheezing.

NITRICUM ACIDUM.

Cough.—Shattering, spasmodic c., excited by tickling in larynx and epigastrium. Short, with expectoration of black, coagulated blood. Dry, barking, after lying down in evening. Stitches in small of back when coughing. Purulent expectoration from lungs. In morning and daytime, with expectoration of dark blood mixed with coagula, or of a yellow acrid pus of a bitter, sourish or salt taste and offensive odor.

Trachea, etc.—Scratching and sticking in, with hoarseness, especially after long talking. Tracheal phthisis Chest.—Congestion to, with heat and anxious palpitation. Stitches thro', and in sides thereof. Excoriative pain in, when coughing and breathing. Dwindling of female mammae.

Back.—Stitches within and between scapulæ with stiff nape. Pains in, and in lumbar region after taking cold.

Upper Extremities.—Drawing and tearing in, especially in forearms and hands. Frostbites on hands and fingers. Herpes between fingers. White spots on nails.

Lower Extremities.—Drawing and tearing in legs. Coldness of entire limb. Restlessness in legs in evening. Weakness in knees. Shootings in knee. Cramp in calves when walking. Stinking foot-sweat. Frostbites on toes.

Generalities.—Sticking pains like a splinter driven into part. Extraordinary emaciation. Tense fiber. Great weakness and trembling, especially early in morning. Easily takes cold. Complaints caused by change of weather. Tearing in limbs after taking cold. Cracking joints. Hysterical complaints. Chlorosis and jaundice. Sycosis, < by mercury. The symptoms are intensified in evening and at night. Pains are felt during sleep. Driving > most complaints. (Seldom applicable to blondes.)

Glands.—Inflamed, swelled and suppurating. Swelling of cervical, axillary and inguinal glands.

Bones.—Inflamed and painful. Caries. Softening and curvature of.

NUX MOSCHATA.

Skin.—Black pores. From slight cold limbs are frostbitten, inflamed and itch. Painful frostbites. Brownish-red spots and dark freckles on. Large boils. Wounds and ulcers which stick like splinters, when touched. Mercurial ulcers.

Sleep.—Vertiginous day sleepiness. Late falling to. Restlessness at night and frequent awaking.

Fever.—Pulse: Uncommonly irregular; two small, quick beats often follow a normal one and the fourth is omitted. Alternation of hard, with quick and small beats.

Chill: Mostly in afternoon and evening, as well as after lying down. With concomitant internal heat. Early in morning in bed, after previous heat. Constant chilliness. General, external coldness. Heat: Especially on face and hands. Overrunning h., with sweaty hands. Nightly, internal, dry h., with inclination to uncover and much thirst. And sweat with great debility after eating; Sweat: Every or every other night, most profuse on side lain on Sour, offensive or smelling like horse urine.

Allied Remedies.—Agar., (ANT-T.), Argn., Asaf., Bell., Bov., CAL-C-C., Cann., Carb-v. (CAUST.), Con., Flur-ac., Graph., HEP., Kali-b., KALI-C., Lyc., MERC., MERC-C., Mec., PETR., Puls., Rhus-t., SEP., Sul., Thu.

NUX MOSCHATA.

Mind.—Thoughts vanish, as when going to sleep. Absence of ideas, the power to collect his thoughts returns slowly. Great forgetfulness. Imbecility. Confusion of intellect. Difficult comprehension. Stupefaction. Great irresolution, vacillation and fickleness in his undertakings. Inclination to laugh. Continuous rush of disagreeable ideas. Changeableness, wants this, then that. Hysteria, with rapidly changing moods, somnolency and inclination to faint. Sense of duality.

Vertigo.—As if intoxicated. Extraordinary dizziness and dull confusion in head. Fainting with palpitation then sleep.

NUX MOSCHATA.

- Head.—The brain feels loose and wabbles as tho' it struck against the skull when moving or shaking head. Oppressive confusion in forehead. Aching from a disordered stomach, most violent after breakfast. Temples sensitive to lying on them and touch. Left-sided headache. Apoplexy. Worse: Uncovering; after eating; from cold, wet weather. Better: Wrapping up head; external heat.
- Eyes.—Feel dry. Objects appear at a greater distance. Staring. Worse: Light, especially artificial. Better: Darkness.
- Ears.—Oversensitive hearing. As if stuffed.
- Nose.—Stuffed coryza; full or partial (one-sided) obstruction. Hypersensitive smell. Dark nosebleed.
- Face.—Hot and red cheeks. Pale, with blue circles about eyes. Numerous freckles.
- Teeth.—Sticking ache, > external warmth. Compressive ache from cold damp air; they feel as if grasped by tongs. Sensitive or painful incisor or bicuspid teeth. Dull feeling, as tho' coated with lime. Worse: Cold damp air; drawing in air; during pregnancy, when sucking with tongue.
- Mouth.—Excessive dryness of and of throat and tongue, without thirst. Tension in posterior pharynx, as from dryness. Difficult swallowing as from paralysis of throat.
- Appetite.—Thirstlessness. Excessive.
- Taste.—Like chalk. Earthy. As tho' he had eaten strongly salted food.
- Nausea.—Qualmishness when driving. Vomiting during pregnancy.
- Stomach.—Fulness of, with oppressed breathing. Weakness, especially in the aged. Better: Before eating.
- Abdomen.—Relaxed, with sense of heaviness in upper. Cutting in, with twisting about navel as from worms with sleepiness. Distended by flatulæ, which disturbs his sleep. Wind colic.
- Stool.—Tendency to diarrhoea from weakness or after taking cold. Like chopped eggs with loss of appetite and sleepiness, in children. Soft, but passed with difficulty. Inactive rectum.
- Urine.—Scanty, highly saturated. Odor of violets.
- Sexual Organs.—Desires coition, with relaxed sexual organs. Seminal emissions. Spasmodic, false labor pains.
- Menses.—Irregular, of dark, thick blood. Too early and too profuse. Uterine hæmorrhage. Preceded by lumbar pains. Diseases during pregnancy, parturition or child-bed.
- Respiration.—Oppression of chest, seems to start from epigastrium, with congestion of blood to heart. Sudden suffocative attacks. Short breath after eating.
- Cough.—Dry, with obstructed breathing, after taking cold from being in water. Dry, when heated or becoming warm in bed. In pregnancy. Expectoration slimy; bloody, mostly dark. Hæmoptysis.
- Larynx.—Hoarseness coming on when walking against wind.
- Chest.—Pressure, as of a load on. Constriction. Palpitation.
- Back.—Bruised pain in, and in lumbar region. Backache when driving. Tabes.
- Extremities.—Joints feel sprained, stiff and weak. Children stagger, waver and often fall when walking. Pains caused by exposure to damp cold.
- Generalities.—Suits females; drunkards. Inclination to faint. Great weakness, especially in small of back and knees, with sleepiness. Tremblings. Spasms and convulsions of children, with consciousness. Convulsive motions. Great sensitiveness of body and bruised pain in parts on which he lies. Cyanosis congenitalis. Sensations of: Itching internally and prickling externally; humming and whizzing in body; tingling; crawling; numbness; painful shocks more internally. Inflamed mucous membranes; increased mucous sensations. Hard parts feel soft. Lameness of inner organs. Dropsy of external parts. Disposition to catch cold. Worse: Uncovering; getting warm in bed; from suppressed eruptions; damp cold; getting wet; drafts of cold air; washing, to which he is also averse. Better: Warmth and warm air; dry weather.

NUX MOSCHATA.

Skin.—Sensitive. Cold, and dry; wanting in natural moisture. Extraordinarily sensitive to cold damp air. Very painful ulceration of.

Sleep.—Irresistible desire to. Stupefying somnolency, as from intoxication. Sleepiness accompanies almost every complaint; after eating. Coma.

Fever.—Pulse: Frequent. Tremulous. Somewhat accelerated, as from an ebullition. Faster from wine. Chill: Every time he uncovers, and chilliness in the open, especially the cold, wet air, with a very pale face; soon gets better in a warm room. Cold feeling of feet, with heat of hands. Chilliness in evening, but with greater sleepiness. Chill and somnolency predominate. Heat: Of face and hands in forenoon with hypochondriacal mood, thirstlessness and dry mouth and throat. Sweat: Little, which is, however sometimes red, like blood.

Allied Remedies.—Asaf., Coccl., Con., Gel., Igu., Mag-c., Mos., Nux-v., Op., Puls., Sep., Sul., Tereb.

NUX VOMICA.

Mind.—Hypochondriasis of students leading a sedentary life, and night re-vellers, with abdominal complaints and constipation. Anger, followed by alternate chill and heat, with thirst and bilious vomiting. Great anxiety and restlessness in evening. Immediately anxious scrupulosity. Zealous, fiery temperament. Quarrelsome. Malicious, spiteful disposition. Inclination to reproach others. Surly, refractory mood. Easily startled. Violent and excitable. Suicidal thoughts; when looking at a knife he is inclined to stab himself, when at water, to drown himself, yet he fears death. Insanity of drunkards. Oversensitive to external impressions. Time passes too slowly. Moroseness.

Vertigo.—Reeling, as tho' intoxicated early in morning and after dinner, with unconsciousness and vanishing of sight and hearing. Cloudiness in head, as from intoxication. After-effects of yesterday's debauch, < in the sun.

NUX VOMICA.

Head.—Congestion, with great, burning heat therein and a puffy, red face. Stupefying ache. Vertiginous heaviness, early in morning. Hemisrania of coffee drinkers. Tearing in occiput going into nape, with anxiety. Rending pains in, extending to root of nose and upper jaw. Aching: With bilious or sour vomiting; early in bed, disappearing after rising; with shaking and reverberation in brain. Sore pain in occiput. Bursting pain. Feeling: As if something heavy sank in; of a nail being driven into vertex; as if brain were bruised, mostly one-sided (r.). Takes cold in, mostly from dry, cold winds and drafts. Worse: Morning; after eating; walking in open air, especially in sunshine; mental exertion; on awaking; stooping; becoming cold. Better: At rest; in a warm room; resting head on a support; lying on back, or painless side; wrapping h. tightly.

Scalp.—Sensitive, as if raw, especially to slight touch. Smarting soreness of, in raw winds. Chilly feeling over head and face, often alternating with heat. Offensive half-sided sweat on head and face, which is cold, with diminution of pains. Worse: Wind; in the cold; after lying down; slightest motion in open air; uncovering; after midnight and toward morning. Better: Hard pressure; wrapping up warmly; washing.

Eyes.—Inflamed conjunctiva, with stitches and aversion to sunlight. Bloody extravasations into sclerotic and bleeding thereof. Yellowness, especially of lower half of ball. Intolerance of daylight early in morning. Anxious, staring look. Lightning-like streaks before.

Ears.—Tearing, sticking ache. Tension, when looking upward. Pain, as tho' pressed outward when swallowing.

Nose.—Sensitiveness and inflammatory redness of inner nose. Nosebleed early in morning. Odor, as of rotten cheese, sulphur, or like a snuffed candle before. Fluent coryza during day, worse in warm, but better in cool, open air. Stuffed coryza at night. Sneezing.

Face.—Pale, yellowish, earthy or livid countenance. Yellow about nose, mouth or eyes. Red, swollen. Swelling of one

NUX VOMICA

- cheek itching in rigors Lips peel off and are painful Scurf on lips Iris musc Sticking pains in the swollen submaxillary glands when swallowing
- Teeth—Useful soreness or boring digging in mental exertion Burning sticking in whole row of tearing in and in jaws extending into bones of face renewed by cold drinks but warmth toothache of wine bibbers and coffee drinkers after taking cold Gums White swollen foul smelling bleeding
- Mouth—Fetid and stench from Aphthæ (of children) Inflammatory swelling Of roof of of throat and sticking in uvula Bleeding from in nose and even eyes Thick white coated tongue
- Throat Sore with sensation of a plug therein painful soreness of when swallowing and sensation as tho it were too narrow tension in fauces
- Appetite, etc—Hunger with aversion to food especially bread coffee and tobacco Ravenous hunger after drinking beer Thirst Early in morning, with loathing of water and beer Desire for brandy or chalk Discomfort from bread and sour foods the fattest foods are borne well Warm foods temporarily > many complaints
- Taste—Sour in mouth, especially early in morning and after eating and drinking Sourly early in morning Bitter, of bread
- Erethication—Sour Regurgitation of blood Collection of water in mouth, with many complaints Violent hiccough Rancid heartburn after sour or fatty foods
- Nausea, etc—Qualmishness early in morning and after eating Empty retching of drunkards Vomiting Sour, of ingesta of dark lumpy blood of bile of fluids and nausea during pregnancy
- Stomach—Spasmodic colic and pressure in, which extends to interscapular region, when fasting in morning and after eating Burning in region of, and at pylorus Contractive spasm in mostly with collection of water in mouth Every drink distresses Spasmodic colic of brandy and coffee drinkers Disordered from overeating Induration of Pressure and tension in pit, with tension at
- an opposite point between shoulder blades Distended pit, which pains from slight touch Indigestion after taking cold Better Hot drinks
- Hypochondriæ—Intolerance of tight clothes Inflamed liver Pressure and sticking in hepatic region Indurated liver
- Abdomen—Fullness in after eating but little Inflamed Constriction of upper Very sensitive, especially to slight touch Labor like cramps in and in uterus extending into legs tearing pains in navicular region and hypogastrium Urging from lower a, toward genitals Bruised painfulness of muscles during motion coughing laughing and to pressure, etc Colic from taking cold Umbilical and inguinal hernia Excitation in groins
- Flatulence—Flatulent colic in upper abdomen, disappearing when lying down
- Stool—Very scanty, blackish Ineffectual urging to Small, dysenteric or diarrhœic, with tenesmus (after taking cold) Constipation Seemingly from inactivity of intestines, chronic Painful diarrhœa alternating with constipation
- Anus—Painful, dry anal hemorrhoids
- Urine—Retention of Bloody Painful in effectual urging to urinate Urging to urinate, with discharge of a few drops of red, burning urine
- Sexual Organs—Gonorrhœa of glans with increased secretion of smegma Inflammatory swelling of testicles Hydrocele Prolapsus uteri Congestion, with urging toward female genitals Extremely violent after pains Greatly intensified sexual desire
- Menses—Of dark, black blood, too early and too profuse Renewed discharge of blood at intervals after cessation of Appearance of new, and < of old symptoms during and after
- Respiration—Suffocative attacks from spasmodic constriction of larynx after midnight Asthmatic tightness from constriction of lower part of chest
- Cough—Very laborious, excited by tickling in hard palate and larynx Dry Mostly at night or early in morning while fasting from motion of body or mental exertion. With expectoration of a yellow or gray, often cold mucus, generally of a sour or sweetish, sometimes bitter, putrid or metallic taste, or finally of clear dark red blood, during day and evening, with bursting headache and bruised feeling in abdominal muscles.

NUX VOMICA.

Larynx, etc.—Rawsness and soreness in trachea. Pain in throat pit. Scraping in trachea after taking cold. Itching in trachea. Husky, rasping voice. Catarrhal hoarseness with scratching in throat.

Neck.—Stiffness of nape. Tearing in neck in evening.

Chest.—Feeling as if something tore loose within. Constriction in lower part. Pressive pain as of a load within. Spasms in, after midnight. Warm ebullition in, with collection of water in mouth, heat and anxiousness. Rawsness and soreness in. Stitches and thrusts in. Anxious palpitation.

Back.—Tension between scapulae. Burning, pressure or sticking between scapulae. Drawing extending from the lumbar region up back into shoulders. Bruised pain in, and in lumbar region, so violent that he dare not move. Lameness and paralytic pain in the lumbar region (often after difficult childbirth).

Upper Extremities.—Bruised pain in shoulder joints. Drawing pain in arms. Asleep sensation and sense of deadness of hands. Swollen bloodvessels on hands and arms.

Lower Extremities.—Numbness, stiffness and tension in legs. Lameness in legs, with a painful streak down inside of thigh. Tottering gait and unsteady legs. Snapping of knee. Painful swelling of knee joint. Cramp in calves at night in bed. Asleep sensation and deadness in soles of feet. In walking he drags his feet, is unable to lift them.

Generalities.—Emaciation. Hyperaesthesia of all the senses. Jerking stitches thro' entire body. General bruised sensation early in morning in bed. Hypochondriacal discomfort and indisposition after eating. Great debility or irritability of entire nervous system. Feeling of illness in periodically returning attacks. Great inclination to sit or lie down, with aversion to exercise and open air. Easily takes cold; sensitive to drafts of air; complaints from taking cold. Tearing in limbs, especially during stormy weather. Sensation of heaviness of body alternating with a feeling of lightness thereof. Lean, lank figure. Effects of coffee, tobacco and spirituous liquors. Effects of continuous mental exertion, night watching and sedentary habits. Every mental exertion excites or heightens the symptoms. The complaints are by motion and slight touch; hard pressure however gives more speedy relief. The symptoms are most intense early in morning upon awaking and after eating. The symptoms which appear in the open air and during motion are in the room and during rest; but the reverse may occur.

Skin.—Jaundiced. Frost-bites. Blue spots from extravasations after bruises.

Sleep.—Great sleepiness during day and in evening. Late falling to sleep on account of rush of ideas. He awakes after midnight (toward 3 o'clock) and at day break falls into a deep sleep full of heavy dreams, from which he wakes very tired. Early awaking, then morning sleep after which he is always worse. Yawning.

Fever.—Pulse: Full, hard and quickened, especially during heat. Small and quick, the fourth and fifth beat often intermitting. Imperceptible. Chill: And coldness not relieved by external warmth. And shuddering, evening and night in bed till morning, increased by every movement and by drinking. With or without thirst (mostly with lumbar pains). With heat of face. Alternating with heat. And shuddering during motion in cold, open air. Sleep between chill and heat. Heat: Universal, internal, burning h. Nocturnal, without thirst. Becoming more violent from least exertion or movement, also in open air. With aversion to uncovering, is chilled thereby. With disposition to uncover, whereby other ailments immediately appear. Before the chill. Of single parts, with chill and shuddering in others. Seems to stream from throat.

NUX VOMICÁ.

Sweat: After midnight and in the morning hours. Sour or offensive. One-sided or only on upper part of body. Cold, sticky, on face. With relief, especially of pains in limbs.

Allied Remedies.—Aco., AGAR., Alo., Ambr., Am-m., ARS., Asar., Asy., Bar-c., BELL., Calad., CALC-C., Caps., Carb-v., Caust., CHAM., Chiu., Coccl., Coff., Colch., Con., Cupr., Dig., Dros., Dulc., Euphr., Gel., Graph., Guai., Ign., IP., Kali-c., KRE., Lach., I.V.C., M-aust., Mag-c., Meic., MILLEP., Mos., Mur-ac., Nat-u., OP., Par., PETR., PHOS., Phyt., Pib., Pod., Puls., Rhe., RIUS-T., Selen., Sep., Sil., Stram., Sul., Tab., Valer.

OLEANDER.

Mind.—Mental stupidity. Great distraction and want of attention. Diminished power of comprehension. Mental derangement. Indolence and dislike for work. Want of self-reliance. Contradiction is unbearable. Sudden ebullitions of anger of which he quickly repents.

Vertigo.—When rising from lying or looking downward.

Head.—Stupefying, pressive ache in forehead. Extreme heaviness, > lying.

External Head.—Corrosive itching, as from vermin, most on occiput and behind ears, > on beginning to scratch, but then it burns and smarting which soon passes into biting and eating, < on undressing. Scaly, moist tinea, with biting itching, especially on occiput.

Eyes.—Tears in, when reading. Burning and tension in lids when reading. Diplopia.

Ears.—Herpes and ulcers on and about. Singing and wailing in, like the wind.

Nose.—Dull, numbing pressure on.

Face.—Pale, troubled, sunken countenance with blue rings about eyes in morning. Paleness alternating with deep redness. Numbing pressure on and under zygoma. Numb feeling in upper lip.

Teeth.—Drawing in molars, at night when lying in bed, with anxiety, nausea and profuse urination. Sensitive when chewing only. Bluish-white gums.

OLEANDER.

Mouth.—Dirty white, elevated papillae on tongue. Power of speech is lost.

Appetite, etc.—Ravenous hunger and hasty eating, without appetite. Much thirst, especially for cold water.

Eruotation.—Violent, empty.

Vomiting.—Of bitter, greenish water. Great hunger and thirst after.

Stomach.—Throbbing in pit, as after being greatly heated.

Abdomen.—Sense of emptiness and coldness in upper, and in chest. Gnawing pain in umbilical region.

Flatulence.—Grumbling and rumbling in abdomen with discharge of much foul smelling flatus.

Stool.—Ineffectual urging to. Sluggish. Undigested, watery.

Urine.—Brown, burning u., depositing a white sediment. Profuse urination, especially after drinking coffee.

Respiration.—Weak, heavy. When lying oppression as tho' chest were too narrow, with long, deep inspirations.

Cough.—Shattering, from tickling in larynx.

Neck.—Violent, sensible but slow pulsation in carotids. Tearing in nape in evening and at night.

Chest.—Sense of emptiness and coldness in. Dull stitches in left c., and in sternum, continuous during expiration and inspiration, but worst when taking a deep breath. Stitches in diaphragm. Anxious palpitation.

Upper Extremities.—Cramp-like drawing in arms. Dull, benumbing pressure on lower arms and hands. Distended blood-vessels on hands.

Lower Extremities.—Great feeling of weakness in legs, especially knees. Painless stiffness and lameness of limbs, especially of thighs. A surring or whizzing sensation in legs, especially in soles of feet. Constant coldness of feet.

Generalities.—Dull, benumbing pressure in limbs. Painless stiffness and paralysis of limbs. A surring or whizzing sensation throughout entire body. Forcible inward pressure like a squeezing in many spots. Tension thro' entire body. Insensibility of entire body. Want of natural vital heat in limbs. Painless paralyses. Faint-like weariness and weakness of entire body; trembling of knees when standing and of hands when writing. Fainting attacks as from weakness (with or without loss of consciousness), disappearing after sweat.

OLEANDER.

Skin.—Very sensitive to rubbing, which quickly causes redness and excoriation. Biting itching, when undressing, after scratching it burns.

Sleep.—Frequent yawning followed by shuddering and trembling. Restlessness, voluptuous dreams and frequent waking.

Fever.—Pulse: Very changeable and irregular. In evening full and accelerated, in morning weak and slow. Chill: Attacks of, and shuddering over entire body, with heat of face and cold hands. Chilliness and want of natural vital heat. Chilly feeling externally, at same time internal heat. Heat: Attacks of flying h. breaking out especially from mental or physical exertion. Sweat: Entirely absent.

Allied Remedies.—Ag-c., Coccl., Gel.

OPIUM.

Mind.—Vivid imagination and increased courage with stupefaction and dulness of all senses. Heightened power of imagination even to ecstasy. Imbecility and stupid indifference. Unconsciousness and dulness of mind and senses. Phantastic illusions and caricatures before eyes with, a great throng of scattered ideas. Insanity and delirium, with hideous or ecstatic visions, alternating with somnolency, especially of drunkards. Contented and careless. Cheerfulness with joyous mood. Fearless and audacious. After effects of fright with fear, i. e., heat of head, spasms, etc. Grief from mortification, then spasms, etc. Fear of death. Agreeable fancies cause her to forget her sufferings. Loquacious delirium with open eyes and a red face. Easily frightened.

OPIUM.

Vertigo.—Stupefying, when raising up, compelling him to lie down. Stupefaction and dull confusion of head, like a vapor in brain, as from intoxication.

Head.—Aching in forehead. Violent congestion to. Extraordinary heaviness of. Tremulous twitching of (and of arms and hands), intermingled with jerks, as if from over-active flexor muscles. Worse: Moving eyes. Better: Motion; uncovering head.

Eyes.—Dry heat and burning in. Red, inflamed. Half open and turned upward. Upper lids hang down relaxed. Staring look. Dilated, immobile pupils. Obscuration of vision: Paralysis of optic nerve or cataract.

Face.—Bloated, dark red and hot. Bluish pale or earth-colored countenance. Distended blood vessels on. Relaxation of all facial muscles and drooping of lower lip. Profuse sweat on. Spasm of facial muscles, especially about mouth. Trismus.

Mouth.—Dry (with or without thirst). Inability to swallow. Profuse salivation. Paralysis of tongue and difficult speech.

Appetite, etc.—Aversion to all food. Violent thirst. Thirstless.

Vomiting.—Sour, also sour eructations. Of ingesta (after mental emotions) with violent pain in stomach and convulsions. Having a urinous or fecal odor. Ineffectual retching.

Stomach.—Heaviness and pressure in. Inactive digestive organs.

Abdomen.—Hard, distended. Heaviness, as of a load in. Lead colic. Incarcerated inguinal hernia.

Stool.—Offensive, involuntary s. Diarrhoea. Constipation from inactivity of intestines. Spasmodic retention of, especially in small intestines. Tenesmus.

Urine.—Suppressed discharge of, as from inactivity of bladder. Scanty discharge of dark red u.; with sediment.

Sexual Organs.—Violently excited sexual desire and strong erections. Spasmodic, labor-like pains in uterus. Cessation of labor pains during parturition, with twitchings and convulsions.

OPIUM

Respiration—Rattling Deep snoring r with open mouth Difficult and inter mittent as from paralysis of lungs Anxious oppression of Suffocative at tacks like nightmare during sleep

Cough—With obstructed breathing and blue face With expectoration of frothy blood and mucus

Larynx—Violent hoarseness from dryness of tl roat

Neck—Blood vessels distended and strong pulsation of carotids

Chest—Tension and constriction of Back—Drawing in muscles of Opisthotonos Lumbar pains

Extremities—Twitching and convulsions of arms and legs Trembling in arms and hands Distended blood vessels on hands

Generalities—Trembling of entire body, with external coldness thereof, jerking and twitching of limbs Trembling of limbs after fright Convulsions with sudden loud shrieks During attacks entire body becomes stiff Sensation of humming or buzzing thro' entire body Insensibility of body and limbs Pain lessness with his complaints he complains of nothing wants nothing Quiet repose Want of sensitiveness to external impressions and medicines, with want of reaction of vital force Paralyzes without pain Internal sensation of strength and vigor Increased excitability and activity of voluntary, muscles with a corresponding decrease in the involuntary ones Renewal and increase of symptoms from becoming heated Applicable almost solely to recent complaints Frequently suitable for trippers and the aged After fright it helps only when given immediately

Skin—Dry burning heat of Dropsical swelling of entire body Redness and itching of Blue spots on Sleep—Stupefying unrefreshing Stupefying with half open eyes and snoring breathing during inhalation or exhalation After every attack Somnolency, with dreams from which cannot be aroused Early in morning it is especially difficult to awaken him

PARIS QUADRIFOLIA

Fever—Pulse Very changeable full and slow, with heavy snoring breathing quick and hard with heat and rapid anxious respiration toward the end weak and intermittent. Chill And diminished vital heat with stupefaction and weak almost imperceptible pulse Entire body is cold and quite stiff Coldness of external members only Heat With sweating skin predominates, spreading from head or stomach over entire body Burning, of entire sweating body, with a glowing red face, then stupefying sleep with snoring With inclination to uncover Sweat Much stronger over the entire, burning hot body with snoring sleep Early in morning general strong heats, with inclination to uncover Of upper, with dry heat of lower part of body Cold, on forehead Immoderate, hot Burning fever with stupefying somnolency snoring, jerking of limbs, suppressed evacuations and hot sweat

Allied Remedies—Aco, Ant-t, BELLI, Bro, CAM, Carb-v, Cic Coff, Colch, Croc, Cupr, Dig, Gel, Glo, Hyos, Ip, MERC, Mos, Nux-v, Phos, Phos-ac, PLB, Siam, Tab

PARIS QUADRIFOLIA.

Mind—Loquacious mania Extraordinary loquacity, he prattles incessantly but talks in a foolish, disconnected manner Inclination to treat others with scorn and contempt Inclination to anger

Head—Pressive ache, < mental exertion Stitches in Headache from smoking Tension of scalp of forehead and occiput Painful soreness of vertex to touch Scald head Falling of hair

Eyes—Burning in, and in canthi Tearful The ball seems too large and thick Unsteady look

Ears—Sensation as tho' ears were pressed asunder or torn out. Ringing in Nose—Milk and bread smell like putrid meat Fluent, alternating with stuffed coryza Blowing of greenish or red mucus from

PARIS QUADRIFOLIA.

Face.—Pimply eruption on forehead and upper lip. In evening excessive itching, biting and burning on side of lower jaw, frequently with a fine, red, easily-bleeding eruption. Herpes encircles mouth.

Teeth.—Tickling toothache, worst at night, < by cold as well as warmth. Gums wrinkled as tho' they had been burnt.

Mouth.—Dry on awaking in early morning. Swelling, painfulness and exfoliation of hard palate. Hawking of mucus. Tart, astringent saliva. Burning in throat.

Appetite.—Hunger at once after eating.

Stomach.—Pressure as from a stone in, > eructations. Burning in, extending down into abdomen. Weak, slow digestion.

Abdomen.—Pressure as from a stone in. Boring and cutting in side of abdomen whereon he lies, in evening in bed.

Flatulence.—Grumbling and rumbling in abdomen. Flatulent colic.

Stool.—Frequent, soft. Diarrhœic, with a stench like rotten meat

Urine.—Acrid, excoriating. Frequent urination, with burning. Dark, fiery urine, with an iridescent fatty pellicle, becoming turbid after standing.

Cough.—Excited by feeling of sulphur vapor in air passages. In early morning and in evening after lying down, with expectoration of tenacious, greenish mucus, which is dislodged with difficulty.

Trachea.—Hoarseness in early morning, on awaking, it seems completely dried out. Roughness in, with deep, bass voice. Periodical, painless hoarseness. Hawks tenacious, greenish mucus from. Burning in larynx. Tracheal phthisis.

Chest.—Stitches in. Palpitation during motion and when at rest.

Back.—Sticking in back, between scapulæ and in coccyx.

Generalities.—Sticking pains in buttocks and limbs. Cramp-like dragging in joints. When moving, sensation as tho' joints were broken. Heaviness throughout entire body.

Skin.—Painful soreness of the entire skin to touch. Crawling under skin without itching. Paronychia on fingers.

PETROLEUM.

Sleep.—Sleepiness in afternoon. Half asleep, with constant restlessness.

Fever.—Pulse: Full, but slow. Chill: Most towards evening, with internal trembling. Unilateral (right), with warmth of other half of body. Skin feels contracted, on every part of body, during c. Chilliness with goose-skin. Cold feet, almost constantly at night in bed. Heat: Spreading from nape down back. Sweat: With sweat on upper part of body. Sweat: With biting itching, on awaking.

Allied Remedies.—Iod., Nux-v., Phos.

PETROLEUM.

Mind.—Indisposed to think. Weak memory. Irritable, angry disposition, with scolding. Frightened easily. Great irresolution and solicitude concerning the future.

Vertigo.—When stooping. Fainting, with trembling during storms.

Head.—Throbbing in occiput. Pressive sticking in occiput. Sensation as tho' everything inside were alive.

External Head.—Sensitive on both sides, with a festered or bruised feeling when touched, followed by numbness. Smarting as if raw when scratched. Eruption on, especially toward nape. Worse: From anger; morning; when heated.

Eyes.—Inflamed, with itching. As of gauze before. Lachrymal fistula. Far sight.

Ears.—Disagreeably dry sensation in. Discharge of blood and pus from. Humid soreness behind. Deafness (after Nit-ac).

Nose.—Disagreeably dry feeling in.

Face.—Yellowish, pale countenance. Heat of, after eating. Scurfs about mouth. Easy dislocation of maxillary joint, with great pain, early in morning when in bed. Swollen submaxillary glands.

Teeth.—Numb. Toothache, with swelled cheek, at night and when going into open air. Dental fistula.

Mouth.—Bad, garlicky odor from. Early in morning, great dryness of, and of throat, with great thirst. Sticking sore throat when swallowing. When swallowing, the food is forced into posterior nares. Tongue coated white.

PETROLEUM.

- Appetite, etc.—Gluttony and ravenous hunger. Great aversion to meat and fatty food. Violent thirst (for beer).
- Taste.—Foul, dirty, slimy. Bitter, in mouth.
- Eruclation.—Sour or bitter e., and regurgitation. Collection of water in mouth.
- Nausea, etc.—Much. From driving (riding). Bitter vomiting.
- Stomach.—Pressure in. Very weak digestion. Pit sensitive to touch. Pain in pit, as tho' something would be torn loose.
- Abdomen.—Cutting in, soon after eating.
- Stool.—Hard, unsatisfactory. Frequent diarrhœic s., during day, preceded by pain in belly. Of bloody mucus.
- Urine.—Frequent passage of scanty, brown, stinking u. Involuntary dribbling of. Narrowing of urethra.
- Sexual Organs.—Redness, excoriation and moisture on scrotum and adjacent parts. Itching and moist herpes on scrotum and perinæum. Excoriation and moisture on female pudendum and in groins. Aversion to coition.
- Menses.—Too early; the blood excites an itching irritation. Difficult appearance of first menses.
- Respiration.—Rattling, snoring. Cold air causes an oppressed feeling on chest. Nightly oppression of chest.
- Cough.—Dry, at night or in evening, coming from deep in chest and excited by a scratching in throat.
- Chest.—Herpes on.
- Back.—Weakness and stiffness in, and in lumbar region. Backache preventing the least movement. Lumbar pain preventing standing.
- Upper Extremities.—Brown or yellow spots on arms. Burning in palms. In winter, cracked skin of hands and fingers, which are full of deep, bloody cuts. Gouty stiffness of finger joints.
- Lower Extremities.—Stitches in knee. Hot swelling of soles, with burning. Painful swelling and redness of heel.
- Generalities.—Cracking, creaking and gouty stiffness of joints. Asleep sensation in, and stiffness of limbs. Twitching in limbs. Weariness early in morning and in evening. Great emaciation. Aversion

PHOSPHORICUM ACIDUM.

- to open air. Takes cold easily. Flying heat, orgasm of blood and sweat after a walk or the least anger. Complaints from riding in a carriage or ship. General internal, insufferably sick feeling, with trembling and great weakness.
- Glands.—Affections of, especially after bruises.
- Skin.—Extraordinary sensitiveness of epidermis. Heals with difficulty. Easy excoriation. Moist, denuded spots. Moist herpes. Ulcers with proud flesh. Boils. Corns. Frostbites.
- Sleep.—Sleepy during day and in evening when sitting still. At night full of phantasies, with anxious heat and many dreams. Insufficient and unrefreshing in morning.
- Fever.—Pulse: Stronger, full and accelerated from every motion, it immediately becomes slow during rest. Chill: Mostly toward evening, now earlier, now later. Chilliness thro' entire body, followed by severe itching. Internal, in evening, with co-existent heat. Chilliness in open air. With headache and remarkable coldness of face and hands. Heat: In evening, after the chill, with cold feet. After midnight and in morning in bed. Flying, over entire body in repeated attacks (6 to 10) during day. Feeling of h., over entire body, with great burning of skin. Sweat; Profuse every night. Easy, especially on forearms and legs. Immediately after the chill, without previous heat.
- Allied Remedies.—Agar., Ars., Calc-c., Carb-v., Cham., Kre., Lyc., Nat-m., Nit-ac., NUX-V., Phos., Puls., Sil., Sul., Thuj.
- ## PHOSPHORICUM ACIDUM.
- Mind.—Inability to think. Absence of ideas. Dull, without phantasies. Quiet delirium, with great stupefaction and confused dulness of head (typhoid). Dizzy confusion in forehead. Introverted, peevish and taciturn. Greatest indifference. Low-spirited and solicitous of

PHOSPHORICUM ACIDUM.

- the future or his illness. Homesick and weeping. Grief and disposition to weep.
- Sensorium.—Reeling vertigo in evening, in a warm room, with bursting pain in head when coughing, and humming therein.
- Head.—Squeezing, pressive ache, especially in side lain on. Unusual heaviness of. Tearing in. Stitches over either (often the right) eye. Headache intensified by concussion or noise, as well as by mental exertion. Worse: Early in morning.
- External Head.—Very oily, soft, flaxen hair, which turns gray early and falls from head and beard, especially after grief and care. Bone pains begin like scraping with a knife on the swelled and bruisedly painful periosteum, then follows a markedly painful burning; lastly carries with great weakness super-venes. Coldness of, with feeling as if a cool wind blew on temples, forehead and face, with cold blue finger-tips; forenoon, evening and in open air. Worse: At night; at rest; touch. Better: Motion.
- Eyes.—Glassy, lustreless. Pressure, as tho' eyeballs were too large. Coldness of inner edge of lids. Burning in lids and canthi, especially from artificial light in evening. Inflammation of lids, not balls. Are dazzled by bright light. Short-sightedness.
- Ears.—Stitches in, < by music only. Intolerance of every noise, especially music. Sounds re-echo too loudly in. Difficult hearing at a distance.
- Nose.—Discharges bloody pus. Scuffs on dorsum. Inclined to bore in. Catarrh.
- Face.—Sickly complexion, with pointed nose and weak, sunken eyes surrounded by blue rings. Hot tension in skin, as tho' egg albumen had dried thereon. Scurfy, suppurating lips. Dry lips.
- Teeth.—Burning in front teeth, especially at night, < by warmth of bed and by warm as well as cold things. Nightly tearing in. Teeth turn yellow. Bleeding gums. Painful nodes on gums.
- Mouth.—Offensive breath. Ulceration of velum palati, with burning pains. Tenacious, clammy mucus in, and on tongue. Swelling of tongue. He involuntarily bites his tongue at night. Difficult speech.
- Appetite, etc.—Desire for juicy or refreshing things; bread is too dry. Unquenchable thirst from a sense of dryness throughout entire body. Bad effects of sour food and drink.
- Taste.—Long-continued after-taste of ingesta, especially of bread.
- Eructation.—Burning, sour. Bitter, after eating sour foods.
- Qualmishness, etc.—Continuous, in the throat. Frequent vomiting of ingesta.
- Stomach.—Pressure as of a load in, with sleepiness, especially after every meal, and when touching the epigastrium.
- Abdomen.—Squeezing or contractive pain about navel. Gurgling like water in. Distention.† Ascites.
- Flatulence.—Extraordinary grumbling and rumbling in abdomen. The uterus is distended, as if filled with air.
- Stool.—Undigested. Difficult discharge of even softs. Diarrhœa: With much flatulence, especially after sour things; without debility; mucus; greenish white.
- Urine.—Involuntary urination. Sudden irresistible urging. Frequent urging, with scanty discharge, a pale face, thirst and heat. Diminished discharge of brown u., passed drop by drop. Painful cutting or burning discharge of urine as clear as water, especially at night from 10 P. M. to 3 A. M. Milky, white, containing jelly-like lumps. Diabetes mellitus. Anxiety and restlessness before urinating. Burning after urinating.
- Sexual Organs.—Sticking pain in glands. Fig-warts. Crawling and moisture about frœnum. Swollen testes, with swelling and tension in spermatic cords. Many, very debilitating pollutions. Bad effects of onanism. Sexual desire wanting.
- Respiration.—Constant short r., and inability to speak from weakness of chest.
- Cough.—Spasmodic tickling cough, as if from the tickling of feather down from throat-pit to epigastrium, in morning with, but in evening without expectoration. With headache, nausea and vomiting. With purulent, very offensive expectoration. Expectoration of dark blood, or tenacious whitish mucus of a sourish, herby taste. With involuntary spurting of urine. From cold air.

PHOSPHORICUM ACIDUM.

Larynx, etc.—Great hoarseness. Contractive pain in throat-pit.

Chest.—Squeezing pressure or burning in.

Back.—Crawling, as of ants in, and in lumbar region.

Upper Extremities.—Twitching tearing in arms. Bony exostoses on back of hand. The skin of hands and fingers is dry and wrinkled. Unilateral, sharply defined deadness of fingers.

Lower Extremities.—Boils on nates. Painful cramp in hip-joints. Weakness of lower limbs; he falls easily when making a misstep or stubbing his foot. Humming throughout entire limb, with coldness running over body. Nightly burning in shin-bones and soles of feet. Old, itching leg ulcers. Swelling and burning throbbing in joint of great toe.

Generalities.—Bruised pains in body and limbs, like growing pains, especially in morning. Crawling, like ants, here and there on body or limbs. Burning throughout entire half of body, below lumbar and epigastric region with coldness of extremities to touch. Great emaciation. Stupid prostration. Epilepsy. Debility from loss of vital fluids, with burning but without pain. Rapid sinking of strength. Bad effects of sexual excesses. Bad effects of grief, sorrow and unfortunate love. The pains are almost exclusively prominent during rest and are diminished during motion. Tearing in limbs every time he takes cold.

Glands.—Swollen.

Bones.—Pain as tho' periosteum of all long bones were scraped with a knife. Inflammation and nightly burning of. Swelling of (periostitis). Caries with smarting pains.

Skin.—Scarlatinous eruption. Fine military eruption in aggregated clusters. Eruptions, with burning or excoriating pains. Itching or smarting ulcers. Boils. Frost bites. Bony exostoses. Corns with burning and sticking.

Sleep.—Great somnolency. Sleepiness early in evening. Deep, sound sleep, can scarcely be aroused. Anxious dreams.

PHOSPHORUS.

Fever.—Pulse: Irregular, sometimes intermitting one or two beats, mostly small, and weak, but accelerated, often, however, full and strong. Violent ebullition of blood with great restlessness. Distended blood vessels. Chill: With shuddering and shaking, generally in evening. Alternating with heat, in frequent attacks. An especially cold sensation in finger-tips and in abdomen during. Unilateral cold sensation in face. In evening, without thirst. Heat: Internal, dry, without thirst, and without complaint; at any time of day. General, with unconsciousness and somnolency. Anxious, in evening, with violent ebullition of blood. Of head, with cold feet. Sweat: Mostly on occiput and nape, while sleeping during day. Profuse, night and early morning sweats, with anxiety. Extraordinary tendency to s., during day and night. Clammy.

Allied Remedies.—Aco., Ars., Asaf., Bell., Calc-o., Calc-p., Chin., Cupr., Dig., Dulc., GEL., Hyos., Ign., Lach., Lyc., Merc., Op., Rhe., Rhus-t., Staph., Verat-a., Zinc.

PHOSPHORUS.

Mind.—Very irritable, easily flies into a passion, with consequent suffering. Great anxiety and restlessness, especially when alone. Fear during storms, especially toward evening. Fear of work. Misanthropy. Somnambulist condition. Shamelessness. Clairvoyant state with heightened sensibility.

Vertigo.—Whirling, when rising from bed in morning. Frequent, at all times of day. With nausea and pressive headache.

Head.—Congestion, with burning, humming, buzzing and throbbing, < in forehead, and a red face. Beating and burning in, with inflammation ascending from back into brain, and heat spreading from thence over entire body to feet. Outpressing, bursting, stupefying ache with a pale face. Ennervation of, music, laughing, stepping hard, etc., are intolerable. Cold feeling in occiput often alternating with heat, with be-

PHOSPHORUS.

- numbed feeling in brain. Empty feeling in, with vertigo. Stitches now here now there, or over either eye. Tearing in one temple or side, passing into vertigo. Thrusts and pressure. Worse: Early on awaking till noon; after dinner; in warm room; sitting; in evening in bed; at rest; after anger; chewing; motion; stooping; mental exertion; after motion in open air; eating warm soup; changes of weather; storms; music. Better: Walking in cool air; after sleep; lying; rubbing; during meals; temporarily from pressure and after eating.
- External Head.—Tension, as if skin of forehead and face were too tight, often one-sided only, when opening mouth. Falling of whole tufts of hair from bregma and above ears; dryness of hair roots, much dandruff and itching of scalp < scratching. Burning, itching, scale-covered head, quickly and decidedly > by scratching, but festering, burning pains follow. Dry, painful, burning heat of, with desire to uncover it.
- Eyes.—Burning in, with profuse lachrymation in wind. Pressure as from a grain of sand in, with inflammation. Swelling of upper lid, with difficult moving of same. Myopia. Black, floating spots before vision. Day blindness wherein everything seems covered with gray.
- Ears.—Violent tearing and sticking in. Throbbing, pounding and roaring in. Difficult hearing, especially, for the the human voice. Words sound too loud and re-echo in ears.
- Nose.—Swelling and redness of. Nose-bleed and blowing of blood from. Disagreeable dryness in. Fetid smell from. Numerous freckles on. Constant, greenish yellow discharge. Stuffed coryza.
- Face.—Dirty, pale countenance. Puffy under eyes; they are deeply sunken and surrounded by blue rings. Tearing in bones of. Ulceration of angles of mouth.
- Teeth.—Tearing or sticking ache < in open air and from warm foods. Painful as if suppurating, early in morning when chewing. The gums are swollen and bleed easily.
- Mouth.—Dryness of throat during day and night. Scratching and burning in throat Increased, sweetish, salty saliva. Blood-spitting. Hawking of mucus early in morning. Appearance like white fur or velvet in fauces.
- Appetite, etc.—Loss of, with a full feeling in upper part of throat. Hunger after eating. Craves something refreshing. Thirst, with loss of appetite.
- Taste.—Sour after eating.
- Eructations.—Sour. Spasmodic, with pain as tho' something would be torn loose: at the cardiac orifice of stomach.
- Nausea, etc.—With hunger, early in morning. Vomiting, with violent pains in stomach. Nightly vomiting of bile. Vomits soured food. Vomits cold drinks after they become warm in stomach.
- Stomach.—Fulness and pressure in. Burning in, and in pit. Painful to touch. Narrowing of the cardiac orifice. Piercing in, and in hypochondriæ.
- Hypochondriæ.—Stitches in.
- Abdomen.—Distension of, after dinner. Burning in. Yellow spots on. Tearing bellyache early in morning in bed.
- Flatulence.—Causing tormenting pains in abdomen, arising in region of short ribs, especially after dinner. Flatulent colic deep in abdomen. Obstructed flatus.
- Stool.—Chronic diarrhœa, as from paralysis of intestinal canal, stools preceded by rumbling in belly. Involuntary soft s. Watery, frequently greenish, mucus diarrhœa. Undigested, diarrhœic s. Watery diarrhœa containing flocks. Discharge of blood with stool. Discharge of mucus from the constantly open anus.
- Anus and Rectum.—Hemorrhage from. External and internal hæmorrhoids bleeding easily. Paralysis of sphincter.
- Urine.—Increased, watery. Iridescent, fatty pellicle on. Urinates often and a little at a time. Hæmaturia. Burning twitching in urethra when not urinating.
- Sexual Organs.—Greatly increased sexual desire. Excessive pollutions. Stitches in vagina, extend into uterus. Sterility caused by excessive venery.

PHOSPHORUS.

Menses.—Too early, too profuse and long lasting. Discharge of blood during pregnancy. Bitung, blistering leucorrhœa.

Respiration.—Difficult, with anxiety in chest. Spasmodic tightness of chest. Nightly suffocative attacks.

Cough.—Hollow, hacking c., excited by tickling or itching in chest. With rawness and hoarseness in chest or with sticking in throat. Spasmodic. Dry, straining c., with bursting headache, excited by cold air or reading aloud. Dry in evening and night; in morning and by day expectoration of a tough, whitish mucus apparently mixed with dust, or of a yellow pus-like or rust-colored, often cold mucus, of a sour, salty, or sweetish taste, or else of bright red, frothy blood. When whooping cough threatens to take an unfavorable course.

Larynx.—Chronic hoarseness and roughness in. Complete aphonia, with dryness in trachea. Stitches in. Sense of a piece of skin or flesh hanging loose in. Laryngeal phthisis. Membranous croup.

Neck.—Goitre. Swelling of cervical and axillary glands. Painful stiffness of nape.

Chest.—Anxiety in. Constriction. Spasm of. Burning, piercing, soreness and tension in. Congestion to, and violent palpitation, from every emotion, especially vexation. Inflammation of lungs, with stitches in sides. Heaviness, fullness and tension on. Suppuration of lungs. Phthisis mucosa. Erysipelas, with sticking and burning in female mammæ. Suppurating ulcers on mammæ, or festering pains therein after erysipelas.

Back.—Sticking in scapulæ. Pains in back and lumbar region, as tho' broken, hindering every motion. Burning in lumbar region.

Upper Extremities.—Arms and hands tremble when holding anything. Burning of hands with swollen blood vessels. Stiff arms. Paralysis of fingers. Frost-bites on fingers. Numb finger tips.

Lower Extremities.—Dislocative pain in hip joint. Drawing and tearing in knee. Weariness in limbs, especially in lower leg. Bony swelling on tibia. Painful swelling of feet in evening or after walking. Numbness of tips of toes. Frost-bites and corns on toes.

Generalities.—Great emaciation. Easily takes cold, which results especially in nightly tearing and sticking in limbs: So-called human barometer. Trembling of limbs from slightest exertion. Violent trembling of whole body. Burning in all parts of body and limbs. Violent congestions and ebullitions of blood. Hæmorrhages from various organs. General nervous weakness. Heaviness and paralytic weakness of limbs. Very sensitive to cold weather. Complaints are intensified during storms and changes of weather. Most symptoms appear early in morning and in evening in bed, as well as after eating. Many complaints appear while, and cease after eating. After effects of passion.

Glands.—Affected, especially after bruises.

Bones.—Swelling of (periostitis). Rachitis.

Skin.—Yellow or brownish spots on, especially on chest and lower abdomen. Small wounds bleed profusely. Dry, scaling herpes. Boils. Fungus hæmatodes. Bony exostoses.

Sleep.—Insufficient and unrefreshing in morning. Sopor-like day sleepiness. Late falling to sleep in evening and nightly sleeplessness from anxiety and restlessness. Great sleepiness and indolence after meals. Somnambulism. Hideos, frightful dreams. Yawning.

Fever.—Pulse: Various; ordinarily quickened, at same time full and hard, but sometimes weak and small; more seldom slow or intermittent. Strong ebullition of blood and throbbing of carotids. Chill: Almost only in evening, without thirst, and with aversion to least uncovering, with greatly swollen veins of hands. Internal, with shuddering, not relieved by warmth of stove. And heat alternating at night. Nocturnal, with diarrhœa. Running down back. Chilliness in evening till midnight, with great weakness and sleep. Heat: Flying, over the whole body, but first on hands.

PHOSPHORUS.

Universal, anxious h., afternoons and evenings, with burning on hands and face. Nocturnal h., disturbing sleep, mostly after midnight. Ascending back, with somnolency. Sweat: Most on head, hands and feet, with copious urine. Only on forepart of body. After midnight and in morning copious s., followed by great weakness. Sticky. The transpiration often smells like sulphur.

Allied Remedies.—Aco., Agar., Alum., Am-c., Ars., Aur., Bro., Calc-c., CAI.C-P., Caust., Chin., Cina, Dig., Graph., Hell., Iod., Sp., Kali-c., Lyc., Mos., Nat-s., NUX-V., Op., Pur., Petr., PUL.S., Sec-c., Sep., Sil., Stront., Verat-a., Verbas.

PHYTOLACCA.

Mind.—Loss of personal delicacy. Indisposition to mental exertion. Indifference. Half stupor.

Vertigo.—As if intoxicated; with nausea and dim vision. Faintness on raising up.

Head.—Thrown back. Aching, which moves about; above one brow; with nausea, cool sweat on forehead and weakness; in temples, with a sense of suffocation; in forehead, extending backward (Bry.); with acute hearing. Pressure: Bursting; painful in forehead and upper part of eyes, with gaping; in vertex, with dryness. Bruised soreness in, more in occiput or right side. Heaviness extending thro' shoulders, chest and legs, with vertigo. Shooting in, when leucorrhœa begins. Worse: Stepping down; looking down; stooping. Better: Eating, open air.

Eyes.—Sunken. Inflamed, flowing hot tears. Smarting. Balls painful, feel too large. Lids reddish blue, swollen, œdematous, agglutinated; as of coals of fire on. Sandy feeling in. Shooting from left to top of head. Worse: From gaslight.

Nose.—Drawing about root. Sore, with profuse, acrid, watery coryza. Stoppage of one nostril, flow of mucus from the other. Tickling in. Burning in.

Face.—Dark yellowness of, and of sclerotic. Purple-red; bluish; sickly pallor of; suffering expression. Pain in bones of, and in all joints. Feeling of mumps coming on. Jaws ache.

PHYTOLACCA.

Mouth.—Inclination to bite teeth together; they feel sore and elongated. Tongue: Red at tip, blisters on sides; pain at root on swallowing; burnt feeling at base, and in throat. Heat, swelling and tenderness of tongue, tonsils and palate. Saliva: Thick, ropy and tenacious, flowing from mouth; yellow; metallic-tasting; cold.

Taste.—Like nuts; bitter, then smarting and cool towards tip of tongue.

Throat.—Congested and dark red. Sore: Rough and dry, with aching in neck, back and limbs. Choking as from a lump, hot ball or apple-core lodged therein. Smarting or raw, scraped feeling in. Much hawking to clear it of increased mucus, with no relief. Excruciating pains shoot through ears on attempting to swallow. Eruption in. Worse: Hot drinks. Better: Liquids.

Stomach.—Intense thirst. Violent retching and vomiting; distress so intense, he desired death. Vomiting: With purging; with eructations (Arg-n.); painless. Vomit: Bloody; dark bilious; acrid, causing scraping and excoriation in throat. Empty retching. Agonizing cramps and coldness, with cutting, tearing, straining pain in, then soreness on pressure, diarrhœa and prostration. Bruised soreness in pit. Burning in. Sickly feeling in. Worse: Morning; eating.

Abdomen.—Much flatus. Boring or burning griping about navel. Weakness in.

Rectum.—Pain shooting from r., along perineum into penis.

Stool.—Diarrhœa, with sickly feeling in bowels; preceded by cramping about navel, followed by faintness. Continual inclination to, with much straining. Involuntary, from much straining, which continues even in sleep. Copious, of blood, mucus and like scrapings of intestines. Dark brown. Painless. With fearful tenesmus, vomiting and purging.

Urinary Organs.—Weakness, pain and soreness in kidney region. Straining to urinate. Kidneys inflamed. Urine: Diminished, with pain in loins; retained; albuminous; chalky sediment.

Genitals.—Sharp or hard grinding pains run up spermatic cords followed by soreness Gurgling in prostate gland Bearing down pains involuntary straining and hemorrhage from vagina Intermittent, contractive, uterine pains Menses suppressed Profuse, ropy leucorrhœa Loss of sexual appetite relaxed genitals Mucous full containing lumps

PHYTOLACCA

Respiratory Organs—Dry, croupy cough, with burning in larynx and trachea Cough with mucus excited by scraping and tickling in throat worse in cold air Expectoration tough Hoarse Dryness in trachea as if breathing thro' a sponge

Chest—Painful muscles Pain in region of right nipple through to back Worse after midnight Better Afternoon

Heart—Shocks of pain in region of then in right arm, worse walking Constrictive feeling in præcordia, with pressure in temples Pulse slow

Neck—Stiffness of and of back at night Pain in back of, running down spine, also in upper jaw and teeth

Back—Backache Aching weight and pressure on scapulae Intense griping in small of, with cramps in lower extremities, which come and go suddenly, the muscles gather in knots, then become flaccid and sore, followed by drowsiness and stupor Shooting pains in sacrum, down outer side of both thighs to feet

Extremities—Rheumatic and neuralgic pains affect the outer side and seem near surface of skin or bones Corpse-like coldness, they look withered Rheumatism of shoulders < r Throbbing, aching or pricking needle like pains as if suppurating in finger tips Pains below knees and elbows Hamstrings seem too short Heavy Stiff Spasmodic jerking of Rheumatic feeling in all joints Worse Sitting Better Elevating feet

Generalities—General soreness, with tired aching and restlessness Great muscular debility lassitude and desire to lie down Dark or purple redness of affected parts Affects the right side especially the shoulder and thigh Pains appear and disappear suddenly and are often followed by itching, burning or soreness Universal throbbing Smarting sensations Convulsions, hands clenched, toes flexed eyes bleared and dauncing with alternate spasm and relaxation of facial muscles Many symptoms are accompanied by heat All the secretions are greatly increased tears saliva, etc Worse Motion, raising up, wet weather, at night, open air pressure, at 11 A M Better Eating warm, dry weather

PLATINA

Skin—Aching and hardness in glands Itching rash with a dry, hot, red skin, desire for cold bathing, which relieves momentarily, but is worse afterwards, worse from scratching and heat of bed Elevated erythematous eruption, painfully sore itching terminating in a dark purple node Causes suppuration of tumors, boils, etc Cold and blue, lead-colored

Fever—Chill Chilliness < uncovering, internally during pains Heat Burning h, especially on soles of feet, which seem bloated like puff-balls In throat, stomach and rectum With fulness of head, red face and cold feet Sweat Cool, mostly on forehead Free on feet, most under toes Profuse with the vomiting and purging

Allied Remedies.—Bell, Bry, Dulc, Hell, Ign, Kali bi, Kali-iod, Merc, Nux-v, Rhus i, Antidotes—Dig, Ign, Nul ac, Op

PLATINA.

Mind.—Unconsciousness Delirium Mental disturbances from fright, or anger caused by vexation & e, alternate laughing and crying, etc Hysteria with excessive sexual desire, hauteur and involuntary weeping Sadness and weeping in evening Premonition and great fear of imminent death, with extraordinary anguish Insanity, with fault finding, pride, obscene talk, trembling and tonic spasms Great peevishness Pride and self-conceit, with contempt for everything else, even the most beloved and sacred things Symptoms of mind and mood frequently alternate with those of body Great indifference

PLATINA.

- Head.—Crampy pain, like an inward pressure in temples and forehead. Compressive cramping, as of a constricting band. Sensation of a plug in parietal bone. Pains increase gradually and leave in the same manner. Crawling, like ants, and cold feeling from temple down over lower jaw. Numbness within as well as on skull. Brain feels stiff. The scalp seems to gradually contract tightly over the skull then slowly relax again. Worse: Evening; stooping; sitting or lying at rest, in room. Better: Gentle motion in open air; rubbing.
- Eyes.—Cramp-like pain in edge of orbit. Quivering or spasmodic trembling of lids. Cold sensation in. Crawling in angles of. Smarting in. Objects appear smaller than they really are.
- Ears.—Crampy pain like an earache. Numb sensation in, which extends to cheeks and lips. Reverberation and rolling like the noise of a wagon in.
- Nose.—Crampy pain, with numb sensation.
- Face.—Redness and burning heat of, with violent thirst, especially toward evening. Pale, sunken and numb. Crampy pain, with numb feeling in malar bone. Benumbing, dull pressure in malar bone. Lock-jaw. Sense of coldness, mostly about mouth. Bluish-red varicosity on chin.
- Teeth.—Crampy, jerky drawing in. Fissured gums.
- Mouth.—Cramp-like drawing in throat, as though it were constricted. Hawking of mucus. Burnt feeling on tongue.
- Appetite, etc.—Ravenous hunger and hasty eating, with contemptuous mood. Low spirits causing aversion to food. Thirstless.
- Taste.—Sweetish on tip of tongue.
- Eruption.—Ineffectual desire to eructate. Rising of a disagreeable, bitter sweet fluid, during which he easily swallows the wrong way.
- Nausea, etc.—Continued qualmsiness, with anxious weakness and trembling.
- Stomach.—Pressure, after eating. Contractive pain in pit, as tho' too tightly laced. Thrusts in pit.
- Abdomen.—Contractive pain in. Dull, thrusting pressure in. Burning extending from throat-pit down into a. Pressure, extending downward into inguinal region and sexual organs. Pinching in umbilical region. Drawing downward from lumbar region into both groins. Lead colic.
- Stool.—Sense of weakness in abdomen or shivering after stool. Constipation.
- Anus.—Itching, crawling and tenesmus at, every evening.
- Urine.—Frequent urination in a weak stream.
- Sexual Organs.—Painfully sensitive, internally and externally. Voluptuous crawling in, and in abdomen. Pressing and urging toward. Nymphomania and unnaturally excited sexual desire, especially in lying-in women.
- Menses.—Of dark, thick blood, too early and too profuse (of too short duration). Spasms at appearance of. Uterine hemorrhage, with greatly excited sexual desire; after miscarriage.
- Respiration.—Deep, anxious inspiration. Shortness of breath, as tho' chest were too tightly laced, with anxious, warm risings. Desire to take a deep breath, hindered by a weak feeling in chest.
- Larynx, etc.—Loss of voice.
- Neck.—Tensive, crampy feeling in. Stiffness of nape.
- Chest.—Dull, thrusting pressure in. Tensive, crampy pain seemingly in external chest, increasing and decreasing gradually. Anxious palpitation.
- Back.—Tensive, cramp-like, numb feeling in, and in lumbar region. Bruised pain in, and in lumbar region, especially when pressed upon or bending backward.
- Upper Extremities.—Paralytic drawing and sense of weakness in arms. Cramping pain in arms and hands. Stiff sensation in forearms. Ulcers on fingers and toes.
- Lower Extremities.—Cramping pain in legs. Stiff feeling in legs. Swelling of balls of toes, with nightly tearing.
- Generalities.—Cramp-like pains in many parts, especially in extremities and joints. Dull, thrust-like or inward pressing pains like the driving in of a plug. Tension in limbs, as tho' tightly bound. Paralytic, numb and stiff sensation in various parts, generally accompanied by a feeling of coldness. Paralytic weakness and weariness in limbs, especially during rest. Hysterical, tetanic spasms, with full consciousness. Bad effects of fright and mortification, or of anger excited by vexation. The pains begin feebly, increase gradually and again disappear just as slowly. Most complaints are intensified in the evening and during rest. Especially suited to the female sex.

PLATINA.

Skin.—Excoriative painful biting, or pricking burning here and there.

Sleep.—Spasmodic yawning; in afternoon. Lascivious dreams.

Fever.—Pulse: Small, weak and often tremulous. Chill: In evening, with trembling and tremulous sensation thro' whole body. Shaking c, when passing from a room into open (even warm) air. And chilliness predominate, with peevishness, which passes off later during the heat. Alternating with symptoms of the intellect and disposition. Heat: With a sense of burning redness of face, when it is neither noticeable nor present. Flying h., inter-mingled with shivering. Gradually increasing and diminishing in a like manner. Sweat: Only during sleep, disappearing immediately on waking.

Allied Remedies.—Ag-c., Asaf.; Bell., Canst., Croc., Dig., Ign., LACH., Men., Merc., PLB., PULS., Saba., Sabi., Stronl.

PLUMBUM.

Mind.—Weakness of mind and memory. Delirium, with rage and wild looks. Insanity. Great anxiety and restlessness, with frequent sighing. Dejection and melancholy. Ennui.

Sensorium.—Vertigo when stooping or looking upward. Stupefaction; he falls down unconscious.

Head.—Congestion, with heat ascending in to head. Heaviness, especially in occiput. Sticking ache. Hair very dry; it falls from beard and eyebrows.

PLUMBUM.

Eyes.—Inflamed and congested. Pressure in, as tho' the ball were too large. Paralysis of upper lid. Yellow sclerotic. Contracted pupils. Myopia. Misty, foggy vision. Paralysis of optic nerve.

Ears.—Tearing in. Difficult hearing.

Nose.—Erysipelatous inflammation. Diminished sense of smell. Nasty odor in.

Face.—Cadaverous paleness. Puffed. Greasy, glistening skin. Confused look. Painless desquamation of lips. Tearing in maxillæ.

Teeth.—Soften and turn black. Pale, swollen gums. Painful nodes on gums.

Mouth.—Dry. Aphthæ, dirty ulcers and bluish-black blotches in, also on tip of tongue (as after abuse of Mercury). Sense of a foreign body or of swelling in throat. Rising, as of a ball in throat. Constriction of throat. Paralysis of throat, with inability to swallow. Much sweetish saliva in. Paralysis of tongue, with difficult speech.

Appetite, etc.—Loss of. Increased. Desire for bread and baked food. Violent thirst, especially for cold water.

Taste.—Sweetish, in mouth.

Erections.—Sweetish. Gulping up of sweetish water.

Nausea, etc.—Frequent retching. Excessive vomiting of ingesta or discolored substances, with violent pains in stomach and abdomen. Fecal vomit, with colic and constipation.

Stomach.—Violent, constrictive spasm of. Violent pressure in. Sticking extending from pit into back.

Hypochondriæ.—Stitches in liver. Pains in kidneys.

Abdomen.—Violent colic with strong retraction of, especially of navel. Constriction of intestines, with strong retraction of navel and anus. Inflammation of viscera. Hard nodes in.

Flatulence.—Grumbling and rumbling in abdomen. Exceedingly offensive flatus, especially after eating fish.

Stool.—Obstinate constipation. Hard, nodular stool passed with difficulty.

Anus.—Constriction and retraction of.

PLUMBUM.

Urine.—Retained. Tenesmus vesicæ. Difficult discharge of, passed drop by drop (strangury).

Sexual Organs.—Inflammatory swelling of. Constriction in testicles. Greatly intensified sexual desire.

Respiration.—Difficult, panting. Spasmodic tightness of chest.

Cough.—Dry, convulsive. With expectoration of blood or pus.

Larynx.—Hoarseness and roughness in. Constriction of.

Chest.—Constriction. Stitches; in female mamme. Anxious palpitation.

Back.—Stitches in, and in lumbar region.

Upper Extremities.—Twitching tearing in arms. Bony exostoses on back of hand.

Lower Extremities.—Paralytic sensation in hip, knee and ankle joints. Paralysis of lower limbs. Stinking foot-sweat.

Generalities.—Sticking and tearing in limbs. Twitching in limbs. Paralysis of limbs. Constrictive sensations in internal organs. Epileptic attacks. Great weakness and emaciation. Dropsical swellings. The pains in limbs are intensified at night and are > by rubbing. Symptoms intermit every third day.

Bones.—Crawling pain, seemingly inside of.

Skin.—Sensitive to open air. Yellowish or pale bluish color. Dark brown spots on body. Denuded spots. Acute decubitus. Burning ulcers. Cold gangrene.

Sleep.—Great drowsiness. Stupefying somnolency. Extraordinary day sleepiness. Nightly sleeplessness on account of spasmodic colic.

Fever.—Pluse: Very variable and irregular, mostly small, contracted and slow, sometimes hard and slow, also occasionally small and accelerated, seldom full, feverish or intermittent. Chill: Predominating, increasing toward evening with violent thirst and redness of face. Internal, with external heat, towards evening. Chilliness in all members. Coldness in open air and during motion. Heat: With thirst, anxiety, a red face and sleepiness. Internal, in evening and night with yellowness of whole buccal cavity. Sweat: Anxious, cold or sticky and clammy.

PODOPHYLLUM.

Allied Remedies.—Alum., Ars., Bell., (CAUST.), Chin., Hyos., Nat-m., Nux-v., OP, PLAT., Stram., Sul., Sul-ac.

PODOPHYLLUM.

Mind.—Depressed. Hypochondriac mood.

Vertigo.—With fullness over eyes.

Head.—Splitting, dull throbbing or heaviness in occiput. Headache, with heat in vertex; alternating with diarrhoea; sharp pain; soreness over seat of pain; stunning. Worse: Lying down; after eating; rising. Better: Open air; cold bathing.

Eyes.—Sunken. Half open, during sleep. Heavy lids. Drawing, as if squint would follow. Inflamed. Photophobia. Ulcers and opacities of cornea. Occluded pupil.

Nose.—Pinched. Soreness and little pustules in. Inflamed, with itching and burning.

Face.—Pale. Fallen jaw. Cheeks red, swelled.

Mouth.—Lips sore. Teeth covered with dried mucus in the morning. Much viscid mucus in. Sour or offensive odor from. Salivation. Tongue: Coated white; yellow; taking imprint of teeth; swelling of and of adjacent glands.

Taste.—Sour; putrid; of fried liver; sweet, to everything.

Throat.—Soreness of, extending into ears. Rough, dry and burning. Sense of a lump in. Rattling of mucus in. Worse: Swallowing liquids.

Appetite.—Voracious; craves acids.

Thirst.—For cold water.

Nausea.—After rising; with acidity. Vomiting: Of hot, frothy mucus, burning the œsophagus; bitter; dark green; bloody; forcible; exhausting. Regurgitations, with heat in throat.

Epigastrium.—Throbbing, then diarrhoea. Hollow feeling. Weakness, < after stool.

PODOPHYLLUM.

Stomach.—Burning like hot steam in. Spasmodic, wrenching pains, which extort screams with efforts to vomit; he constantly rubs it. Cold water causes oppression and uneasiness in. Heaviness in. Sickly feeling in. Worse: Motion.

Hypochondriæ.—Fulness, twisting, stitches or heat in right. Weight or dragging in left. Worse: Eating.

Abdomen.—Faintness, with a sense of emptiness in a., after stool. Heat and pain in, with inclination to stool. Cramp-like colic, with retracted muscles. Gripping. Cutting in sides of. Rumbling, < in ascending colon. Pain in ascending and transverse colon. Sharp pain above right groin. Distension. Tenderness. Inflammation and ulceration of duodenum. Worse: Lying on back; pressure of clothes; touch; motion; eating. Better: Doubling up. Hard pressure. Warmth. After passing stool or flatus. Lying on side.

Rectum.—Prolapse of, with swelling and congestion. Fulness and dragging in, before stool; sense of weakness in and in abdomen after stool. ANUS: Soreness in. Discharge of mucus from.

Stool.—Liquid; profuse; painless; offensive; hurried; gushing out; undigested; frothy; yellow, green, chalk-like or blood streaked; albuminous; acrid; burning hot; coated with tough yellow mucus; painful with screaming and grinding of teeth; ineffectual urging to; preceded by retching and vomiting. Alternate diarrhoea and constipation. Worse: After eating or drinking; in hot weather; during dentition; in the morning; from acid fruit with milk.

Urine.—Incontinence of.

Sexual Organs.—Inflamed scrotum or eyes; pustules on scrotum (Crot-t.). Sticking above pubes and in spermatic cord. Inflammation and soreness in right ovary and uterus; pains in ovary extend up and down. Numbness in left ovary. Falling out feeling during stool, with pains in sacrum. Prolapsus uteri and recti.

Chest.—Oppression, with desire to breathe deeply, hindered by a sense of constrict-tion. Sense of suffocation on first lying down. Snapping like a thread breaking in right lung on deep inspiration.

PSORINUM.

Heart.—Palpitation. Feeling as if it were mounting into throat.

Neck.—Stiff nape with soreness of muscles of neck and shoulder.

Back.—Pains; under right scapula; in loins worse from a misstep.

Extremities.—Tingling in. Weakness in joints; knees, wrists, left hip, etc. Pain with cramp in right leg.

Generalities.—Choleraic symptoms, with cramps and drowsiness. Prostration. Constant rolling and tossing about. Stiff on beginning to move. Sense of soreness, the bed being too hard. Headache accompanies many symptoms. Affects the right throat, right hypochondrium and right ovary.

Aggravation.—In the morning; from 2 to 4 A. M.; abuse of calomel; during dentition.

Amelioration.—Evening.

Sleep.—Moaning in. Sleepy: In day time; in morning, with rumbling in bowels.

Skin.—Intolerable itching, scratching causes urticarious blotches. Rawness. Scabs on arms and legs.

Fever.—Coldness: With the pain in bowels. Heat: In flushes; up back after stool; over face and head. Cough during. Sweat: So profuse it drops from fingers; cold; on feet in evening. Feeling as if body were bathed in.

Allied Remedies.—Alo., Chel., Colch., Crot-t., Gamb., Ign., Iris-v., Jal., Lyc., Merc., Nat-s., Nux-v., Sul., Sul-ac., Verat-a.

PSORINUM.

Mind.—Anxious; full of fear; very depressed; despairing; always thinking of dying. Irritable, easily angered. Every moral impression causes trembling. Persistence of one idea. Memory lost.

Head.—Aching, spasmodically contractive a. Pain: In center, with weakness of; like a hammer beating; as of a piece of PSORINUM.

- wood lying across occiput; pushing out, as if brain had not space enough; one-sided pressure. Pulsation. Boring or cramp in temples. Drawing in frontal sinuses. Pinching and heaviness in forehead; temples feel pressed in, alternating with pain in teeth. Burning. Stitches extending to nose or eyes. Dull pressing in vertex. As of a cord tied about Hair feels pulled. Worse: Mental labor. Better: Wrapping up; nose-bleed; sweat; washing face.
- Eyes.—Glassy. Gummy. Agglutinated. Deep broad, blue rings about. Feel swelled, like a foreign body in; tired; burning. Vision: Of fiery sparks; tremulous; suddenly blurred. Pimples like styes on upper lid. Worse: Looking intently.
- Ears.—Discharging fetid pus, with headache. Reddish earwax. Feeling as if: Stuffed; something bursting in, when swallowing; breath came from; hearing with another's ears. Pain, ulcerative; stitching, preceded by coldness, better boring in with finger. Burning heat in, extending to vertex. Roaring in, with stupefaction. Worse: Evening.
- Nose.—Tough mucus in. Sense of a plug high up in, causing nausea, better stooping. Boring in, then sneezing. Pustules on septum. Clear fluid escapes on stooping. Sensitive to inhaled air. Drawing in, then fluent coryza. Burning in, better by a fluent discharge. Scratching crawling at root. Itching on tip.
- Face.—Greasy. Pale, sickly look. Zygoma painful to touch.
- Lips.—Swelling of upper. Brown, black and dry. Painful and itching. Burn. Feel swelled. Vesicles around corners of, with humid sore spots.
- Teeth.—Gnashing of, at night; feel on edge when smoking; loose; stitches in; hammering in; feel pulled. Toothache, alternating with headache. Worse: Touch. Better: Fresh air.
- Gums.—Inflamed, with crawling pain; and tongue ulcerated, with sore throat.
- Tongue.—Dry; painful. Tip feels burnt.
- Mouth.—Tough mucus in and in throat; it glues the teeth together, tastes like old cheese, is offensive and adheres to palate causing hawking. Scratching in back part and asthmatic feeling on leaning backward. Swelled feeling in fauces.
- Taste.—Foul; bitter or coppery; sticky. Of food is oily, or like cat's urine. Nauseous. Better: Eating.
- Throat.—Pink spots with cheesy tips, which turn black. Sore, everything burns it, with difficult swallowing, can take cold food only. Tough, adherent mucus in, causing hawking. Scratching, with suffocation, causing cough. Tickling causing cough; tickling in, then eructations. Burnt feeling in; burning in palate. Dry. Swollen feeling in left tonsil. Submaxillary glands swelled.
- Appetite.—Great hunger; without appetite. Easily satiated. Disgust for pork. Great thirst; with dryness and burning in mouth; for beer after the chill.
- Eructations.—Tasting like rotten eggs; rancid; with headache. Waterbrash, after drinking water; on lying down, with colic. Better: Eating roasted things.
- Nausea.—Constant. Vomits sweet mucus, or sour, which sets teeth on edge.
- Stomach.—Bloated; oppressed. Crampy stitch, cutting or contracting pain in pit.
- Abdomen.—Stitches in hypochondria and sides of, < motion and lying on r. side. Swollen feeling below short ribs (Sul.). Bloated. Gurgling, griping, cutting or twisting in. Twitching or sticking in inguinal region. Worse: Eating frozen things; driving. Better: Stool.
- Rectum.—Burning in. Chafed feeling.
- Anus.—Burning nodes at. Itching. Hæmorrhoids worse during stormy weather.
- Stool.—Of a dark brown, very foul smelling fluid. Shooting out, preceded by colic. Green, bilious, mixed with mucus. Involuntary, with much flatus. Soft, but difficult. Mushy.
- Urinary Organs.—Urination: Prostatic discharge before; burning in tip of penis at start of; burning with cutting during; dribbling after. Inward stitches in urethra. Red sediment in, fatty pellicle on urine.

PSORINUM.

Sexual Organs—Male: Relaxed. Impotence, with aversion to coition. Tightness and drawing in. Testes swelled and heavy, with ulcer on glans. Drawing in testes and small of back. Spermatic cords as if full of blood. Painful suppurating vesicle on scrotum.

Respiratory Organs.—Cough: Paroxysmal, hickling, excited by suffocation and crawling in larynx, or talking, > quiet; with weakness or heaviness in chest; with dizziness; with vomiting acid mucus; with soreness under sternum; in morning on rising and evening on lying down (Phos.). Expectoration: Blood-streaked; of saliva; of green mucus; difficult; sticking firmly. Hoarseness. Short of breath in fresh air; with whistling in chest. Suffocation in larynx when sitting bent backward; > gentle exercise, riding or lying down; <, sitting.

Chest.—Pains: Cutting, as with knives; as if tearing loose; pressing in small spots; ulcerative under sternum; excoriating; boring. Oppressive as of a load, on inclining head forward when stooping. Worse: Coughing. Better: Holding arms away from chest.

Neck.—Glands swelled, on touch bruised pain extends to head. Tearing, boring or stiffness in nape. Drawing extending to shoulders. Tensive pain as from lying uncomfortably. Pustules on.

Back.—Boil-like indurations in axillæ. Sticking extending towards chest on coughing. Pains: Boring, or as if broken in vertebræ; bruised; cutting; stitches; pressure in. Tightness in ischii, extending to knees. Weakness. Worse: Straightening out; motion.

Extremities.—Stretching. Weakness, as if joints would not hold together. Tearing, wandering pains. Trembling of hands and feet. Upper: Asleep feeling in left arm and fingers. Crawling in fingers. Spasmodic pain in bones of left arm. Better: Motion.

Lower Extremities.—One leg feels too weak to endure pressure of other when lying. Bruised pains in legs and soles, as after too much walking, with restlessness in them. Stitching as of a strained sinew in ankle. Inclination to turn left foot inward when walking. Gouty pains in left foot. Cramps in single toes when stretching them out. Itching feet and soles. Worse: Rest.

PULSATILLA.

Generalities.—Filthy smell of body. Offensive discharges. Pale, exhausted and thin, his clothing is too large for him. Malaise, easily tired out; riding exhausts him. The sun shining upon her seems to press her down. Great bodily heaviness. Affected by stormy weather. Hot tremblings over body. Worse: Riding. Morning and evening. Better: Lying down; in morning; in fresh air; wrapping up.

Skin.—Yellow, dirty and greasy. Roughness of knuckles. Small warts, like pinheads on fingers. Pimples with black points in center (Kali-bi.). Eruptions: Miliary; vesicular; pustular; itch-like; unhealthy. Itching, after scratching vesicles arise; when touched.

Sleep.—Very sleepy in daytime. Gnashes teeth, which wakes her. Unrefreshing. Dreams of business; anxious.

Fever.—Chilliness, in the evening, with hot flashes, debility and sleepiness. Creeping chills. Feet cold all night. Heat: Sudden, general, with trickling sweat over face. As if about to lose senses. With thirst, dryness and burning in mouth, burning in head and face, better fluent coryza. Thirst during chill and heat. Sweat: Profuse, when walking, with consequent debility and taking cold easily. Offensive. On perineum. On palms at night. During night, then feels better.

Allied Remedies.—Carb-v., Chin., Graph., Kali-bi., Sul.

PULSATILLA.

Mind.—Distraction, Unconsciousness. Full of numerous, but very changeable ideas. Delirium. Anxiousness, restlessness and fear of death. Secret anguish, even to self-destruction, by drowning. Melancholy and sadness. Anthropophobia. Mild, timid, yielding disposition. Tearful mood. Inclination to inward grief and silent vexation. Full of care concerning his domestic affairs. Covetous and dissatisfied. Mistrust.

PULSATILLA.

Sensorium.—Vertigo as tho' intoxicated; with nausea, headache and vanishing of sight and hearing in evening when looking up or stooping. Stupefying confusion of head. Mental obtusion and chaotic condition of head, as after a debauch or night watching, worst in a warm room. Mental fatigue from exertion of mind. Fainting attacks with a deathly pale face, on entering a warm room.

Head.—Congestion to. Twitching tearing pain, going to temple upon which he turns and lies. Crackling in, after each impact of the pulse. One-sided stitches in one temple or in occiput, with vertigo, roaring in ears and vanishing of sight. Aching as tho' brain were torn. Empty feeling in. Sore pain in one or both temples. Bursting pressure in forehead, with pressure on eyes and nausea. Great heaviness of. Throbbing in. Cutting in. Tension in forehead as tho' screwed together. Twitching jerks in one side, like a tight drawing which suddenly lets go. Worse: Evening; lying on painless side; at rest; in a warm room; hot air; mental exertion. Motion: Of eyes; raising eyes; stooping. Better: Walking in cool open air; tight bandaging; external pressure; raising up.

External Head.—Exostoses, tending to suppurate and ending in necrosis of bones. Feeling as if frontal bones were too thin. Twitching tearing or crawling biting, sticking and itching on, most on temples and behind ears, unchanged or worse from scratching, followed by swelling and eruptions which pain as if ulcerated. Drawing pain in when brushing hair back. Takes cold in, from getting it wet. Worse: Undressing; getting warm in bed; touching hair. Better: Open air; gentle motion; washing head.

Eyes.—Inflammation with nightly agglutination, Lachrymation. Redness of conjunctiva, without swelling of lids. Sticking in, especially from light and sunshine. Dryness of, and of lids. Lachrymal fistula which discharges pus when pressed upon. Styes, especially on upper lids. Dim vision, when becoming heated. Like gauze before, > by wiping. Incipient paralysis of optic nerve and gray cataract. Obscuration of cornea.

Ears.—Twitching tearing or sticking in. Inflammation of. Hardened, black cerumen. Discharging pus. Pain in, as tho' something were forced out Deafness, as from stoppage, after taking cold. Nightly earache and toothache.

Nose.—Nosebleed of dark blood. Ulceration and moisture on wings. Green, stinking or purulent discharge. Coryza with constant chilliness and loss of smell and taste; dry in evening, fluent in morning.

Face.—Pale yellow complexion with deeply sunken eyes. Erysipelas, with sticking pains then desquamation of skin. Shivering on one side. Painful sensitiveness of skin. Biting and gnawing about mouth. Swelling of under lip; of submaxillary glands. Tearing in lower jaw.

Teeth.—Ache in evening. Jerking, tearing ache, < warmth of bed or room and > by cool air or cold water. Jerking from teeth into ear. Throbbing and sticking in gum, < heat of stove. Toothache from taking cold (when the weather first turns warm in spring), with tearing in ears, pale face and chill. Looseness of painful teeth.

Mouth.—Putrid odor from, especially in morning. Dark redness or varicose swelling of throat. Sore throat, as tho' it were raw. Sticking sore throat when swallowing. Pressure and tension in throat during empty swallowing. Tenacious mucus in throat early in morning. Increased flow of sweetish saliva. Tongue covered with mucus.

Appetite, etc.—Ravenous hunger. Constant hunger, but knows not for what. Entire loss of. Aversion to bread and butter. Thirstless. Craving for refreshing, alcoholic drinks. Thirst, with foul eructations.

Taste.—Diminished, to food and drink. Bitter, after eating, drinking, chewing and vomiting. Like putrid meat, in mouth, early in morning. Bread tastes bitter, sour or too dry. Meat gravy tastes putrid.

PULSATILLA.

- Eructation.—Tasting of ingesta. Tasting-like spoiled food. Putrid or bitter.
- Nausea, etc.—Inclination to vomit, seeming to come from upper abdomen. Chronic vomiting of ingesta after every meal. Vomiting of food every evening and night. Bitter vomit early in morning. Vomits ingesta, then bitter mucus.
- Stomach.—Disordered by fat food or pork. Pressure, especially after bread. Chilled by frozen things, fruit, etc. Cramp, with nausea which ceases after vomiting. Sensible pulsation in pit.
- Hypochondriæ.—Sticking in hepatic region when walking. Sense of lassitude in. Pressure in spleen.
- Abdomen.—Sticking and cutting in, in evening, especially when sitting still. Thrusts in. Painless gurgling in upper. Inflammation of. Sensitiveness and swelling of walls. Spasmodic colic and labor-like abdominal pains during pregnancy. Pains in belly, with chilliness at time menses should appear.
- Flatulence.—Flatulent colic every evening. Rumbling in abdomen.
- Stool.—Diarrhæic, with much mucus. Diarrhœa from fright. White. Difficult, altho' soft, with urging and backache. Nightly, greenish, watery diarrhœa. Foul smelling diarrhœa. Constipation alternating with diarrhœa.
- Anus.—Violent bleeding from, during stool. Anal hemorrhoids with smarting pain.
- Urine.—Frequent urging to urinate; with scanty discharge; during pregnancy, with drawing in abdomen. Ischuria, tenesmus vesicæ. Nocturnal enuresis. Hæmaturia, with burning at meatus and contractiou in umbilical region. Dark urine, with a ring of violet froth.
- Sexual Organs.—Painful swelling of testes and spermatic cords, with prostatic discharge. Burning in testes, without swelling. Inflamed testes, especially after contusions. Hydrocele. Inflammation of prostatic gland. Greatly excited sexual desire. Labor-pains: Too feeble; wanting, with violent pains in lumbar region. After-birth delayed. After pains.
- Menses.—Of thick, black, lumpy or thin, watery blood, too late and too scanty. Suppressed, especially after taking cold. Appear with difficulty and are delayed at puberty. Non-appearing lochia. Uterine hemorrhage, with false labor-pains. Thin burning or thick painless leucorrhœa.
- Respiration.—Groaning or rattling. Constriction and tightness of chest, especially when lying on back. Difficult, when walking. Nightly asthma, as from sulphur vapor. Tightness from spasmodic tension in lower part of chest, under false ribs.
- Cough.—Short, dry c., on becoming warm. Dry, after every nap. Early in morning and during day with, but in evening and night without expectoration. With copious, yellow or greenish, variously tasting mucus expectoration; ore., of dark clotted blood. Excited by dryness, as of sulphur vapor and itching, scratching in trachea and chest, with retching and inclination to vomit. Paroxysms of dry, short, c., with pains in chest. Headache, thrusts in abdomen and pains in lumbar region during. Hemoptysis of black, coagulated blood with suppressed menses.
- Larynx.—Hoarseness, inability to utter a loud word. Tickling in thyroid cartilage.
- Neck.—Drawing, tense pain in nape. Swelling and pain in neck and nape, as from an ulcer.
- Chest.—Spasmodic constriction and tension. Stitches, especially when coughing and taking a deep breath. Pains in, or upon sternum, as from an ulcer. Painful, as if bruised. Attacks of burning and piercing in. Anxious palpitation. Disappearance of milk from breasts of nursing mothers. Painful, sticking swelling in the nippleless breasts, with discharge of thin, acrid milk, in girls before puberty.
- Back.—Prominence and curvature of upper spinal and cervical vertebræ. Backache when pressing hand on chest. Lumbar pains after sitting. Ache in lumbar region when labor-pains cease. Lumbar pains with chilliness at time menses should appear. Stitches in, and in sides.
- Upper Extremities.—Paralytic sensation in shoulder joints when raising arms.

PULSATILLA.

Jerking tearing thro' arms. Heaviness of arms, with numb hands. Swelling of elbow after contusions. Swelling of blood vessels of forearms and hands. Stiff wrist. Itching frost bites on fingers.

Lower Extremities. — Jerking tearing in legs. Trembling of legs, especially during pains. Hot, inflammatory swelling of knee, with sticking pains, especially over patella. Heaviness of lower legs. Drawing in fibulae. Varicose veins on lower legs. Red, hot swelling of feet, extending up to calf, with sticking pains. When walking there is a sticking, when sitting a jerking in ankles. Swelling of dorsum of foot. Ulcerative pain in soles of feet.

Generalities. — Emaciation. Jerking tearing in muscles, as tho' they were suddenly pulled, especially at night and during rest. Swollen limbs, with numb sensations or sticking pains. Pains which rapidly shift to other parts, with swelling of affected region. Tearing in limbs, like a slight tension, which always lets go with a tearing jerk. Pain, as of something sore or an internal ulceration. Inflammation of internal parts, with inclination to ulceration. After effects of blows, falls or contusions. Fainting attacks, with cadaverous paleness of face. Epileptic attacks after suppressed menses, with violent beating about of limbs, then relaxation of same, eructations and inclination to vomit. Pains are generally accompanied by thirstlessness and chilliness, as tho' affected parts were dashed with cold water, (but no shaking). The symptoms are intensified in the evening and in the hours before midnight, also when resting and from warmth, especially in warm air of a room; they are >in the open air, when lying on back and during gentle motion.

Glands. — Inflammations of the mucous membranes.

Bones. — Bruised pain in cylindrical bones. Curvature of. Caries.

Skin. — Biting itching, like the biting of ants. Itching in evening (and at night) from warmth of bed, < by scratching. Eruption (like chicken-pox) after bacon and fat pork. Painful soreness when grasping affected parts. Chapped, from moistening it. Dropsical swelling. Ulcers; flat, foul; bleed easily; sticking. Frost bites on hands and feet.

Sleep. — Late falling asleep in evening. Somnolency. Nightly sleeplessness before midnight, on account of anxiety, restlessness and heat.

Fever. — Pulse: Weak and small, often hardly perceptible, but quickened; seldom slow. Throbbing in blood vessels, in evening. Swollen blood vessels during the evening heat. Chill: Increased toward evening. With the pains. Coldness, and shuddering predominate. Thirst before c., and before heat, seldom with either. Constant chilliness, as if dashed with water, even in a warm room. Chilliness, with overrunning heat. One-sided coldness, with sensation of numbness. Cold drawings thro' back in evening. After anger. In evening and before midnight, constant chilliness overrunning the body, without shivering. The stronger the pains, the more violent the chill. Heat: After the chill, with anxiety and red face. General internal, dry, without external heat, in evening and at night. Of face, or one hand with coldness of the other. Of body, with cold extremities. Attacks of anxious h., as if dashed with hot water. Sweat: Copious, at night and in morning. During sleep, disappears on awaking. Easy, during day. One-sided, sometimes only on face and hairy scalp. At night, with stupefying slumber. Often smells sweetish, sour, mouldy or like musk, and is sometimes cold.

Allied Remedies. — Aco., Agar., Ag-c., Alum., Ambr., Am-m., Aut-c., Ant-t., AP., Arn., Asaf., Aur., BELL., BRV., Calo-c., Cann., CANTH., Caps., Carb-v., Gaust., CHAM., Chel., Chin., Coff., Colch., Con., CUPR., Cyel., Dig., Dulc., Euphor., Ferr., Gel., GRAPH., Ign., Ip., KALI-BI., KALI-C., LACH., Led., LYC., M-ard., Mag-c., Mang., Merc., MILLEF., NAT-C., NAT-M., Nat-s., NIT-AC., Nux-v., Petr., Phos., PLAT., Ran-b., Rhe., Rhus-t., Saba., SEP., Sil., Spig., STANN., Sul., SUL-AC., Valer., Verbas.

RANUNCULUS BULBOSUS.

RANUNCULUS BULBOSUS.

Mind.—When reflecting his thoughts vanish. Dull senses. Irritable and quarrelsome. Fear of ghosts in evening.

Vertigo.—From congestion of blood to head.

Head.—Congestion to. Sense of enlargement and distension of entire h. Distensive or bursting pressure, more in forehead and vertex, with pressure on eyeballs. Headache: With qualmishness and sleepiness; as tho' the brain were bruised, with faint-like weakness. The pains are especially excited and intensified by changes of temperature. Worse: Toward evening; going from a warm room into the cold, or the reverse. Better: Rising from bed; in an even temperature.

Eyes.—Excoriative biting in and in canthi. Pressure in.

Ears.—Stitches in. Spasmodic earache.

Nose.—Red, tensive, inflammatory swelling. Scuffy nostrils.

Face.—Dry heat of, with red cheeks. Crawling, especially about chin and nose. Spasms of lips.

Teeth.—Sensation in molars, as tho' they were forced asunder.

Mouth.—Scratching burning on palate and in throat. Increased secretion of tenacious mucus in throat in evening. Accumulation of much coppery-tasting saliva. Salivation.

Thirst.—Increased in afternoon.

Erection.—Spasmodic hiccough.

Nausea.—Mostly in afternoon and evening.

Stomach.—Burning in cardiac orifice. Pressure and excoriative pain in pit when touched.

Hypochondriæ.—Excoriative or bruised pain in. Sticking pains in liver, extending into right chest.

Abdomen.—Pinching bellyache alternating with pains in chest. Burning, excoriative pain in. Festering pain in intestines.

Stool.—Soft, light, without pain.

Leucorrhœa.—Acrid, corrosive.

Respiration.—Shortness of, with oppression of chest in evening. Violent oppression, as after deep mortification; he seems unable to inhale sufficient air and must frequently take a deep breath.

Chest.—Suppurative pain in entire c, from least motion of upper part of body and when touched. Festering pain with stitches, extending downward into sides of abdomen. Violent stitches in right c, extending downward into hepatic region. The chest pains are mostly external and are intensified by motion and touch.

Back.—Stitches in, and between scapulæ.

Upper Extremities.—Stitches in arms and hands. Herpes on palms of hands. Herpes or blue vesicles on fingers. Ulcerated fingers.

Lower Extremities.—Drawing extending from thighs downward. Podagra and sticking in feet and toes.

Generalities.—Bruised sensation in entire body. Trembling of limbs, with oppression of breathing after vexation. Epileptic attacks. Symptoms are intensified in evening, (in morning); in certain cases also after eating. Changes of temperature and alternations of heat or cold, as well as touch, motion and stretching of body, < many symptoms, especially those of trunk. Effects of taking cold.

Skin.—Blistery eruption like that of a burn. Burning, itching, dark blue vesicles in closely aggregated groups. Flat, burning, sticking ulcers, with corrosive ichor. Horny growths. Herpes.

Sleep.—Late falling to, in evening. Sleeplessness, as if from too great activity. Frequent awaking at night and difficult falling to sleep again.

Fever.—Pulse: Hard, full and accelerated in evening, slower in morning. Chill: Predominating, with heat of face, mostly in afternoon and evening. Chilliness with heat of face after dinner. In open air he chills mostly on the outside of

RANUNCULUS SCELERATUS.

(covered) chest. The fever often consists of chill only. Heat: In evening, especially on face, often on r. side only, with cold hands (and feet). With concomitant internal chill. Sweats very little, and only in morning on awaking.

Allied Remedies.—Bry., Puls., RHUS-T., Staph., Sul., Verbas.

RANUNCULUS SCELERATUS.

Mind.—Indolence and aversion to mental exertion, early in morning. Low-spirited and depressed mood in evening.

Head.—Gnawing ache in region of vertex or temples. The head feels distended and thick. Contraction of scalp. Biting itching on scalp.

Eyes.—Biting gnawing in, and in canthi. Painful pressure in balls.

Ears.—Earache, with pressive or gnawing headache and drawing in teeth.

Nose.—Biting and crawling in.

Face.—Slight drawing in, with cold sensation down the cheek. Sensation as tho' covered with a spider web. Trembling about mouth (before vomiting). Sardoniac laughter.

Teeth.—In afternoon and evening painful, jerking drawing in upper molars. Sticking drawing in.

Mouth.—Burning in throat. Scraping in throat. Salivation. Swelling of tonsils, with fleeting stitches therein.

Eruclations.—Tasting of ingesta, after eating.

Qualmishness.—Especially after midnight.

Stomach.—Sore burning immediately over pit. Pressing and sensation of fulness in pit, < external pressure.

Hypochondriæ.—Sticking and pressing in region of liver, spleen or kidneys.

Abdomen.—Sense of a plug behind navel in morning. Nightly, screwing pressure behind navel. Twitching in walls.

Stool.—Frequent, foul smelling, diarrhœic s.

Respiration.—Obstructed by gnawing behind sternum.

RHEUM.

Chest.—Periodically recurring bruised feeling in entire chest in evening. Stitches in, and in pectoral muscles. Gnawing. Sensitive, externally and sternum.

Back.—Paralytic bruised feeling in small of.

Upper Extremities.—Sticking, boring and gnawing in arms, most intense in fingers (chiragra). Swelling of fingers.

Lower Extremities.—Sticking, boring and gnawing in legs, most intense in great toe (podagra).

Generalities.—Boring and gnawing in various parts, especially in evening and before midnight. Convulsive twitchings of limbs. Fainting during the pains. Pains are < toward evening; > after midnight and then are replaced by sleeplessness.

Skin.—Eruption of blisters containing an acrid, watery ichor.

Sleep.—Sleepless after midnight, with anxiety, heat and thirst; on account of activity and great physical restlessness. Half slumber after midnight.

Fever.—Pulse: Quick and full but soft, with nightly heat. Chill: And chilliness while eating. Heat: In room in evening, after walking in open air. Nightly dry h., with violent thirst and strong ebullitions, most after midnight. Predominating. Sweat: After heat, towards morning, most profuse on forehead.

Allied Remedies.—Ars., Aru-tri', Flu-ac., Puls., Verat-a.

RHEUM.

Mind.—Morose, sluggishness and silent brooding. The child desires various things with weeping and vehemence. Restless and tearful. Fear of death.

Head.—Heaviness of, with heat rising therein. Beclouding, stupefying ache with puffed eyes. Throbbing ache.

Eyes.—Painful throbbing in. Suffused. Contracted pupils. Weak, with dim vision.

Ears.—Bubbling in, and in muscles of throat. Throbbing in.

Nose.—Crawling in pit.

RHEUM.

- Face.—Tension in skin of. Inclination to wrinkle forehead. Drawing, welling up, almost a bubbling sensation in lower jaw, extending into temples.
- Teeth.—Difficult teething in children. Cold feeling in, with great accumulation of saliva.
- Appetite.—Hunger without appetite. Appetite for various things, but after the first bite they become repulsive. Aversion to fatty, insipid foods. Coffee is repugnant unless very sweet. Violent thirst.
- Taste.—Flat, slimy. Food tastes bitter while it is in the mouth.
- Qualmishness.—Seeming to arise from stomach and abdomen.
- Stomach.—Tension in region of. Fulness, as from overloading.
- Abdomen.—Tense and bloated. Violent cutting pains in, especially in loins, they compel him to double up. Cutting in, before and during stool. Welling up, gurgling sensation in abdominal muscles.
- Flatulence.—Rumbling and cutting from flatus in abdomen.
- Stool.—Frequent, ineffectual urging. Forceful, colicky stool < motion. Papescient, sour-smelling s., with shivering. Diarrhoea: Mucus; debilitating; with cutting in the abdomen, then tenesmus.
- Urine.—Increased discharge. Reddish-yellow or greenish. Feeble discharge, as from paralysis of bladder.
- Respiration.—Oppressed, as from a load upon upper part of chest.
- Chest.—Crackling or gurgling, bubbling up as from small bubbles in chest muscles. Stitches in nipples. Yellow, bitter milk of nursing women.
- Back.—Stiffness in small of back and hips.
- Upper Extremities.—Twitching in arms and hands. Gurgling bubbling sensation, especially in elbows. Distended blood-vessels on hands. Cold sweat on palms.
- Lower Extremities.—Weariness in thighs, as after overexertion. Bubbling gurgling sensation extending from popliteal spaces to heels.

RHODODENDRON.

- Generalities.—Bubbling gurgling sensation, as from small bubbles in muscles and joints. All joints pain when moved. Asleep sensation in parts whereon he lies. Weakness and heaviness of entire body, as after waking from a deep sleep.
- Sleep.—Day sleepiness. Nightly sleeplessness and restlessness, with tossing about and crying out (in children). After sleep, want of recollection, headache, bad odor from mouth, etc. Many anxious, sorrowful dreams.
- Fever.—Pulse: Only slightly quickened. Chill: Alternating with heat. One cheek red, the other pale. Internal shivering with external warmth. Heat: Over whole body, most on hands and feet, with a cold face. Predominating. Sweat: From the least exertion. Cold, about mouth and nose. On forehead and scalp. Stains yellow, and smells like rhubarb.
- Allied Remedies.—Bell, Cham., Coloc., Mag-c., Merc., NUX-V., Phos-ac., Puls.

RHODODENDRON.

- Mind.—Morose, gloomy disposition. Great indifference. Great forgetfulness.
- Vertigo.—Dull confusion of head and sleepiness, early in morning after rising.
- Head.—Pressive pain in forehead and temples, as tho' in bones. Tearing, seemingly in bones. Burrowing in forehead and temples. Tension in forehead. Worse: Early in morning while lying quietly in bed; wine; cold wet weather. Better: rising; during motion.
- External Head.—Violent drawing and tearing in bones and periosteum of skull. Festering or bruised pain. Biting itching on, in evening. Worse: Before storms; stormy weather; during rest. Better: Dry warmth; warm wraps.
- Eyes.—Periodically recurring dry burning in, especially from bright daylight and when looking intently at an object. Spasmodic contraction of lids. Dim vision when reading and writing.
- Ears.—Violent, jerking, tearing ache. Sensation of a worm in. Whizzing and buzzing in, increased by swallowing.

RHODODENDRON.

- Nose.—Frequent nosebleed. Diminished sense of smell and taste. Fluent coryza with one-sided obstruction at root, accompanied by loss of smell and taste. Increased flow of mucus, in open air.
- Face.—Shivering on. Burning dryness of lips. Vesicles on inner side of lower lip, with excoriative pain when eating.
- Teeth.—Nightly toothache with earache. Drawing tearing pain in molars, before or during storms and in cold wet weather, < touch. Swelling and excoriative pain between lower gums and cheek.
- Mouth.—Constriction and burning in throat. Much accumulation of mucus in, with a dry palate.
- Appetite, etc.—Rapid satiation with subsequent discomfort. Increased thirst.
- Taste.—Tastelessness of food.
- Nausea.—Sickening n., with pressure in stomach and accumulation of water in mouth, > by eructations.
- Stomach.—Nightly pressure in. Pressure, after drinking cold water. Pressure in pit, with oppressed breathing.
- Hypochondriæ.—Crampy pain under short ribs. Stitches in spleen from walking rapidly. Tension in splenic region when stooping.
- Abdomen.—Distension of upper, with oppressed breathing.
- Flatulence.—Painfully, obstructed flatus in hypochondriac and lumbar regions. Much rumbling and grumbling in abdomen.
- Stool.—Soft, papescent s., but passed with difficulty, after previous violent urging. Diarrhœa: after fruit or during cold, wet weather; tendency to.
- Urine.—Frequent urging to urinate with drawing in region of bladder. Increased discharge of very foul smelling urine.
- Genitals.—Drawing from rectum into g. Retraction and swelling of testes. Indurated testes. Crushing pain in testes. Wrinkling up (or hydrocele) of scrotum. Aversion to coition.
- Menses.—Too early and too profuse. Suppressed.
- Respiration.—Tightness of: From constriction of chest; from pressure in hypochondriæ.
- Cough.—At night and early in the morning, exhausting, dry cough, with oppression of chest and roughness in throat.
- Neck.—Rheumatic tension in muscles of throat, with stiff nape.
- Chest.—Pressive pain in, with tight breathing. Strong congestion of blood to. Bruised pain in external.
- Back.—Bruised sensation and tearing in, and in lumbar region.
- Upper Extremities.—Tearing in forearm, as tho' in periosteum, during cold, wet weather. Sensation as tho' the blood stagnated in arm. Increased warmth in hands.
- Lower Extremities.—Excoriative pain in thighs near genitals. Cold sensation and wrinkling of skin of lower legs. Dropsical swelling of legs and feet. Tearing in legs and feet, as tho' in periosteum, worst when at rest and during cold wet weather. Extraordinarily cold feet.
- Generalities.—Violent, rheumatic tearing in limbs, as tho' in periosteum, mostly in forearm and leg, worse when parts are at rest and during cold, wet weather. Sense of formication in limbs. Paralytic weakness of limbs when at rest. Digging, drawing in joints, as tho' they would be dislocated, with gouty nodes and swelling thereof. Most complaints appear early in morning. Pains are excited and intensified by cold, wet weather and storms. Pains are most intense during rest. Attacks often cease for several days and then reappear again.
- Bones.—Drawing and tearing in periosteum.
- Skin.—Dropsical swellings.
- Sleep.—Great day sleepiness, with burning in eyes. Before midnight, good, sound sleep; but after, sleeplessness with dry heat. Restlessness and frequent awaking toward morning.
- Fever.—Pulse: Weak and slow. Chill: Over entire body in morning in bed and during day when cold air blows on him. Alternating with heat. Icy cold feet for a long time after lying down in bed in evening Heat In evening with cold feet Sensation of warmth especially on hands although they are cold to touch Tendency in evening with burning of face Sweat Very profuse and debilitating especially during motion in open air Offensive smellings in axilla Aromatic smelling During sweats itching and formation in skin

RHODODENDRON

Allied Remedies—BRV Cal c, Carb a Col r Caust, CLEM Marc Aur i KILL S I Sep

RHUS TOXICODENDRON

Mind—Want of recollection Quiet delirium Sad, anxious and tearful Anxiety with fear of death or of being poisoned Anxious desire to commit suicide Great restlessness keeps him in constant motion Stupidity Unconsciousness Desires to be alone Easily startled

Vertigo—As though intoxicated, he is inclined to fall forward or backward, when rising from bed Stupefying confusion of head with mental obtusion and gloominess

Head—Congestion, with burning and throbbing therein and great physical restlessness Pressure As if brain would be forced out of forehead, in temples Stupefying pains, with buzzing therein Sticking going outward as far as eyes and zygoma Aching in occiput especially in protuberances Feeling Of painful crawling in brain most in occiput, of flapping or fluctuating with each step, as if brain were loose, as if rent or shattered, of thrusts, of a weight falling forward within on stooping, as if brain were torn, more behind ears and in occiput Tearing pains externally especially from forehead and temples down to ears Heaviness Heat in, especially after beer Worse Cold on becoming bathing air wet weather Uncovering Moving eyes Shaking head After walking Ascending Sitting or lying still Touch Early morning, on awaking Stooping Better Motion gentle motion Wrapping up head, warmth After sweat Dry weather

RHUS TOXICODENDRON

Scalp—Swelling of head and face with tensive pain or crawling and numbness As painfully sensitive as a boil Feels contracted as from clutching the hair Erosive crawling and unendurable sticking itching more on temples and behind ears, as he begins to scratch but it soon exudes moisture, burns inflames and thickens forming thick offensive painful scabs which eat the hair off Dry herpes on Small soft growth on Worse Night warmth of bed during sweat brushing hair back, touch on side lain on, cold air

Eyes—Inflamed, with redsclerotic Lachrymation Oedematous swelling of and of surrounding parts Agglutinated at night Paralytic stiffness of lids mostly in evening Pale vision Progressive paralysis of optic nerve

Ears—Bloody purulent discharge from with difficult hearing Inflammatory swelling of parotid glands

Nose—Nosebleed at night and when stooping Ulcerated nostrils discharging stinking pus Erysipelatous swelling of, which spreads sidewise beneath eyes

Face—Sickly, pale, with pointed nose and blue rings under eyes Distorted, drawn awry Yellow, after every attack Swelling, with glistening redness Vesicular erysipelas, the vesicles are full of yellow moisture, with burning crawling they dry into burning itching crusts Acne rosacea with a clean skin Eruptions with ichorous exudates Cramp like pain in the maxillary joint or as though it would be dislocated, especially when yawning Inflammatory swelling of submaxillary glands

Teeth—Sticking, jerking ache in evening and at night Crawling in Toothache > from warmth or cold, after bathing Loose, especially lower incisors

Mouth—Salty mucus in Hawking of mucus Salivation Sensation of fur on tongue

Throat—Sensation as tho something were torn off Painful swallowing of solids Narrowing of and of oesophagus, he is able to swallow fluids only Sticking and pressure during empty swallowing Violent burning, when drinking brandy

RHUS TOXICODENDRON.

Appetite.—Complete loss of, with aversion to all food, especially bread and meat. Unquenchable thirst from dryness of mouth or throat. Nightly feverish thirst.

Taste.—Putrid in mouth, with proper taste to food. Sweetish, in mouth. Bitter: Also of food, especially bread. Bloody.

Eruclation.—Crawling in stomach, with violent eruclations when raising up. Accumulation of water in mouth.

Nausea, etc.—Qualmishness, with ravenous hunger, disappearing after eating. Gastric symptoms every night. Sudden vomiting when eating. Vomiting of ingesta whenever he talks, especially when lying on back.

Stomach.—Throbbing and ulcerative pain when touching pit, like that of a ripe boil. Cold sensation in, with a feeling as if full of stones. Fulness of after eating. Pressure after eating bread. Sensation as tho' something were torn loose, when stooping or making a misstep.

Abdomen.—Painful distension after eating. Sensation of tearing loose in, or as tho' it would fall off. Contractive spasm in, especially in umbilical region. Inflammation of. Sensation of a heavy lump lying in. Scarlet redness of lower a., extending to navel. Ulcerative pain in walls of when stretching.

Stool.—Nightly, watery diarrhœa; with abdominal pains. Hacked or foaming. Dysenteric diarrhœa with tenesmus. Diarrhœa alternating with constipation. Hard, retarded. Ineffectual urging.

Urine.—Diminished discharge, while he drinks much. Frequent and profuse passage of watery u. Hot. Involuntary urination during rest.

Genitals.—Horrid eruption on. Thickened scrotum. Moist eruption on scrotum. Swelling of foreskin and glans. Swollen urethra. Intensified sexual desire.

Menses.—Too early and too profuse. Continuing too long, with scarcely a day's intermission. Discharge of blood during pregnancy; of lumps of coagulated blood from uterus with labor-like pains.

Respiration.—Anxious oppression arising from epigastrium. Oppression of, from pressure and painfulness in epigastrium. Short, before stool. Hot breath.

Cough.—Spasmodic, shattering c., excited by tickling, creeping in larynx, trachea and chest. Tickling, in evening, causing dryness of throat. Dry, in evening, until midnight. Dry, when awaking, early in morning. Hemoptysis, with expectoration of bright red, lumpy, or sometimes brownish, blood. During cough, stitches in chest, general sweat and pain in stomach. Expectoration of acrid pus or grayish-green, cool mucus, of a putrid, flat, metallic, sour or salty taste.

Trachea.—Dryness in.

Neck.—Stiff nape. Sprained pain extending from nape down between scapulae.

Chest.—Tension and constriction in region of throat-pit. Stitches in, < during rest as well as when sneezing and breathing. Shattering in. Bursting pain in. Sensation of tenderness in lower part of. Anxious palpitation when sitting. Trembling at heart. Disappearance of milk from breasts, with burning heat of body. Milk flows from mammæ.

Back.—Painful tension and squeezing between scapulæ. Sprained pain in shoulders, back and limbs. Cold sensation spreading over. Bruised pain in lumbar region, when sitting still or lying thereon; > lying on something hard.

Upper Extremities.—Tearing and burning in shoulders, with lameness of arms, < during rest. Sprained shoulder. Paralysis, with coldness and insensibility of arms. Trembling of arms after moderate exertion. Swelled axillary glands. Erysipelatous swelling of arms. Hot swelling of hands in evening. Distended bloodvessels on hands. Cracked skin on backs of hands. Warts. Hang-nails.

Lower Extremities.—Pain in hips when rising from sitting or ascending steps. Sciatica, after excessive exertion. Painful jerks in upper thigh, like a kind of cramp, when extending limb while walking. Dislocative pain in hip, knee and ankle joint. Painful swelling of upper half of knee. Swelling of feet in evening.

RHUS TOXICODENDRON.

Generalities.—Whole body feels shattered.

Great weakness, weariness and bruised sensation, especially when sitting and more particularly when at rest. Constant tossing about in bed, during which certain limbs seem paralyzed. Bruised sensation in limbs upon which he does not lie, in the morning in bed. Tension, drawing and tearing in limbs, mostly with a numb sensation, especially during rest. Sensation, as tho' something were torn loose in inner parts. Intolerance of cold (open) air, it excites stitches in joints. Effects of excessive muscular exertion and overlifting, or contusions combined with over-exertion. Dislocation and dislocative pains in joints. Numbness of extremities, after preceding twitching and crawling therein. Convulsive twitchings and other symptoms after cold baths. The symptoms are intensified in the evening and at night, after midnight, during rest, from cold or becoming cold and from getting wet while sweating.

Glands.—Inflamed, swelled or indurated.

Bones.—Pain in limbs, as tho' the flesh were beaten from bones or the bones were being scraped. Inflammation and swelling of the cylindrical bones.

Skin.—Painfully sensitive to cold open air. Burning itching, especially on hairy parts. Burning vesicular eruptions. Nettlerash with burning itching. Burning ulcers. Herpetic eruptions alternating with dysenteric stools and chest symptoms. Thickening and induration of. Warts. Fissures. Frost-bites.

Fever.—Pulse: Irregular, generally accelerated, but weak, languid and soft; sometimes imperceptible and intermittent. Chill: Most frequently in evening, often starting from feet or shoulder blades. As if dashed with cold water, or as if blood ran cold thro' veins. Cold sensation from every movement. With increased pains, especially in limbs. With heat and redness of face. Rapidly alternating with heat. One-sided: Coldness of right side with heat of left side. Coldness of head and back part of body, with heat of forepart. Coldness and paleness, alternating with heat and redness of face. Heat: After the chill, often with concomitant sweating, with relief of accompanying symptoms and the pains in limbs. Universal, as from pouring hot water over one, or as if the blood ran hot thro' the veins. Flying h., with sweat, spreading from umbilicus, often alternating with chill. With nettlerash. Sweat: Universal, mostly during the heat, often excepting the face. Copious, night and morning s. Musty, offensive or sour smelling. With the pains, while sitting. Severe itching of the eruption during. And trembling with the pains. On head and face only or on body only.

RTA GRAVEOLENS.

Allied Remedies.—ACO., Am-m., Ang., Arn., ARS., Bell, BRY., Calc-c., Caust., Cham., Cic., Clem., Coff., Dulc., Euphor., Hep., Lyc., Merc., Mez., Nit-ac., NUX-V., Phos., Phos-ac., Phyt., Puls., RHOD., Samb., SEP., Sil., Sul., Verat-a.

RTA GRAVEOLENS.

Mind.—Apprehensive anxiety. Dejected and melancholy in afternoon and evening. Low spirits and mental relaxation.

Head.—Great heat in, with anxious restlessness. Throbbing (or tearing) pain in forehead. Ache, as of a nail being driven in. Headache after excessive indulgence in spirituous liquors.

External Head.—Tensive drawing in periosteum as after a fall or blow with gatherings on scalp, paining as if festering when touched. Numbness or bruised feeling of side lain on. Eating, itching ulcers on. Humid scurfs like scald-head. Worse: Rest; lying on painful part; cold, wet weather. Better: Motion.

Eyes.—Spasms of lower lids, drawing tarsal cartilages back and forth. Tears and watering of, in open air, not when in room. Heat, in evening when reading by artificial light. Spots on cornea. Pain, as if strained. Short sight. Obscured vision, like a gauze or fog before e., from reading too much. A green halo encircles the light in evening.

RUTA GRAVEOLENS.

- Ears.—Crushed pain in cartilages. Pain, like a thrust or fall, below mastoid process.
- Nose.—Nosebleed with pressure in root of. Sweat on dorsum.
- Face.—Swelling and erysipelas on forehead. Faceache as from a thrust or contusion in periosteum of zygoma.
- Teeth.—Burning in lower. Gums bleed easily.
- Mouth.—Sticky dryness of. Sense of a lump in throat during empty swallowing. Spasm of tongue with difficult speech.
- Appetite.—Vanishes on beginning to eat, with repugnance to all food. Unquenchable thirst for cold water, in afternoon.
- Taste.—Tastelessness of food.
- Eruetation.—Foul, after eating meat. Hysterical.
- Nausea.—In pit of stomach. Sudden nausea and vomiting of food when eating. Vomiting of worms in children.
- Stomach.—Gnawing sensation, from emptiness thereof, as if from hunger. Weak from vomiting. Pinching, after eating bread. Stomach ache from uncooked or indigestible foods.
- Hypochondriæ.—Pressive gnawing in hepatic region. Painful swelling of spleen.
- Abdomen.—Eating and gnawing in navicular region. Bruised pain in loins when sitting after walking. Bellyache of children, caused by worms.
- Stool.—Soft, difficult, from inactivity of rectum. Frothy, mucous diarrhoea alternating with constipation. Frequent urging, with small, soft discharges. Ineffectual urging, with prolapsus.
- Rectum.—Tearing and stitching. Prolapsed, with every stool either hard or soft.
- Urine.—Frequent urging with a scanty, greenish discharge. Violent pressure on bladder, as tho' it were constantly full. Even after every passage of urine there is a constant urging. Retained. Involuntary discharge, at night when in bed and during day when moving about. Frequent urination at night. Kidney gravel.
- Menses.—Very irregular. Too early and too profuse. Scanty, discharge of blood lasting only two days; preceded and followed by mild leucorrhœa. Corroding leucorrhœa after cessation of menses.
- Respiration.—Short. Anxious obstruction of, from stitches in chest.
- Cough.—Forcible, with expectoration of tenacious mucus and inclination to vomit. With copious, purulent expectoration. Expectoration of thick, yellow mucus, almost without cough, with a sense of weakness in chest.
- Larynx.—Pain as from a blow or contusion.
- Chest.—Erosive eating and gnawing in. Stitches in. Ulcerative phthisis following injuries. Anxious palpitation. A painful spot on sternum, which is sore when pressed.
- Back.—Bruised pain in, and in lumbar region. Pain in lumbar region and coccyx, as after a blow or having been struck. Stitches in lumbar region when sitting, but when pressed upon or when lying on back there is no pain.
- Upper Extremities.—Pain as from a blow, in elbow joint and fingers. Bruised pain and tearing in radius and bones of hand when pressed upon. Lameness and stiffness of wrist after a sprain, most violent during cold, wet weather. Sprained pain or stitches in wrist. Painfulness of wrist, when lifting a weight. Numbness and crawling in hands after exertion. Distorted fingers. Distended bloodvessels on hands.
- Lower Extremities.—Pain in hip, as tho' bones were beaten, or as from a blow or fall, especially during motion. Bruised pain in thighs, as tho' middle of femur were beaten or broken. Restlessness and heaviness of legs. Weariness and weakness in legs after walking. Sense of shortening and weakness in ham strings, especially when descending. Lame ankle following sprains. Fistulous ulcers on lower leg. When stepping there is an eroding burning in bones of feet.
- Generalities.—Bruised pains, or as from a blow, fall or contusion, in limbs and joints. Bruised sensation in parts whereon he lies. Painful weariness, like a bruised feeling, after moderate exertion. Paralysses after sprains, especially of wrists and ankles. Worm complaints of children. Rest < and motion > pains in limbs. Worse: In cold, wet weather.

RUTA GRAVEOLENS.

Bones.—Pain in cylindrical bones, as tho' they were broken. Contusions and injuries of, and of periosteum.

Skin—Eating itching on. Easy excoriation from walking or riding, also in children. Inflamed ulcers. Anasarca. Warts.

Sleep.—Sleepiness, especially after eating.

Fever.—Pulse: Somewhat accelerated during the heat only. Chill: Internal, with shuddering and shaking, even near a warm stove. Coldness running over one side of head. Mostly in back, running upward and downward. With violent thirst, heat of face and dullness in head. With much yawning and stretching. Heat: Over entire body, mostly in afternoon, without thirst, but with anxiety, restlessness and obstructed breathing. External and internal h., of face, with red cheeks and cold hands and feet. Frequent, sudden flushes running over him. Sweat: Cold, on face, early in morning in bed. General, after walking in open air.

Allied Remedies.—Ign., Kali-bi., Nat-m.

SABADILLA.

Mind.—Good humor and dullness of intellect, alternating with mental excitement and insensitive disposition. Sensory illusions over body. Anxious restlessness. Easily terrified by the least noise. Peevishness. Imaginary diseases.

Vertigo.—Faint-like; blackness comes before the c. s.

Head.—Painful pressure in forehead and temples, with dizziness. Outward pressure in temples (r.). Headache radiating from the right side. Stupefying ache with fluent coryza, burning and itching crawling like vermin on scalp. Worse: Morning; mental exertion; sitting in room after walking in open air. Better: Pressure; lying; after eating.

SABADILLA.

Scalp.—Burning itching mostly on forehead and behind ears, from whence a hot feeling spreads over entire body; scratching causes violent tickling and sticking with red spots, which later cover themselves with scurfs; < becoming heated and when sweating.

Eyes.—Pressure on eyeball when looking up. Lachrymation from almost any cause and from pains in other parts of body.

Ears.—Tickling in. Cracking before, which re-echoes a long time therein.

Nose.—Pleasant tickling in wings. Dry sensitiveness in upper part. Nose-bleed of bright red blood. Intolerance of odor of garlic. Fluent coryza. Short, concussive sneezing, with headache. Alternate stoppage of one, then the other nostril.

Face.—Burning heat and redness of. Hot, after drinking wine. Skin spotted, resembling tetter. Cracking in both maxillary joints when opening mouth wide.

Teeth.—Drawing in, especially when walking in open air. Sticking pain in lower molars. Bluish gums.

Mouth.—Dry, without thirst. Much sweetish saliva in. Burning dryness in throat. Roughness and scraping in throat, with constant inclination to swallow. Sense as of a lump in throat, which necessitates swallowing. Difficult swallowing. Thick yellowish-coated tongue. Excoriative (sore) pain on tip of tongue.

Appetite, etc.—Loss of. Intense craving with ravenous desire for sweet things, honey or pastry. Aversion to coffee, wine, meat and acids. Thirst, especially for cold water, in evening.

Taste.—Bitter or disgustingly sweet.

Eruetation, etc.—Heartburn. Waterbrash.

Nausea, etc.—Weakness in stomach with shivering. The inclination to vomit before eating, is > afterward. Vomiting of lambrici.

Stomach.—Burning or cold sensation in. Sore pain under pit when pressed.

Hypochondriæ.—Burning and digging in hepatic region. Stitches in.

SABADILLA.

Abdomen.—Burning or cold sensation in. Turning and twisting in (from worms). Sticking in. Cutting, like a knife, then bright yellow diarrhoea, in forenoon. Bellyache from lumbrici or tape worm. Red spots on.

Flatulence.—Grumbling and rumbling in abdomen, as from emptiness.

Stool.—Hard, retarded. Violent urging, with scanty discharge. Fluid diarrhoea mixed with mucus and blood; it floats on the water. Passage of tape and round worms.

Rectum.—Violent itching and crawling in.

Urine.—Thick, hot, turbid. Urging, with scanty discharge and burning in urethra.

Sexual Organs.—Diminished sexual desire.

Menses.—Diminished and interrupted.

Respiration.—Whistling. Hot wheezing breath. Short.

Cough.—Short, tickling c., excited by roughness and scraping in throat, dry at night, during day, expectoration of tenacious yellowish mucus of a repulsively sweet taste, or else of bright red blood. Immediately upon lying down. Dry, causing heat, sweat and watering of eyes. Asthmatic, with stitches in vertex, vomiting and pains in the stomach.

Larynx, etc.—Scratching in. Hawking of bright red blood which comes from posterior nares. Hoarse husky voice.

Chest.—Burning in. Sticking in. < coughing and taking a deep breath; without fever or thirst. Pain from right shoulder into chest, as tho' a band arrested the circulation. Wheezing in.

Back.—Bruised pain in lumbar region and back, especially when sitting.

Upper Extremities.—Stitches in muscles of arms. Convulsive upward tossing of arms. Red spots on arms and hands. Desquamation along side of finger nails. Thick, ribbed nails.

Lower Extremities.—Stitches in muscles of thighs. Lameness, especially in knees. Tension in calves. Swollen feet, with sensitive soles when stepping. Toe nails thick, crumpled, inflamed.

SABINA.

Generalities.—Great weariness, heaviness and relaxation of body. Awkward, reeling manner in gait and action. Sensitiveness to cold, which also intensifies the symptoms. Many pains move from right to left. Renewal or intensification of symptoms, in forenoon or in hours before midnight, as well as during rest and in the cold. Many symptoms appear especially during new and full moon. Persons who suffer from worms.

Bones.—Painful drawing in limbs, seemingly in bones. Pains, especially in joints, as tho' one were scraping about or cutting them inside with a knife.

Skin.—Parchment like dryness of. Violent, needle-like stitches under. Red spots and stripes which are more pronounced during the cold stage.

Sleep.—Great day sleepiness, especially in forenoon.

Fever.—Pulse: Small but somewhat jerky. Great ebullition and throbbing in blood vessels. Feeling as if the blood stagnated. Chill: Afternoon and evening, recurring at exactly the same hour, often without subsequent heat. Predominating, especially on extremities, with heat of face. Shivering running upward, mostly along back. Chilliness and shivering with heat of face, without thirst. Relieved by warmth of stove. Consisting of chill only, with anorexia. Heat: Most on head and face, often interrupted by shuddering, recurring at the same hour. Thirst occurs between chill and heat only. Often sweats during h. Internal dry h., at night and early in morning, with moderate thirst. Sweat: In morning. During sleep hot s., on face with coldness of rest of body.

Allied Remedies.—Gel., Plat., Puls.

SABINA.

Mind.—Hypochondriacal dejection. Low spirited and joyless, with a feeling of general exhaustion.

Sensorium.—Dizziness with ebullition of blood to, and heat in head.

SABINA.

Head.—Distensive, pressing ache, especially in frontal eminences and right temple, appearing suddenly and decreasing slowly. Sticking ache.

Eyes.—Weak, lustreless. Biting tears. Illusion of clouds rising before.

Nose.—Small, grain-like vesicles about root.

Face.—Pale, with lustreless eyes encircled by blue rings. A red areola on cheeks near wings of nose. Black pores on nose and face.

Teeth.—Drawing ache, excited almost exclusively by chewing. Nightly ache, as if to burst, < warmth of bed. Gums swollen around the hollow, broken teeth.

Mouth.—Excoriative soreness in throat when swallowing. Strangling pressure in throat, as from an internal swelling. White saliva, becoming frothy when talking. Bloody saliva. Every morning there is a thick yellow coat on posterior part of tongue.

Appetite, etc.—Desire for acids, especially lemonade.

Taste.—Greasy, in mouth. Bitter, of food, milk and coffee.

Eruclations.—Copious, empty.

Vomiting.—Bile. The ingesta of the previous day, which is still undigested.

Stomach.—Pressure in. Stitches extending from pit into back.

Abdomen.—Extraordinary distension of. Bellyache, as from taking cold, with sensation as tho' diarrhoea would ensue. Labor-like abdominal pains. Contractive pain in region of uterus. Urging toward genitals. Bruised pain in muscles.

Stool.—Diarrhoea with much flatulence. Discharge of blood with mucus.

Anus.—Bleeding anal hemorrhoids. Crawling in.

Urine.—Frequent, violent urging to urinate with profuse discharge. Retention of urine with burning discharge, passed drop by drop.

Sexual Organs.—Inflammatory gonorrhoea with a purulent discharge. Gristle-like swelling on (dorsum of) penis. Fig-

Stitches deep in vagina. Inflammation of uterus after childbirth. Sexual desire greatly intensified, even unto nymphomania.

Menses.—Too early and too profuse. Uterine hæmorrhage of partly bright red and partly lumpy, or of thin, fluid, foul-smelling blood. Abortion, especially during third month of pregnancy. Foul-smelling leucorrhoea following suppressed menses.

Cough.—Dry hacking c., from tickling in trachea. Blood spitting, with or without cough.

Chest.—Painless trembling and creaking sensation under sternum. Sensible swelling of mammæ. Crawling in nipples.

Back.—Backache, which necessitates drawing in and bending backward of parts. Labor-like pain extending from lumbar into pubic region. Paralytic pains in small of.

Upper Extremities.—Sprained pain in shoulder joint. Stiff wrist, with swelling and stitches, unbearably intensified on allowing hands to hang down.

Lower Extremities.—Sticking pain in hip joint, early in morning and during palpitation. Lardaceous ulcers on shin bones. Podagra: Swelling, redness and stitches in great toe.

Generalities.—Paralytic pain in joints after exertion. Tearing sticking in joints, with swelling thereof. Red, glistening swelling of affected parts. Jerking throbbing in arteries.

Bones.—Drawing pain thro' cylindrical b.

Sleep.—Sleeplessness with great restlessness, heat and profuse sweat after midnight.

Fever.—Pulse: Irregular; mostly rapid, strong and tense. Violent throbbing of arteries of entire head. Chill: In evening, with repeated shivering. Great chilliness during day. Shuddering with darkness before eyes, then sleepiness. Cold feeling in entire (r.) leg. Heat: Intolerable burning h., in whole body, with great restlessness. Flying heat on face, with chill of all the rest of body and cold hands and feet. Sweat: Every night.

SAMBUCUS.

SAMBUCUS.

Mind.—Periodical delirium, with frightful visions and hallucinations. Unspeakable anxiety, with trembling and restlessness. Extraordinary tendency to start. Continuous peevishness. Crying and weeping. Terror. Fright followed by suffocative attacks.

Vertigo.—Early in morning when rising.

Head.—Pressive, stupefying ache, as from intoxication. Congestion to. The head is bent backwards.

Nose.—Stuffed coryza (especially in nursings), it hinders breathing thro' nose.

Face.—Puffed, dark blue. Red, burning spots on cheeks. Violent heat and sweat on. Numb, tensive pain, as from swelling on cheeks and nose.

Teeth.—Tearing and sticking in, with a feeling as tho' cheeks were swollen.

Mouth.—Dryness in, and in fauces, without thirst. Pains in throat.

Vomiting.—First of food, then of bile. With suffocation and anxious trembling.

Stomach.—Dull pressure in gastric region.

Abdomen.—Pinching in, with discharge of much flatulence, after taking cold. Pressive pain in, with qualmsiness, when leaning it against a sharp edge.

Hypochondria.—Piercing pain in.

Urine.—Urging to urinate, with scanty discharge; with profuse discharge. Thin urinary stream.

Sexual Organs.—Swelling of scrotum (following injury).

Menses.—Increased, even amounting to hæmorrhage.

Respiration.—Rapid, whistling, crowing r. Violent suffocative attacks on awaking after midnight (from slumber, with half-open eyes and mouth), like laryngismus stridulus, with bloated, blue hands and face, crying, grasping about with hands, and heat, without thirst. Rattling, wheezing. Membranous croup. Oppression of chest, with pressure in stomach and nausea. Tightness of chest.

Cough.—Attacks of suffocative cough with crying, excited by spasm of chest. Rough, hollow cough, with great restlessness and blue face. Dry at night:

during day, scanty, tenacious, mucus expectoration of a sweetish, putrid, or somewhat salty taste.

Larynx, etc.—Inflammation of trachea. Much tenacious mucus in.

Chest.—Pressure, as of a heavy load on, with suffocative anxiety. Constriction of sides. Pulmonary consumption, with profuse, exhausting sweat.

Back.—Stitches from within outward under scapulæ. Pressive pain in spinal column.

Upper Extremities.—Dark blue puffiness of forearm and hands. Stitches in both wrists. Beating about with hands. Burning in palms of hands.

Lower Extremities.—Deep, sharp stitches in shinbones. Sense of deadness, going to sleep, and coldness in middle of (r.) shinbone. Icy-cold feet with warm body.

Generalities.—General trembling from anxiety and ebullition of blood. Dropsy. Consumption. Amelioration is felt when sitting up in bed. Most symptoms appear when resting the body and disappear during motion.

Skin.—Bloatedness and dark red swelling with tension after contusions.

Sleep.—Sleepless yet sleepy. Slumber, with half open eyes and mouth. Starting up in sleep, with anxiety, shortness of breath amounting even to suffocation, and with trembling.

Fever.—Pulse: Variable: Mostly small and very quick, sometimes accelerated, often also full and slow. Strong ebullitions throughout body. Chill: Running over whole body, with crawling here and there. Shuddering c., with cold hands and feet. Heat: Over whole body, as soon as he falls to sleep after lying down, with aversion to uncover, without thirst. Burning h. of face, with icy cold feet. Sweat: Extraordinarily profuse by day and night, even lasting thro' the apyrexia, but only when awake, it breaks out on face first. Extremely exhausting s. General night sweat, except on head, increasing toward morning. Constant while awake, which immediately passes into dry heat during sleep.

Allied Remedies.—Aru., Ars., Chin., Rhus-l.

SARSAPARILLA.

SARSAPARILLA.

- Mind.—Morose peevishness with inclination to work. Frequent alternations of mood. The pains greatly affect his spirits and cause great depression.
- Vertigo.—When looking a long time at a single object.
- Head.—Throbbing or sticking ache with nausea and sour vomiting. Vibrations, like the striking of a bell when talking. Sensitive scalp. Falling of hair.
- Eyes.—Sticking in. Pain, in the daylight. Blue swelling in inner canthi. Dim vision, as tho' in a fog. Paper has a red appearance in evening.
- Face.—Eruption, like milk crust. Stiffness and tension in masseter muscles and maxillary joint. Herpes on upper lip.
- Teeth.—Sensitive upper incisors. Tearing in, from cold air or cold drinks.
- Throat.—Dryness and roughness in, early in morning. Spasmodic constriction of, with respiratory complaints.
- Appetite.—Loss of; even the thought of food disgusts him.
- Taste.—Bitter, in mouth. Food is tasteless.
- Eructation.—Bitter or sour, during and after eating.
- Stomach.—Burning in, especially after eating bread. Loss of feeling in after eating, as tho' he had eaten nothing at all.
- Abdomen.—Sensation of emptiness and rumbling in. Sticking in (left) side of. Burning or cold sensation in.
- Stool.—Hard, scanty, retarded. Difficult, painful, nearly causing fainting.
- Urine.—Frequent, ineffectual urging to urinate. Diminished discharge. Ischuria with discharge of a white, acrid material and mucus. Profuse discharge of pale u. Painful constriction of bladder. Calculi of bladder and kidneys.
- Sexual Organs.—Excessive stench about. Suppressed gonorrhoeal discharge after abuse of mercury.
- Respiration.—Great tightness of r., which necessitates loosening the neckband and vest in order to breathe. Oppression, as from spasm impeding the breathing. He frequently takes a deep breath.

SCILLA.

- Back.—Stitches, from the least motion.
- Upper Extremities.—Stitches in arm, hand and finger joints, also in legs, especially from every motion. Deep cracks on fingers, with burning pains. Festering pain in finger tips.
- Lower Extremities.—Weariness in thighs and in knee joints. Red herpes on calves. Extraordinarily cold feet.
- Generalities.—Paralytic tearing in all limbs and joints. Chronic, gouty pains with diminished secretion of urine, after taking cold from getting wet (and stoppage of gonorrhoea). Trembling of hands and feet. Immobile limbs, as from paralysis. Emaciation so great that the skin shrivels and falls into folds.
- Skin.—Dry, pimply eruption, which itches in warmth only. Miliary rash as soon as he goes from a warm room into cold air. Ulcers (from the abuse of mercury). Deep cracks in.
- Sleep.—Nightly sleeplessness with frequent awaking. Frightful dreams.
- Fever.—Pulse: Somewhat accelerated, with violent ebullition, mostly toward evening. Chill: Predominates by day and night. Numerous shiverings running upward, mostly in forenoon. Coldness of whole body, with exception of face and chest, most on feet, even near a warm stove. He is always at his worst during the chill. Heat: In evening, with ebullition and palpitation. Warm feeling in evening with increased sense of well being. Sweat: In evening during the heat, but only on forehead.
- Allied Remedies.—Bell, CALC-C., Merc., Sul.
- ### SCILLA.
- Mind.—Great mental anxiety with fear of death. Angry over trifles. Aversion to all mental and physical activity.
- Vertigo.—Beclouded dizziness in head.
- Head.—Pressive heaviness in, early in morning when awaking. Drawing headache (from r. to l. side). Throbbing, when raising up. Sticking headache. Painful sensitiveness of upper part, early in morning.

SCILLA.

- Eyes.—Staring look with wide open eyes. Left eye is visibly smaller than right. Contracted pupils.
- Nose.—Painful soreness at margin of nostrils. Early in morning, violent, acrid, corrosive, fluent coryza with sore nostrils.
- Face.—Changes color and expression. Dark red. Red during the heat, then pale without chill. Distorted, tense features with red cheeks, without thirst. Humid, eating, spreading eruption upon upper lip. Cracked lips; black lips and teeth.
- Mouth.—Dry, open. Much sticky mucus in. Rough and scratchy in upper part of palate. Burning in palate and throat.
- Appetite, etc.—Complete loss of. Unappeasable hunger. Aversion to food. Desire for acids. Thirst for cold water. Constant thirst, but for want of breath she is able to take only a single swallow at a time.
- Taste.—Bitter, of food, especially bread. Repulsive sweetish t., of all food, especially meats.
- Eruptions.—Many empty.
- Nausea.—Inclination to vomit, in gastric region. Constant alternation between qualmsiness in epigastrium and a commotion as before diarrhoea in abdomen. Continuous qualmsiness early in morning when coughing. Retching.
- Stomach.—Pressure as of a stone in.
- Abdomen.—Shattering in hypogastrium and feeling as if intestines were pressed out. Contractive pains in muscles of. Cutting, pinching, as from flatulence. Bellyache in, as from diarrhoea. Painfully sensitive in region of bladder. Distended. Thrusts in.
- Flatulence.—Profuse discharge of very foul smelling flatus.
- Stool.—Diarrhoeic, very bad smelling. Black diarrhoea. Painless constipation.
- Urine.—Great urging, with discharge of much watery urine. Constant urging, with discharge of red, burning urine. Polyuria. Frequent, but scanty micturition. Frequent urination at night. Constant pressure on bladder, which is very sensitive. Involuntary urination.
- Respiration.—Panting, rattling. Groaning, with open mouth. Short, from every exertion, and from walking, especially from ascending. Oppression, which necessitates sitting in an upright position. Anxious tightness with stitches in chest.
- Cough.—With copious expectoration of thin, frequently reddish colored mucus, in morning. With scanty expectoration of white mucus. Expectoration tasting repulsively sweetish or burnt, and of an offensive odor. Dry, in evening and at night. Expectoration of blood when coughing. Violent short paroxysms of spasmodic c., excited by mucus in trachea and crawling within chest. After cold drinks. From every exertion. With stitches in sides of chest, pains in abdomen, and a sense of internal heat. Headache and obstructed breathing during. Pressure upon bladder and involuntary spurring of urine, during. The patient is more exhausted in the morning when mucus is dislodged, altho' with difficulty, than during the dry evening cough.
- Neck.—Eruption on. Sensitiveness, and painful soreness of skin of. Stiff nape. Stitches in thyroid gland.
- Chest.—Stitches in sides, especially during inspiration and when coughing. Inflammatory pleurisy (inflammation of lungs and pleura). Chest pains are intensified early in morning. (Bad effects of blood-letting with inflammation of chest.) Congestion to. Pressure on.
- Back.—Eruption on, with burning, sticking itching after scratching.
- Upper Extremities.—Sweat in axillæ. Convulsive twitchings of arms.
- Lower Extremities.—Convulsive twitches in legs. Icy cold hands and feet. Cold sweat on feet. Sweat on toes.
- Generalities.—Tearing and restlessness in limbs. Dull, rheumatic pains which are diminished during rest and intensified by motion. Convulsive twitchings and movements of limbs. Bubbling gurgling in many parts of body, in scapulæ, back and arms. Most symptoms are worse in early morning and during motion.

SCILLA.

- Glands.—Swelled, indurated.
- Skin.—So-called fatty itch with burning itching. Excoriated, in bends of limbs. Cold gangrene.
- Sleep.—Restless, with much tossing about in bed. Much yawning and stretching without sleepiness. Sleeplessness.
- Fever.—Pulse: Small and slow, but somewhat hard. Chill: Nightly, internal, with external heat. Chilliness toward evening, when walking, not while sitting. Heat: Predominatingly dry, internal, burning h., of entire body, with cold hands and feet, and intolerance of uncovering. In afternoon and evening great sense of, in entire body, mostly with cold feet. When he uncovers himself during the heat, a chill and pain immediately ensue. Internal, without thirst. Sweat: Entirely wanting. Absence of all exhalation, even during the severest burning heat.
- Allied Remedies.—Alo., Arn., Ars., Bry., Millef., Pod.

SECALE CORNUTUM.

- Mind.—Weakened power of thinking. Illusions of fancy; of the senses. Unconscious or anxious, often passing into raving delirium. Melancholic sadness. Extraordinary anxiety. Madness with inclination to drown himself. Furious madness. Insanity with rage and mania to bite. Dejection with fear of death.
- Sensorium.—Reeling vertigo, as from intoxication. Unconsciousness and stupefaction.
- Head.—Crawling feeling in. Dull pain in occiput. Profuse falling of hair.
- Eyes.—Wild, staring look. Distorted. They are forced deep within their orbits. Darkened vision.
- Ears.—Transitory deafness.
- Nose.—Nosebleed.
- Face.—Discolored. Pale, yellowish color. Dark red. Blue rings about the deeply sunken eyes. Sunken, distorted. Spasmodic distortion of mouth. Formication on. Trismus.

SECALE CORNUTUM.

- Teeth.—Loosen and fall out. Gnashing.
- Mouth.—Bloody or discolored foam before. Insufferable crawling in throat and on tongue. Swelling of tongue. Discolored, (brown or blackish) tongue. Mucus coat on tongue. Feeble, stammering speech, as from paralysis of tongue.
- Appetite, etc.—Great desire for acids. Violent thirst.
- Taste.—Pappy, in mouth.
- Nausea, etc.—Constant qualmsiness and inclination to vomit after every meal. Vomiting: Of bile; of mucus; painless, without any exertion.
- Stomach.—Extraordinary pressure, as from a load, in. Great anxiety and burning in pit, but still greater sensitiveness thereof to touch. Gangrene of.
- Hypochondria.—Inflammation and gangrene of liver.
- Abdomen.—Burning or cold sensation in. Colic with convulsions. Pain in region of loius, as from false labor pains.
- Flatulence.—Grumbling and rumbling in abdomen.
- Stool.—Watery diarrhoea. Involuntary liquid stools. Debilitating diarrhoea.
- Urine.—Diminished or completely suppressed. Watery.
- Sexual Organs.—Labor pains are replaced by twitchings and spasms. Labor pains too violent and painful. Congestion to uterus. Inflammation of uterus after suppression of lochia or menses.
- Menses.—Too profuse and too long continued, with bright or black, thin, fluid blood. Discharge of blood during pregnancy. Uterine hemorrhage. Lochia remain bloody too long. Miscarriage, especially at third month.
- Respiration.—Difficult, anxious r., with sighing and hiccough. Oppression of chest, as in suffocative catarrh.
- Cough.—Expectoration of blood, with or without cough.
- Larynx.—Hollow, hoarse voice.
- Chest.—Spasmodic palpitation.
- Back.—Coldness in (and in limbs). Insensibility and crawling extending from back to finger-tips.

SECALE CORNUTUM.

Upper Extremities.—Numbness and deadness of hands. Burning in hands.

Lower Extremities.—Violent cramps in calves. Burning in swollen feet. Crawling in toes. Gangrenous deadness of fingers and toes.

Generalities.—Bruised feeling in limbs. Drawing and tearing, with crawling in limbs. Numbness of limbs. Burning in all parts of body, as if sparks were falling thereon. Indolence and great weariness. Convulsive twitching of limbs. Spasmodic distortion of limbs, only ameliorated by forcibly extending them. Tonic cramps and spasms. Pains in limbs < motion.

Skin.—Wrinkled, discolored, dry. Numb and insensible. Desquamation of entire cuticle. Gangrenous blisters.

Sleep.—Somnolency. Deep, stupefying.

Fever.—Pulse: Often quite unchanged, even with the most violent attacks. Mostly slow and contracted, sometimes intermittent or suppressed, somewhat accelerated during the heat only. Chill: Violent, but short, soon followed by internal burning heat, with great thirst. Disagreeable cold feeling in back, abdomen and limbs. Heat: Violent long-continued, dry heat, with great restlessness and violent thirst. Sweat: Principally on upper part of body. General cold, clammy sweat.

Allied Remedies.— Am-c., Ars., Bell., Coloc., Phos., Verat-a., SELENIUM.

Mind.—Great debility and relaxation caused by mental labor extended far into the night. Extraordinary forgetfulness when awake, but a clear recollection when half asleep. Extraordinary loquacity and talkativeness.

Head.—Violent sticking ache over left eye, excited by walking in the sun and strong odors. Headache every afternoon. Headache from lemonade, wine and tea. Hair falls out on combing (also from eye-brows, beard and genitals). Itching creeping on scalp in evening; it oozes when scratched and feels as if contracted.

SELENIUM.

Eyes.—Itching vesicles on margin of lids and brows.

Ears.—Increased ear-wax.

Nose.—Inclination to bore into. Fluent coryza in evening. Yellow, thick, gelatinous nasal mucus.

Face.—Greasy, shining skin. Extraordinary emaciation of.

Teeth.—Boring pain in molars with tearing in lower jaw. Teeth covered with mucus.

Appetite, etc.—Want of appetite, with white-coated tongue, early in morning. Aversion to strongly salted food. Great desire for brandy.

Taste.—Repulsively sweetish t., on lips after smoking.

Eruotations.—Hiccough and eruotations when smoking.

Hypochondriæ.—Pains in liver during inspiration. Miliary eruption in hepatic region. Stitches in spleen when walking.

Abdomen.—Sensible throbbing in arteries of, and entire body after eating.

Stool.—Hard. Constipation.

Urine.—Dark, diminished. Urination after every stool. Urinary sediment like coarse grained, red sand.

Sexual Organs.—Slow and insufficient erections, with too rapid emission of semen and long-continued voluptuous thrill. Impotency with lasciviousness. Discharge of prostatic fluid during sleep and stool.

Respiration.—Frequent, deep, sighing. Tightness of, from stitches in side.

Cough.—Early in morning, straining chest; with expectoration of bloody mucus.

Larynx.—Hawking of bloody mucus. Hoarse, husky voice.

Neck.—Stiff nape when turning head.

Back.—Paralytic pain in small of, early in morning.

Upper Extremities.—Nightly tearing in hands. Itch vesicles on margin of hands and between fingers. Biting in palms.

Lower Extremities.—Itching about ankles and feet in evening. Cramp in calves and soles of feet. Flat ulcers on legs.

SELENIUM.

Generalities.—Great emaciation, especially of face, hands and thighs. He is intolerant of drafts and easily takes cold, which is followed by tearing in limbs. All of the symptoms are < after sleep, whereunto he has a great inclination, especially on hot days. China intensifies the symptoms beyond endurance.

Skin.—Heat like a fiery glow in single spots on body. Spots which have been scratched open remain humid a long time. Flat ulcers.

Sleep.—Late falling to sleep in evening. Awakened by the least noise. He always awakes at the same hour.

Fever.—Pulse: Accelerated but little, even with strong ebullition. Chill: Constant, alternating with heat. Heat: External only, with burning in skin in single spots only. Sweat: Very profuse, especially on chest, axillæ and genitals. From the slightest motion. Every time he sleeps by day as well as night. Extraordinarily easy s., Causes yellow or white, stiff, salty spots on the linen.

Allied Remedies.—ALUM., Bov., Bry., Calc-c., Ign., Merc., Nux-v., Puls., Sep., Sul., Thuja.

SENEGA.

Mind.—Vacancy and dull confusion in head, with pressure in eyes and cloudy vision. Great anxiety, with quick breathing. Melancholic mood, easily irritated by offenses. Cheerfulness, with great excitability, which turns to anger and rage. Hypochondriasis.

Head.—Dull outward pressure in forehead and orbits, as tho' brain and eyes would be forced out, with sensitive eyes. Jerkings and thrusts in forehead. Congestion, with throbbing therein, especially when stooping. Hollow, empty feeling, affecting eyes. The headache always extends to eyes, is intensified in a warm room and during rest and is better in the cold, open air. Shivering on scalp.

Eyes.—Out pressing pain in orbits, as tho' eyeballs were expanded, especially in evening by artificial light. Congestion of blood to eyes when stooping, with burning therein. Swelling of lids, with crawling therein. Hardened mucus crusts in lashes early in morning. Watering, when in open air and looking intently. Clouded cornea. Sensitive to light. Weak vision and flickering before.

SENEGA.

Ears.—Painfully sensitive hearing.

Nose.—Odor: As of an ulcer in; as of pus before.

Face.—Heat of. Burning vesicles on upper lip and in angles of mouth.

Mouth.—Burning on palate, in throat and at tip of tongue. Inflammatory swelling of fauces and uvula. Dry buccal cavity, with tenacious mucus in throat. Increased saliva. Roughness in throat.

Appetite.—Total loss of. Increased thirst.

Taste.—Sweet, metallic or urinous, in mouth.

Qualmishness.—Starting in stomach, with gagging and inclination to vomit.

Stomach.—Burning. Spasmodic pressure.

Abdomen.—Warmth and oppression in upper, during inspiration. Boring, digging pain in upper. Drawing, as from a foreign body in walls of.

Stool.—Retarded, hard and too scanty.

Urine.—Diminished discharge of. Nocturnal enuresis. Urine mixed with mucus threads, becoming turbid and cloudy on cooling. Burning and sticking in urethra during and after urination.

Sexual Organs.—Increased sexual desire, with painful erections.

Respiration.—Difficult, as from stoppage of lungs. Tight, as tho' chest were too narrow, especially in open air and when stooping. Short, from accumulation of mucus in chest and air passages.

Cough.—Dry, shattering c., from burning and tickling in larynx, especially when in open air and in evening. With copious expectoration of tenacious albuminous mucus, of a somewhat offensive odor in morning, and when in the house.

Larynx, etc.—Extraordinary quantity of mucus in, and in trachea. Catarrhal croup. Tracheal phthisis. Hoarseness.

Chest.—Congestion to, with throbbing therein while sitting. Pressing pain in, worst during rest. Great sensitiveness internally, and to touch externally. Stitches in, when coughing and during inspiration. Painful soreness of, increased by external pressure, sneezing, coughing, etc. Most chest symptoms are worse when at rest and have no influence on the breathing. Copious accumulation of mucus in. Phthisis mucosa. Hydrothorax. Violent, shaking palpitation.

SENEGA.

Back.—Bursting pain under right scapula.

Lower Extremities.—Sense of great weariness, with trembling thereof. Paralytic weariness in joints of lower legs.

Generalities.—Extraordinary mental and physical relaxation. Relaxed, plethoric, phlegmatic constitutions; old persons. Great weakness, especially when it seems to start from chest. Diseases of the mucous membranes. Dropsy of internal parts (especially after inflammations).

Skin.—Bites of poisonous animals. Anasarca.

Sleep.—Sound and at same time stupefying, in evening immediately upon lying down. Frequently awakened by chest difficulties, toward morning.

Fever.—Pulse: Irregular, mostly hard and accelerated, with strong ebullition of blood; seldom soft. Chill: And shivering, almost exclusively in open air, with weariness in legs and difficult breathing. Shuddering over back, with heat of face, chest symptoms and other sufferings. Heat: Only in rapid flashes. Sweat: Wholly wanting and appears only during its secondary action.

Allied Remedies.—Arn., Bell, Bry., Stann.

SEPIA.

Mind.—Incapable of mental exertion. Distraction. Great weakness of memory. Anxiousness in evening in bed. Anxiety with flying heat. Easily startled. Crying out. Indifference to his family. Angry, sensitive, irritable. Very excitable when in company. Morose. Despondent about his health.

Vertigo.—As tho' all surrounding objects were moving, or he was being wafted in the air, with inability to collect his senses, especially in the open air.

SEPIA.

Head.—Dulness in. Attacks of outward boring pains extort screams and cause vomiting. Unilateral outward sticking in forehead or one (mostly l.) side with drawing together of eyes. Heaviness in temples and forehead with violent congestion, in evening after lying down it terminates in a one-sided tearing pain. Throbbing in: In occiput. Distensive pressing pain. Feeling: Of a ball rolling about in; as if brain were loose and shattered. Ulcerative pain in occiput. Worse: Forenoon; towards night; slightest moving or shaking of; turning eyes; striking foot against anything; stooping; lying on back; sitting. Better: Rest; external pressure; closing eyes; after sleep; warmth; continued vigorous motion; open air; in darkness; raising up; lying on painful side.

External Head.—Cold feeling on vertex. Foul dry eruption with sticking itching crawling, smarting when scratched; and cracks on vertex, occiput and behind ears. Swelling over one temple with coldness, tearing and itching therein. Crawling itching most on occiput and behind ears, worse from scratching which is followed by pimples, denuded spots, thickening of scalp and raw sensitiveness. Painfully sensitive roots of hair, burning after scratching. Involuntarily jerks it backward (and forward) mostly in A. M. and when sitting quietly. Open fontanelles. Takes cold in, from dry, cold winds or getting it wet. Worse: Touch; early in morning and toward evening; at rest; rising from bed; cold north wind; on side on which he is not lying. Better: Lying upon part.

Eyes.—Inflammation and sticking in, with sensitiveness to daylight. Gauze or black spots before. Sparks before. Inability to open them at night. Feeling as if they would fall out. Falling of one upper lid, as from paralysis. Inflammatory swelling of lids. Yellow, sclerotic. Farsight. Yellow halo about candle light in evening.

Ears.—Sticking in. Oversensitive to music.

Nose.—Cancer of. Dry, stopped. Inflammation.

SEPIA.

- mation and swelling of tip. Ulcerated nostrils. Want of smell. Fluent coryza with hoarseness. Nosebleed. Sneezing.
- Face.—Yellow, especially about mouth and transversely across nose and cheeks. Pale, puffy. Skin, red and rough. Milk crust. Scuffs on lips and about chin.
- Teeth.—Become hollow. Sticking or drawing ache with great agitation. Swollen, bleeding gums.
- Mouth.—Aphthæ. Sensation of a lump sticking in throat when swallowing. Sticking sore throat when swallowing. White coat on tongue. Offensive breath.
- Appetite, etc.—Ravenous hunger and gluttony. Aversion to food, especially meat and milk. Thirstlessness.
- Taste.—Sour or foul, in mouth. Food tastes too salt.
- Eruptions.—Sour. Painful.
- Nausea.—In morning while fasting and when driving. Vomiting: Bile; during pregnancy; first bitter water, then food.
- Stomach.—Sticking or throbbing in pit of. Spasmodic pressure in. Burning in. Severe pain in cardiac orifice when swallowing food. Empty sensation in, and in abdomen.
- Hypochondria.—Pain (sticking) in liver from motion or when riding.
- Abdomen.—Adherent and indurated sensation in. Burning and sticking in. Pot belly (in mothers). Tearing pains which spread from abdomen into chest and thigh. Excoriation in groins.
- Flatulence.—Rumbling and grumbling in abdomen after eating.
- Stool.—Violent urging, discharge of mucus only. Too soft. Constipation with delayed stool. Diarrhœa: Exhausting; after milk; green (of children).
- Rectum.—Protruded, during stool. Protruding, bleeding hemorrhoids.
- Urine.—Dark. Frequent urging with inability to urinate. Involuntary urination during first sleep. Smarting in urethra when urinating.
- Sexual Organs.—Weak and sweating constantly. Increased sexual desire. Pro-lapsus uteri. Downward pressure in uterus, causing oppression of breathing. Violently itching rash inside of labia.
- Menses.—Dark, too early and too profuse, with increased bodily complaints. Suppressed. Corrosive leucorrhœa.
- Cough.—Paroxysms of spasmodic cough following each other in rapid succession, excited by tickling in chest from larynx to stomach. With salty expectoration early in morning and in evening. With copious, salty or foul tasting expectoration, dark bloody in early morning and evening, and a milky tenacious mucus during day. Expectoration: Yellow, green or gray pus; tasting bitter, putrid, flat, sour or repulsively sweet with an unpleasant odor; is loosened with difficulty and is swallowed. Dry stomach cough, in evening in bed, with nausea and bitter vomiting.
- Larynx.—Roughness and soreness in and in throat.
- Chest.—Oppression of, during profuse as well as stopped expectoration. Roughness and soreness in. Itching and tickling in. Tightness of, at night and when walking. Constriction of. Intense orgasm in, with violent palpitation. Shocks and stitches in, when breathing and during mental exertion. Empty feeling in. Pulmonary consumption following inflammation of. Heaviness and fulness in. Rattling in. Palpitation. Better: Pressure of hand.
- Neck.—Drawing and sticking in nape.
- Back.—Stiffness, extending up to nape. Burning tearing in lumbar region. Symptoms fly from other parts to back. Pressing and sticking in scapulæ. Feels as if something adhered in sacral region.
- Upper Extremities.—Scuffs on hands. Burning of palms. Exfoliation of skin of palms. Painless ulcers upon knuckles and tips of fingers. Panaritias.
- Lower Extremities.—Drawing in thighs. Paralysis of legs, especially after anger. Stiffness of legs after sitting a short time. Coldness of legs and feet. Spreading blisters and painless ulcers upon heels and joints as well as tips of toes. Crippled toe nails. All the flexures of the joints become sore.

SEPIA.

Generalities.—Want of flexibility in wrist, knee and ankle joints. Sticking pains in limbs. Painful sensitiveness of every part of entire body. Great sensitiveness to cold north wind. Easily takes cold. Getting wet is followed by a violent chill, then fainting attacks, then coryza. Intense nightly orgasm of blood with palpitation. Restlessness and throbbing in all limbs. Burning pain in many parts of body. Want of natural bodily heat. Excessively bad effects from anger. Weakness on awaking. Symptoms cease during violent motion (except riding) but appear in their greatest intensity when sitting quietly in morning and evening.

Skin.—Painless ulcers. Excoriation in bends of joints. Moist herpes with itching and burning. Hypersensitive.

Sleep.—Restless, from ebullition of blood. Late falling to. Great day sleepiness.

Fever.—Pulse: At night rapid and full, often intermittent; slow during day. Accelerated especially by anger and motion. Great ebullition of blood and throbbing in bloodvessels. Chill: Often first appears after the previous heat. Alternating with heat. Chilliness in evening in open air and from every movement. More thirst with chill than with the heat. Shivering during pains: Want of natural vital heat. Heat: Attacks of flying h., during day, especially in afternoon and evening, while sitting as well as when in open air, and from mental excitement, mostly with thirst and redness of face. Attacks of h., as tho' dashed with hot water. Sweat: Copious, more after, than during motion. Continued debilitating. Constant night and morning s. Only on upper part of body. Profuse, after slight exertion, with faint-like weakness, > motion. Anxious, offensive, sour or smelling like elder blossoms. Sour, on feet.

SILICEA.

Allied Remedies.—ACO., Agar., Ag-c., Ant-c., Ant-t., Ap., Ars., Asaf., Bar-c., BELL., Bry., Calc-c., Carb-v., CAUST., CHIN, Clem., Cupr., Dras., Dulc., Euphor., Gel., Graph., Hep., Kre., Lyc., MAG-M., Men., Merc., Nat-c., NIT-AC., Nux-v., Phos., PULS., Rhod., RHUS-T., Selen., SIL., SUL., Verat-u.

SILICEA.

Mind.—Enervation from mental exertion. Anxiousness. Dejection and despair with most intense satiety of life. Great obstinacy in children; they cry even when kindly spoken to. Yielding, anxious mood.

Vertigo.—When driving. Vertiginous attacks seeming to ascend from nape into head. Great dizziness, as tho' drunken, in evening. When stooping, driving or looking up. As if to fall forward.

Head.—Congestion with burning heat in. Throbbing and pounding, most severe in forehead and vertex, with chilliness. Heaviness in, wanting to press out thro' forehead, daily from noon till evening. Tearing pains, often unilateral (r) only, with stitches out thro' eyes and in facial bones, heat in forehead and great restlessness, > external cold. Outward sticking in forehead and temples, most in right. Painful jerks in middle of forehead when turning quickly. Bursting pressure in. Pains ascend from nape to vertex and are accompanied by weakness. Worse: Night; noon till night; evening; stepping hard; motion: Of eyes; writing; mental exertion; talking; becoming heated; uncovering head and letting it get cold; drafts; stooping. Better: Wrapping head warmly; tight bandage on; in a warm room.

External Head: Enlarged head with open fontanelles, with emaciation of rest of body. Tearing externally especially on occiput and nape. Sensitive to pressure of hat, etc., and to touch. Burning, tickling itching most on occiput, worse from scratching, which causes festering pain and more violent burning. Foul dry crusty, burning (or sticking) itching eruption on occiput and behind ears, when scratched it festers. Itching nodes and nodular elevations on, and in nape. Takes cold in it easily and is intolerant of uncovering. Worse: Night; lying thereon; pressure; undressing; becoming warm in bed; touch; changing weather; at change of moon; stormy weather. Better: Wrapping up warmly; warm room; dry warm weather.

SILICEA.

Eyes.—Suppurative agglutination of. Lachrymation in open air. Biting in canthi. Swollen lachrymal glands. Ulcers and fungus hematodes on cornea. Paralysis of optic nerve. Black spots float before vision. Far sight.

Ears.—Stopped, sometimes opening with a report. Difficult hearing, especially for the human voice and during full moon. Oversensitive to noise.

Nose.—Nosebleed of acrid, corrosive blood. Long continued sense of dryness in. Ulcers and gnawing pain high up in, with great sensitiveness of this spot, to touch. Fluent coryza. Acrid, excoriating discharge. Loss of smell. Violent or very frequent sneezing with discharge of thin, acrid mucus. Stuffed coryza and chronic stoppage, from lumps of hardened mucus.

Face.—Pale, earth colored or waxy. White, or burning red spots, especially on cheeks. The skin is cracked. Painful scurfs on lips. Herpes on chin. Swelling of lower jaw bone. Painful swelling of submaxillary glands.

Teeth.—Tearing pain in, worse at night. Nightly, sticking toothache < by both warmth and cold.

Mouth.—Dryness in. Much mucus in throat.

Appetite.—Lost, with great thirst. Ravenous hunger with want of. Aversion to warm cooked food; he wishes to eat cold things only. Repugnance to meat and milk.

Taste.—Sense of, wanting Bitterness in mouth early in morning.

Erections.—Tasting of ingesta or sour. Waterbrash with shuddering.

Nausea, etc.—Continuous, with vomiting; < early in morning. Vomiting: After every drink; of food, then of bitter mucus; of water, then of food.

Stomach.—Pressure like a stone in. Pressure in, waterbrash and vomiting follow each other consecutively after every meal. Pit is painful to pressure.

Abdomen.—Tense, bloated, hard and hot, especially in children. Cutting in (without diarrhoea, much worse when constipated), > warm applications. Colic, wherein the hands turn yellow and the nails blue. Colic from worms, in children. Painful inguinal hernia.

Flatulence.—Incarcerated. Much noise in abdomen, with discharge of very offensive flatus.

Stool.—Difficult, hard, and constipated. Frequent, papescent, cadaverous or stinking. Discharge of worms.

Anus.—Itching and sticking in, and in rectum.

Urine.—Straugury.

Sexual Organs.—Itching and humid spots on, especially scrotum. Sweat on scrotum. Hydrocele. Excessive sexual desire.

Menses.—Too early, but too scanty (or too profuse). Menstrual discharge between the periods. Uterine hæmorrhage. Abortion. Acrid, biting, corrosive leucorrhœa.

Respiration.—Whooping. Arrested. Deep, sighing. Short and panting, when walking rapidly and during manual labor. Tightness of chest when at rest.

Cough.—From cold drinks. Phthisical, with copious expectoration. Hollow, spasmodic, suffocative c., from tickling in trachea, especially in region of throat-pit; dry in evening and night; in morning and during day, with copious, yellow, somewhat greenish, purulent, tough, sometimes milk-white, acrid, mucus expectoration, or, more rarely, of bright, frothy blood; generally of a fatty taste and offensive odor.

Chest.—Rattling in. Bruised feeling in. Pressure and soreness on. Stitches extending thro' into back. Purulent pulmonary consumption. Suppurating mammæ of nursing women. Inflamed nipples. Mammary cancer.

Back.—Swelling and curvature of vertebræ. Spasmodic, drawing lumbar pains.

SILICEA.

Upper Extremities.—Incipient paralysis of lower arm and hand. Burning in fingertips. Yellow, crippled, brittle fingernails. Panaritium.

Lower Extremities.—Boils on thighs. Swelling of knee. Swelling of feet, in morning. Cold feet. Footsweat with excoriation between toes. Stinking feet. Ulceration of big toe.

Generalities.—He easily takes cold, especially from uncovering head or feet. Nightly sticking in all joints. Worm complaints in scrofulous persons. Lameness of limbs in evening. Great weariness and sleepiness during storms. Ebullitions of blood and thirst from drinking a small quantity of wine. Restlessness after sitting a long time. Great nervous exhaustion. Great emaciation. The symptoms are intensified at night, at new and full moon and when the weather changes. Part on which he lies goes to sleep.

Glands.—Painlessly swollen, they develop a continued itching only. Suppurating.

Bones.—Swelling and curvature of. Inflammations of. Caries.

Skin.—Painful sensitiveness of. Suppurating ulcers of all kinds, with laudable as well as unhealthy pus especially in membranous parts. Ulcers, with proud flesh; stinking; spongy swelling and painfulness around; gangrenous. Ganglion. Unhealthy.

Sleep.—Frequent jerking and starting up in. Sleepiness early in evening. Sleepless: Altho' sleepy; from heat, restlessness and great ebullition of blood to head. Many anxious dreams. Somnambulism.

Fever.—Pulse: Small, but hard and quick; often irregular, and then sometimes also slow. The blood very readily begins to surge. Chill: Strong, in evening in bed, increased when uncovering. Great chilliness, especially during every exertion. Constant internal chilliness and want of natural vital heat. Heat: Predominant. Frequent short attacks of flying h., during day, most on face. Universal strong h., with thirst in afternoon, evening or thro' whole night. Nocturnal dry h. During day, typically recurring heat without previous chill, followed by slight sweat. Sweat: Debilitating, at night or only in morning. From moderate exercise, most profuse on head and face. Profuse on head only. Nocturnal sour or offensive s. Wholly absent.

SPIGELIA.

Allied Remedies.—Agar., Ars., Bell. Bor., CALC-C., Gaust., Cupr., Flu-ac., Get., Graph., HEP., Iod., Kali-c., Lyc., Merc., Alex., Nat-c., Nux-v., Petr., Phos., Puls., Rhus-t., SEP., Staph., Sul.

SPIGELIA.

Mind.—Difficult thinking and disinclination for mental exertion. Very weak memory. Restlessness, anxiety, and solicitude for the future. Dejection even amounting to self-destruction.

Vertigo.—When looking downward.

Head.—Outward boring pain in forehead, vertex or occiput. Inward pressure generally in right temple, or as if brain were pressed out of forehead. Stocks of tearing pain in forehead, with staring eyes. Thrusts and jerks in head. Pressive squeezing pains, especially when stooping. Sore pain in forehead and vertex. Shaking in brain. Painfulness of occiput, with stiffness of nape. Worse: Evening. Motion: Slight; of head; of eyes; stepping hard. Mental exertion; noise; opening mouth; coughing; stooping; talking; sitting; standing; walking in open air. Better: Rest; lying with head high; closing eyes; uncovering head; in room; laying hand on part; external pressure.

External Head.—Painful sensitiveness of scalp and hair to motion, with a burning ulcerative pain when touched. Tearing in, a shivering runs all over h., when affected part is touched. Tension of scalp. Dull outward sticking in, alternating with a sore pain on vertex. Better: During, but worse after washing; uncovering. Worse: Touch.

Eyes.—Are painful in their sockets when moved. Sensation as tho' balls were too large. The lids hang down, seemingly hard and immovable. Difficult

SPIGÆLIA.

- opening of. Inflammation of margin of lids. Burning in, with redness of sclerotic and distended bloodvessels. Acrid tears. Dilated pupils. Presbyopia.
- Ears.—Earache: Like a plug forcibly pressed into. Sense of stoppage. Deafness.
- Nose.—Tickling itching on. Herpetic eruption on, with painful soreness. Catarrhal fever, with weeping mood and dry heat without thirst. Profuse discharge of mucus thro' posterior, with dryness and stoppage of anterior nares.
- Face.—Pale, puffy, with distorted features, especially early in morning when awaking from sleep. Sweat on. Yellow circles about eyes. Red. Jerking, tearing pressure and burning in zygoma. Pressure pain in lower jaw.
- Teeth.—Thumping tearing ache < by cold water and admission of cold air. Ache as tho' being torn out, immediately after eating and at night.
- Mouth.—Bad odor from. Much white, foamy saliva in, and in fauces. Fissures, in tongue.
- Appetite, etc.—Loss of, with violent thirst. Ravenous hunger, with qualmsiness.
- Taste.—Putrid; fetid, in mouth.
- Stomach.—Pit of, sensitive to touch. Pressure as of a hard lump in.
- Abdomen.—Pressure as of a hard lump in navel region. Stitches in. Worm colic.
- Stool.—Frequent, ineffectual urging. Discharge of large pieces of mucus, without feces. Discharge of feces with worms.
- Urine.—Frequent urging to urinate, with profuse discharge; also at night. White sediment.
- Genitals.—Frequent erections, with voluptuous thoughts, but no sexual desire.
- Respiration.—Short, especially when ascending. Suffocative attacks, with anxiety, violent palpitation and chest pains.
- Cough.—Violent, with suffocative attacks. Dry, hollow, with obstructed respiration.
- Neck.—Hard, painful swelling of cervical glands.
- Chest.—Stitches. Contraction, with difficult breathing. Tearing pain. Sense of trembling in, < from slightest motion. Pinching stitches in diaphragm, with obstructed respiration. Extraordinarily violent, visible and audible, anxious palpitation, < bending chest forward.
- Back.—Sticking pain in, especially when breathing.
- Upper Extremities.—Stitches in joints of arms and hands. Hard, burning, itching nodules on palms.
- Lower Extremities.—Stitches in joints of lower limbs and in upper thighs when walking. Wart-like excrescences on toes.
- Generalities.—Sticking pain in limbs, especially in joints. Heaviness and bruised sensation in entire body when rising from sitting. General weariness, especially after the slightest motion in open air. Painful sensitiveness of entire body to contact, with shuddering of the parts touched, or with crawling running through whole body. The symptoms are intensified after washing and after satisfying the sexual desires.
- Glands.—Painfully swollen.
- Skin.—Pale and wrinkled on body.
- Sleep.—Disturbed, at night, by physical restlessness. Unrefreshing, at night, followed by sleepiness early in morning.
- Fever.—Pulse: Irregular, mostly strong, but slow. Tremulous. Quicker in evening, slower in morning. Chill: In morning, often recurring at same hour. Alternating with heat or sweat. Of single parts, with warmth of others. Universal, overrunning c., with concomitant heat. Proceeds from chest. Chilliness from the least motion. Heat: Principally on back. Nocturnal flying h., with thirst, especially for beer. Of face and hands, with chill on back. Sweat: Nocturnal, offensive, with concomitant heat. Clammy on hands. Cold.
- Allied Remedies.—Bism., Dig., Euphr., Gel., Laur., Merc., Nat-c., Nat-m., Puls., Verat-a.

SPONGIA.

SPONGIA.

Mind.—Attacks of anxiety. Great tendency to be easily frightened. Obstinaucy. Excessive mirth. Great inclination to hum and sing. Disposition to weep.

Head.—Congestion with pressure in forehead. Distensive, pressive ache as tho' it would burst. Outward pressure in (r.) frontal eminence. Throbbing and pulsation in, especially in forehead. Bent or sunken backward, with painful stiffness of nape, anxious whistling breathing and a dry barking cough (croup). Sensation as if hair stood on end. Worse: Sitting; entering a warm room after walking in open air; looking intently. Better: Lying horizontally, especially on back.

Eyes.—Pressure and sticking in. Headache and tears in e., from continued staring at a single point. The lids feel heavy and draw shut.

Ears.—Suppuration of external. Difficult hearing.

Nose.—Dry nasal catarrh.

Face.—Pale, with sunken eyes. Red, with an anxious mien. Swollen cheeks. Eruption on lips. Swelling and tension of submaxillary glands.

Mouth.—Painful vesicles on inside of cheeks and on tongue. Salivation. Brown, dry tongue.

Appetite, etc.—Insatiable hunger and thirst.

Taste.—Bitter in throat, not in mouth.

Vomiting.—After milk.

Stomach.—Intolerance of tight clothing about. Stitches in, from least pressure thereon. Feeling of laxness, and as if it stood open.

Hypochondria.—Pressure in.

Abdomen.—Drawing pains in lumbo-abdominal region, starting from small of back. Swelling of inguinal glands. Grumbling and grunting in.

Stool.—Hard, scanty, with urging in anus.

Anus.—Crawling, with discharge of ascarides.

Urine.—Involuntary discharge. Frequent urging with a scanty discharge.

Sexual Organs.—Swelling of testes and spermatic cords.

Menses.—Too early and too profuse. Palpitation before.

Respiration.—Difficult, as from a stopper or valve in larynx, without rattling. Oppressed, > bending upper part of body forward. Whistling, rattling, anxious inspiration with violent exertion of abdominal muscles. Wheezing (not rattling) inspiration. Loss of breath

Cough.—Deep, dry, hollow, barking c., during day and night, excited by an irritation like a plug or valve high up in the larynx, in the morning only there is detached a scanty, tenacious yellow or hardened mucus, of a faintly sour taste, which can't be ejected but must be swallowed. With painful soreness and burning in chest.

Larynx, etc.—Sensitive to touch. Roughness and burning dryness with sensation of constriction in larynx and trachea. Inflammation of mucous membrane of trachea. Membraneous croup. Laryngeal and tracheal phthisis. Hoarseness. Husky, weak voice which fails when talking and singing.

Neck.—Painful stiffness of nape and neck, felt especially when turning head. Large goitre with pressure and crawling therein.

Chest.—The slightest exertion causes violent congestion to, with obstructed breathing, anxiety and qualmsness. Constriction, with violent oppression of breathing. Burning and soreness in.

Back.—Pressing pain in sacrum.

Upper Extremities.—Large blisters on forearm. Swelling and redness of single finger joints which are tense when bent. Numbness of finger tips.

Generalities.—Stiff extremities. Bruised feeling in arms and legs. Heaviness of body. Sensation of numbness of lower half of body. Great mental and physical relaxation. Many complaints, except those of respiration, are ameliorated when resting in a horizontal position.

Glands.—Swollen and indurated.

SPONGIA.

- Skin.—Dry, hot. Itching sticking, when becoming warm in bed. Herpes.
- Sleep.—Reveries and phantasies on falling asleep.
- Fever.—Pulse: Very quick, full and hard. Strong ebullition of blood and swelling of bloodvessels. Chill: With shaking, even by a warm stove, most on back. Heat: Great, soon after the chill, with dry burning skin over whole body except thighs, which remain cold, numb and chilly. Attacks of overrunning, flying h. Anxious h., with red cheeks, weeping and inconsolable mood. Sweat: Cool on face, in evening. Over whole body, in early morning hours.
- Allied Remedies.—Brom., Dros., HEP., Iod., Kali-bi., Lact., Phyt.

STANNUM.

- Mind.—Extraordinary restlessness and anxiety. Despondency. Quickly passing ebullitions of anger. Irritability, silent pœvishness, anthropophobia and aversion to talk. Hopelessness.
- Head.—Pressive, stupefying ache, moving about in forehead. Burning in forehead with qualminess > in open air. Throbbing in temples. Painful jerks thro' forehead and occiput, leaving a dull pressure behind, > from motion.
- Eyes.—Weak, dim, sunken. Nightly purulent agglutination. Sticking and pressure in lids. Lachrymal fistula Styes.
- Ears.—Ulcerated ringholes. Shrieking noise in, when blowing nose.
- Nose.—Stoppage in upper nasal cavity. Unilateral stuffed coryza with inflamed nasal cavities.
- Face.—Pale, sunken, with deep seated eyes. Drawing facial pain in malar bone and orbits. Swelling of upper jaw and cheek. Cramp in jaws. Painful swelling of submaxillary glands.
- Mouth.—Bad odor from. Sticking, dry sensation in throat. Hawking of mucus with painful soreness in. After hawking mucus, the voice for singing is much higher. Speech difficult and weak from debility.

STANNUM.

- Appetite.—Great hunger and thirst except in evening. Loss of, in evening.
- Taste.—Bitter, of all food.
- Nausea, etc.—Sweet risings in throat. Bitter vomiting after eating. Violent retching followed by vomiting of indigested food. Hæmatemesis.
- Stomach.—Violent pressure in, with painful soreness thereof to touch. Cramps, with bitter eructations, sensation of hunger therein and diarrhœa. Bruised pain in pit. Empty sensation in.
- Abdomen.—Spasmodic colic about navel. Hysterical spasms in. Empty or full feeling in. Sensitive to touch.
- Flatulence.—Flatulent distension of abdomen. Obstructed flatus.
- Stool.—Frequent, ineffectual urging to. Hard, dry and knotty. Scanty, greenish. Mucus diarrhœa.
- Urine.—Scanty discharge. The excitation to urinate fails, as from insensibility of bladder, only a fulness in lower abdomen indicates its necessity.
- Sexual Organs.—Increased sexual desire. Violent, voluptuous irritation to discharge semen.
- Menses.—Increased. Anxiety and low spirits before. Debilitating, mucous leucorrhœa.
- Respiration.—Crowing, snoring. Great tightness of chest, with anxiety in evening; it necessitates loosening the clothes. Want of breath from every movement, but also when lying down. Taking a deep breath causes a transient sense of agreeable lightness.
- Cough.—Tickling, deep, hollow c., returning periodically in fits of three coughs, excited by mucus in chest and stitches and dryness in trachea. Violent, dry c., in evening in bed, until midnight. During day, with copious, greenish, repulsively sweetish foul or sometimes salty or sour expectoration. Phthisis mucosa.
- Larynx, etc.—Roughness and hoarseness in. Tickling and soreness in. Much mucus in trachea, which is easily expectorated. Soreness in trachea. Tracheal phthisis.
- Chest.—Tickling itching in. Piercing and soreness in. Stitches in l., when breathing or lying thereon. Sense of emptiness and weakness in. Ulcerative phthisis. Hydrothorax. Tension and painfulness throughout entire external c.

STANNUM.

Upper Extremities.—Swelling of hands in evening. Violent burning in hands. Frost bites. Hangnails.

Lower Extremities.—Great weakness in thighs. Swelling of ankle in evening. Violent burning in feet.

Generalities.—Paralytic heaviness in extremities. Paralysis of arms and legs. Pressive drawing in limbs. Burning heat in limbs. Lassitude with trembling. Extraordinary weakness of body (and mind), with tremulousness felt more during slow motion. Greatly indisposed and affected after long continued speaking. Emaciation. Hysterical and hypochondriacal spasms, with pains in abdomen and region of diaphragm. Epileptic attacks in evening, especially in teething children. Motion > and rest < the symptoms; the debility only is felt while walking. Pains which gradually increase, then gradually decline in the same way.

Sleep.—Day sleepiness. Late falling to sleep. Nightly restlessness with very many dreams.

Fever.—Pulse small and quick. Chill: In evening, especially over back, after previous heat with sweat. Shuddering c. daily in forenoon (toward 10 o'clock). On head only. With the lightest shuddering chill the teeth chatter, as from convulsions of masseter muscles. Marked numb feeling in finger tips during the shuddering chill in the morning. Heat: In afternoon (from 4 to 5 o'clock), recurring daily, with co-existent sweat. Burning h., in limbs, strongest on hands, every evening. Anxious h., in repeated attacks, as tho' sweat would break out. Anxious feeling of h., from the least motion. Predominating feeling of h., internally. Sweat: Very exhausting at night and in the morning hours, most profuse on neck. Very exhausting general s. from the least motion. Musty or mouldy smelling.

Allied Remedies.—Ars., Chin., Lach., PULS., Seneg., Sul., Valer.

STAPHYSAGRIA.

STAPHYSAGRIA.

Mind.—Chaotic, incapable of any mental exertion. Weak memory. Bad effects of righteous anger and indignation (he flings away what he has in his hand). Great angeriness. Fixed dissatisfaction over his own as well as the deeds of others. Ill humor over events. Tearful mourning, with grief and fear for the future. Hypochondriacal indifference (of onanists). Tetchiness. Thoughts full of solicitude.

Head.—Stupefying pressive ache, as tho' brain were pressed together. Pressure as of a heavy lump or ball fixed within forehead. Feeling: As tho' brain were rent asunder; as if head would burst, especially in forehead. Worse: Early, on awaking; motion; stooping. Better: Reclining head; rest; warmth; after much yawning; after breakfast.

External Head.—Painfully sensitive, with desquamation of epidermis. Moist, (seldom dry) foul, erosive, creeping, itching eruption on occiput and behind ears, scratching causes the itching to change place, increases the moisture and makes it burn. Itching dandruff. Pressive, sticking and tearing in bones and peritœum of skull, especially in occiput and behind ears, ending in swelling and suppuration, with foul day and night sweats. Hair falls out most on nape and behind ears, with a foul, moist eruption or scales on, (also after illness induced by vexation). Worse: Becoming warm in bed; warm wraps; touch; motion; evening; at night; after rising, sometimes after the siesta. Better: After breakfast; reclining it upon something; after lying down.

Eyes.—Biting and burning in inner canthi. Dryness of balls and lids. Inflammation of edges of lids, with nightly agglutination. Nodes in edges of lids. Dim vision. Lachrymation. Halo about candlelight at night.

Nose.—Nasal and aural polypi. Ulcerated nostrils. Coryza with ulcerated nostrils. Stoppage of upper nares. Acrid coryza, with obstruction of choanæ. Sneezing.

STAPHYSAGRIA.

- Face.—Sickly, sunken or debauched countenance, with hollow eyes encircled by blue rings. When getting angry it turns brown and blue. Inflammation of bones of. Scurfy, burning, painful lips. Easy dislocation of maxillary joint. Painful submaxillary glands with or without swelling.
- Teeth.—Exfoliate and turn black. Very sensitive to touch and cold drinks, not felt when biting them together violently. Painful, whitish swelling and ulceration of gums. Nodosities and excrescences on gums. Bleeding gums.
- Mouth.—Stomatitis. Dryness and scraping in throat and fauces, with painful soreness when talking and swallowing. Painful drawing extending from hyoid bone downward into throat. Salivation. Feeble voice on account of weakness of vocal organs and after anger. Nasal speech from obstruction of choanæ. Continued swallowing while talking. Offensive breath.
- Appetite, etc.—Excessive. Ravenous hunger with waterbrash, when stomach is full. Desire for thin, liquid food only; for brandy and tobacco.
- Taste.—Flat, in mouth. Bitter, of all food.
- Erection.—Bitter, salty e., after eating meat Bitter, aftersour food. Hiccoughy, during which bitter water comes up into mouth. Waterbrash. Retching.
- Hypochondriæ.—Anxious, suffocative pressure and tension transversely across h., early in morning while fasting.
- Abdomen.—Spasmodic cutting in a., every time he eats or drinks. Weak feeling in, as tho' it would fall away. Contraction of. Pot belly, especially in children. Colic, with urging to urinate. Painfully swollen inguinal glands. Inguinal heruia descends when coughing. Flatulent symptoms.
- Flatus.—With odor of rotten eggs.
- Stool.—Constipation, with urging to s. Slow altho' soft. Dysenteric. Urging sometimes with hard, sometimes with soft stool. Evacuations with much flatus.
- Urine.—Urging to urinate, with painful discharge of scanty, dark red urine, passed drop by drop. Urging to urinate, with discharge of much clear, watery urine. Involuntary urination when coughing.
- Sexual Organs.—Inflammation of testes or ovaries. Painful sensitiveness of female sexual organs, especially when sitting. Excited sexual desire. Frequent pollutions. Bad effects of onanism.
- Cough.—Nightly, with expectoration of yellow, pus-like, flat-tasting mucus. Dry, hollow, spasmodic e., from tickling crawling in larynx and trachea. Dry by day.
- Larynx, etc.—Adherent mucus in, and in trachea. Rawness in, from much talking. Sensation of pressure and constriction in throat-pit after anger, < swallowing. Tearing pain in, and in trachea. Soreness in trachea. Weak voice.
- Neck.—Stiff nape. Painfully swollen glands of throat and neck.
- Chest.—Constricting dyspnœa. Scratching, soreness or ulcerative pain, < coughing. Great restlessness in. Spasm of diaphragm after anger. Tremulous palpitation from least motion or music.
- Back.—Pain in small of, as tho' broken, during rest and when rising from sitting.
- Upper Extremities.—Painfully swollen axillary glands. Paralytic, pressive drawing in arms. Scabby herpes on elbows. Insensible finger-tips.
- Generalities.—Painfulness of muscles to touch, and of joints to motion. Unilateral paralysis from anger. Early in morning, great weariness and stiffness of all joints, mostly in shoulder, lumbar region and hips. Continual inclination to lie down. Heaviness of limbs and dullness after the noon-day nap. Nightly twitchings. Faintness. Effects of onanism or the abuse of Mercury.
- Glands.—Painfully (or painlessly) swollen.
- Bones.—Swelling and suppuration of, and of periosteum.
- Skin.—Itching herpes which burns, after scratching, in evening. Dry, crusty herpes upon joints. Chronic miliary eruptions, with nightly twitchings. Unhealthy, diseased s. Incised wounds, Gouty nodes on joints; on fingers.

STAPHYSAGRIA.

Sleep.—Violent yawning and stretching, with tears in eyes. Extraordinary day sleepiness. Sleepless before midnight. Anxious dreams full of peril, after midnight.

Fever.—Pulse: Very quick, but small and often tremulous. Chill: And coldness predominate. And coldness in evening, often without subsequent heat. Violent, in evening, with shuddering and shaking and heat of face. Shuddering in afternoon (3 o'clock), > motion in open air. From back up over head, even when near a warm stove. Running down back. Constant chilliness or (in alternate action) sweat, day and night. Heat: External, with thirst after midnight, then chill toward morning. Nightly, burning h., especially on hands and feet, with inclination to uncover. With violent thirst and profuse sweat. Sweat: Profuse; also great inclination thereto. Inability to s., with headache and a pale face. Nightswat smelling like rotten eggs. Cold, on forehead and feet. Great inclination to s., during day, even when sitting. Intermittent fever consisting almost solely of coldness. Violent hunger before and after paroxysm.

Allied Remedies.—Ars., Bism., COLOC., Kre., Merc., Merc-c., Phos-ac., Ran-b., Sil., Sul., Thu.

STRAMONIUM.

Mind.—Extremely variable phenomena. Changing deliria of various sorts, frightful, loquacious, lewd, ridiculous, with pride, etc. Funny pranks alternating with sad demeanor. Loud laughing alternating with groaning and lamenting. Drollery alternating with earnestness. Premonitions of death alternating with attacks of rage. Ungovernable rage with great violence, howling, shrieking and striking about. Violent raving mania with frightful phantasies, visions, trembling and clonic spasms. Mental disturbances of drunkards. Extraordinary anxiety. Low-spirited, with weeping and fear of death. Melancholy. Inconsolate over trifles. Incessant idle talking. Constant restlessness. Want of memory. Insensible to mental impressions. Desire for light, company and sunshine. Illusions of fancy. Affectation.

STRAMONIUM.

Sensorium.—Reeling, stupefying vertigo, with vanishing of sight and hearing, and headache. Light feeling in head. Fainting, with a dry throat, and a pale, followed by a red-face.

Head.—Hot, with a glowing red face, cold hands and feet, convulsive twitching of body from every touch, and aversion to uncover. Extraordinary congestion to Headache, with vanishing of sight and hearing. Heat and throbbing in vertex, with fainting attacks. Convulsive motions, frequently raises it from pillow, or moves it to and fro. Meningitis. Hydrocephalus. Worse: Touch. Better: Lying quietly.

Eyes.—Red, inflamed. Staring, sparkling. Distortion of; of lids. Inflammation of edges of lids. Dilated, insensible pupils. Short sight. Illusions of sight and hearing. Surrounding objects appear blue.

Face.—Alternately pale and deep red. Red, swollen, turgid. Stupid, disordered countenance. Anxiety and fear is expressed in countenance and actions. Deep folds and wrinkles on. Wasted countenance. Distortion of mouth. A yellow stripe on red part of lip.

Teeth.—Inclination to gnash.

Mouth.—Dry. Bloody foam at. Difficult swallowing from spasmodic constriction and dryness of throat. Swelling and paralysis of tongue. Stuttering with contortion of face. Complete aphonia.

Appetite, etc.—Violent thirst. Fear or aversion to water and all fluids.

Taste.—Bitter, in mouth. Tastelessness of food; it has no taste at all.

Hiccough.—Spasmodic.

Vomiting.—Of sour mucus. Of green bile.

Stomach.—Anxiety in pit with oppressed breathing.

STRAMONIUM.

Abdomen.—Hard tensely distended. Painful to motion and touch. Hysterical spasms of Bellyache, as tho' navel would be torn out, and diarrhoea.

Stool.—Retained Cadaverous; stinking. Discharge of blood from anus.

Urine.—Suppressed. Involuntary discharge

Menses.—Increased, of coagulated, black blood Rank stench of body during. Uterine hemorrhage.

Cough.—Periodically recurring attacks of painless, barking, spasmodic dry cough, in a shrill screeching tone; excited by constriction of larynx and chest.

Respiration.—Difficult, oppressed. Frequent sighing.

Larynx.—Constriction of, and of chest muscles. Shrill screeching voice.

Chest.—Spasm of muscles. Too profuse secretion of milk in nursing women.

Back.—Bent backward.

Lower Extremities.—He falls over his own feet.

Generalities.—Trembling of limbs (also in drunkards). Increased and easier mobility of voluntary muscles. Twitchings in limbs. Crawling in limbs. Spasmodic attacks. Convulsions. Chorea. Eclampsia. The convulsions are excited by the least touch, as well as by glistening objects and light. Consciousness, with stiffness and immobility of body or with clonic spasms. The body is bent backward and ^{the} countenance distorted. Insensitive. Painlessness with most symptoms.

Skin.—Effects of suppressed eruptions.

Sleep.—Frightful phantasies during. Stupefying somnolency with snoring.

Fever.—Pulse; Extremely irregular; mostly full, hard and accelerated, then again small and quick; sometimes slow and scarcely perceptible; also intermittent and trembling. Chill; And universal coldness, often very long continued, with a red face and twitching. Extraordinarily sensitive to uncovering. Running down back. Universal coldness in afternoon, after previous heat of head and face, followed by general heat. Inflammatory fevers with deliria. Heat: Of whole body with vivid redness of face and mostly with concomitant sweat. Hot, red face with cold hands and feet. Anxioush., with vomiting. Sweat; Profuse, over entire body, even with the heat, with great thirst. Oily, offensive. General, cold s. Copious, at night.

STRONTIUM.

Allied Remedies.—Ap., Bell., Cham., Cic., Gels., Hell., HYOS., Ign., Nux-v., Op., Plb., Verat-a.

STRONTIUM.

Mind.—Uneasiness and anxiety. Peevish and inclined to anger and vehemence.

Head.—Tensive pain externally as well as internally, as if it were distended and the scalp too small, it extends into the upper jaw increasing gradually and decreasing in the same way. Sticking headache. Sense of heat in and in the red face, with anxiety and sleepiness. Worse; Evening; lying with head low; in cold. Better: In warmth, especially of sun.

Eyes.—Pressive pain on upper surface of eyeball. Burning in. Pressive pain, after rubbing them, which causes one to see blue or red rings. Green spots before, when in the dark. Weak.

Nose.—Twitching and quivering of. Hardened, bloody nasal mucus.

Face.—Red with burning heat of. Violent boring and tearing pain in.

Teeth.—Jerking ache. Violent tearing, preceded by increased saliva. Toothache, like a screwing together sensation.

Mouth.—Numb sensation in. Inflammation of fauces and throat. Heat coming from mouth and nose, with thirst.

Appetite, etc.—Hunger after dinner. Great thirst, especially for beer.

Taste.—Like earth in mouth.

Qualmishness.—With burning heat of face.

Stomach.—Pressure in, which disappears after eating.

STRONTIUM.

Abdomen.—Sensation of fullness. Cutting in, with diarrhoea and chill. Pains in umbilical region.

Stool.—Retarded, hard and lumpy, expelled with effort and great pain in anus. Burning in anus after s. Diarrhoea of yellow water.

Urine.—Diminished discharge of. Pale, smelling strongly of ammonia.

Menses.—Delayed; at first like meat juice, then passed in clots.

Respiration.—Tightness of chest with burning heat of face when walking.

Cough.—Violent, dry c., from irritation in trachea at night.

Chest.—Pressive pain in. Drawing pain in muscles of right side of. Palpitation.

Back.—Drawing pain in, and in loins, in evening. Bruised pain in, and in lumbar region, < stooping and touch.

Generalities.—Tearing pains in joints, especially in evening and at night in bed. Weak, tremulous sensation in body, early in morning and in evening. Impaired use of limbs as from one-sided paralysis (r.), in evening. Great emaciation. Many pains are like fleeting phantoms, so that one can scarcely designate their locality, yet they appear to be situated mostly in the cylindrical bones and marrow. The symptoms increase gradually and decrease just as slowly. The right side is most violently affected. He is better in open air, especially in warm sunlight and from warmth in general. His physical condition is worse in the evening.

Skin.—Itching, < scratching. Tension of; in many parts of body, in evening.

Sleep.—Starting up and jerking of body when falling to s. Frequent awaking at night, especially from coughing.

Fever.—Pulse full and hard, with strong throbbing in bloodvessels. Chill: In forenoon, running from lumbar region down back part of thighs. Shuddering over head and scapulae. Heat: Dry, at night with thirst. Which streams from nose and mouth at same time.

Sweat: In morning hours. At night, mostly on affected parts, with increased pains from uncovering.

Allied Remedies.—Phos., Plat., Sul.

SURPHUR.

SULPHUR.

Mind.—Mental preoccupation with difficult thinking. Inclined to philosophical, religious and political speculations. Weak memory. Great angriness and irritability in full blooded persons. Depression and despondency. Restlessness and haste. Anxiousness in evening. Frightened easily. Aversion to being washed, in children. Melancholy with solicitude for the salvation of his own soul but indifference to the fate of others. Weeping.

Vertigo.—Especially when sitting, with vanishing of sight and nosebleed.

Head.—Congestion from chest to h., with burning heat and gurgling, pulsating pain in brain, throbbings in neck and cardiac region, diminished hearing and flushes of heat in face. Hollow feeling in occiput. Buzzing and roaring feeling in. Stitches and bruised sensation. ; Bursting pain. Forehead; Outward sticking and pressure in; tearing and heat in > moving head; heaviness and fulness < raising or moving head; tension in and in eyes from every mental exertion or moving eyes. The head is stooped forward when walking. Worse: Open air; during stool; talking; early on awaking and in evening; stooping; after eating. Better: In warm room; at rest; external pressure; sitting; lying with head high.

External Head.—Bone pains like a band contracting about h., and as tho' flesh were loose thereon, ending in inflammation, swelling and caries. Open fontanelles. Agreeable crawling, itching (more on occiput and behind ears), burning, changing place or feeling > from scratching, but bleeding easily, then foul eruptions or ulcers which burn or smart as if raw, soon follow. Scalp or vertex sensitive to touch. External coldness. Hair dry; falls out, in child bed. Worse: Cold, wet weather; during rest; warmth of bed. Better: Motion; cool air.

Eyes.—Sunken, encircled by blue rings. Painful inflammation, from the recent presence of a foreign body. Stitches, especially in sunshine or artificial light.

SULPHUR.

- Profuse lachrymation in open air, with disagreeable dryness thereof in a room. Vision lost, as tho' they had been obliterated. Like gauze before. Obscuration of cornea. Vesicles on cornea. Farsighted. Photophobia with sticking, worst during sultry weather. Frequent inflammation of lids with burning and profuse secretion of mucus. Ulcerated lids. The lids are relaxed and hang down.
- Ears.—Purulent discharge from. Drawing and sticking in. Humming and roaring in. Oversensitive hearing.
- Nose.—Swelling and inflammation of. Herpes transversely across. Epistaxis. Odor like an old catarrh in. Dry; stopped nasal secretions. Burning fluent coryza with discharge of burning water in open air, but dry in house.
- Face.—Pale, sickly color. Burning, seeming to rise from chest. Heat and spotted redness of. Erysipelas. Humid herpes. Milk crust. Swollen upper lip. Cancer of lip. Swollen of submaxillary glands.
- Teeth.—Ache every evening. Sensitive tips. Swelling of gums with throbbing pains. Dental fistula.
- Mouth.—Stomatitis. Aphthæ of children. Chronic sensation of a plug or lump in throat. Dryness of throat. Frothy mucus on tongue. Offensive breath.
- Appetite, etc.—Too great. But knows not for what. Constant thirst. Drinks much, eats little.
- Taste.—Offensive, sweetish or sour, in mouth.
- Erections.—Offensive smelling, at night during sleep. Sour. Loud, whenever he presses on abdomen. Gulping up of ingesta. Heartburn.
- Nausea, etc.—Qualmishness after eating. Tenderness of epigastrium after eating. Retching. Vomiting: First of water, then of solid food; of blood; sour or bitter, with cold sweat upon face.
- Stomach.—Burning in. Contractive spasms of, after eating. Burrowing in pit. Sensitive pit. Pressure and stitches in.
- Hypochondriæ.—Stitches in hepatic region, both hypochondria and spleen.
- Abdomen.—Stitches in (left) side of, when walking. Bellyache after drinking. Like a hard lump in. Hemorrhoidal colic. Ascites. Labor-like pains across the pubes. Incarcerated hernia. Loud rumbling and grumbling in. Obstructed flatus with pressure in (left) side of.
- Stool.—Frequent, ineffectual urging. Hard, knotty. Chronic constipation. Soft, blood-streaked s. Dysenteric, with violent tenesmus. Involuntary.
- Anus and Rectum.—Prolapsus recti. Swollen anal hemorrhoids. Itching, sticking and burning in anus.
- Urine.—Frequent, nightly urination, with discharge of much urine in a powerful stream. Nocturnal enuresis. Involuntary.
- Sexual Organs.—Weak sexual power. Swelling of testicles. Hydrocele. Moisture on scrotum. Pressure on genitals. Swelling and painfulness of labia and vagina when sitting.
- Menses.—Too early and too profuse. Suppressed, with congestion of blood to other parts. Headache before. Mucus or acrid milky leucorrhœa.
- Respiration.—Difficult inspiration from a painless tightness of chest. Nightly suffocative attacks. Tightness of chest with visible palpitation and snoring-like sensation therein. Oppressed when bringing the arms together in front of body.
- Cough.—Dry, with spasm of chest and retching, during day and night. Nightly, with tendency to diarrhœa. From crawling in larynx. Always in two quickly succeeding paroxysms of rapid coughing fits, excited by a tickling as of feather down in larynx. In evening and at night without, in morning and during day with expectoration of dark blood or yellow, greenish, purulent, often cold or milky-white watery mucus, ordinarily of a sourish or flat, foul or salty taste or like an old foul catarrh.
- Trachea.—A rough nasal sound like snoring, in. Deep, rough voice.

SULPHUR.

Chest.—Pressure, tension, stitches, cutting, constriction, and a kind of bursting pain in. Fullness in. Congestion to. Spasm of. Roughness and soreness in. Oppression, as of a load on, after some foods. Feeling as if lungs touched back. Pains in entire c. Suppuration of lungs. Pulmonary phthisis. Violent, visible palpitation. Swelling and nodes in mammae. Excoriated nipples. Cancer of mammae.

Back.—Drawing in. Curvature of spine. Pain in lumbar region when walking or rising from sitting. Stitching pain and tension in sacrum. Stitches in scapulae.

Upper Extremities.—Drawing in joints of arms, hands and fingers. Cracks on hands, especially between fingers and on palms. Erysipelatous swelling of fingers. Hangnails. Cold trembling hands.

Lower Extremities.—Heavy legs. Erysipelas on lower legs. Stiff ankles. Bruised or dislocative pain in shoulder (1). Feet cold or covered with coldsweat.

Generalities.—Great debility from speaking. General emaciation. Sensitive to open air. Restless limbs. Sticking pains in joints. Tearing in limbs with yawning and anxious sweat. Gouty arthritis with heat and swelling. Flying pains in extremities which often suddenly disappear for a time. Paralyzes of limbs Epileptiform twitchings, with an aura, as of a mouse running up arm or back. Symptoms appear mostly during rest and disappear during motion. Standing causes the greatest aggravation. Changes of weather, and especially wet weather, intensify the symptoms. Cold intensifies and warmth ameliorates the pains. Useful as an intercurrent in cases where the carefully selected remedy fails to act because some foreign controlling influence (Psora) requires to be subdued in order to allow the previous remedy a free scope to develop its power.

Glands.—Inflamed, swollen, indurated and suppurating. Swollen cervical glands.

Bones.—Pain in, as tho' flesh were loose thereon. Inflammation and swelling of. Caries. Curvature and rhachitis.

Skin.—Erysipelatous inflammations with pale, hot swelling. Nettlerash. Black pores. Bluish spots like ecchymoses. Itching and burning herpes. Scaly herpes. Liver spots. Panaritium. Boils (especially on buttocks). Spongy proud flesh in ulcers. Dropsy. Cracked Chafing of children. Unbearable itching, especially from warmth. Itch which itches intensely in evening and from warmth (often recurs in springtime). Eruptions: Receding; tendency to.

Sleep.—Great day sleepiness, especially in afternoon and after sunset, with sleeplessness at night. Late falling to. Long but unrefreshing s., in morning. Nightly jerking and twitching in body during. Nightmare.

Fever.—Pulse: Full, hard and accelerated, sometimes intermittent. Violent ebullitions of blood throughout entire body. Chill: And chilliness, principally internal and without thirst, mostly evenings, but also at other times of day. External, with concomitant internal heat and redness of face. Severe, at night in bed. In forenoon; in afternoon heat with cold feet. With thirst, after previous heat. Spreading from toes. Running up back. Heat: Afternoons and evenings, with dry skin and great thirst. Frequent attacks of flying h. Great, at night, without thirst, often preceding chill with thirst. Sweat: Nights and mornings. Copious sour smellings., the whole night. In evening, most on hands. Copious, from least movement. Anxious, debilitating, of an empyreumatic, sour, seldom offensive, sometimes also cold. Nightsweat, only on nape and occiput.

Allied Remedies.—Aco., Ag-c., Alo., Ambr., ANT-C., Ap., ARS., Bell., Bor., CALC-C., Carb-v., CAUST., Cham., Chel., Chin., Coff., Dulc., Ferr., Graph., Hep., Iod., Kre., MERC., NAT-S., Nil-ac., Nux-v., Petr., Pod., PSOR., PULS., Rau-b., Rhus-l., Sars., Selen., SEP., Sil., Stann., Spath., Stront., Thuj., Valer.

SULPHURICUM ACIDUM.

SULPHURICUM ACIDUM.

Mind.—Peevishness. Seriousness alternating with too great hilarity. Great tearfulness. Restlessness and impatience. Great irritability.

Head.—Sensation as of smoke in one side. Concussion, as if brain were loose. Painful jerks and thrusts in forehead and temples. Headache, as if a plug were rapidly thrust by increasingly severe blows into h. Dull sticking, or pressive head pains, increasing gradually, then suddenly disappearing. Worse: Forenoon and evening; walking; in open air; standing; sitting. Better: Sitting quietly in a warm room.

External Head.—Hair turns gray early and falls out, with an eruption and erosive sore pain on scalp, which changes place when scratched.

Eyes.—Burning pressure in. Tears in, when reading. Difficult opening of lids. Short sight.

Ears.—Diminished hearing, as though a leaf lay before. Roaring, in evening.

Nose.—Dark nosebleed in evening. Stuffed coryza, with loss of taste and smell.

Face.—Pale. Swollen sensation in, accompanied by a feeling as tho' white of egg had dried thereon. Peeling lips. Pain extending from lower jaw into tongue, as tho' glands were swollen. Swelled submaxillary glands.

Teeth.—Dull. Tearing ache, worst in evening after lying down, intensified by cold and ameliorated by warmth.

Mouth.—Sense of dryness in. Aphthæ, in children. Roughness in throat. Profuse salivation. Burning in cesophagus.

Appetite, etc.—Desire for fresh fruit, especially plums

Eructation.—Sour or bitter. Violent heartburn. Sweetish gulping up (after every cough). Waterbrash.

Nausea.—In stomach, with the chill. Vomiting, first of water then ingesta.

Stomach.—Grasping in, every evening, as after taking cold. Sensitiveness of pit. Pressure in pit. Unless mixed with a little spirits every drink chills stomach.

Hypochondriæ.—Stitches: In hepatic region; in spleen.

Abdomen.—Sense of warmth in umbilical region. Nightly cutting in. Labor-like pains extending into hips and small of back. Flatulent colic with a feeling as tho' a hernia would appear. Violent protrusion of an inguinal hernia.

Stool.—Ineffectual urging to. Delayed, compact, hard, nodular and black. Hacked (in children). Green, curdled diarrhoea, smelling like rotten eggs. Very foul smelling.

Urine.—Diminished discharge of brown urine, which, upon standing, becomes turbid like loam water.

Menses.—Too early and too profuse. Acrid, burning leucorrhœa.

Cough.—Asthmatic, excited by an irritation in the chest; dry in evening, in morning, with expectoration of dark blood or a thin, yellowish, sometimes blood streaked mucus, generally sour, but often salty or sweet. Dry, early in morning after rising. Chronic hæmoptysis. Much worse in open air. Always followed by eructations.

Larynx.—Roughness in. Hoarseness.

Chest.—Stitches. Tight. Extraordinary sense of weakness in. Stitches in heart. Palpitation with or without anxiety.

Back.—Stiff, early in morning when rising.

Generalities.—Drawing and tearing thro' entire body, even in face. Stitches in joints. Pain, as of an instrument pressing against part, gradually increasing then suddenly ceasing. Effects of pressure, blows or contusions of dull instruments. Weakness of entire body with, a feeling as tho' he were trembling. He is not so well in open air. The left side is principally affected. Most symptoms appear or are aggravated in the afternoon or toward evening. Very suitable for females, especially in the climacteric. Aggravation of most symptoms from the odor (not use) of coffee, and pains which suddenly vanish, furnish indications which hardly ever deceive.

SULPHURICUM ACIDUM.

Glands.—Painfully sensitive.

Skin.—Bluish spots, like extravasations of blood after contusions. Easy excoriation from walking or riding. Red, itching spots upon shin bone. Frost bites. Eating pain in ulcers.

Sleep.—He falls to sleep late and awakens early. Sleeplessness, as from activity.

Fever.—Pulse; Small and weak, but accelerated. Chill: During day, mostly when in a room, > motion in open air. Frequent shuddering run down over body. Heat: In evening, also after lying down in bed. Frequent flashes of h., in evening, especially after motion. Attacks of over-running h., with concomitant sweat (during climacteric period). Sweat: Most profuse on upper part of body. Profuse, in early morning. From every exertion, continuing long after sitting down. Sour. Cold, immediately after eating warm food.

Allied Remedies.—Ars., (CAUST.), Chin., Dig., Fer., Flu-ac., Ip., Merc-c., Plb., PULS.

TABACUM.

Mind.—Despondency. Apprehension. Cowardice and terror of death. Morose and fretful. Full of projects, but mind is confused. Loss of memory, hunts his words. Conscious, but unable to move. Profound stupor. Worse: When alone. Better: Bathing head in cold water; weeping; vomiting.

Vertigo.—Excessive, even to unconsciousness; as if drunk; felt in occiput. Sudden faintness on rising, even hemiplegia. Worse: Opening eyes.

Head.—Confused and heavy. Violent ache, like something shaking within. Aching, with vomiting when urinating. Compression, especially in occiput, or as of a band around. Pain, as if struck with a hammer. Rush of blood to, with momentary unconsciousness. Hair falls out. Better: In open air.

TABACUM.

Eyes.—Sunken and encircled by blue rings. Turned up. Divergent squint. Coldness, with a kind of burning in. Boring. Pupils irregular. Transient blindness. Vision > in twilight.

Ears.—Red and burning. Violent earache, with giddiness and overpowering sleepiness. Gnawing in. Sensitive hearing.

Nose.—Fluent coryza, with keen smell. Incessant sneezing.

Face.—Drawn; pinched; sunken. Deathly pale, collapsed and covered with cold sweat. Livid; pale gray. Expression of stupefaction. Transient feeling, as if parts were dead. Violent shooting in bones of. Lips cracked, burning; upper feels elongated; retracted over teeth.

Mouth.—Gums swell and bleed. Intolerably violent, throbbing toothache. Tongue numb; feels swelled. And throat full of whitetenuous mucus. Dry. Salivation. Throat: Scraping and crawling in. Oedema of uvula. Feeling of a plug in; as if clutched. Difficult swallowing.

Appetite, etc.—Incessant, ravenous hunger, is nauseated if she don't eat. Can eat immediately after vomiting. Loathes water. Craves stimulants, narcotics, etc. Great thirst; especially at night, but drinks only a little at a time.

Taste.—Of rancid oil; of burnt milk.

Eruetation.—Regurgitation and heartburn.

Nausea.—Paroxysmal, as if seasick, with vertigo and cold sweat; faint-like; incessant, with violent vomiting, < least motion. Retching. Worse: Motion; hawking. Better: In open air.

Stomach.—Faint sinking, or weak, relaxed feeling in. Shocks in pit, as often as he falls into a slumber. Sensation: As if it would turn over; of writhing; of coldness in, and along spine; of clawing; as if the bolus were forced thro' too small an opening (Op.). Gastralgia. Hypochondriacal dyspepsia.

Hypochondria.—Needle-like stitches in liver, preventing stretching, better stooping. Pressure, as of a heavy, round body beneath short ribs.

Abdomen.—Cramp-like retraction of navel. Intestines contracted. Painfully sensi-

TABACUM.

- tive. Violent convulsions, head retracted and contraction of abdominal muscles; excited by pressure on abdomen. Patient desires to uncover abdomen.
- Stool.—Urgent, painless, profuse and watery; cholera-like; acrid smelling. Involuntary stool and urine. Constipation alternating with diarrhoea.
- Anus.—Straining and violent burning in, during soft stool.
- Urinary Organs.—Urine suppressed. Itching in urethra.
- Sexual Organs.—Flabby. Nocturnal emissions. Loss of vitality. Discharge like meat water from vagina.
- Respiration.—Difficult; suffocative; jerking; stertorous.
- Cough.—With burning in larynx; with hic-cough and suffocation; with dyspnoea. Better: Eating.
- Neck.—Stiff. Neuralgia, with tightness of throat. Heaviness and pain in nape.
- Chest.—Sudden, violent constriction, as if squeezed by a vise. Pain, as of a knife sticking in sternum. Heaviness on sternum. Violent, sore pain in mammae, and a feeling as if nipple were bitten off.
- Heart; Darting pain from heart to vertex. Feeling as if a knot were twisted around h. Soreness about. Trembling. Palpitation: With pain in or between shoulders; with throbbing in head. Pains extend from heart to arms, with a sense of suffocation. Angina pectoris. Worse: Lying on left side.
- Back.—Tender along spine. Heat or coldness along. As of some one blowing on. Pulsation beneath right shoulder. Backache, < lying, > walking.
- Extremities.—Outstretched, relaxed and powerless, with trembling and convulsive twitchings. Stiff.
- Upper Extremities.—Aching in arms. Burning and fuzziness of finger tips; swollen finger tips. Fingers feel longer and calves feel as if dropping away. Coldness of one hand and heat of other.

TARAXACUM.

- Lower Extremities.—Gait slow, shuffling, tottering like an old man. Burning and feeling of pins in knee, < touch. Legs icy cold below knees (Carb-v.).
- Generalities.— Profound weakness, with relaxation of the voluntary, but spasm of the involuntary muscles; especially exciting the muscular activity of the alimentary canal, hence causing violent colics, vomitings and purgings. General or localized convulsions, tremblings or twitchings. Jerky movements. Numbness. Constrictive sensations about cavities, heart, chest, etc. Neuralgia, < during low barometer and wind, > hot applications. Body feels bruised. Burning pains and a sense of heat internally predominate, altho' patient may be cold objectively. Great emaciation. Extreme restlessness. Worse: Extremes of heat and cold; stormy weather; walking or riding in a carriage or railway train, the jar aggravates. Better: Open air; vomiting; sweating.
- Skin.—Slight wounds inflame intensely, burn and are long in healing. Itching blisters. Eczhymoses. Trembling, as if being torn. Itching like flea bites.
- Sleep.—Stupefying, with profuse sweat.
- Fever.—Pulse: Weak and small. Chill: With cold sweat and thirst. Cold skin. Coldness between shoulders. Heat: Of one cheek and paleness of the other. External, with internal shivering. With sweat. Sweat: Cold, profuse, clammy. Everywhere except on forehead.
- Antidotes.—Acids. Gels.
- Allied Remedies.—Aco., Agar., Ant-t., Ars., Coccl., Con., Gels., Hydrocy-ac., Ip., Jabor., Lobel., Phos., Sec-c., Verat-a.

TARAXACUM.

- Mind.—Irresolution. Despondency and discontent. Averse to work. Loquacity, with inclination to joke and laugh.
- Vertigo.—Reeling on walking in open air.
- Head.—Pressive pains. Sensation of constriction or distension of brain. Tearing in occiput. Only when walking or standing is he sensible of headache.

TARAXACUM.

Eyes.—Sticking burning in. Photophobia.

Ears.—Sticking and tearing in, and behind.

Face.—Red, with sensation of heat. Pustules on cheeks, wings of nose and angles of mouth. Upper lip cracked.

Teeth.—Sour blood exudes from hollow teeth. Dullness of. Drawing in hollow teeth, it extends into eyebrows.

Mouth.—Accumulation of sour water in. Dry feeling in throat. Larynx feels pressed shut. Hawking of sour mucus which dulls the teeth. Thick, white coat on tongue, peeling off in patches which afterward become very sensitive.

Appetite, etc.—Aversion to tobacco smoke.

Taste.—Bitter, in mouth, before eating. Saltish sour, of food, especially of butter and meat.

Nausea.—With anxiety and headache. And inclination to vomit after fat foods.

Abdomen.—Sticking bellyache, especially in sides of. Sensation of bubbles bursting within.

Stool.—Ineffectual urging Is passed with difficulty even when not hard.

Perineum.—Voluptuous itching on, compelling him to scratch.

Urine.—Frequent urging to urinate, with profuse discharge. Polyuria.

Neck.—Twitching and sticking in muscles of, and of nape. Tearing from ear downward along sides of.

Chest.—Pressive pain in. Sticking in. Twitching in intercostal muscles.

Back.—Bubbling and rumbling in scapulae, with chill over entire body. Pressive sticking in spine and small of back, with oppression of breathing.

Upper Extremities.—Twitching in muscles of arm. Icy cold finger tips.

Lower Extremities.—Sticking in thighs, calves and soles of feet. Burning in knees, lower legs and toes.

Generalities.—The limbs are movable enough, but it seems as tho' power of motion were impeded. Painfulness of all limbs to touch, and when in a false position. Sense of weariness thro' entire body, with inclination to sit or lie, with impaired consciousness. Most symptoms appear when sitting or standing and cease when walking.

THUJA.

Sleep.—Sleepiness and falling to sleep when listening to scientific discourses. Day sleepiness and yawning when sitting.

Fever.—Chill: And chilliness, especially after eating and drinking. General c., with headache. Shivering c., in open air. Heat: At night when awaking, especially on face and hands. Sweat: Very profuse throughout whole night, but most in first sleep before midnight. Very exhausting, biting s., on skin.

Allied Remedies.—Con., Kali-c., Puls. Valer.

THUJA.

Mind.—Vacancy in head, with inability to think. Slow speech, with frequent interruption, because he is obliged to hunt for his words. Restlessness. Great depression. He meditates over every trifle, with anxious concern for the future. Dejection. Satiety of life. He imagines his limbs are made of glass or that they are brittle.

Vértigo.—When rising from sitting. As tho' he were rocked.

Head.—Violent congestion. Heaviness in occiput early in morning, with peevishness and taciturnity. Numbness in brain. Pressive ache, as of a nail being driven into vertex. Worse: Early on awaking and toward evening; motion. Better: Uncovering head; after sweat.

External Head.—Corrosive eating or painfulness of side lain on. Violent burning or tearing stitches on, mostly in region of temples (l.). Crawling, eating or sticking itching, as of vermin on occiput and temples, scratching helps but develops a moist burning or sticking eruption which covers itself with crusts. Worse: Warmth of bed; lying on part; evening; night; 3 P. M. Better: Touch; pressure; rubbing.

THUJA.

- Eyes.—Burning in. Tearing in, in open air. Red sclerotic. Inflammatory swelling of lids. Short sight.
- Ears.—Cramp-like pain in external. Stitches extending from throat into.
- Nose.—Nose-bleed when overheated. Painful bloody crusts in. Blowing blood from. In room stuffed coryza with headache; in open air fluent coryza.
- Face.—Burning heat and redness of. Flushes of heat in. Pimples on. Sweat on, especially on side on which he does not lie. Swelled temporal arteries. Boring pain in zygoria, > from touch Twitchings in lips. Pimples on upper lip and chin.
- Teeth.—Biting gnawing in, < from cold food, drinks and chewing. Toothache from drinking tea. Painful soreness and swelling of gums.
- Mouth.—Painful soreness of throat when swallowing saliva. Vesicles and thrush in. Swelled tongue. Ranula under tongue. Slow speech.
- Appetite, etc.—Quickly satiated. Desire for cold food and drinks. Bad effects of fat food and onions. Intense thirst, especially at night and early in morning.
- Taste.—Flat. Food is tasteless, as tho' not salted. When chewed, food becomes quite dry.
- Eruetation.—Bitter. Rancid, after fat food. Tasting of ingesta.
- Stomach.—Painful pressure in pit. Cramps every evening.
- Abdomen.—Inflation of. Bellyache. Sense of something alive, or a child's knee pushing outward within. Indurations in. Colic from intussusception and twisting of intestines. Painful swelling of inguinal glands.
- Stool.—Ineffectual urging. Obstinate constipation, as from inactivity or intussusception of bowels. Difficult passage of a hard, thick, nodular stool.
- Anus.—Contraction of. Fig-warts about. Rectal fistula.
- Urine.—Profuse discharge of. With a cloudy sediment. Burning and itching in urethra.
- Sexual Organs.—Swelled prepuce. Figwarts (Merc-c.) on glans, prepuce, or female genitals, which exude moisture and pus, especially during the increasing moon. Sycotic gonorrhoea. Gonorrhoea of glans. Copious watery discharge from penis. Stitches in penis, with urging to urinate. Sensation, as tho' a drop-trickled along urethra. Profuse sweat on scrotum. Painful nightly erections. Swelling and excoriation of labia.
- Respiration.—Anxious oppression of, with violent thirst for cold water.
- Cough.—From being over-heated. Cough, with yellowish mucous expectoration and pains in epigastrium, in afternoon and at night, always toward three o'clock.
- Neck.—Distension of arteries of. Tension in skin of nape.
- Chest.—Compression of, with a sensation as tho' something were adherent therein. Stitches in, after cold drinks. Strong ebullition of blood within, with violent, audible palpitation. Blueness of skin over clavicles.
- Back.—Boils. Pressive pain in region of kidneys. Crampy pain in lumbar region.
- Upper Extremities.—Sticking pain in arms and their joints. Muscular twitches in arms. Distension of blood vessels of arms. Sweat on hands. Painful swelling and redness of finger tips. Coldness and deadness of fingers and finger tips.
- Lower Extremities.—Stitches in muscles and joints of legs. Weariness of legs when ascending steps. Red, mottled spots on backs of feet. Painful, inflammatory swelling and redness of backs of feet and tips of toes. Frost bites.
- Generalities.—Jerkings, especially in upper part of body. Stitches in limbs and joints. Asleep sensation in limbs, Averse to motion. Symptoms are often unilateral, especially on left side. Warmth of bed intensifies many symptoms. Attacks are usually < in afternoon and at night, always toward three o'clock and also in evening, and are > during rest. Sensation of water trickling in many parts.

THUJA.

Skin.—Sticking itching. Painful sensitiveness. The skin symptoms especially (but also many others) are > by touch. Fig-warts. Distended veins under.

Sleep.—Late falling to, on account of restlessness and dry heat. Jerking during. Unrefreshing, because of many anxious dreams. Anxious dreams when lying on left side. Lascivious dreams, with painful erections.

Fever.—Pulse: Slow and weak in morning, accelerated and full in evening. Violent ebullition of blood in evening. Strong throbbing in arteries. Great distension of arteries. Chill: Attacks of c., at different times of day, mostly toward evening. On left side of body which is cold to touch. Without thirst after midnight and early in morning. Internal, with external heat and great thirst. Heat: In evening, especially on face. Burning in face without redness thereof. Dry, of covered parts. Sweat: On first going to sleep. Of uncovered parts of body, with dry heat of covered parts, but also the reverse. Anxious, sometimes cold s. Immediately after the chill, without heat. Often greasy, sometimes offensive or smelling sweetish like honey.

Allied Remedies.—Cam., Carb-a., Graph., Hep., Merc., Nat-s., Nit-ac., Petr., Puls., Selen., Staph., Sul.

VALERIANA.

Mind.—Excessive mental excitement, with hallucinations of vision, hearing and the senses in general, as in pyrexial fevers. Uncommonly rapid change of ideas. Anxiousness. Fearfulness in evening in the dark. Hypochondriacal restlessness or excitability with trembling. Despondent mood. Morbidly excitable and irritable. Hysteria, with tremulous over-excitability of the nerves and very changeable moods and ideas.

Vertigo.—And stupefaction, as from intoxication, ending in foreheadache, especially in the evening.

VALERIANA.

Head.—Violent congestion to. In the evening, unilateral, stupefying, drawing, pressive ache extending into orbits, with heat in face. Hysterical headache; sticking or pressing extending from forehead into orbits. From a draft of air there immediately follows unilateral, drawing headache. Headache in sunshine. Cold feeling in the whole upper part of h, from pressing hat on tightly. Jerk-like, suddenly appearing head pains. Worse: Evening; open air; during rest. Better: Motion; change of position; in the room.

Eyes.—Inflamed, with biting and sticking of edges of lids. Short sight. Dim vision. Hallucinations of vision. Black points before. In the evening in the dark, luminosity before eyes, as tho' one could see surrounding objects.

Face.—Red cheeks, with heat of f., especially in open air. Cramp-like drawing in cheek bones.

Teeth.—Sticking or drawing ache.

Taste.—As of putrid tallow in mouth. Illusions of taste, smell and hearing.

Eructation.—Frequent, empty. Rancid, as from heartburn. Foul, early in morning. Like rotten eggs.

Nausea, etc.—Qualmishness, with inclination to vomit, as if a string were drawn upward from umbilicus into fauces, with copious accumulation of saliva. Qualmishness and vomiting of bile, with coldness and chill.

Stomach.—Great weakness of digestion. Instantaneous pressure ascending from abdomen into pit of Abdomen.—Hard, distended. Suppurative pain, in evening. Worm colic. Bruised pain in. Hysterical colic (also after suppressed menses). Pain, as from over-lifting, in the left loin. Bloating feeling, with inclination to draw it in.

Stool.—Tendency to diarrhoea. Greenish, papescent, with blood. Passes ascarides.

Urine.—Frequent and profuse discharge of. Respiration.—Oppressed from pressure on lower part of chest.

Chest.—Sudden jerks and twitching stitches, with a feeling of outward pressure.

VALERIANA.

Upper Extremities.—Trembling hands.

Generalities.—Rheumatic tearing in limbs, less in joints, during rest, particularly after previous exercise, > by motion however. Twitching, jerk-like, suddenly-appearing, shattering pains which are abated by a change of position. Violent up and down drawing in muscles of extremities. Paralytic pain in joints. Hyperæsthesia of all the senses and general nervous excitability. Hysterical complaints. The symptoms are intensified toward noon and during the first hours of the afternoon, as well as toward evening until midnight. Many complaints reappear periodically after two or three months.

Sleep.—Sleeplessness, with great restlessness and tossing about.

Fever.—Pulse: Very irregular and unequal; mostly very quick and somewhat tense, but also sometimes small and weak. Chill: In short attacks which soon pass into a protracted heat. The shivering usually starts from neck and runs down back. Heat: Predominant, long-continued, and universal, often with sweat on face. Spreading over face. Increased in evening and when eating. Predominating h., with thirst. Sweat: Profuse, especially at night and during motion, with continued great heat. Frequent, instantaneous attacks of s., especially on face and forehead, which disappear just as quickly.

Allied Remedies. — Acco., Asar', Bell., Cham., Coff., Hyos., Ign., Merc., Nux-v., Puls., Stann., Sul.

VERATRUM ALBUM.

Mind.—Mental confusion. Deliria or insanities, mostly mute, religious or with pride: With lasciviousness and obscene talk; with laughing, whistling and singing. Madness and raving mania, with shamelessness, impiety and profanity. Howling and lamenting in a hoarse voice. Extraordinary mental anxiety. Melancholy with anxious nightly inconsolable lamenting. Nightly anguish and despair. Fear of death. Hypochondriacal mood. Reticence. Angri-ness followed by anxiety and palpitation. Transient attacks of unconsciousness, alternating with insanity. Transitory loss of memory. Peevishness.

VERATRUM ALBUM.

Vertigo.—With reeling, as from intoxication, when sitting erect or standing, > lying on back and stooping.

Head.—Pressive ache in skull. Heaviness of entire h. Bruised or torn sensation in brain. Headache: With stiffness of nape and profuse flow of urine; throbbing, with qualmsiness and vomiting. Great sensitiveness of scalp and hair. Bruised soreness of. Coldness in and upon vertex, as tho' ice lay there, with co-existent icy coldness of feet and nausea. Worse: Rising from bed; motion. Better: External pressure; bending head backward; at rest.

Eyes.—Staring, watery, distorted, sunken and lustreless. Balls are turned upward. Pressure in. Trembling of upper lid. Paralysis of lids. Heat in. Tears, with a sense of dryness therein. Night blindness.

Ears.—Roaring and humming in. Deaf.

Nose.—Icy coldness of. Odor, of dung, before.

Face.—Yellowish, pale, on raising up. Red, while in bed, on rising it instantly becomes pale. Blue or greenish circles about eyes. Bluish. Livid. Cold, disfigured, cadaverous, hippocratic f. Spasm of masseter muscles. Lock-jaw. Shriveled, bluish or blackish lips.

Mouth.—Burning in, and in fauces. Dry and sticky. Profuse salivation. Tasteless saliva in. Feeling of distension in pharynx. Constriction of throat. Sensation, as of dust in throat. Tongue: Cold, shriveled; blackish. Cold breath. Hollow, hoarse voice.

Appetite, etc.—Ravenous hunger. Gluttony. Craving for sour or cooling things. Violent, unquenchable thirst, especially for cold water.

Taste.—Bitter, in month. Cool, as from peppermint in month.

Eruetation.—Forcible, empty. Bitter.

VERATRUM ALBUM.

Qualmishness, etc.—In stomach. With violent thirst, profuse flow of saliva and urine. Violent retching. Vomiting: Of ingesta; of bile; of blood, or foamy sour mucus; nightly; copious, excited by slightest movement or least thing ingested, especially drinks.

Stomach.—Great sensitiveness of pit, as tho' ulcerated internally. Burning in.

Abdomen.—Distension, with pressing pains and anxiety. Diarrhoea with cutting as from knives in. Painful contraction when vomiting. Very sensitive to touch. Burning and cutting in. Sticking in groins. Protrusion of hernia Flatulence.—Flatulent colic in abdomen with loud rumbling and grumbling.

Stool.—Chronic constipation as from inactivity of rectum. Ineffectual urging. Fainting during. Painful henteria. Diarrhoea; Greenish, watery, mixed with flocks; blackish. Fright followed by involuntary c., and icy coldness of body.

Urine.—Suppressed. Greenish. Dark red, passed frequently but in small quantities. Constant urging to urinate. Involuntary micturition.

Sexual Organs.—Stitches in spermatic cord.

Menses.—Too early and too profuse. Suppressed. Headache before.

Respiration.—Laborious inspiration. Oppression of chest (with many complaints). Suffocative attacks from spasmodic constriction of larynx or chest.

Cough.—Deep, hollow ringing c., from tickling in lowest bronchia, seemingly coming from abdomen. Deep, dry c., with cutting bellyache. In evening, with salivation. In spring and autumn. With pain in sides, and respiratory symptoms. With yellow expectoration, immediately on entering a warm room from cold air, followed by bruised feeling in chest. Whooping cough with vomiting. Dry at night, in daytime expectoration of yellow tenacious mucus of a bitter, salty or sometimes a sour or putrid taste, < eating and drinking cold things, especially cold water.

Chest.—Fulness in. Bruised feeling in. Stitches in sides of. Violent, visible, anxious palpitation with obstructed breathing.

Back.—Paralytic stiffness extending from back up into nape. Squeezing between scapulæ. Bruised sensation in, and in lumbar region.

Lower Extremities.—Thrusts in (r.) hip.

Generalities.—Sudden sinking of strength. Continued great weakness and trembling. Extraordinary weariness and debility. Paralytic, bruised feeling in limbs and bones. Numbness and crawling in extremities. Violent tonic spasms whereby the palms and soles are drawn into hollows. Tetanic rigidity of body. Fainting with stiffness of body but flexibility of limbs. Attacks of pain which in a short time always excite delirium or mania. Pains in limbs are < from warmth of bed and cold wet weather, and > rising and walking about.

Skin.—Cold and bluish or violet color of. Loss of elasticity of, it remains in the position into which it has been drawn. Thickened, desquamating spots on. Dry, itch-like eruptions.

Sleep.—Coma vigil with partial consciousness. Stupefying somnolency. Nightly anxiety and sleeplessness.

Fever.—Pulse: Irregular, most frequently small, thready, weak and slow; often almost extinct and entirely imperceptible; seldom hard and quick. The blood runs like cold water thro' the veins. Chill: And coldness mostly external, with internal heat and cold, clammy sweat. Shaking chill with sweat, which together pass into coldness. Predominating c., and coldness, running from above downward. Increased by drinking. Icy coldness of entire body. Heat: Almost entirely internal, with thirst, but without desire to drink. In evening, with sweat. Alternating quickly with chill. Alternately, now chill, now heat, here and there on single spots. Internal, only, with dark urine. Sweat: Profuse, in morning, evening or thro' entire night as well as during every stool. Cold, clammy, sour or of fensive, sometimes smelling bitter, or staining yellow, always with a deathly pale face. Cold: Over entire body, most on forehead, < least motion and vomiting, > rising and going about. Easy during day from every movement. Strong smelling. Intermittent fever with coldness externally only, with internal heat and violent thirst for cold water.

VERATRUM ALBUM.

Allied Remedies.—Aco., Alum., Arn., Ars., Bry., Calc-c., Cam., Carb-v., CHIN., Ck., Cina, Coff., CUPR., Dros., Ferr., Hyos., Ip., Merc., Phos., Phos-ac., Pod., Sec-c., Sep., Spig., Stram., Tabac., VERAT-V.

VERBASCUM.

Mind.—Great distraction. Constant rush of thoughts, phantasies and voluptuous imagery. Angry and peevish with desire for work and company. Unusual cheerfulness. Great cowardice.

Vertigo.—Attacks of, when resting left cheek on hand. Stupefying.

Head.—Pressive ache benumbing one side of forehead and extending into temples and zygoma. Stupefying stitches deep in brain. Tension and pain as tho' temples were pinched together, generally confined to one side of head. Worse: External pressure; going from a warm into cold place or the reverse.

Eyes.—Burning in. Sensation of contraction in orbits. Short sight.

Ears.—Inward tearing in. Deafness, as tho' something had fallen before e. When reading aloud, sensation of stoppage of ears, nose or larynx.

Nose.—Stuffed coryza.

Face.—Tension and violent pressure on zygoma and articular eminences of temporal bone, like prosoplagia. Faceache: Benumbing pressure and tension extending over entire cheek, from zygoma and maxillary joint, especially < or excited by a change of temperature. Tension in integuments of chin, in masseter muscles and throat.

Teeth.—Tearing in lower molars.

Mouth.—Foul odor from. Tongue coated brown early in morning.

Appetite, etc.—Hunger without appetite. Much thirst.

Eructations.—Bitter, with nausea.

Abdomen.—Pressing pain on navel, < bending forward. Constriction and piercing pain in umbilical region. Sticking bellyache. Tearing loose pain in umbilical region.

Stool.—Retarded. In small, hard balls, like sheep dung, passed with strong pressing.

Urine.—Frequent urging to urinate with profuse discharge.

Cough.—Hoarse, from tickling in trachea and chest; dry, hollow, in deep trumpet tones, from catarrh of trachea, especially of children, which does not awake them from sleep in evening and at night.

Larynx, etc.—Hoarseness with rough voice from reading aloud. Deep bass voice. Roughness and dryness in and in trachea.

Chest.—Constriction in. Pressure on. Benumbing, periodical stitches in. Tension over chest with stitches in cardiac region, in evening after lying down. Catarrhal affections. †Sticking or cutting pains at cartilages of ribs. †Better: Deep breathing.

Back.—Stitches in, also under scapulae.

Lower Extremities.—Great weariness of.

Generalities.—Sticking pains in limbs. Cramplike pressure in limbs. Pains are mostly associated with a feeling of numbness. The symptoms are excited and intensified by changes of temperature, namely, when going from open air into room and vice versa.

Sleep.—Great sleepiness after eating. Early waking, toward 4 o'clock.

Fever.—Chill and unilateral shivering, as tho' dashed with cold water. Internal and external cold feeling of entire body. Chill and coldness predominate.

Allied Remedies.—Aug., Mez., Phos., Puls., Ran-b.

VIOLA ODORATA.

VIOLA ODORATA.

Mind.—The intellect predominates over the emotions and mind. Increased activity of intellect. Great rush of ideas. Weakness of memory. Sadness terminating in gloomy despondency. Tearful mood without knowing why. Extraordinary irritability and indisposition.

Vertigo.—Reeling, when sitting.

Head.—Violent congestion to, with prickling in forehead. Heaviness and sinking down of. Tension in scalp of forehead and occiput, which spreads over upper part of face.

Eyes.—Falling of lids, as from a sleepy feeling in eyes. Burning in. Short sight.

Ears.—Sticking in and around. Aversion to noise, especially to the violin.

Nose.—Numbness of tip.

Face.—Hot forehead. Tension under eyes and over nose, extending into temples. Pressive pain in zygoma.

Teeth.—Tearing toothache in lower jaw.

Mouth.—Dry and painfully sore palate.

Stool.—Constipated.

Respiration.—Extraordinary oppression and tightness, as if a stone were lying on chest. Difficult r., with painful expiration, anxiety and palpitation.

Generalities.—Transient burning, now here, now there on body, as tho' parts were drawn together and burned with a small flame. Trembling limbs. Relaxation of all muscles. Great nervous weakness. The symptoms are indeed mild, yet they are much more distinctly felt than from other medicines. Position and surroundings do not alter them.

Fever.—Pulse full and strong. Chill: By day, consisting of shuddering only.

Allied Remedies.—Nux-v., Phos.

VIOLA TRICOLOR.

Mind.—Dulness of. Indisposition for serious work. Taciturn and introverted. Willfulness and obstinacy (of children). Peevishness and tearfulness. Hastiness, as tho' driven by an internal anxiety, with a sensation of great weakness and prostration internally.

VIOLA TRICOLOR.

Head.—Heaviness of, when raising up, which disappears when stooping. Outward pressing pain in. Buzzing in forehead when sitting still. Burning sticking in scalp, especially in forehead and temples.

Eyes.—Biting in. The lids sink down with sleepiness.

Face.—Thickening of skin of. Tension in skin of. Burning itching milkcrust. Heat and sweat of face after eating. Heat of side on which he does not lie, in evening in bed.

Abdomen.—Sticking and cutting in, with urging to stool, howling and screaming. Sticking in walls of, and in pubic region.

Stool.—Soft, hacked.

Urine.—Frequent urging to urinate with profuse discharge. Foul smelling, like cat's urine.

Sexual Organs.—Swollen prepuce. Itching stitches in scrotum. Pollutions with voluptuous dreams.

Chest.—Stitches about ribs, sternum and intercostal muscles. Anxiety about heart, with pounding like the striking of waves, when lying down.

Back.—Cramplike pain between scapulæ, with cutting and crawling in skin.

Generalities.—Sticking pains in limbs and joints. Sleepy relaxation of entire body.

Skin.—Sticking biting miliary eruption. Dry scurfs over entire body, exuding a yellow water when scratched.

Sleep.—Late falling to sleep on account of rush of ideas. Frequent awaking, as from activity. The child's hands twitch during sleep, with flexed thumbs, general dry heat and a red face.

Fever.—Pulse: Accelerated. Chill: And chilliness in forenoon and in open air. Heat: Dry, anxious h., at night in bed, with a very red face. General, anxious h., immediately after eating. Sweat: Hot, after eating. Night sweat.

Allied Remedies.—Bar-c., Nit-ac., Rhus-t.

ZINCUM.

ZINCUM.

Mind.—Moroseness especially in evening. Very sensitive to noise. Easily frightened, and long continued trembling after every emotion. Inclination to vehemence which greatly affects him. Extraordinarily changeable mood, in the morning buoyant, in evening sad.

Vertigo.—Especially in occiput.

Head.—Tearing and drawing in sides and occiput. Stupefying ache with blackness before vision. Pressive pain in forehead, temples and occiput, with confused dulness. Sore pain in. Dull cramp-like inward pressure in temples. Worse: In early morn; after eating; after dinner; becoming heated, indoors; after walking in open air; laughing; toward evening; lying down; after wine. Better: Walking in open air; from cold water.

External Head.—Painful soreness of. Falling of hair from vertex, even to baldness. Sore smarting in integuments of, strongest in vertex and sides, not affected by touch or suddenly > thereby. Violent sticking tearing as if between skin and flesh in both sides of. Worse: Physical exertion. Better: Fasting; when eating; rubbing; scratching; often suddenly ceases when touched.

Eyes.—Inward pressure on. Fiery flakes before, on looking upward. Painful soreness of canthi. Paralysis of upper lid.

Ears.—Earache with tearing stitches and external swelling, especially in children. Purulent, stinking discharge.

Nose.—Swollen, with loss of smell. Fluent coryza.

Face.—Earthy pale. Tearing in bones of. Lips and angles of mouth are cracked and ulcerated. Lips are coated with a thick clammy moisture.

Teeth.—Painful soreness of. Tearing in molars. Gums whitish, swollen and ulcerated.

Mouth.—Small yellow ulcers inside of cheeks and on fauces. Much mucus in throat, which also extends thro' choanæ into mouth. Bloody saliva. Sensation of spasm of œsophagus in region of throat-pit. Painful soreness and dryness of throat. Hoarseness.

Appetite, etc.—Excessive hunger. Aversion to meat, fish and cooked, warm or sweet foods.

Taste.—Salty, in mouth.

Eructation.—Sour, especially after milk. Heartburn after sweet foods. Water-brash.

Stomach.—Burning and soreness in. Disagreeable warmth at cardiac orifice and up œsophagus.

Hypochondriæ.—Spasmodic pains, alternating with oppression in chest. Pressure under short ribs with hypochondriacal mood, after eating. Stitches in spleen.

Abdomen.—Spasmodic colic about navel. Tension in distended abdomen, with rumbling. Inguinal hernia.

Stool.—Soft, papaceous, diarrhœic. Hard, dry and unsatisfactory.

Anus.—Itching, crawling and painful soreness in.

Urine.—Presses heavily within bladder. Involuntary spurring of, when walking, coughing, etc. Discharge of blood from urethra after painful micturition. Nephritic and vesical calculi.

Sexual Organs.—Painfully swollen testes. Painful soreness of scrotum. Great incitation to coition with seminal discharge. Nymphomania in lying in women, with great sensitiveness of sexual organs. Grasping at the genitals.

Menses.—Too late. Suppressed with painful mammæ and genitals.

Respiration.—Spasmodic tightness of chest. Shortness of, from flatulence, after every meal. Oppressed from a sense of pressure on chest. Suffocative paroxysms.

Cough.—Dry, spasmodic c., with chest pains in evening and night. Exhausting c., excited by tickling in larynx and trachea as far down as the middle of the chest. In morning and during day with expectoration of yellow, blood-streaked, tenacious mucus of a repulsive, sweetish, putrid or metallic taste. Hæmoptysis.

Trachea.—Burning and soreness in. Spasm in throat pit.

Chest.—Burning and soreness in. Accumulation of mucus in. Stitches in left side of. Spasm of. Roughness and dryness in. Feeling of coldness in. Emptiness in. Heaviness and bursting pain in. Suppressed secretion of milk in lying-in women. Palpitation.

ZINCUM.

Back.—Sticking, pressing, painful soreness in region of kidneys. Pain in sacrum.

Upper Extremities.—Tearing in muscles of arm. Deadness of hands with paralysis thereof. Numbness and trembling of hands. Cracks on hands.

Lower Extremities.—Tearing in. Large varicose veins on legs, which sometimes burst and bleed. Cold feet at night. Trembling of.

Generalities.—Tearing rheumatic pains in extremities, < from physical exertion or when becoming heated. Violent, tremulous jerking of entire body in evening. Violent throbbing throughout whole body. Painful soreness externally as well as internally. Spasms after fright. Chorea. Twitchings, in children. The pains of Zincum often seem between the skin and flesh. Wine, Nux-v. and Cham. greatly intensify nearly all symptoms, especially the restlessness at night and constipation. Most symptoms appear after dinner and toward evening.

Skin.—Violent, sticking itching, especially in evening in bed, disappearing instantly from touch. Suppurating herpes Cracked. Bony exostoses. Varicose veins.

Sleep.—Continuous desire to. Broken, at night, disturbed by fanciful dreams. Sleepiness with constant yawning.

Fever.—Pulse: Small and quick in evening; slower in morning and during day. Sometimes intermittent. Great throbbing of bloodvessels during the heat. Chill: Mostly beginning after eating and continuing till late in the evening, even in bed. Shuddering in open air and from touching a cold object. Alternating with heat, frequently during day. Cold shivers which run down the back. Shuddering c., before the approach of stormy weather. Constant external chilliness with increased internal warmth. Febrile shivering with flying heat, violent trembling of limbs, short, hot breath and throbbing throughout entire body. Heat: Internal, with cold feeling in abdomen and feet. Anxious sensation of h., without external heat, throughout entire night. Of face, with cool body in forenoon. Over-running, flying heat with great trembling and short, hot breath. Sweat: Copious, throughout entire night, with inclination to uncover. He sweats very easily from any motion during the day. Offensive.

Allied Remedies.—Arg-n., ARN., BAR-C., Carb-v., Gel., Euphor., HEP., IGN., Lach, Mgs., M-arct., M-aust., MERC., Phos-ac.